

This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

PREFACE.

THE text of Livy, though handed down by the manuscripts in an imperfect and unsatisfactory state, has been in a great degree rescued and restored by the critical labors of many illustrious philologists. Foremost are the great names of JOHN FREDERICK GRONOV and JOHN NICHOLAS MADVIG; but around them clusters a brilliant array of scholars hardly inferior to these great chiefs, among whom Crevier, Drakenboroh, Kreyssig, Bekker, Alschefski, Haupt, Hertz, and above all Weissenborn, cannot pass unmentioned. The work of an editor is made both easier and more difficult by so many and such guides: easy indeed when stars of the first magnitude shine in conjunction, but hard sometimes when they are opposed. There is, it is true, one in this list, whom a man might follow even with his eyes shut, and feel assured that he would never be led far astray. The unrivalled sagacity with which the great Danish philologist scents out the true reading in a tangled maze of hopeless obscurity is one of the marvels of our later day. It is hard to resist the fascination of such genius; yet, with due diffidence, I may say that in some cases I have been less certain that the words MADVIG gives are those which Livy actually wrote, than that they are the best possible expression in Latin of the thought Livy wished to convey. No man for the last thousand years has been a more

finished master of Latin syntax and of Latin style than Madvig; no one is more competent to tell how the great Roman authors ought to have written. It is possible, however, that they did not always write as well as they ought. They had a share of the same freedom of composition, and the same liability to careless oversight, as our own writers, though in less degree; and we must allow them, perhaps, an occasional solecism. Furthermore—pace tanti viri dixerim—there are cases sometimes where a higher law than formal grammatical regularity rightly asserts itself, and offence itself is glorious. But this by no means in extenuation of the merits of the greatest of living critics, and still less to cast upon him the slightest imputation of narrow pedantry; it is only my excuse for daring sometimes to differ from one who has done more for the emendation of the text of Livy than all other scholars put together. Next to Madvig, I am indebted for my text particularly to the editions of Weissenborn, Hertz, and Alschefski. The grounds of my preference among different readings have, in some of the most important cases, been stated in the notes, so far as the special purposes of this edition seemed to permit.

As regards the forms of words, I have not hesitated, in spite of the objections of sciolists, to adopt for the most part that “new orthography” which is the old. With Hertz, too, as well as after the great example of Munro in his Lucretius, I have followed the manuscripts to some extent in giving different forms for the same word in different places. Munro contends that such was the practice of the old writers themselves. This course has some advantages in an edition designed for students habituated to the conventional orthography of the grammarians, and is perhaps safest while some questions remain unsolved. It is my conviction, however, that the final result of scholarly investigation in this field will be the adoption of a uniform orthography for each age or each author, with the exception of occasional variation in a few forms, which, like hath and has in English, can be proved to have stood side by side. The convenience of students has been consulted in indicating i consonans and u consonans by the characters so long appropriated to that purpose.

In the Notes it has been my aim, as it was in my editions of Horace and Virgil, to give such aid as is most necessary and most useful for students in our colleges and schools. Credit is given to various scholars whose labors have been helpful. Two of these deserve special acknowledgment,—Weissenborn, for his commentary on all the books, and Seeley for his notes on the First. Professor Seeley's "Historical Examination of Book First" deserves the careful study of every scholar. I have appended to this edition the page and a half in which he sums up the result of his examination, trusting that many who read it will be induced to follow its able author in the exhaustive investigation by which he arrives at these conclusions.

LIVY AND HIS HISTORY OF ROME.

TITUS LIVIUS was a few years younger than Virgil and Horace, but older than Propertius and Ovid, with whom he shines in the brilliant constellation of genius which adorns the Augustan age. He was born probably in the year 59 or 57 B. C., at Patavium, now Padua, which in his day was a populous and wealthy city, while famed at the same time for strictness of morals. Livy was probably of an equestrian family; bred and living in that middle rank which is so favorable for the development of character and talent. There is some reason to believe that he was a teacher of rhetoric. He wrote books on philosophy, and also dialogues, partly historical and partly philosophical. He enjoyed the friendship of Augustus, and it was his counsel which induced the emperor's grandson, Claudius, — who was afterwards emperor, — to apply his attention to the writing of historical works. An instance of Livy's celebrity is mentioned by Pliny (Epist. ii. 3), who tells us that a Spaniard travelled from Gades to Rome solely for the purpose of seeing the author of the great Roman history, and returned as soon as he had satisfied his curiosity. The historian died in his native city, A. D. 17.

The first decad (or ten books) of Livy's "colossal history" appears to have been written between the years 27 and 20 B. C. The whole work consisted, it has been supposed, of one hundred and forty-two books, covering the whole period from the foundation of the city till the year 9 B. C.; but Niebuhr suggests that the author probably intended to complete fifteen decads, but died before he could accomplish his object. "His purpose in undertaking it was to draw, with all the charms which his artistic skill and delicate taste could give, a complete picture of the history of the Roman people, and of the laudable or blameworthy peculiarities of its prominent personages, that he might inflame the patriotic feelings of his countrymen, and contribute to the instruction and entertainment of the world at large. Livy generally looks at an historical event or character from a moral point of view: he wishes to excite our admiration of the great, love of the good, and hatred of the bad ; he feels a proud pleasure in describing the power of the Romans, or the purity of manners by which they were at first distinguished ; and the history of the early ages of the state seems to have consoled him for the wickedness and wretchedness which he had seen and felt during the civil wars. His conservatism, and habitual admiration of the olden times above the modern, merely because they were the olden times, are exhibited in the early parts of his work, especially in his description of the contests between the patricians and plebeians. Livy's partiality to the patricians may well be blamed ; his conservatism, however, never led him to wink at cruelty or baseness, or to conceal or knowingly misstate facts." Truth he held as a sacred thing. At the same time he was strangely wanting in that careful, laborious research, and that skill in weighing and sifting evidence, which are among the foremost requisites of the historian. He took such materials as came to hand, founding himself especially upon the annalists, contenting himself with purging them of their absurdities, and arranging their best matter in an attractive form. Where they disagreed, he endeavored to decide between them "with the judgment of a man of sense," but not by any well-ascertained philosophical principles of historical criticism. "However turbid the current of his information, in no case did he ever dream of ascending to the fountain-head. He never attempted to test the accuracy of the assertions of others by examining ancient monuments, or investigating the antiquities of the various Italian tribes." He seems, moreover, to have performed his task piecemeal, without taking a broad and comprehensive view of his whole subject. In the history of the kings, he followed Ennius. With Polybius he was unacquainted until after he had related the first half of the Punic war ; throughout the fourth decad, however, he adheres very closely to that "incomparable" authority. Of the details of the geography even of his own country, he betrays a singular ignorance, which greatly impairs the value of his narrative.

In a simply literary point of view, however, Livy's composition is almost faultless. His narrative "flows on in a calm but strong current, clear and sparkling but deep and unbroken ; the diction displays richness without heaviness, and simplicity without tameness. Nor is his art as a painter less wonderful. There is a distinctness of outline and a warmth of coloring in all his delineations, whether of living men in action, or of things inanimate, which never fail to call up the whole scene, with all its adjuncts, before our eyes." Upon the whole, looking at the work both in its external and internal characteristics, we may well say to students of Livy, in the words of Niebuhr (Lectures i.

X LIVY AND HIS HISTORY OF ROME.

296), "You cannot study his work too much, both as scholars, and as men who seek and love that which is beautiful. His faults, which we cannot deny, are like the faults of a bosom friend, which we must know but towards which we ought not to be unjust, and which ought not to disturb our feelings." The first book, and some portions of the second Punie war, are, in Niebuhr's judgment, the most beautiful portions of the whole work.

Unfortunately, the larger part of this great history is no longer extant. We have the first, third, and fourth decads, and half of the fifth, —thirty-five books, — with a fragment of book ninety-first. We possess, however, summaries of all the books but two, which, though dry and meagre, are yet valuable as in some instances our sole authorities for important facts.

The peculiarities of Livy's style, as distinguished from Cicero and Caesar, are grouped by Grysar under the following heads: 1. Freer use of words. 2. Poetic diction. 3. Peculiarities of syntax. 4. Grecisms. 5. Bolder constructions. 6. Structure of the sentence. 1. Taking materials from old chronicles and (in the history of the kings) from Ennius, he easily adopted their forms of expression: hence archaisms and sometimes pleonasm. 2. Döderlein calls Livy an imitator of Virgil; and certainly he uses many words which, while found in the poets, are never met with in the older prose writers. The poetic coloring of his style appears also in the use of simple verbs for compound, in his fondness for the neuter adjective as substantive both with and without an added genitive, in various poetical constructions (as quid turres loquor, instead of de turribus), and in the frequency with which he introduces tropes and metaphors. 3. It is a peculiarity of Livy's syntax to use the genitive with the verb sum to signify participation in something, or that to which anything serves. The latter idea he often expresses by the dative of the gerundive. His use of the dative instead of the ablative with a or of the accusative with ad, is not particularly frequent. The neuter of the perfect passive participle often stands alone in Livy in the ablative absolute. The aoristic use of the perfect indicative instead of the pluperfect, and of the perfect subjunctive instead of the imperfect, is common to Livy, Nepos, Sallust, Tacitus, and other historians. More exceptional is Livy's frequent use of the infinitive instead of the subjunctive, not only in indirect questions, but also in the oratio obliqua. This use, however, is confined to passages in orations which Livy puts in the mouth of another person. He uses sometimes the infinitive for the gerund, particularly after tempus, occasio, consilium. The construction of the particles prope and pæne with the verb is much more common with Livy than with other writers. He uses the participles with unusual frequency and boldness. 4. (Before proceeding to the fourth head, I cannot forbear remarking that the term "Grecisms" is used by Grysar in some cases too freely, as it has also been unnecessarily employed by many grammarians, to indicate constructions which are as natural and idiomatic in Latin as in Greek. (See Greenough on The Latin Subjunctive, p. 15.) It is true, however, that such constructions were often developed and extended from the influence of Greek writers; and a pure Grecism is occasionally found.) Among Livy's Grecisms, Grysar numbers the adjective use of participles (in Greek preceded by the article), as adhortatio invicem; ad exploranda circum loca; the connection of intransitive verbs with abstract substantives derived from them; the use of collective nouns with a plural verb; the free use both of the genitive to show the respect in which the signification of an adjective is taken, and of the accusative of specification; the use of the participle for an abstract substantive, as degeneratum in aliis (i. 53); freedom in attraction, as raptim, quibus quisque poterat, elatis (i. 29); and finally various Greek modes of expression, as quid ut (ἵνα τί), extra quam si (ἐκτὸς ἐλ πῦρ), cum eo ut (ἀμα τοιοῦτος), and quum pro (ἢ κατὰ or ἢ πρὸς) after a comparative, as xxi. 29 and 32: which last construction is never found in Cicero or Caesar, though often in Tacitus. 5. Livy's constructions are often bold and poetical, sometimes perhaps too evidently artificial. 6. He sometimes inserts too many short clauses, to the injury of the symmetry and clearness of the sentence. To sum up, Livy appears, in accordance with the taste of his age, to have departed somewhat from the simplicity and strength of earlier writers, and to have sought to add a charm to his style by novelty and greater freedom of expression.

I subjoin Zumpt's statement of the distinction between the styles of Livy and Cicero:

"This difference is principally to be found in Livy's frequent introduction of poetical words and constructions into his prose: e. g. tempestas for tempus, mortales for homines, letum for nox, degere for vivere, or agere vitam, que-que for et-et; further, in the use of the mere ablative without the preposition in, to express place 'where;' in the pleonastic employment of adverbs, with compound verbs, to strengthen the meaning of the preposition contained in the verb; e. g. prius præcipere, ante præoccupare, retro repetere, rursus repetere, retro redire, pergere porro, inducere exercitum in agrum hostium; in collective nouns in the singular being connected with a predicate in the plural: e. g. omnis multitudo abeunt, pingens turba circumfusi fremebant; clamor concursusque

populi, mirantium quid rei esset; Romanorum minus mille interfecti; and lastly, in the use of quam for magis quam; e. g. ipsorum quam Hannibalis interesse. There are other variations between the language of Livy and that of Cicero, which, however, must be attributed to, and are indeed proofs of, the progressive development of Latin syntax. We may mention, as one of these, the use of the future participle active in a hypothetical sense; for example (xxiii. 44), dedituris se Hannibali non fuisse arcessendum Romanum præsidium — that is, ‘if they had been intending to give themselves up to Hannibal,’ etc.”

There has been much idle speculation as to what that “Patavinity” was, with which, as Quintilian tells us, Livy was reproached by the celebrated orator, historian, and poet, Asinius Pollio. Livy’s style had its peculiar characteristics, and one of them — his fondness for poetical forms and constructions — might easily be censured by a lover of classic simplicity. But it has been in all ages a cheap and easy device, whenever the accident of birth allows it, to stigmatize whatever does not please one’s own taste with the charge of provincialism.

Quae ante conditam condendamve urbem poeticis magis decora fabulis quam incorruptis rerum gestarum

Sed haec et his similia, utcumque animadversa aut
15 existimata erunt, haut in magno equidem ponam discrimine; ad illa mihi pro se quisque acriter intendat animum, quae vita, qui mores fuerint, per quos viros quibusque artibus domi militiaeque et partum et auctum imperium sit; labente deinde paulatim disciplina velut desidentis primo mores sequatur animo,

Ceterum aut me amor negotii suscepti fallit, aut nulla umquam respublica nec major nec sanctior nec bonis exemplis ditior fuit, nec in quam civitatem tam serae avaritia luxuriaque inmigraverint, nec ubi tantus ac tam diu paupertati ac parsimoniae honos 5 fuerit: adeo quanto rerum minus, tanto minus cupiditatis erat. Nuper divitiae avaritiam et abundantes voluptates desiderium per luxum atque libidinem pereundi perdendique omnia invexere. Sed querellae, ne tum quidem gratae futurae, cum forsitan necessa- 10 riae erunt, ab initio certe tantae ordiendae rei absint. Cum bonis potius ominibus votisque et precationibus deorum dearumque, si, ut poëtis, nobis quoque mos esset, libentius inciperemus, ut orsis tantum operis successus prosperos darent. 15

LIBER PRIMVS.

I. JAM primum omnium satis constat, Troja capta in ceteros saevitum esse Trojanos, duobus, Aeneae Antenorique, et vetusti jure hospitii et quia pacis reddendaeque Helenae semper auctores fuerunt, omne jus belli Achivos abstinuisse; casibus deinde variis Antenorem cum multitudine Enetum, qui seditione ex Paphlagonia pulsi et sedes et ducem, rege Pylae-mene ad Trojam amisso, quaerebant, venisse in intimum Adriatici maris sinum, Euganeisque, qui inter mare Alpesque incolebant, pulsos Enetos Trojanosque eas tenuisse terras. Et in quem primo egressi sunt locum, Troja vocatur, pagoque Trojano inde nomen est, gens universa Veneti appellati. Aeneam ab simili clade domo profugum, sed ad majora rerum initia ducentibus fatiis, primo in Macedoniam venisse, inde in Siciliam quaerentem sedes delatum, ab Sicilia classe ad Laurentem agrum tenuisse. Troja et huic loco nomen est. Ibi egressi Trojani, ut quibus ab immenso prope errore nihil praeter arma et naves superesset, cum praedam ex agris agerent, Latinus rex Aboriginesque, qui tum ea tenebant loca, ad arcendam vim advenarum armati ex urbe atque agris concurrunt.

Duplex inde fama est. Alii proelio victum Latinum pacem cum Aenea, deinde adfinitatem junxisse

- tradunt; alii, cum instructae acies constitissent, priusquam signa canerent, processisse Latinum inter primores ducemque advenarum evocasse ad conloquium; percunctatum deinde, qui mortales essent, unde aut quo casu profecti domo quidve quaerentes in agrum Laurentem exissent, postquam audierit, multitudinem Trojanos esse, ducem Aeneam, filium Anchisae et Veneris, cremata patria domo profugos sedem condendaeque urbis locum quaerere, et nobilitatem admiratum gentis virique et animum vel bello vel paci paratum, dextra data fidem futurae amicitiae sanxisse. Inde foedus ictum inter duces, inter exercitus salutationem factam. Aeneam apud Latinum fuisse in hospitio; ibi Latinum apud penates deos domesticum publico adjunxisse foedus, filia Aeneae in matrimonium data. Ea utique res Trojanis spem adfirmat tandem stabili certaue sede finiendi erroris. Oppidum condunt, Aeneas ab nomine uxoris Lavinium appellat. Brevi stirps quoque virilis ex novo matrimonio fuit, cui Ascanium parentes dixere nomen.
- II. Bello deinde Aborigines Trojanique simul petiti. Turnus rex Rutulorum, cui pacta Lavinia ante adventum Aeneae fuerat, praelatum sibi advenam aegre patiens, simul Aeneae Latinoque bellum intulerat. Neutra acies laeta ex eo certamine abiit: victi Rutuli, victores Aborigines Trojanique ducem Latinum amisere. Inde Turnus Rutulique diffisi rebus ad florentes opes Etruscorum Mezentiumque regem eorum confugiunt, qui Caere, opulento tum oppido, imperitans, jam inde ab initio minime laetus novae origine urbis, et tum nimio plus quam satis tutum esset accolis rem Trojanam crescere ratus, haud gravatim socia arma Rutulis junxit.
- Aeneas, adversus tanti belli terrorem ut animos Aboriginum sibi conciliaret, nec sub eodem jure solum sed etiam nomine omnes essent, Latinos utramque gentem appellavit; nec deinde Aborigines Trojanis studio ac fide erga regem Aeneam cessere. Fretusque his animis coalescentium in dies magis duorum populorum Aeneas, quamquam tanta opibus Etruria erat, ut jam non terras solum, sed mare etiam per totam Italiae longitudinem ab Alpibus ad fretum Siculum fama nominis sui implesset, tamen, cum moenibus bellum propulsare posset, in aciem copias 5 eduxit. Secundum inde proelium Latinis, Aeneae etiam ultimum mortalium operum fuit. Situs est, quemcumque eum dici jus fasque est, super Numicum fluvium; Jovem Indigetem appellant.

III. Nondum maturus imperio Ascanius Aeneae 10 filius erat, tamen id imperium ei ad puberem aetatem incolume mansit; tantisper tutela muliebri (tanta indoles in Lavinia erat) res Latina et regnum avitum paternumque puero stetit. Haud ambigam (quis enim rem tam veterem pro certo adfirmet?) hicine fuerit 15 Ascanius an major quam hic, Creusa matre Ilio incolumi natus comesque inde paternae fugae, quem Iulum eundem Julia gens auctorem nominis sui nuncupat. Is Ascanius, ubicumque et quacumque matre genitus (certe natum Aenea constat) abundante Lavini multitudine, florentem jam, ut tum res 20 erant, atque opulentam urbem matri seu novercae reliquit, novam ipse aliam sub Albano monte condidit, quae ab situ porrectae in dorso urbis Longa Alba appellata. 25

Inter Lavinium et Albam Longam deductam coloniam triginta ferme interfuere anni. Tantum tamen opes creverant maxime fuis Etruscis, ut ne morte quidem Aeneae nec deinde inter muliebrem tutelam rudimentumque primum puerilis regni movere arma 30 aut Mezentius Etruscique aut ulli alii accolae ausi sint. Pax ita convenerat, ut Etruscis Latinisque fluvius Albula, quem nunc Tiberim vocant, finis esset.

Silvius deinde regnat, Ascani filius, casu quodam 35 in silvis natus. Is Aeneam Silvium creat, is deinde Latinum Silvium. Ab eo coloniae aliquot deductae, Prisci Latini appellati. Mansit Silviis postea omnibus cognomen, qui Albae regnaverunt. Latino Alba ortus, Alba Atys, Atye Capys, Capye Capetus, Capeto Tiberinus, qui in trajectu Albulae amnis submersus celebre ad posteros nomen flumini dedit. Agrippa inde Tiberini filius, post Agrippam Romulus Silvius, 5 a patre accepto imperio, regnat. Aventino fulmine ipse ictus regnum per manus tradidit. Is sepultus in eo colle, qui nunc pars Romanae est urbis, cognomen colli fecit. Proca deinde regnat. Is Numitorem atque Amulium procreat; Numitori, qui stirpis 10 maximus erat, regnum vetustum Silviae gentis legat.

Plus tamen vis potuit quam voluntas patris aut verecundia aetatis: pulso fratre Amulius regnat. Addit sceleri scelus: stirpem fratris virilem interimit; fratris filiae Reae Silviae per speciem honoris, 15 cum Vestalem eam legisset, perpetua virginitate spem partus adimit.

IV. Sed debebatur, ut opinor, fatis tantae origo urbis maximique secundum deorum opes imperii principium. Vi compressa Vestalis cum geminum 20 partum edidisset, seu ita rata, seu quia deus auctor culpae honestior erat, Martem incertae stirpis patrem nuncupat. Sed nec dii nec homines aut ipsam aut stirpem a crudelitate regia vindicant: sacerdos vincta in custodiam datur, pueros in profluentem aquam 25 mitti jubet.

Forte quadam divinitus super ripas Tiberis effusus lenibus stagnis nec adiri usquam ad justum cursum poterat amnis, et posse quamvis languida mergi aqua infantes spem ferentibus dabat. Ita velut defuncti 30 regis imperio, in proxima eluvie, ubi nunc ficus Ruminalis est (Romularem vocatam ferunt) pueros exponunt. Vastae tum in his locis solitudines erant.

Tenet fama, cum fluitantem alveum, quo expositi erant pueri, tenuis in sicco aqua destituisset, lupam 35 sitientem ex montibus, qui circa sunt, ad puerilem vagitum cursum flexisse; eam summissas infantibus adeo mitem praebuisse mammas, ut lingua lambentem pueros magister regii pecoris invenerit (Faustulo fuisse nomen ferunt), ab eo ad stabula Larentiae uxori educandos datos. Sunt qui Larentiam vulgato corpore lupam inter pastores vocatam putent; inde locum fabulae ac miraculo datum.

Ita geniti itaque educati, cum primum adolevit aetas, nec in stabulis nec ad pecora segnes, venando 5 peragrarare saltus. Hinc robore corporibus animisque sumpto, jam non feras tantum subsistere, sed in latrones praeda onustos impetus facere, pastoribusque rapta dividere, et cum his, crescente in dies grege juvenum, seria ac jocos celebrare. 10

V. Jam tum in Palatio [monte] Lupercal hoc fuisse ludicrum ferunt, et a Pallanteo, urbe Arcadica, Palantium, dein Palatium montem appellatum. Ibi Evandrum, qui ex eo genere Arcadum multis ante tempestatibus tenuerit loca, sollemne allatum ex 15 Arcadia instituisse, ut nudi juvenes Lycaeum Pana venerantes per lusum atque lasciviam currerent, quem Romani deinde vocaverunt Inuum.

Huic deditis ludicro, cum sollemne notum esset, insidiosos ob iram praedae amissae latrones, cum 20 Romulus vi se defendisset, Remum cepisse, captum regi Amulio tradidisse ultro accusantes. Crimini maxime dabant in Numitoris agros ab iis impetum fieri; inde eos, collecta juvenum manu, hostilem in modum praedas agere. Sic ad supplicium Numitori 25 Remus deditur.

Jam inde ab initio Faustulo spes fuerat, regiam stirpem apud se educari: nam et expositos jussu regis infantes sciebat, et tempus, quo ipse eos sustulisset, ad id ipsum congruere; sed rem in maturam nisi aut 30 per occasionem aut per necessitatem aperiri noluerat. Necessitas prior venit; ita metu subactus Romulo rem aperit. Forte et Numitori, cum in custodia Remum haberet audissetque geminos esse fratres, comparando et aetatem eorum et ipsam minime servilem indolem, tetigerat animum memoria nepotum; sciscitandoque eodem pervenit, ut haut procul esset, quin Remum agnosceret. 35 cum globo juvenum (nec enim erat ad apertam vim par) sed aliis alio itinere jussis certo tempore ad regiam venire pastoribus, ad regem impetum facit, et a domo Numitoris alia comparata manu adjuvat Remus.

Ita undique regi dolus nectitur. Romulus non

5 Ita regem obtruncant.

VI. Numitor inter primum tumultum hostis invasisse urbem atque adortos regiam dictitans, cum pubem Albanam in arcem praesidio armisque obtinendam avocasset, postquam juvenes perpetrata caede
10 pergere ad se gratulantes vidit, extemplo advocato concilio scelus in se fratris, originem nepotum, ut geniti, ut educati, ut cogniti essent, caedem deinceps tyranni seque ejus auctorem ostendit. Juvenes per mediam contionem agmine ingressi cum avum regem 15 salutassent, secuta ex omni multitudine consentiens vox ratum nomen imperiumque regi efficit.

Ita Numitori Albana re permissa, Romulum Remumque cupido cepit in iis locis, ubi expositi ubique educati erant, urbis condendae. Et supererat multi-20 tudo Albanorum Latinorumque; ad id pastores quoque accesserant, qui omnes facile spem facerent, parvam Albam, parvum Lavinium prae ea urbe, quae conderetur, fore. Intervenit deinde his cogitationibus avitum malum, regni cupido, atque inde 25 foedum certamen coortum a satis miti principio. Quoniam gemini essent nec aetatis verecundia discrimen facere posset, ut dii, quorum tutelae ea loca essent, auguriis legerent, qui nomen novae urbi daret, qui conditam imperio regeret, Palatium Romulus, Re-
30 mus Aventinum ad inaugurandum templa capiunt.

VII. Priori Remo augurium venisse fertur sex vultures; jamque nuntiato augurio cum duplex numerus Romulo sese ostendisset, utrumque regem sua multitudo consalutaverat: tempore illi praecepto, at 35 hi numero avium regnum trahebant. Inde cum altercatione congressi certamine irarum ad caedem vertuntur; ibi in turba ictus Remus cecidit. Vulgatio-rior fama est, ludibrio fratris Remum novos transiisse muros, inde ab irato Romulo, cum verbis quo-

que increpitans adjecisset "sic deinde, quicumque alius transiliet moenia mea!", interfectum. Ita solus potitus imperio Romulus; condita urbs conditoris nomine appellata.

Palatium primum, in quo ipse erat educatus, muniit. Sacra diis aliis Albano ritu, Graeco Herculi, ut ab Evandro instituta erant, facit. Herculem in ea loca, Geryone interempto, boves mira specie abegisse memorant, ac prope Tiberim fluvium, qua prae se armentum agens nando trajecerat, loco herbido, ut quiete et pabulo laetiore reficeret boves, et ipsum fessum via procubuisse. Ibi cum eum cibo vinoque gravatum sopor oppressisset, pastor accola ejus loci nomine Cacus, ferox viribus, captus pulchritudine boum cum avertere eam praedam vellet, quia, si agendo armentum in speluncam compulisset, ipsa vestigia quaerentem dominum eo deductura erant, aversos boves, eximium quemque pulchritudine, caudis in speluncam traxit.

Hercules ad primam auroram somno excitus cum gregem perlustrasset oculis et partem abesse numero sensisset, pergit ad proximam speluncam, si forte eo vestigia ferrent. Quae ubi omnia foras versa vidit nec in partem aliam ferre, confusus atque incertus animi ex loco infesto agere porro armentum occepit. Inde cum actae boves quaedam ad desiderium, ut fit, relictarum mugissent, reddita inclusarum ex spelunca boum vox Herculem convertit. Quem cum ad speluncam vadentem Cacus vi prohibere conatus esset, ictus clava, fidem pastorum nequiquam invocans, morte occubuit.

Evander tum ea, profugus ex Peloponneso, auctoritate magis quam imperio regebat loca, venerabilis vir miraculo litterarum, rei novae inter rudes artium homines, venerabilior divinitate credita Carmentae matris, quam fatiloquam ante Sibyllae in Italiam adventum miratae eae gentes fuerant. Is tum Evander, concursu pastorum trepidantium circa advenam manifestae reum caedis excitus, postquam facinus

- facinorisque causam audivit, habitum formamque viri aliquantum ampliorem augustioremque humana intuens, rogitat, qui vir esset. Ubi nomen patremque ac patriam accepit, "Jove nate, Hercules, salve"
- 5 inquit; "te mihi mater, veridica interpres deum, aucturum caelestium numerum cecinit, tibi que aram hic dicatum iri, quam opulentissima olim in terris gens maximam vocet tuoque ritu colat." Dextra Hercules data accipere se omen inpleturumque fata
- 10 ara condita ac dicata ait. Ibi tum primum, bove eximia capta de grege, sacrum Herculi, adhibitis ad ministerium dapemque Potitiis ac Pinariis, quae tum familiae maxime inclitae ea loca incolebant, factum. Forte ita evenit, ut Potitii ad tempus praesto essent,
- 15 hisque exta apponerentur, Pinarii, extis adesis, ad ceteram venirent dapem. Inde institutum mansit, donec Pinarium genus fuit, ne extis sollemnium vescerentur. Potitii ab Evandro edocti antistites sacri ejus per multas aetates fuerunt, donec tradito
- 20 servis publicis sollemni familiae ministerio, genus omne Potitiorum interiit. Haec tum sacra Romulus una ex omnibus peregrina suscepit, jam tum immortalitatis virtute partae, ad quam eum sua fata ducebant, fautor.
- 25 VIII. Rebus divinis rite perpetratis, vocataque ad concilium multitudine, quae coalescere in populi unius corpus nulla re praeterquam legibus poterat, jura dedit; quae ita sancta generi hominum agresti fore ratus, si se ipse venerabilem insignibus imperii
- 30 fecisset, cum cetero habitu se augustiorem, tum maxime lictoribus duodecim sumptis fecit. Alii ab numero avium, quae augurio regnum portenderant, eum secutum numerum putant; me haut paenitet eorum sententiae esse, quibus et apparitores hoc genus
- 35 ab Etruscis finitimis, unde sella curulis, unde toga praetexta sumpta est, et numerum quoque ipsum ductum placet, et ita habuisse Etruscos, quod ex duodecim populis communiter creato rege singulos singuli populi lictores dederint.

Crescebat interim urbs munitionibus alia atque alia adpetendo loca, cum in spem magis futurae multitudinis quam ad id, quod tum hominum erat, munirent. Deinde, ne vana urbis magnitudo esset, adliciendae multitudinis causa, vetere consilio condentium urbes, qui, obscuram atque humilem conciendo ad se multitudinem, natam e terra sibi prolem ementiebantur, locum, qui nunc saeptus descendantibus inter duos lucos est, asylum aperit. Eo ex finitimis populis turba omnis sine discrimine, liber an servus esset, avida novarum rerum perfugit, idque primum ad coeptam magnitudinem roboris fuit.

Cum jam virium haud paeniteret, consilium deinde viribus parat: centum creat senatores, sive quia is numerus satis erat, sive quia soli centum erant, qui creari patres possent — patres certe ab honore, patriiique progenies eorum appellati.

IX. Jam res Romana adeo erat valida, ut cuilibet finitimarum civitatum bello par esset; sed penuria mulierum hominis aetatem duratura magnitudo erat, quippe quibus nec domi spes prolis nec cum finitimis conubia essent. Tum ex consilio patrum Romulus legatos circum vicinas gentes misit, qui societatem conubiumque novo populo peterent: urbes quoque, ut cetera, ex infimo nasci; dein, quas sua virtus ac dii juvent, magnas opes sibi magnumque nomen facere; satis scire origini Romanae et deos adfuisse et non defuturam virtutem: proinde ne gravarentur homines cum hominibus sanguinem ac genus miscere.

Nusquam benigne legatio audita est, adeo simul spernebant, simul tantam in medio crescentem molem sibi ac posteris suis metuebant. A plerisque rogitantibus dimissi, ecquod feminis quoque asylum aperuissent: id enim demum compar conubium fore. Aegre id Romana pubes passa, et haud dubie ad vim spectare res coepit.

Cui tempus locumque aptum ut daret Romulus, acgritudinem animi dissimulans ludos ex industria parat Neptuno Equestri sollemnis; Consualia vocat.

- Indici deinde finitimis spectaculum jubet, quantoque apparatu tum sciebant aut poterant concelebrat, ut rem claram exspectatamque faceret. Multi mortales convenere, studio etiam videndae novae urbis, 5 maxime proximi quique, Caeninenses, Crustumini, Antemnates; etiam Sabinorum omnis multitudo cum liberis ac conjugibus venit. Invitati hospitaliter per domos cum situm moeniaque et frequentem tectis urbem vidissent, mirantur, tam brevi rem Romanam 10 crevisse. Ubi spectaculi tempus venit, deditaeque eo mentes cum oculis erant, tum ex composito orta vis, signoque dato juvenus Romana ad rapiendas virgines discurrit. Magna pars forte, in quem quaeque inciderat, raptae; quasdam forma excellentes 15 primoribus patrum destinatas ex plebe homines, quibus datum negotium erat, domos deferebant. Unam longe ante alias specie ac pulchritudine insignem a globo Talassii cujusdam raptam ferunt, multisque sciscitantibus, cuinam eam ferrent, identidem, ne 20 quis violaret, Talassio ferri clamitatum; inde nuptialem hanc vocem factam. Turbato per metum ludicro, maesti parentes virginum profugiunt, incusantes violati hospitii foedus deumque invocantes, cujus ad sollemne ludosque per fas ac fidem decepti venissent. 25 Nec raptis aut spes de se melior aut indignatio est minor.

- Sed ipse Romulus circumibat docebatque, patrum id superbia factum, qui conubium finitimis negassent; illas tamen in matrimonio, in societate fortunarum 30 omnium civitatisque, et, quo nihil carius humano generi sit, liberum fore; mollirent modo iras, et, quibus fors corpora dedisset, darent animos; saepe ex injuria postmodum gratiam ortam; eoque melioribus usuras viris, quod adnisurus pro se quisque sit, ut, 35 cum suam vicem functus officio sit, parentum etiam patriaeque expleat desiderium. Accedebant blanditiae virorum, factum purgantium cupiditate atque amore, quae maxime ad muliebre ingenium efficaces preces sunt.

X. Jam admodum mitigati animi raptis erant. At raptarum parentes tum maxime sordida veste lacrimisque et querellis civitates concitabant. Nec domi tantum indignationes continebant, sed congregabantur undique ad Titum Tatium, regem Sabinorum, et legationes eo, quod maximum Tatii nomen in iis regionibus erat, conveniebant. Caeninenses Crustuminique et Antemnates erant, ad quos ejus injuriæ pars pertinebat. Lente agere his Tatius Sabinique visi sunt; ipsi inter se tres populi communiter bellum parant. Nec Crustumini quidem atque Antemnates pro ardore iraque Caeninensium satis se in pigre movent; ita per se ipsum nomen Caeninum in agrum Romanum impetum facit. Sed effuse vastantibus fit obvius cum exercitu Romulus, levique certamine docet, vanam sine viribus iram esse. Exercitum fundit fugatque, fusum persequitur; regem in proelio obtruncat et spoliât; duce hostium occiso urbem primo impetu capit.

Inde exercitu victore reducto, ipse, cum factis vir magnificus tum factorum ostentator haut minor, spolia ducis hostium caesi suspensa fabricato ad id apte ferculo gerens in Capitolium escendit, ibique ea cum ad quercum pastoribus sacram deposuisset, simul cum dono designavit templo Jovis finis cognomenque addidit deo. "Juppiter Feretri," inquit, "haec tibi victor Romulus rex regia arma fero, templumque his regionibus, quas modo animo metatus sum, dedico, sedem opimis spoliis, quae, regibus ducibusque hostium caesis, me auctorem sequentes posterius ferent."

Haec templi est origo, quod primum omnium Ro-mae sacratum est. Ita deinde diis visum, nec inritam conditoris templi vocem esse, qua laturus eo spolia posterius nuncupavit, nec multitudine conpotum ejus doni vulgari laudem. Bina postea, inter tot annos, tot bella, opima parta sunt spolia: adeo rara ejus fortuna decoris fuit.

XI. Dum ea ibi Romani gerunt, Antemnatium exercitus per occasionem ac solitudinem hostiliter in fines Romanos incursionem facit; raptim et ad hos Romana legio ducta palantes in agris oppressit. Fusi igitur primo inpetu et clamore hostes, oppidum captum, duplicique victoria ovantem Romulum Her-5 silia conjunx precibus raptarum fatigata orat, ut parentibus earum det veniam et in civitatem accipiat; ita rem coalescere concordia posse. Facile impetratum.

Inde contra Crustumino profectus bellum inferentes. Ibi minus etiam, quod alienis cladibus ceciderant animi, certaminis fuit. Utroque coloniae missae; plures inventi, qui propter ubertatem terrae in Crustumino nomina darent. Et Romam inde frequenter migratum est, a parentibus maxime ac 15 propinquis raptarum.

Novissimum ab Sabinis bellum ortum, multoque id maximum fuit: nihil enim per iram aut cupiditatem actum est, nec ostenderunt bellum prius quam intulerunt. Consilio etiam additus dolus. Spurius
20 Tarpeius Romanae praeerat arci. Hujus filiam virginem auro corrumpit Tatius, ut armatos in arcem accipiat; — aquam forte ea tum sacris extra moenia petiit ierat. Accepti obrutam armis necavere, seu ut vi capta potius arx videretur, seu prodendi exempli
25 causa, ne quid usquam fidum proditori esset. Additur fabula, quod vulgo Sabini aureas armillas magni ponderis brachio laevo gemmatosque magna specie anulos habuerint, pepigisse eam quod in sinistris manibus haberent; eo scuta illi pro aureis donis 30 congesta. Sunt qui eam, ex pacto tradendi quod in sinistris manibus haberent, directo arma petisse dicant, et, fraude visam agere, sua ipsam peremptam mercede.

XII. Tenuere tamen arcem Sabini; atque inde
35 postero die, cum Romanus exercitus instructus quod inter Palatinum Capitolinumque collem campi est complexisset, non prius descenderunt in aequum, quam, ira et cupiditate recuperandae arcis stimulante animos, in adversum Romani subiere. Principes utrim-

que pugnam ciebant, ab Sabinis Mettius Curtius, ab Romanis Hostius Hostilius. Hic rem Romanam iniquo loco ad prima signa animo atque audacia sustinebat. Ut Hostius cecidit, confestim Romana inclinatur acies fusaque est. Ad veterem portam 5 Palatii Romulus, et ipse turba fugientium actus, arma ad caelum tollens, "Juppiter, tuis" inquit "jussus avibus hic in Palatio prima urbi fundamenta jeci. Arcem jam scelere eniptam Sabini habent; inde huc armati superata media valle tendunt. At 10 tu, pater deum hominumque, hinc saltem arce hostes; deme terrorem Romanis fugamque foedam siste. Hic ego tibi templum Statori Jovi, quod monumento sit posteris, tua praesenti ope servatam urbem esse, voveo." Haec precatus, velut si sensisset auditas 15 preces, "hinc," inquit, "Romani, Juppiter optimus maximus resistere atque iterare pugnam jubet." Restitère Romani, tamquam caelesti voce jussi; ipse ad primores Romulus provolat.

Mettius Curtius ab Sabinis princeps ab arce decu- 20 currerat et effusos egerat Romanos toto quantum foro spatium est; nec procul jam a porta Palatii erat, clamitans "vicinus perfidos hospites, inbelles hostes; jam sciunt, longe aliud esse virgines rapere, aliud pugnare cum viris." In eum haec gloriantem cum 25 globo ferocissimorum juvenum Romulus impetum facit. Ex equo tum forte Mettius pugnabat; eo pelli facilius fuit. Pulsum Romani persecuntur, et alia Romana acies audacia regis accensa fundit Sabinos. Mettius in paludem sese, strepitu sequentium trepi- 30 dante equo, conjecit; averteratque ea res etiam Sabinos tanti periculo viri. Et ille quidem, adnuentibus ac vocantibus suis, favore multorum addito animo, evadit; Romani Sabinique in media convalle duorum montium redintegrant proelium; sed res Ro- 35 mana erat superior.

XIII. Tum Sabinæ mulieres, quarum ex injuria bellum ortum erat, crinibus passis scissaque veste, victo malis muliebri pavore, ausae se inter tela volantia inferre, ex transverso impetu facto dirimere infestas acies, dirimere iras, hinc patres hinc viros orantes, ne sanguine se nefando soceri generique respergerent, ne parricidio macularent partus suos, 5 nepotum illi, hi liberum progeniem. "Si adfinitatis inter vos, si conubii piget, in nos vertite iras; nos causa belli, nos vulnere ac caedium viris ac parentibus sumus; melius peribimus quam sine alteris vestrum viduae aut orbae vivemus."

- 10 Movet res cum multitudinem tum duces; silentium et repentina fit quies; inde ad foedus faciendum duces prodeunt; nec pacem modo, sed civitatem unam ex duabus faciunt; regnum consociant, imperium omne conferunt Romam. Ita geminata urbe, 15 ut Sabinis tamen aliquid daretur, Quirites a Curibus appellati. Monumentum ejus pugnae, ubi primum ex profunda emersus palude equum Curtius in vado statuit, Curtium lacum appellarunt.

Ex bello tam tristi laeta repente pax cariores Sabinas viris ac parentibus et ante omnes Romulo ipsi fecit. Itaque, cum populum in curias triginta divideret, nomina earum curiis inposuit. Id non traditur, cum haut dubie aliquanto numerus major hoc mulierum fuerit, aetate an dignitatibus suis virorumve an 25 sorte lectae sint, quae nomina curiis darent.

Eodem tempore et centuriae tres equitum conscriptae sunt: Ramnenses ab Romulo, ab T. Tatius Titienses appellati; Lucerum nominis et originis causa incerta est. Inde non modo commune, sed 30 concors etiam regnum duobus regibus fuit.

XIV. Post aliquot annos propinqui regis Tatii legatos Laurentium pulsant; cumque Laurentes jure gentium agerent, apud Tatium gratia suorum et preces plus poterant. Igitur illorum poenam in se 35 vertit: nam Lavini, cum ad sollemne sacrificium eo venisset, concursu facto interficitur. Eam rem minus aegre quam dignum erat tulisse Romulum ferunt, seu ob infidam societatem regni, seu quia haut injuria caesum credebat. Itaque bello quidem abstinuit;

ut tamen expiarentur legatorum injuriae regisque caedes, foedus inter Romam Laviniumque urbes renovatum est.

Et cum his quidem insperata pax erat: aliud multo propius atque in ipsis prope portis bellum 5 ortum. Fidenates nimis vicinas prope se convalescere opes rati, priusquam tantum roboris esset, quantum futurum apparebat, occupant bellum facere. Juventute armata immissa, vastatur agri quod inter urbem ac Fidenas est; inde ad laevam versi, quia 10 dextra Tiberis arcebat, cum magna trepidatione agrestium populantur, tumultusque repens ex agris in urbem inlatus pro nuntio fuit. Excitus Romulus, (neque enim dilationem pati tam vicinum bellum poterat,) exercitum educit, castra a Fidenis mille 15 passuum locat. Ibi modico praesidio relicto, egressus omnibus copiis partem militum locis circa densa obsita virgulta obscuris subsidere in insidiis jussit; cum parte majore atque omni equitatu profectus, id quod quaerebat, tumultuoso et minaci genere pugnae, 20 adequitando ipsis prope portis, hostem excivit. Fugae quoque, quae simulanda erat, eadem equestris pugna causam minus mirabilem dedit. Et cum, velut inter pugnae fugaeque consilium trepidante equitatu, pedes quoque referret gradum, plenis repente portis effusi 25 hostes, impulsa Romana acie, studio instandi sequendique trahuntur ad locum insidiarum. Inde subito exorti Romani transversam invadunt hostium aciem. Addunt pavorem mota castris signa eorum, qui in praesidio relicti fuerant. Ita multiplici terrore perculsi Fidenates, prius paene quam Romulus, quique cum eo visi erant, circumagerent frenis equos, terga vertunt; multoque effusius, quippe vera fuga, qui simulantes paulo ante secuti erant, oppidum repetebant. Non tamen eripuerunt se hosti: haerens in tergo 35 Romanus, priusquam fores portarum obicerentur, velut agmine uno inrumpit.

XV. Belli Fidenatis contagione irritati Veientium animi et consanguinitate, (nam Fidenates quo-que Etrusci fuerunt,) et quod ipsa propinquitas loci, si Romana arma omnibus infesta finitimis essent, stimulabat. In fines Romanos excucurrerunt populabundi magis quam justis more belli. Itaque non 5 castris positis, non expectato hostium exercitu, raptam ex agris praedam portantes Veios rediere. Romanus contra, postquam hostem in agris non invenit, dimicationi ultimae instructus intentusque Tiberim transit. Quem postquam castra ponere et

10 ad urbem accessurum Veientes audivere, obviam egressi, ut potius acie decernerent, quam inclusi de tectis moenibusque dimicarent. Ibi viribus nulla arte adjunctis, tantum veterani robore exercitus rex Romanus vicit, persecutusque fusos ad moenia hostes 15 urbe valida muris ac situ ipso munita abstinuit; agros rediens vastat, ulciscendi magis quam praedae studio: eaque clade haut minus quam adversa pugna subacti, Veientes pacem petitem oratores Romam mittunt. Agri parte multatis in centum annos in-20 dutiae datae.

Haec ferme Romulo regnante domi militiaeque gesta, quorum nihil absonum fidei divinae originis divinitatisque post mortem creditae fuit,—non animus in regno avito recuperando, non condendae urbis
25 consilium, non bello ac pace firmandae. Ab illo enim profecto viribus datis tantum valuit, ut in quadraginta deinde annos tutam pacem haberet. Multitudini tamen gratior fuit quam patribus, longe ante alios acceptissimus militum animis: trecentosque
30 armatos ad custodiam corporis, quos Celeres appellavit, non in bello solum, sed etiam in pace habuit.

XVI. His immortalibus editis operibus, cum ad exercitum recensendum contionem in campo ad Caprae paludem haberet, subito coorta tempestas 35 cum magno fragore tonitribusque tam denso regem operuit nimbo, ut conspectum ejus contioni abstulerit; nec deinde in terris Romulus fuit. Romana pubes, sedato tandem pavore, postquam ex tam turbido die serena et tranquilla lux rediit, ubi vacuam sedem regiam vidit, etsi satis credebat patribus, qui proximi steterant, sublimem raptum procella, tamen velut orbitatis metu icta maestum aliquamdiu silentium obtinuit. Deinde, a paucis initio facto, deum deo natum, regem parentemque urbis Romanae salvere 5 universi Romulum jubent; pacem precibus exposcunt, uti volens propitius suam semper sospitet progeniem. Fuisse credo tū quoque aliquos, qui discerptum regem patrum manibus taciti arguerent: manavit enim haec quoque, sed perobscura, fama; illam alte- 10 ram admiratio viri et pavor praesens nobilitavit.

Et consilio etiam unius hominis addita rei dicitur fides. Namque Proculus Julius, sollicita civitate desiderio regis et infensa patribus, gravis, ut traditur, quamvis magnae rei auctor, in contionem prodit. 15 "Romulus," inquit, "Quirites, parens urbis hujus, prima hodierna luce caelo repente delapsus se mihi obvium dedit. Cum perfusus horrore venerabundus adstitissem, petens precibus, ut contra intueri fas esset: 'abi, nuntia,' inquit, 'Romanis, caelestes ita 20 velle, ut mea Roma caput orbis terrarum sit; proinde rem militarem colant, sciantque et ita posteris tradant, nullas opes humanas armis Romanis resistere posse.' Haec" inquit "locutus sublimis abiit." Mirum quantum illi viro nuntianti haec fidei fuerit, 25 quamque desiderium Romuli apud plebem exercitumque facta fide immortalitatis lenitum sit.

XVII. Patrum interim animos certamen regni ac cupido versabat; necdum ad singulos, quia nemo magnopere eminebat in novo populo, pervenerat; 30 factionibus inter ordines certabatur. Oriundi ab Sabinis, ne, quia post Tati mortem ab sua parte non erat regnatum, in societate aequa possessionem imperii amitterent, sui corporis creari regem volebant; Romani veteres peregrinum regem aspernabantur. 35 In variis voluntatibus regnari tamen omnes volebant, libertatis dulcedine nondum experta. Timor deinde patres incessit, ne civitatem sine imperio, exercitum sine duce, multarum circa civitatum inritatis animis, vis aliqua externa adoriretur. Et esse igitur aliquod caput placebat, et nemo alteri concedere in animum inducebat.

Ita rem inter se centum patres, decem decuriis
5 factis, singulisque in singulas decurias creatis, qui summae rerum praessent, consociant. Decem imperitabant, unus cum insignibus imperii et lictoribus erat; quinque dierum spatio finiebatur imperium, ac per omnes in orbem ibat; annumque intervallum 10 regni fuit. Id ab re, quod nunc quoque tenet nomen, interregnum appellatum.

Fremere deinde plebs: multiplicatam servitutem, centum pro uno dominos factos; nec ultra nisi regem, et ab ipsis creatum videbantur passuri. Cum sensis-15 sent ea moveri patres, offerendum ultro rati quod amissuri erant, ita gratiam ineunt summa potestate populo permissa, ut non plus darent juris quam detinerent. Decreverunt enim, ut, cum populus regem jussisset, id sic ratum esset, si patres auctores fierent.
20 Hodie quoque in legibus magistratibusque rogandis usurpatur idem jus, vi adempta: priusquam populus suffragium ineat, in incertum comitiorum eventum patres auctores fiunt.

Tum interrex, contione advocata, "quod bonum 25 faustum felixque sit," inquit, "Quirites, regem create: ita patribus visum est. Patres deinde, si dignum, qui secundus ab Romulo numeretur, crearitis, auctores fient." Adeo id gratum plebi fuit, ut, ne victi beneficio viderentur, id modo sciscerent juberentque, 30 ut senatus decerneret, qui Romae regnaret.

XVIII. Inclita justitia religioque ea tempestate Numae Pompili erat. Curibus Sabinis habitabat, consultissimus vir, ut in illa quisquam esse aetate poterat, omnis divini atque humani juris. Auctorem 35 doctrinae ejus, quia non extat alius, falso Samium Pythagoram edunt, quem, Servio Tullio regnante Romae, centum amplius post annos, in ultima Italiae ora circa Metapontum Heracleamque et Crotonem juvenum aemulantium studia coetus habuisse constat.

Ex quibus locis, etsi ejusdem aetatis fuisset, quae fama in Sabinos? aut quo linguae commercio quemquam ad cupiditatem discendi excivisset? quove praesidio unus per tot gentes dissonas sermone moribusque pervenisset? Suapte igitur ingenio temperatum animum virtutibus fuisse opinor magis, instructumque non tam peregrinis artibus, quam disciplina tetrica ac tristi veterum Sabinorum, quo genere nullum quondam incorruptius fuit. 5

Audito nomine Numae patres Romani, quamquam inclinari opes ad Sabinos rege inde sumpto videbantur, tamen neque se quisquam nec factionis suae alium nec denique patrum aut civium quemquam praeferre illi viro ausi, ad unum omnes Numae Pompilio regnum deferendum decernunt. Accitus, sicut Romulus augurato urbe condenda regnum adeptus est, de se quoque deos consuli jussit. Inde ab augure, cui deinde honoris ergo publicum id perpetuumque sacerdotium fuit, deductus in arcem, in lapide ad meridiem versus consedit. Augur ad laevam ejus capite velato sedem cepit, dextra manu baculum sine nodo aduncum tenens, quem litrum appellarunt. Inde ubi, prospectu in urbem agrumque capto, deos precatus regiones ab oriente ad occasum determinavit, dexteris ad meridiem partes, laevas ad septemtrionem esse dixit; signum contra, quoad longissime conspectum oculi ferebant, animo finivit; tum, lituo in laevam manum translato, dextra in caput Numae imposita, precatus ita est: "Juppiter pater, si est fas hunc Numam Pompilium, cujus ego caput teneo, regem Romae esse, uti tu signa nobis certa adclarassis inter eos fines, quos feci." Tum peregit verbis auspicia, quae mitti vellet; quibus missis declaratus rex Numa de templo descendit. 20 25 30

XIX. Qui regno ita potitus urbem novam, conditam vi et armis, jure eam legibusque ac moribus de integro condere parat. Quibus cum inter bella adsuescere videret non posse, (quippe efferari militia animos,) mitigandum ferocem populum armorum desuetudine ratus, Janum ad infimum Argiletum indicem pacis bellicue fecit, apertus ut in armis esse civitatem, clausus pacatos circa omnes populos significaret. Bis deinde post Numae regnum clausus fuit, 5 semel T. Manlio consule post Punicum primum perfectum bellum, iterum, quod nostrae aetati dii dederunt ut videremus, post bellum Actiacum, ab imperatore Caesare Augusto pace terra marique parta.

- Clauso eo, cum omnium circa finitimorum societate 10 ac foederibus junxisset animos, positis externorum periculorum curis ne luxuriarent otio animi, quos metus hostium disciplinaque militaris continuerat, omnium primum rem ad multitudinem inperitam et illis saeculis rudem efficacissimam, deorum metum 15 iniciendum ratus est. Qui cum descendere ad animos sine aliquo conmento miraculi non posset, simulat sibi cum dea Egeria congressus nocturnos esse; ejus se monitu, quae acceptissima diis essent, sacra instituire, sacerdotes suos cuique deorum praeficere.
- 20 Atque omnium primum ad cursus lunae in duodecim menses describit annum, quem, quia tricenos dies singulis mensibus luna non explet desuntque dies solido anno, qui solstitiali circumagitur orbe, intercalariis mensibus interponendis ita dispensavit, 25 ut vicesimo anno ad metam eandem solis, unde orsi essent, plenis omnium annorum spatiis dies congruerent. Idem nefastos dies fastosque fecit, quia aliquando nihil cum populo agi utile futurum erat.

- XX. Tum sacerdotibus creandis animum adjecit, 30 quamquam ipse plurima sacra obibat, ea maxime quae nunc ad Dialem flaminem pertinent. Sed quia in civitate bellicosa plures Romuli quam Numae similes reges putabat fore, iturosque ipsos ad bella, ne sacra regiae vicis desererentur, flaminem Jovi 35 adsiduum sacerdotem creavit, insignique eum veste et curuli regia sella adornavit. Huic duos flamines adjecit, Marti unum, alterum Quirino; virginesque Vestae legit, Alba oriundum sacerdotium et genti conditoris haud alienum. Iis, ut adsiduae templi antistites essent, stipendium de publico statuit, virginitate aliisque caerimoniis venerabiles ac sanctas fecit.

Salios item duodecim Marti Gradivo legit, tunicaeque pictae insigne dedit et super tunicam aeneum 5 pectori tegumen; caelestiaque arma, quae ancilia appellantur, ferre ac per urbem ire canentes carmina cum tripudiis sollemnique saltatu iussit.

Pontificem deinde Numam Marcium, Marci filium, ex patribus legit, eique sacra omnia exscripta ex- 10 signataque attribuit, quibus hostiis, quibus diebus, ad quae templa sacra fierent, atque unde in eos sumptus pecunia erogaretur. Cetera quoque omnia publica privataque sacra pontificis scitis subjecit, ut esset, quo consultum plebes veniret, ne quid divini juris 15 neglegendo patrios ritus peregrinosque adsciscendo turbaretur; nec caelestes modo caerimonias, sed justa quoque funebria placandosque manes ut idem pontifex edoceret, quaeque prodigia fulminibus aliove quo visu missa susciperentur atque curarentur. Ad ea 20 elicienda ex mentibus divinis Jovi Elicio aram in Aventino dicavit, deumque consuluit auguriis, quae suscipienda essent.

XXI. Ad haec consultanda procurandaque multitudine omni a vi et armis conversa, et animi aliquid 25 agendo occupati erant, et deorum assidua insidens cura, cum interesse rebus humanis caeleste numen videretur, ea pietate omnium pectora imbuerat, ut fides ac iusjurandum proximo legum ac poenarum metu civitatem regerent. Et cum ipsi se homines in 30 regis, velut unici exempli, mores formarent, tum finitimi etiam populi, qui antea castra, non urbem positam in medio ad sollicitandam omnium pacem crediderant, in eam verecundiam adducti sunt, ut civitatem totam in cultum versam deorum violare 35 ducerent nefas.

Lucus erat, quem medium ex opaco specu fons perenni rigabat aqua: quo quia se persaepe Numa sine arbitris velut ad congressum deae inferebat, Camenis

eum lucum sacrauit, quod earum ibi concilia cum conjuge sua Egeria essent. Et soli Fidei sollemne instituit. Ad id sacrarium flamines bigis curru arcuato vehi iussit, manuque ad digitos usque invo-5 luta rem divinam facere, significantes, fidem tutandam, sedemque ejus etiam in dextris sacratam esse.
 Multa alia sacrificia locaque sacris faciendis, quae Argeos pontifices vocant; dedicavit. Omnium tamen maximum ejus operum fuit tutela per omne regni 10 tempus haud minor pacis quam regni.

Ita duo deinceps reges, alius alia via, ille bello hic pace, civitatem auxerunt; Romulus septem et tri-ginta regnavit annos, Numa tres et quadraginta.
 Cum valida tum temperata et belli et pacis artibus 15 erat civitas.

XXII. Numae morte ad interregnum res rediit.
 Inde Tullum Hostilium, nepotem Hostili, cujus in infima arce clara pugna adversus Sabinos fuerat, regem populus jussit; patres auctores facti. Hic non 20 solum proximo regi dissimilis, sed ferocior etiam quam Romulus fuit. Cum aetas viresque tum avita quoque gloria animum stimulabat. Senescere igitur civitatem otio ratus undique materiam excitandi belli quaerebat.

25 Forte evenit, ut agrestes Romani ex Albano agro, Albani ex Romano praedas invicem agerent. Imperitabat tum Gaius Cluilius Albae. Utrunque legati fere sub idem tempus ad res repetendas missi. Tullus praeceperat suis, ne quid prius quam mandata age-30 rent; satis sciebat, negaturum Albanum: ita pie bellum indici posse. Ab Albanis socordius res acta; excepti hospitio ab Tullo blande ac benigne, comi fronte regis convivium celebrant. Tantisper Romani et res repetiverant priores et neganti Albano bellum
 35 in tricesimum diem indixerant. Haec renuntiant Tullo.

Tum legatis Tullus dicendi potestatem, quid petentes venerint, fecit. Illi omnium ignari primum purgando terunt tempus: se invitos quicquam, quod

minus placeat Tullo, dicturos, sed imperio subigi: res repetitum se venisse, ni reddantur, bellum indicare jussos. Ad haec Tullus "nuntiate" inquit "regi vestro, regem Romanum deos facere testes, uter prius populus res repetentes legatos aspernatus 5 dimiserit, ut in eum omnes expetant hujusce clades belli."

XXIII. Haec nuntiant domum Albani. Et bellum utrimque summa ope parabatur, civili simillimum bello, prope inter parentes natosque, Trojanam 10 utramque prolem, cum Lavinium ab Troja, ab Lavinio Alba, ab Albanorum stirpe regum oriundi Romani essent. Eventus tamen belli minus miserabilem dimicationem fecit, quod nec acie certatum est, et, tectis modo dirutis alterius urbis, duo populi in unum 15 confusi sunt. Albani priores ingenti exercitu in agrum Romanum impetum fecere. Castra ab urbe haud plus quinque milia passuum locant, fossa circumdant: fossa Cluilia ab nomine ducis per aliquot saecula appellata est, donec cum re nomen quoque vetustate abolevit. In his castris Cluilius, Albanus rex, 20 moritur, dictatorem Albani Mettium Fufetium creant.

Interim Tullus, ferox praecipue morte regis, magnumque deorum numen, ab ipso capite orsum, in omne nomen Albanum expetiturum poenas ob bellum 25 impium dictitans, nocte praeteritis hostium castris, infesto exercitu in agrum Albanum pergit. Ea res ab stativis excivit Mettium. Ducit quam proxume ad hostem potest. Inde legatum praemissum nuntiare Tullo jubet, priusquam dimicent, opus esse colloquio; 30 si secum congressus sit, satis scire ea se allaturum, quae nihilo minus ad rem Romanam quam ad Albanam pertineant. Haud aspernatus Tullus, tametsi vana adferri rebatur, in aciem educit. Exeunt contra et Albani. 35

Postquam instructi utrimque stabant, cum paucis procerum in medium duces prodeunt. Ibi infit Albanus: "injurias et non redditas res, ex foedere quae repetitae sint, et ego regem nostrum Cluilium causam

hujusce esse belli audisse videor, nec te dubito, Tulle, eadem prae te ferre: sed si vera potius quam dictu speciosa dicenda sunt, cupido imperii duos cognatos vicinosque populos ad arma stimulat. Neque recte
5 an perperam interpretor; fuerit ista ejus deliberatio, qui bellum suscepit. Me Albani gerendo bello ducem creavere. Illud te, Tulle, monitum velim: Etrusca res quanta circa nos, teque maxime, sit, quo propior es Tuscis, hoc magis scis. Multum illi terra, pluri-
10 mum mari pollent. Memor esto, jam cum signum pugnae dabis, has duas acies spectaculo fore, ut fessos confectosque simul victorem ac victum adgrediantur. Itaque si nos di amant, quoniam non contenti libertate certa in dubiam imperii servitiiue aleam imus, 15 ineamus aliquam viam, qua, utri utris imperent, sine magna clade, sine multo sanguine utriusque populi decerni possit." Haud displicet res Tullo, quamquam cum indole animi tum spe victoriae ferocior erat. Quaerentibus utrimque ratio initur, cui et 20 fortuna ipsa praebeuit materiam.

XXIV. Forte in duobus tum exercitibus erant trigemini fratres, nec aetate nec viribus dispares: Horatios Curiatiosque fuisse satis constat, nec ferme res antiqua alia est nobilior; tamen in re tam clara 25 nominum error manet, utrius populi Horatii, utrius Curiatii fuerint. Auctores utroque trahunt: plures tamen invenio, qui Romanos Horatios vocent; hos ut sequar, inclinat animus.

Cum trigeminis agunt reges, ut pro sua quisque
30 patria dimicent ferro: ibi imperium fore, unde victoria fuerit. Nihil recusatur; tempus et locus convenit. Priusquam dimicarent, foedus ictum inter Romanos et Albanos est his legibus, ut, cujus populi cives eo certamine vicissent, is alteri populo cum 35 bona pace imperitaret.

Foedera alia aliis legibus, ceterum eodem modo omnia fiunt. Tum ita factum accepimus, nec ullius vetustior foederis memoria est: fetialis regem Tullum ita rogavit: "jubesne me, rex, cum patre patrato populi Albani foedus ferire?" jubente rege, "sagmina" inquit "te, rex, posco;" rex ait, "puram tollito;" fetialis ex arce graminis herbam puram attulit; postea regem ita rogavit: "rex, facisne me tu regium nuntium populi Romani Quiritium, vasa 5 comitesque meos?" rex respondit: "quod sine fraude mea populique Romani Quiritium fiat, facio." Fetialis erat M. Valerius; is patrem patratum Spurium Fusium fecit, verbena caput capillosque tangens. Pater patratus ad jus jurandum patrandum, id est 10 sanciendum fit foedus; multisque id verbis, quae longo effata carmine non operae est referre, peragit. Legibus deinde recitatis, "audi," inquit, "Juppiter, audi, pater patratus populi Albani, audi tu, populus Albanus: ut illa palam prima postrema ex illis 15 tabulis cerave recitata sunt sine dolo malo, utique ea hic hodie rectissime intellecta sunt, illis legibus populus Romanus prior non deficiet. Si prior defexit publico consilio dolo malo, tum illo die, Juppiter, populum Romanum sic ferito, ut ego hunc porcum 20 hic hodie feriam, tantoque magis ferito, quanto magis potes pollesque." Id ubi dixit, porcum saxo silice percussit. Sua item carmina Albani suumque jus jurandum per suum dictatorem suosque sacerdotes peregerunt. 25

XXV. Foedere icto, trigemini sicut convenerat arma capiunt. Cum sui utrosque adhortarentur, deos patrios, patriam ac parentes, quidquid civium domi, quidquid in exercitu sit, illorum tunc arma, illorum intueri manus, feroces et suoapte ingenio et 30 pleni adhortantium vocibus, in medium inter duas acies procedunt. Consederant utrimque pro castris duo exercitus, periculi magis praesentis quam curae expertes; quippe imperium agebatur, in tam paucorum virtute atque fortuna positum. Itaque ergo 35 erecti suspensique in minime gratum spectaculum animo intenduntur.

Datur signum, infestisque armis, velut acies, terni juvenes, magnorum exercituum animos gerentes, con-

currunt. Nec his nec illis periculum suum, — publicum imperium servitiumque obversatur animo, futuraque ea deinde patriae fortuna, quam ipsi fecissent. Ut primo statim concursu increpuere arma micantesque fulsere gladii, horror ingens spectantis perstringit, et neutro inclinata spe torpebat vox spiritusque. Consertis deinde manibus, cum jam non motus tantum corporum agitatioque anceps telorum armorumque, sed vulnera quoque et sanguis spectaculo essent, duo Romani super alium alius, vulneratis tribus Albanis, expirantes corruerunt.

Ad quorum casum cum conclamasset gaudio Albanus exercitus, Romanas legiones jam spes tota, nondum tamen cura deseruerat, exanimes vice unius, quem tres Curiatii circumsteterant. Forte is integer fuit, ut universis solus nequaquam par, sic adversus singulos ferox. Ergo ut segregaret pugnam eorum, capessit fugam, ita ratus secuturos, ut quemque vulnere adfectum corpus sineret. Jam aliquantum spatii ex eo loco, ubi pugnatum est, aufugerat, cum respiciens videt magnis intervallis sequentes, unum haut procul ab sese abesse. In eum magno impetu rediit; et dum Albanus exercitus inclamat Curiatiis, uti opem ferant fratri, jam Horatius, caeso hoste victor, secundam pugnam petebat.

Tunc clamore, qualis ex insperato faventium solet, Romani adjuvant militem suum, et ille defungi proelio festinat. Prius itaque quam alter, qui nec procul aberat, consequi posset, et alterum Curiatium conficit. Jamque aequato Marte singuli supererant, sed nec spe nec viribus pares. Alterum intactum ferro corpus et geminata victoria ferocem in certamen tertium dabat; alter, fessum vulnere, fessum cursu trahens corpus, victusque fratrum ante se strage, victori obicitur hosti. Nec illud proelium fuit. Romanus exsultans “duos” inquit “fratrum manibus dedi, tertium causae belli hujusce, ut Romanus Albano imperet, dabo.” Male sustinenti arma gladium superne jugulo defigit, jacentem spoliat.

Romani ovantes ac gratulantes Horatium accipiunt eo majore cum gaudio, quo prope metum res fuerat. Ad sepulturam inde suorum nequaquam paribus animis vertuntur, quippe imperio alteri aucti, alteri dicionis alienae facti. Sepulcra extant quo quisque loco cecidit, duo Romana uno loco propius Albam, tria Albana Romam versus, sed distantia locis, ut et pugnatum est. 5

XXVI. Priusquam inde digrederentur, roganti Mettius, ex foedere icto quid imperaret, imperat Tullus, uti juventutem in armis habeat; usurum se eorum opera, si bellum cum Veientibus foret. Ita exercitus inde domos abducti. Princeps Horatius ibat, trigemina spolia prae se gerens; cui soror virgo, quae desponsa uni ex Curiatiis fuerat, obvia ante portam Capenam fuit, cognitoque superumeros fratris paludamento sponsi, quod ipsa confecerat, solvit crines et flebiliter nomine sponsum mortuum appellat. Movet feroci juveni animum conploratio sororis in victoria sua tantoque gaudio publico. Stricto itaque gladio, simul verbis increpans, transfigit puellam. "Abi hinc cum inmaturum amorem ad sponsum," inquit, "oblita fratrum mortuorum vivique, oblita patriae. Sic eat, quaecumque Romana lugebit hostem." 10 15 20

Atrox visum id facinus patribus plebique, sed recens meritum facto obstabat. Tamen raptus in jus ad regem. Rex, ne ipse tam tristis ingratiue ad vulgus iudicii ac secundum iudicium supplicii auctor esset, concilio populi advocato, "duumviros," inquit, "qui Horatio perduellionem iudicent, secundum legem facio." 25 30

Lex horrendi carminis erat: "duumviri perduellionem iudicent; si a duumviris provocarit, provocatione certato; si vincent, caput obnubito, infelici arbori recte suspendito, verberato vel intra pomerium vel extra pomerium." Hac lege duumviri creati, qui se absolvere non rebantur ea lege ne innoxium quidem posse, cum condemnassent, tum alter ex his "Publi Horati, tibi perduellionem iudico" inquit. 35

"Lictor, conliga manus." Accesserat lictor iniciebatque laqueum. Tum Horatius, auctore Tullo, clemente legis interprete, "provoco" inquit. Itaque provocatione certatum ad populum est.

- 5 Moti homines sunt in eo iudicio maxime Publio Horatio patre proclamante, se filiam jure caesam judicare; ni ita esset, patrio jure in filium animadversurum fuisse. Orabat deinde, ne se, quem paulo ante cum egregia stirpe conspexissent, orbem liberis 10 facerent. Inter haec senex juvenem amplexus, spolia Curiatorum fixa eo loco, qui nunc pila Horatia appellatur, ostentans, "huncine," aiebat, "quem modo decoratum ovantemque victoria incedentem vidistis, Quirites, eum sub furca vinctum inter verbera et
15 cruciatus videre potestis? quod vix Albanorum oculi tam deforme spectaculum ferre possent. I, lictor, conliga manus, quae paulo ante armatae imperium populo Romano pepererunt, i, caput obnube liberatoris urbis hujus, arbore infelici suspende, verbera
20 vel intra pomerium, modo inter illa pila et spolia hostium, vel extra pomerium, modo inter sepulcra Curiatorum. Quo enim ducere hunc juvenem potestis, ubi non sua decora eum a tanta foeditate supplicii vindicent?"
- 25 Non tulit populus nec patris lacrimas nec ipsius parem in omni periculo animum; absolveruntque, admiratione magis virtutis quam jure causae. Itaque, ut caedes manifesta aliquo tamen piaculo lueretur, imperatum patri, ut filium expiaret pecunia publica.
- 30 Is, quibusdam piacularibus sacrificiis factis, quae deinde genti Horatiae tradita sunt, transmissa per viam tigillo, capite adoperto velut sub jugum misit juvenem. Id hodie quoque publice semper refectum manet: sororium tigillum vocant. Horatiae sepul-35 crum, quo loco corruerat icta, constructum est saxo quadrato.

XXVII. Nec diu pax Albana mansit. Invidia vulgi, quod tribus militibus fortuna publica commissa fuerat, vanum ingenium dictatoris corrupit, et, quoniam recta consilia haut bene evenerant, pravis reconciliare popularium animos coepit. Igitur ut prius in bello pacem, sic in pace bellum quaerens, quia suae civitati animorum plus quam virium cernebat esse, ad bellum palam atque ex edicto gerundum 5 alios concitat populos, suis per speciem societatis prodicionem reservat. Fidenates, colonia Romana, Veientibus sociis consilii adsumptis, pacto transitionis Albanorum ad bellum atque arma incitantur.

Cum Fidenae aperte descissent, Tullus, Mettio 10 exercituque ejus ab Alba accito, contra hostes ducit. Ubi Anienem transiit, ad confluentis collocat castra. Inter eum locum et Fidenas Veientium exercitus Tiberim transierat. Hi et in acie prope flumen tenuere dextrum cornu; in sinistro Fidenates propius 15 montes consistunt. Tullus adversus Veientem hostem derigit suos; Albanos contra legionem Fidenatium conlocat. Albano non plus animi erat quam fidei. Nec manere ergo nec transire aperte ausus sensim ad montes succedit; inde, ubi satis subisse sese ratus est, 20 erigit totam aciem, fluctuansque animo, ut tereret tempus, ordines explicat. Consilium erat, qua fortuna rem daret, ea inclinare vires. Miraculo primo esse Romanis, qui proximi steterant, ut nudari latera sua sociorum digressu senserunt; inde eques citato 25 equo nuntiat regi, abire Albanos. Tullus in re trepida duodecim vovit Salios, fanaque Pallori ac Pavori. Equitem clara increpans voce, ut hostes exaudirent, redire in proelium jubet; nihil trepidatione opus esse; suo jussu circumduci Albanum exercitum, 30 ut Fidenatium nuda terga invadant; item imperat, ut hastas equites erigerent. Id factum magnae parti peditum Romanorum conspectum abeuntis Albani exercitus intersaepsit; qui viderant, id quod ab rege auditum erat rati, eo acrius pugnant. 35

Terror ad hostes transit: et audiverant clara voce dictum, et magna pars Fidenatium, ut qui coloni additi Romanis essent, Latine sciebant. Itaque, ne subito ex collibus decursu Albanorum interclude-

rentur ab oppido, terga vertunt. Instat Tullus, fusoque Fidenatium cornu in Veientem alieno pavore perculsum ferocior redit. Nec illi tulere impetum, sed ab effusa fuga flumen objectum ab tergo arcebat.

5 Quo postquam fuga inclinavit, alii arma foede iactantes in aquam caeci ruebant, alii, dum cunctantur in ripis, inter fugae pugnaeque consilium obpressi. Non alia ante Romana pugna atrocior fuit.

XXVIII. Tum Albanus exercitus, spectator certaminis, deductus in campos. Mettius Tullo devictos hostes gratulatur, contra Tullus Mettium benigne adloquitur. Quod bene vertat, castra Albanos Romanis castris jungere jubet, sacrificium lustrale in diem posterum parat. Ubi inluxit, paratis omnibus, 15 ut adsolet, vocari ad contionem utrumque exercitum jubet. Praecones, ab extremo orsi, primos excivere Albanos. Hi, novitate etiam rei moti, ut regem Romanum contionantem audirent, proximi constitere. Ex composito armata circumdatur Romana legio; 20 centurionibus datum negotium erat, ut sine mora imperia exsequerentur.

Tum ita Tullus inquit: "Romani, si umquam ante alias ullo in bello fuit, quod primum dis immortalibus gratias ageretis, deinde vestrae ipsorum virtuti, hesternum id proelium fuit. Dimicatum est enim non 25 magis cum hostibus, quam, quae dimicatio major atque periculosior est, cum proditione ac perfidia sociorum. Nam, ne vos falsa opinio teneat, injussu meo Albani subiere ad montes, nec imperium illud 30 meum, sed consilium et imperii simulatio fuit, ut nec vobis, ignorantibus deseri vos, averteretur a certamine animus, et hostibus, circumveniri se ab tergo ratis, terror ac fuga iniceretur. Nec ea culpa, quam arguo, omnium Albanorum est: ducem secuti sunt, ut et vos, 35 si quo ego inde agmen declinare voluissem, fecissetis. Mettius ille est ductor itineris hujus, Mettius foederis Romani Albanique ruptor. Audeat deinde talis alius, nisi in hunc insigne jam documentum mortali- bus dederō."

Centuriones armati Mettium circumsistunt; rex cetera, ut orsus erat, peragit: "quod bonum faustum felixque sit populo Romano ac mihi vobisque, Albani, populum omnem Albanum Romam traducere in animo est, civitatem dare plebi, primores in patres legere, 5 unam urbem, unam rem publicam facere; ut ex uno quondam in duos populos divisa Albana res est, sic nunc in unum redeat." Ad haec Albana pubes, inermis ab armatis saepta, in variis voluntatibus communi tamen metu cogente, silentium tenet. Tum 10 Tullus "Metti Fufeti," inquit, "si ipse discere posses fidem ac foedera servare, vivo tibi ea disciplina a me adhibita esset; nunc, quoniam tuum insanabile ingenium est, at tu tuo supplicio doce humanum genus ea sancta credere, quae a te violata sunt. Ut igitur 15 paulo ante animum inter Fidenatem Romanamque rem ancipitem gessisti, ita jam corpus passim distrahendum dabis."

Exinde duabus admotis quadrigis, in currus earum distentum inligat Mettium; deinde in diversum iter 20 equi concitati, lacerum in utroque curru corpus, quae inhaeserant vinculis membra, portantes. Avertere omnes ab tanta foeditate spectaculi oculos. Primum ultimumque illud supplicium apud Romanos exempli parum memoris legum humanarum fuit; in aliis glo- 25 riari licet, nulli gentium mitiores placuisse poenas.

XXIX. Inter haec jam praemissi Albam erant equites, qui multitudinem traducerent Romam. Legiones deinde ductae ad diruendam urbem. Quae ubi intravere portas, non quidem fuit tumultus ille 30 nec pavor, qualis captarum esse urbium solet, cum, effractis portis stratisve ariete muris aut arce vi capta; clamor hostilis et cursus per urbem armatorum omnia ferro flammaque miscet; sed silentium triste ac tacita maestitia ita defixit omnium animos, ut prae metu 35 obliti, quid relinquerent, quid secum ferrent, deficiente consilio rogitantesque alii alios, nunc in liminibus starent, nunc errabundi domos suas, ultimum illud visuri, pervagarentur.

Ut vero jam equitum clamor exire iubentium instabat, jam fragor tectorum, quae diruebantur, ultimis urbis partibus audiebatur, pulvisque ex distantibus locis ortus velut nube inducta omnia impleverat, 5 raptim, quibus quisque poterat, elatis, cum larem ac penates tectaque, in quibus natus quisque educatusque esset, relinquentes exirent, jam continens agmen migrantium impleverat vias, et conspectus aliorum mutua miseratione integrabat lacrimas, vocesque 10 etiam miserabiles exaudiebantur, mulierum praecipue, cum obsessa ab armatis templa augusta praeterirent ac velut captos relinquerent deos. Egressis urbem Albanis, Romanus passim publica privataque omnia tecta adaequat solo, unaque hora quadringentorum annorum opus, quibus Alba steterat, excidio ac ruinis dedit. Templis tamen deum (ita enim edictum ab rege fuerat) temperatum est.

XXX. Roma interim crescit Albae ruinis. Duplicatur civium numerus; Caelius additur urbi mons, 20 et, quo frequentius habitaretur, eam sedem Tullus regiae capit, ibique deinde habitavit. Principes Albanorum in patres, ut ea quoque pars rei publicae cresceret, legit, Tullios, Servilios, Quinctios, Geganius, Curiatios, Cloelios; templumque ordini ab se 25 aucto curiam fecit, quae Hostilia usque ad patrum nostrorum aetatem appellata est. Et ut omnium ordinum viribus aliquid ex novo populo adiceretur, equitum decem turmas ex Albanis legit, legiones et veteres eodem supplemento explevit et novas scripsit. 30 Hac fiducia virium Tullus Sabinis bellum indicit, genti ea tempestate secundum Etruscos opulentissimae viris armisque. Utrumque injuriae factae ac res nequiquam erant repetitae: Tullus ad Feroniae fanum mercatu frequenti negotiatores Romanos comprehensos querebatur; Sabini, servos suos prius in lucum confugisse ac Romae retentos. Hae causae belli ferebantur.

nuper etiam adjectione populi Albani auctam, circumspicere et ipsi externa auxilia. Etruria erat vicina, proximi Etruscorum Veientes. Inde, ob residuas bellorum iras maxime sollicitatis ad defectionem animis, voluntarios traxere, et apud vagos quosdam 5 ex inopi plebe etiam merces valuit; publico auxilio nullo adjuti sunt, valuitque apud Veientes (nam de ceteris minus mirum est) pacta cum Romulo indu-tiarum fides.

Cum bellum utrimque summa ope pararent, verti- 10 que in eo res videretur, utri prius arma inferrent, occupat Tullus in agrum Sabinum transire. Pugna atrox ad silvam malitiosam fuit, ubi et peditum quidem robore, ceterum equitatu aucto nuper plurimum Romana acies valuit. Ab equitibus repente invectis 15 turbati ordines sunt Sabinorum, nec pugna deinde illis constare nec fuga explicari sine magna caede potuit.

XXXI. Devictis Sabinis, cum in magna gloria magnisque opibus regnum Tulli ac tota res Romana 20 esset, nuntiatum regi patribusque est, in monte Albano lapidibus pluvisse. Quod cum credi vix posset, missis ad id visendum prodigium, in conspectu, haut aliter quam cum grandinem venti glomeratam in terras agunt, crebri cecidere caelo lapides. Visi 25 etiam audire vocem ingentem ex summi cacuminis luco, ut patrio ritu sacra Albani facerent, quae, velut diis quoque simul cum patria relictis, oblivioni dederant, et aut Romana sacra susceperant aut fortunae, ut fit, obirati cultum reliquerant deum. Ro- 30 manis quoque ab eodem prodigio novendiale sacrum publice susceptum est, seu voce caelesti ex Albano monte missa (nam id quoque traditur) seu aruspicum monitu; mansit certe sollemne, ut, quandoque idem prodigium nuntiaretur, feriae per novem dies age- 35 rentur.

Haud ita multo post pestilentia laboratum est. Unde cum pigritia militandi oreretur, nulla tamen ab armis quies dabatur a bellicoso rege, salubriora

- etiam credente militiae quam domi juvenum corpora esse, donec ipse quoque longinquo morbo est implicatus. Tunc adeo fracti simul cum corpore sunt spiritus illi feroces, ut, qui nihil ante ratus esset
- 5 minus regium quam sacris dedere animum, repente omnibus magnis parvisque superstitionibus obnoxius degeret, religionibusque etiam populum inpleret. Vulgo jam homines, eum statum rerum, qui sub Numa rege fuerat, requirentes, unam opem aegris
- 10 corporibus relictam, si pax veniaque ab diis impetrata esset, credebant. Ipsum regem tradunt volentem commentarios Numae, cum ibi quaedam occulta sollemnia sacrificia Jovi Elicio facta invenisset, operatum iis sacris se abdidisse; sed non rite
- 15 initum aut curatum id sacrum esse, nec solum nullam ei oblatam caelestium speciem, sed ira Jovis sollicitati prava religione fulmine ictum cum domo conflagrasse. Tullus magna gloria belli regnavit annos duos et triginta.
- 20 XXXII. Mortuo Tullo, res, ut institutum jam inde ab initio erat, ad patres redierat, hique interregem nominaverant. Quo comitia habente Ancum Marcium regem populus creavit; patres fuere auctores.
- Numae Pompili regis nepos, filia ortus, Ancus
- 25 Marcius erat. Qui ut regnare coepit, et avitae gloriae memor et quia proximum regnum, cetera egregium, ab una parte haut satis prosperum fuerat, aut neglectis religionibus aut prave cultis, longe antiquissimum ratus sacra publica ut a Numa instituta
- 30 erant facere, omnia ea ex commentariis regis pontificem in album elata proponere in publico jubet.
- Inde et civibus otii cupidis et finitimis civitatibus facta spes, in avi mores atque instituta regem abiturum. Igitur Latini, cum quibus Tullo regnante
- 35 ictum foedus erat, sustulerant animos, et, cum incursionem in agrum Romanum fecissent, repetentibus res Romanis superbe responsum reddunt, desiderans Romanum regem inter sacella et aras acturum esse regnum rati.

Medium erat in Anco ingenium, et Numae et Romuli memor; et praeterquam quod avi regno magis necessariam fuisse pacem credebat cum in novo tum feroci populo, etiam, quod illi contigisset otium sine injuria, id se haud facile habiturum; 5 temptari patientiam et temptatam contemni, temporaeque esse Tullo regi aptiora quam Numae. Ut tamen, quoniam Numa in pace religiones instituisset, a se bellicae caerimoniae proderentur, nec gererentur solum, sed etiam indicerentur bella aliquo ritu, jus 10 ab antiqua gente Aequiculis, quod nunc fetiales habent, descripsit, quo res repetuntur.

Legatus ubi ad fines eorum venit, unde res repetuntur, capite velato filo (lanae velamen est) "audi, Juppiter," inquit, "audite fines" (cujuscumque gentis 15 sunt, nominat), "audiat fas! ego sum publicus nuntius populi Romani; juste pieque legatus venio, verbisque meis fides sit." Peragit deinde postulata. Inde Jovem testem facit: "si ego injuste impieque illos homines illasque res dedier mihi exposco, tum patriae 20 compotem me numquam siris esse." Haec, cum fines suprascandit, haec, quicumque ei primus vir obvius fuerit, haec portam ingrediens, haec forum ingressus, paucis verbis carminis concipiendique juris jurandi mutatis, peragit. Si non deduntur quos exposcit, 25 diebus tribus et triginta (tot enim sollemnes sunt) peractis bellum ita indicit: "audi, Juppiter, et tu, Jane Quirine; diique omnes caelestes, vosque terrestres vosque inferni, audite! ego vos testor, populum illum" (quicumque est, nominat) "injustum esse 30 neque jus persolvere; sed de istis rebus in patria majores natu consulemus, quo pacto jus nostrum adipiscamur." Cum his nuntius Romam ad consulendum redit. Confestim rex his ferme verbis patres consulebat: "quarum rerum, litium, causarum con- 35 dixit pater patratus populi Romani Quiritium patri patrato Priscorum Latinorum hominibusque Priscis Latinis, quas res nec dederunt nec solverunt nec fecerunt, quas res dari, solvi, fieri oportuit, dic,"

- inquit ei, quem primum sententiam rogabat, "quid censes?" Tum ille: "puro pioque duello quaerendas censeo, itaque consensio consciscoque." Inde ordine alii rogabantur; quandoque pars major eorum, qui 5 aderant, in eandem sententiam ibat, bellum erat consensum. Fieri solitum, ut fetialis hastam ferratam aut sanguineam praeustam ad fines eorum ferret et, non minus tribus puberibus praesentibus, diceret: "quod populi Priscorum Latinorum hominesque
 10 Prisci Latini adversus populum Romanum Quiritium fecerunt, deliquerunt, quod populus Romanus Quiritium bellum cum Priscis Latinis jussit esse, senatusque populi Romani Quiritium censuit, consensit, conscivit, ut bellum cum Priscis Latinis fieret, ob
 15 eam rem ego populusque Romanus populis Priscorum Latinorum hominibusque Priscis Latinis bellum indico facioque." Id ubi dixisset, hastam in fines eorum emittebat. Hoc tum modo ab Latinis repetitae res ac bellum indictum, moremque eum poster 20 acceperunt.

- XXXIII. Ancus, demandata cura sacrorum flaminibus sacerdotibusque aliis, exercitu novo conscripto, profectus Politorium, urbem Latinorum, vi cepit; secutusque morem regum priorum, qui rem 25 Romanam auxerant hostibus in civitatem accipientibus, multitudinem omnem Romam traduxit. Et cum circa Palatium, sedem veterum Romanorum, Sabini Capitolium atque arcem, Caelium montem Albani inplessent, Aventinum novae multitudini datum.
 30 Additi eodem haut ita multo post, Tellenis Ficanaque captis, novi cives.

- Politorium inde rursus bello repetitum, quod vacuum occupaverant Prisci Latini; eaque causa diruendae urbis ejus fuit Romanis, ne hostium semper 35 receptaculum esset. Postremo omni bello Latino Medulliam compulso, aliquamdiu ibi Marte incerto varia victoria pugnatum est: nam et urbs tuta munitionibus praesidioque firmata valido erat, et, castris in aperto positis, aliquotiens exercitus Latinus comminus cum Romanis signa contulerat. Ad ultimum omnibus copiis conisus Ancus acie primum vincit, inde ingenti praeda potens Romam redit, tum quoque multis milibus Latinorum in civitatem acceptis, quibus, ut jungeretur Palatio Aventinum, ad 5 Murciae datae sedes.

Janiculum quoque adjectum, non inopia loci, sed ne quando ea arx hostium esset. Id non muro solum, sed etiam ob commoditatem itineris ponte sublicio, tum primum in Tiberi facto, conjungi urbi placuit. 10 Quiritium quoque fossa, haut parvum munimentum a planioribus aditu locis, Ançi regis opus est. Ingenti incremento rebus auctis, cum in tanta multitudine hominum, discrimine recte an perperam facti confuso, facinora clandestina fierent, carcer ad terrorem 15 increscentis audaciae media urbe inminens foro aedificatur.

Nec urbs tantum hoc rege crevit, sed etiam ager finesque: silva Messia Veientibus adempta usque ad mare imperium prolatum, et in ore Tiberis Ostia urbs 20 condita; salinae circa factae, egregieque rebus bello gestis, aedis Jovis Feretrii amplificata.

XXXIV. Anco regnante Lucumo, vir inpiger ac divitiis potens, Romam commigravit cupidine maxime ac spe magni honoris, cujus adipiscendi Tarquiniis 25 (nam ibi quoque peregrina stirpe oriundus erat) facultas non fuerat. Demarati Corinthii filius erat, qui ob seditiones domo profugus cum Tarquiniis forte consedisset, uxore ibi ducta, duos filios genuit. Nomina his Lucumo atque Arruns fuerunt. Lucumo 30 superfuit patri bonorum omnium heres; Arruns prior quam pater moritur, uxore gravida relicta. Nec diu manet superstes filio pater; qui cum, ignorans nurum ventrem ferre, inmemor in testando nepotis decessisset, puero, post avi mortem in nullam sortem bonorum nato, ab inopia Egerio inditum nomen. Lucumoni contra, omnium heredi bonorum, cum divitiae jam animos facerent, auxit ducta in matrimonium Tanaquil, summo loco nata et quae haud facile iis, in quibus nata erat, humiliora sineret ea, quo innupsisset. Spernentibus Etruscis Lucumonem, exule advena ortum, ferre indignitatem non potuit, oblitaque ingenitae erga patriam caritatis, dummodo virum

 5 honoratum videret, consilium migrandi ab Tarquiniis cepit. Roma est ad id potissima visa; in novo populo, ubi omnis repentina atque ex virtute nobilitas sit, futurum locum forti ac strenuo viro; regnasse Tatium Sabinum, arcessitum in regnum Numam a 10 Curibus, et Ancum Sabina matre ortum nobilemque una imagine Numae esse. Facile persuadet ut cupidus honorum et cui Tarquinii materna tantum patria esset.

Sublatis itaque rebus amigrant Romam. Ad Janiculum forte ventum erat; ibi ei carpento sedenti cum uxore aquila suspensis demissa leniter alis pilleum aufert, superque carpentum cum magno clangore volitans, rursus, velut ministerio divinitus missa, capiti apte reponit; inde sublimis abit. Accepisse 20 id augurium laeta dicitur Tanaquil, perita, ut vulgo Etrusci, caelestium prodigiorum mulier. Excelsa et alta sperare complexa virum jubet: eam alitem, ea regione caeli et ejus dei nuntiam venisse; circa summum culmen hominis auspiciu fecisse; levasse hu-25 mano superpositum capiti decus, ut divinitus eidem redderet.

Has spes cogitationesque secum portantes urbem ingressi sunt, domicilioque ibi comparato L. Tarquinius Priscum edidere nomen. Romanis conspicuum
 30 eum novitas divitiaeque faciebant; et ipse fortunam, benigno adloquio, comitate invitandi, beneficiisque quos poterat sibi conciliando, adjuvabat, donec in regiam quoque de eo fama perlata est. Notitiamque eam brevi apud regem liberaliter dextreque obeundo 35 officia in familiaris amicitiae adduxerat jura, ut publicis pariter ac privatis consiliis bello domique interesset, et per omnia expertus postremo tutor etiam liberis regis testamento institueretur.

XXXV. Regnavit Ancus annos quattuor et viginti, cuilibet superiorum regum belli pacisque et artibus et gloria par. Jam filii prope puberem aetatem erant. Eo magis Tarquinius instare, ut quam primum comitia regi creando fierent; quibus indictis, sub tempus pueros venatum ablegavit. Is- 5 que primus et petisse ambitiose regnum et orationem dicitur habuisse ad conciliandos plebis animos compositam. Cum se non rem novam petere, quippe qui non primus, quod quispiam indignari mirarive posset, sed tertius Romae peregrinus regnum adfectet; et 10 Tatium non ex peregrino solum, sed etiam ex hoste regem factum, et Numam ignarum urbis, non petentem, in regnum ultro accitum; se, ex quo sui potens fuerit, Romam cum conjuge ac fortunis omnibus commigrasse; majorem partem aetatis ejus, qua civilibus 15 officiis fungantur homines, Romae se quam in vetere patria vixisse; domi militiaeque sub haut paenitendo magistro, ipso Anco rege, Romana se jura, Romanos ritus didicisse; obsequio et observantia in regem cum omnibus, benignitate erga alios cum rege ipso cer- 20 tasse; — haec eum haut falsa memorantem ingenti consensu populus Romanus regnare jussit.

Ergo virum cetera egregium secuta, quam in petendo habuerat, etiam regnantem ambitio est; nec minus regni sui firmandi quam augendae rei publicae 25 memor, centum in patres legit, qui deinde minorum gentium sunt appellati, factio haut dubia regis, cujus beneficio in curiam venerant.

Bellum primum cum Latinis gessit, et oppidum ibi Apiolas vi cepit; praedaeque inde majore, quam quanta 30 belli fama fuerat, revecta, ludos opulenter instructiusque quam priores reges fecit. Tunc primum circo, qui nunc maximus dicitur, designatus locus est. Loca divisa patribus equitibusque, ubi spectacula sibi quisque facerent; fori appellati. Spectavere furcis duos 35 denos ab terra spectacula alta sustinentibus pedes. Ludicrum fuit equi pugilesque, ex Etruria maxime acciti. Sollemnes deinde annui mansere ludi, Romani magnique varie appellati. Ab eodem rege et circa forum privatis aedificanda divisa sunt loca, porticus tabernaeque factae.

- XXXVI. Muro quoque lapideo circumdare urbem parabat, cum Sabinum bellum coeptis intervenit.
- 5 Adeoque ea subita res fuit, ut prius Anienem transirent hostes quam obviam ire ac prohibere exercitus Romanus posset. Itaque trepidatum Romae est; et primo dubia victoria, magna utrimque caede pugnatum est. Reductis deinde in castra hostium copiis,
- 10 datoque spatio Romanis ad comparandum de integro bellum, Tarquinius, equitem maxime suis deesse viribus ratus, ad Ramnis, Titienses, Luceres, quas centurias Romulus scripserat, addere alias constituit suoque insignes relinquere nomine.
- 15 Id quia inaugurato Romulus fecerat, negare Attus Navius, inclitus ea tempestate augur, neque mutari neque novum constitui, nisi aves addixissent, posse. Ex eo ira regi mota; eludensque artem, ut ferunt, "age dum," inquit, "divine tu, inaugura, fierine possit, quod nunc ego mente concipio." Cum ille in
- 20 augurio rem expertus profecto futuram dixisset, "atqui hoc animo agitavi," inquit, "te novacula cotem discissurum: cape haec et perage, quod aves tuae fieri posse portendunt." Tum illum haud cunctanter discidissee cotem ferunt. Statua Atti capite
- 25 velato, quo in loco res acta est, in comitio in gradibus ipsis ad laevam curiae fuit; cotem quoque eodem loco sitam fuisse memorant, ut esset ad posteros miraculi ejus monumentum.
- 30 Auguriis certe sacerdotioque augurum tantus honos accessit, ut nihil belli domique postea nisi auspicato gereretur, concilia populi, exercitus vocati, summa rerum, ubi aves non admisissent, dirimerentur. Neque tum Tarquinius de equitum centuriis quicquam
- 35 mutavit; numero alterum tantum adjecit, ut mille et octingenti equites in tribus centuriis essent. Posteriores modo sub isdem nominibus, qui additi erant, appellati sunt; quas nunc, quia geminatae sunt, sex vocant centurias.

XXXVII. Hac parte copiarum aucta iterum cum Sabinis configitur. Sed praeterquam quod viribus creverat Romanus exercitus, ex occulto etiam additur dolus, missis, qui magnam vim lignorum, in Anienis ripa jacentem, ardentem in flumen conicerent; ventoque juvante accensa ligna, et pleraque in ratibus inpacta sublicis cum haerent, pontem incendunt. Ea quoque res in pugna terrorem attulit Sabinis, et fuis eadem fugam impediit; multique mortales, cum hostes effugissent, in flumine ipso perire; quorum fluitantia arma ad urbem cognita in Tiberi prius paene, quam nuntiari posset, insignem victoriam fecere. 5 10

Eo proelio praecipua equitum gloria fuit: utrimque ab cornibus positos, cum jam pelleretur media peditum suorum acies, ita incurrisse ab lateribus ferunt, ut non sisterent modo Sabinas legiones ferociter instantes cedentibus, sed subito in fugam averterent. Montes effuso cursu Sabini petebant, et pauci tenuera; maxima pars, ut ante dictum est, ab equitibus in flumen acti sunt. Tarquinius instandum perterritis ratus, praeda captivisque Romam missis, spoliis hostium (id votum Vulcano erat) ingenti cumulo accensis, pergit porro in agrum Sabinum exercitum inducere; et, quamquam male gestae res erant, nec gesturos melius sperare poterant, tamen, quia consulendi res non dabat spatium, iere obviam Sabini tumultuario milite; iterumque ibi fusi, perditis jam prope rebus, pacem petiere. 15 20 25

XXXVIII. Collatia, et quicquid citra Collatiam agri erat, Sabinis ademptum; Egerius (fratris hic filius erat regis) Collatiae in praesidio relictus. Deditosque Collatinos ita accipio, eamque deditionis formulam esse: rex interrogavit: "estisne vos legati oratoresque missi a populo Conlatino, ut vos populumque Conlatinum dederetis?" — "Sumus." — "Estne populus Conlatinus in sua potestate?" — "Est." — "Deditisne vos populumque Conlatinum, urbem, agros, aquam, terminos, delubra, utensilia, 30 35

Bello Sabino perfecto Tarquinius triumphans Romanam reddit. Inde Priscis Latinis bellum fecit, ubi nusquam ad universae rei dimicationem ventum est: ad singula oppida circumferendo arma omne nomen Latinum domuit. Corniculum, Ficulea vetus, Cameria, Crustumerium, Ameriola, Medullia, Nomentum, haec de Priscis Latinis aut qui ad Latinos defecerant capta oppida. Pax deinde est facta.

Majore inde animo pacis opera inchoata, quam quanta mole gesserat bella, ut non quietior populus domi esset quam militiae fuisset: nam et muro lapideo, cujus exordium operis Sabino bello turbatum erat, urbem, qua nondum munierat, cingere parat, et infima urbis loca circa forum aliasque interjectas collibus convalles, quia ex planis locis haut facile evehebant aquas, cloacis fastigio in Tiberim ductis siccant, et aream ad aedem in Capitolio Jovis, quam voverat bello Sabino, jam praesagiente animo futuram olim amplitudinem loci, occupat fundamentis.

XXXIX. Eo tempore in regia prodigium visu eventumque mirabile fuit. Pueri dormienti, cui Servio Tullio fuit nomen, caput arsisse ferunt multorum in conspectu; plurimo igitur clamore inde ad tantae rei miraculum orto, excitos reges, et, cum quidam familiarium aquam ad restinguendum ferret, ab regina retentum, sedatoque eam tumultu moveri vetuisse puerum, donec sua sponte experrectus esset; mox cum somno et flammam abisset. Tum abducto in secretum viro Tanaquil "viden' tu puerum hunc," inquit, "quem tam humili cultu educamus? Scire licet hunc lumen quondam rebus nostris dubiis futurum praesidiumque regiae adflictae; proinde materiam ingentis publice privatimque decoris omni indulgentia nostra nutriamus."

Inde puerum liberum loco coeptum haberi erudiri-que artibus, quibus ingenia ad magnae fortunae sub-tum excitantur. Evenit facile, quod diis cordi est. Juvenis evasit vere indolis regiae, nec, cum quaeretur gener Tarquinio, quisquam Romanae juventutis ulla arte conferri potuit, filiamque ei suam rex despondit.

Hic quacumque de causa tantus illi honos habitus credere prohibet, serva natum eum parvumque ipsum servisse. Eorum magis sententiae sum, qui, Corniculo capto, Servi Tulli, qui princeps in illa urbe fuerat, gravidam viro occiso uxorem, cum inter reli- 10 quas captivas cognita esset, ob unicam nobilitatem ab regina Romana prohibitam ferunt servitio partum Romae edidisse Prisci Tarquini domo; inde tanto beneficio et inter mulieres familiaritatem auctam et puerum, ut in domo a parvo eductum, in caritate 15 atque honore fuisse; fortunam matris, quod capta patria in hostium manus venerit, ut serva natus crederetur, fecisse.

XL. Duodequadragesimo ferme anno, ex quo regnare coeperat Tarquinius, non apud regem modo, 20 sed apud patres plebemque longe maximo honore Servius Tullius erat. Tum Anci filii duo, etsi antea semper pro indignissimo habuerant, se patrio regno tutoris fraude pulsos, regnare Romae advenam non modo vicinae, sed ne Italicae quidem stirpis, tum 25 inpensius iis indignitas crescere, si ne ab Tarquinio quidem ad se rediret regnum, sed praeceps inde porro ad servitia caderet, ut in eadem civitate post centesimum fere annum quod Romulus, deo prognatus, deus ipse, tenuerit regnum, donec in terris fuerit, id servus 30 serva natus possideat. Cum commune Romani nominis, tum praecipue id domus suae dedecus fore, si, Anci regis virili stirpe salva, non modo advenis, set servis etiam regnum Romae pateret.

Ferro igitur eam arcere contumeliam statuunt: sed 35 et injuriae dolor in Tarquinium ipsum magis quam in Servium eos stimulabat, et [quia] gravior ultor caedis, si superesset, rex futurus erat quam privatus; tum, Servio occiso, quemcumque alium generum dele-

- gisset, eundem regni heredem facturum videbatur; ob haec ipsi regi insidiae parantur. Ex pastoribus duo ferocissimi delecti ad facinus, quibus consueti erant uterque agrestibus ferramentis, in vestibulo regiae
- 5 quam potuere tumultuosissimae specie rixae in se omnes apparitores regiones convertunt; inde, cum ambo regem appellarent clamorque eorum penitus in regiam pervenisset, vocati ad regem pergunt. Primo uterque vociferari et certatim alter alteri obstrepere;
- 10 coerciti ab lictore et iussi invicem dicere tandem obloqui desistunt; unus rem ex composito orditur. Dum intentus in eum se rex totus averteret, alter elatam securim in caput deiecit, relictoque in vulnere telo ambo se foras eiciunt.
- 15 XLI. Tarquinium moribundum cum qui circa erant exceperant, illos fugientes lictores comprehendunt. Clamor inde concursusque populi mirantium, quid rei esset. Tanaquil inter tumultum claudi regiam jubet, arbitros eicit, simul quae curando vulneri
- 20 opus sunt, tamquam spes subesset, sedulo comparat, simul, si destituat spes, alia praesidia molitur.
- Servio prope accito cum paene exsanguem virum ostendisset, dextram tenens orat, ne inultam mortem soceri, ne socrum inimicis ludibrio esse sinat. "Tuum
- 25 est," inquit, "Servi, si vir es, regnum, non eorum, qui alienis manibus pessimum facinus fecere. Erige te deosque duces sequere, qui clarum hoc fore caput divino quondam circumfuso igni portenderunt. Nunc te illa caelestis excitet flamma, nunc expergiscere
- 30 vere. Et nos peregrini regnavimus; qui sis, non unde natus sis, reputa. Si tua re subita consilia torpent, at tu mea consilia sequere." Cum clamor impetusque multitudinis vix sustineri posset, ex superiore parte aedium per fenestras in Novam viam
- 35 versas (habitabat enim rex ad Jovis Statoris) populum Tanaquil adloquitur. Jubet bono animo esse: sopitum fuisse regem subito ictu; ferrum haut alte in corpus descendisse; jam ad se redisse; inspectum vulnus abterso cruore; omnia salubria esse; confi-

dere, prope diem ipsum eos visuros; interim Servio Tullio jubere populum dicto audientem esse; eum jura redditurum obiturumque alia regis munia esse. Servius cum trabea et lictoribus prodit, ac, sede regia sedens, alia decernit, de aliis consulturum se regem 5 esse simulat. Itaque per aliquot dies, cum jam exspirasset Tarquinius, celata morte, per speciem alienae fungendae vicis suas opes firmavit; tum demum palam factum est conploratione in regia orta. Servius, praesidio firmo munitus, primus injussu populi voluntate patrum regnavit. Anci liberi jam tum, cum, 10 comprehensis sceleris ministris, vivere regem et tantas esse opes Servi nuntiatum est, Suessam Pometiam exulatum ierant.

XLII. Nec jam publicis magis consiliis Servius 15 quam privatis munire opes, et, ne, qualis Anci liberum animus adversus Tarquinium fuerat, talis adversus se Tarquini liberum esset, duas filias juvenibus regiis Lucio atque Arrunti Tarquiniis jungit; nec rupit tamen fati necessitatem humanis consiliis, quin 20 invidia regni etiam inter domesticos infida omnia atque infesta faceret.

Peropportune ad praesentis quietem status bellum cum Veientibus (jam enim indutiae exierant) aliisque Etruscis sumptum. In eo bello et virtus et for- 25 tuna enituit Tulli; fusoque ingenti hostium exercitu, haut dubius rex, seu patrum seu plebis animos periclitaretur, Romam rediit. Adgrediturque inde ad pacis longe maximum opus, ut, quemadmodum Numa divini auctor juris fuisset, ita Servium conditorem 30 omnis in civitate discriminis ordinumque, quibus inter gradus dignitatis fortunaeque aliquid interlucet, posteris fama ferrent. Censum enim instituit, rem saluberrimam tanto futuro imperio, ex quo belli pacisque munia non viritim, ut ante, sed pro habitu 35 pecuniarum fierent; tum classis centuriasque et hunc ordinem ex censu descripsit, vel paci decorum vel bello.

XLIII. Ex iis, qui centum milium aeris aut ma-

- jorem censum haberent, octoginta confecit centurias, quadragenas seniorum ac juniorum: primae classis omnes appellati; seniores ad urbis custodiam ut praesto essent, juvenes ut foris bella gererent. Arma
- 5 his imperata galea, clipeum, ocreae, lorica, omnia ex aere, haec, ut tegumenta corporis essent, tela in hostem hastaque et gladius. Additae huic classi duae fabrum centuriae, quae sine armis stipendia facerent; datum munus, ut machinas in bello ferrent. Secunda
- 10 classis infra centum usque ad quinque et septuaginta milium censum instituta, et ex iis, senioribus junioribusque, viginti conscriptae centuriae; arma imperata scutum pro clipeo et praeter lorica omnia eadem. Tertiae classis [in] quinquaginta milium
- 15 censum esse voluit; totidem centuriae et hae, eodemque discrimine aetatum factae; nec de armis quicquam mutatum; ocreae tantum ademptae. In quarta classe census quinque et viginti milium; totidem centuriae factae, arma mutata; nihil praeter hastam et
- 20 verutum datum. Quinta classis aucta; centuriae triginta factae; fundas lapidesque missiles hi secum gerebant. In his accensi, cornicines, tubicinesque, in tres centurias distributi. Undecim milibus haec classis censebatur. Hoc minor census reliquam multitudinem habuit; inde una centuria facta est, immunis militia.

- Ita pedestri exercitu ornato distributoque, equitum ex primoribus civitatis duodecim scripsit centurias; sex item alias centurias, tribus ab Romulo institutis,
- 30 sub isdem, quibus inauguratae erant, nominibus fecit. Ad equos emendos dena milia aeris ex publico data; et, quibus equos alerent, viduae attributae, quae bina milia aeris in annos singulos penderent. Haec omnia in dites a pauperibus inclinata onera.
- 35 Deinde est honos additus: non enim, ut ab Romulo traditum ceteri servaverant reges, viritim suffragium eadem vi eodemque jure promiscue omnibus datum est; sed gradus facti, ut neque exclusus quisquam suffragio videretur et vis omnis penes primores civitatis esset. Equites enim vocabantur primi; octoginta inde primae classis centuriae [primum peditum vocabantur]; ibi si variaret, quod raro incidebat, ut secundae classis vocarentur, nec fere umquam infra ita descenderent, ut ad infimos pervenirent. Nec mirari oportet, hunc ordinem, qui nunc est post expletas quinque et triginta tribus, duplicato earum numero centuriis juniorum seniorumque, ad institutam ab Servio Tullio summam non convenire. Quadrifariam enim urbe divisa regionibus collibusque, qui habitabantur, partes eas tribus appellavit, ut ego arbitror, a tributo; nam ejus quoque aequaliter ex censu conferendi ab eodem inita ratio est; neque eae tribus ad centuriarum distributionem numerumque quicquam pertinere.

XLIV. Censu perfecto, quem maturaverat metu legis de incensis latae cum vinculorum minis mortisque, edixit, ut omnes cives Romani, equites peditesque, in suis quisque centuriis, in campo Martio prima luce adessent. Ibi instructum exercitum omnem suovetaurilibus lustravit, idque conditum lustrum appellatum, quia is censendo finis factus est. Milia octoginta eo lustro civium censa dicuntur; adicit scriptorum antiquissimus Fabius Pictor, eorum, qui arma ferre possent, eum numerum fuisse.

Ad eam multitudinem urbs quoque amplificanda visa est. Addit duos colles, Quirinalem Viminalemque; inde deinceps auget Esquilias, ibique ipse, ut loco dignitas fieret, habitat. Aggere et fossis et muro circumdat urbem; ita pomerium profert. Pomerium, verbi vim solam intuentes, postmoerium interpretantur esse; est autem magis circummoerium, locus, quem in condendis urbibus quondam Etrusci, qua murum ducturi erant, certis circa terminis inaugurato consecrabant, ut neque interiore parte aedificia moenibus continuarentur, quae nunc vulgo etiam conjungunt, et extrinsecus puri aliquid ab humano cultu pateret soli. Hoc spatium, quod neque habitari neque arari fas erat, non magis quod post murum esset quam quod murus post id, pomerium Romani appellarunt; et in urbis incremento semper, quantum moenia processura erant, tantum termini hi consecrati proferebantur.

- 5 XLV. Aucta civitate magnitudine urbis, formatis omnibus domi et ad belli et ad pacis usus, ne semper armis opes acquirerentur, consilio augere imperium conatus est, simul et aliquod addere urbi decus. Jam tum erat inclitum Dianae Ephesiae fanum. Id communiter a civitatibus Asiae factum fama ferebat.
- 10 Eum consensum deosque consociatos laudare mire Servius inter procures Latinorum, cum quibus publice privatimque hospitia amicitiasque de industria junxerat. Saepe iterando eadem perpulit tandem,
- 15 ut Romae fanum Dianae populi Latini cum populo Romano facerent. Ea erat confessio, caput rerum Romam esse, de quo totiens armis certatum fuerat.

- Id quamquam omissum jam ex omnium cura Latinorum ob rem totiens infelicitur temptatam armis
- 20 videbatur, uni se ex Sabinis fors dare visa est privato consilio imperii recuperandi. Bos in Sabinis nata cuidam patri familiae dicitur miranda magnitudine ac specie; fixa per multas aetates cornua in vestibulo templi Dianae monumentum ei fuere miraculo.
- 25 Habita, ut erat, res prodigii loco est, et cecinere vates, cujus civitatis eam civis Dianae immolasset, ibi fore imperium; idque carmen pervenerat ad antistitem fani Dianae. Sabinus, ut prima apta dies sacrificio visa est, bovem, Romam actam, deducit ad
- 30 fanum Dianae et ante aram statuit. Ibi antistes Romanus, cum eum magnitudo victimae celebrata fama movisset, memor responsi, Sabinum ita adloquitur: "quidnam tu, hospes, paras?" inquit, "inceste sacrificium Dianae facere? Quin tu ante vivo
- 35 perfunderis flumine? infima valle praefluit Tiberis." Religione tactus hospes, qui omnia, ut prodigio responderet eventus, cuperet rite facta, extemplo descendit ad Tiberim; interea Romanus immolat Dianae bovem. Id mire gratum regi atque civitati fuit.

XLVI. Servius quamquam jam usu haut dubium regnum possederat, tamen, quia interdum jactari voces a juvene Tarquinio audiebat, se injussu populi regnare, conciliata prius voluntate plebis agro capto ex hostibus viritim diviso, ausus est ferre ad populum, 5 vellent juberentne se regnare; tantoque consensu, quanto haud quisquam alius ante, rex est declaratus. Neque ea res Tarquinio spem adfectandi regni minuit; immo eo inpensius, quia de agro plebis adversa patrum voluntate senserat agi, criminandi Servii 10 apud patres crescendique in curia sibi occasionem datam ratus est, et ipse juvenis ardentis animi et domi uxore Tullia inquietum animum stimulante. Tulit enim et Romana regia sceleris tragici exemplum, ut taedio regum maturior veniret libertas, ulti- 15 mumque regnum esset, quod scelere partum foret.

Hic L. Tarquinius (Prisci Tarquini regis filius neposne fuerit, parum liquet; pluribus tamen auctoribus filium ediderim) fratrem habuerat Arruntem Tarquinium, mitis ingenii juvenem. His duobus, ut 20 ante dictum est, duae Tulliae, regis filiae, nupserant, et ipsae longe dispares moribus. Forte ita inciderat, ne duo violenta ingenia matrimonio jungerentur, fortuna, credo, populi Romani, quo diuturnius Servi regnum esset constituique civitatis mores possent. 25angebatur ferox Tullia, nihil materiae in viro neque ad cupiditatem neque ad audaciam esse; tota in alterum aversa Tarquinium eum mirari, eum virum dicere ac regio sanguine ortum; spernere sororem, quod, virum nacta, muliebri cessaret audacia. Con- 30trahit celeriter similitudo eos, ut fere fit malum malo aptissimum; sed initium turbandi omnia a femina ortum est. Ea secretis viri alieni adsuefacta sermonibus, nullis verborum contumeliis parcere, de viro ad fratrem, de sorore ad virum; et se rectius viduam et 35illum caelibem futurum fuisse contendere, quam cum inpari jungi, ut elanguescendum aliena ignavia esset. Si sibi eum, quo digna esset, dii dedissent virum, domi se prope diem visuram regnum fuisse, quod apud patrem videat. Celeriter adulescentem suae temeritatis implet. Ita Lucius Tarquinius et Tullia minor, prope continuatis funeribus cum domos vacuas novo matrimonio fecissent, junguntur nuptiis, magis 5 non prohibente Servio quam adprobante.

XLVII. Tum vero in dies infestior Tulli se-nectus, infestius coepit regnum esse. Jam enim ab scelere ad aliud spectare mulier scelus; nec nocte nec interdiu virum conquiescere pati, ne gratuita 10 praeterita parricidia essent: non sibi defuisse, cui nupta diceretur, nec cum quo tacita serviret; defuisse, qui se regno dignum putaret, qui meminisset, se esse Prisci Tarquini filium, qui habere quam spe-rare regnum mallet. "Si tu is es, cui nuptam esse 15 me arbitror, et virum et regem appello; sin minus, eo nunc pejus mutata res est, quod istic cum ignavia est scelus. Quin accingeris? Non tibi ab Corintho nec ab Tarquiniis, ut patri tuo, peregrina regna moliri necesse est; di te penates patrique et patris 20 imago et domus regia et in domo regale solium et nomen Tarquinium creat vocatque regem. Aut si ad haec parum est animi, quid frustraris civitatem?
quid te ut regium juvenem conspici sinis? Facesse hinc Tarquinius aut Corinthum; devolvere retro ad 25 stirpem, fratris similior quam patris." His aliisque increpando juvenem instigat, nec conquiescere ipsa potest, si, cum Tanaquil, peregrina mulier, tantum moliri potuisset animo, ut duo continua regna viro ac deinceps genero dedisset, ipsa, regio semine orta, 30 nullum momentum in dando adimendoque regno faceret.

His muliebribus instinctus furiis Tarquinius circumire et prensare minorum maxime gentium patres;
admonere paterni beneficii ac pro eo gratiam repe-35 tere; adlicere donis juvenes; cum de se ingentia pollicendo, tum regis criminibus, omnibus locis crescere.
Postremo, ut jam agenda rei tempus visum est, stipatus agmine armatorum in forum inrupit. Inde, omnibus percussis pavore, in regia sede pro curia

sedens, patres in curiam per praeconem ad regem Tarquinium citari jussit. Convenere extemplo, alii jam ante ad hoc praeparati, alii metu, ne non venisse fraudi esset, novitate ac miraculo attoniti et jam de Servio actum rati.

Ibi Tarquinius maledicta ab stirpe ultima orsus: 'servum servaque natum, post mortem indignam parentis sui, non interregno, ut antea, inito, non comitiis habitis, non per suffragium populi, non auctoribus patribus, muliebri dono regnum occupasse. Ita natum, ita creatum regem, fautorem infimi generis hominum, ex quo ipse sit, odio alienae honestatis ereptum primoribus agrum sordidissimo cuique divisisse; omnia ouera, quae communia quondam fuerint, inclinasse in primores civitatis; instituisse censum, ut insignis ad invidiam locupletiorum fortuna esset et parata, unde, ubi vellet, egentissimis largiretur.'

XLVIII. Huic orationi Servius cum intervenisset trepido nuntio excitatus, extemplo a vestibulo curiae magna voce "quid hoc" inquit, "Tarquini, rei est? qua tu audacia me vivo vocare ausus es patres aut in sede considerare mea?" Cum ille ferociter ad haec: "se patris sui tenere sedem, multo quam servum potiore filium regis regni heredem; satis illum diu per licentiam eludentem insultasse dominis," clamor ab utriusque fautoribus oritur, et concursus populi fiebat in curiam, apparebatque regnaturum, qui vicisset. Tum Tarquinius, necessitate jam etiam ipsa cogente ultima audere, multo et aetate et viribus validior, medium arripit Servium elatumque e curia in inferiorem partem per gradus deicit; inde ad cogendum senatum in curiam redit. Fit fuga regis apparitorum atque comitum; ipse prope exsanguis ab iis, qui missi ab Tarquinio fugientem consecuti erant, interficitur. Creditur, quia non abhorret a cetero scelere, admonitu Tulliae id factum. Carpentio certe, id quod satis constat, in forum invecta, nec reverita coetum virorum, evocavit virum e curia, regemque prima appellavit. A quo facessere

- jussa ex tanto tumultu, cum se domum reciperet pervenissetque ad summum Cyprium vicum, ubi Dianium nuper fuit, flectenti carpentum dextra in Urbium clivum, ut in collem Esquiliarum eveheretur,
- 5 restitit pavidus atque inhibuit frenos is qui jumenta agebat, jacentemque dominae Servium trucidatum ostendit. Foedum inhumanumque inde traditur scelus, monumentoque locus est: Sceleratum vicum vocant, quo, amens, agitantibus furiis sororis ac viri,
- 10 Tullia per patris corpus carpentum egisse fertur, partemque sanguinis ac caedis paternae cruento vehiculo, contaminata ipsa respersaque, tulisse ad penates suos virique sui, quibus iratis malo regni principio similes prope diem exitus sequerentur.
- 15 Servius Tullius regnavit annos quattuor et quadraginta ita, ut bono etiam moderatoque succedenti regi difficilis aemulatio esset; ceterum id quoque ad gloriam accessit, quod cum illo simul justa ac legitima regna occiderunt. Id ipsum tam mite ac tam
- 20 moderatum imperium tamen, quia unius esset, depocere eum in animo habuisse quidam auctores sunt, nisi scelus intestinum liberandae patriae consilia agitati intervenisset.

- XLIX. Inde L. Tarquinius regnare occepit, cui
- 25 Superbo cognomen facta indiderunt, quia socerum gener sepultura prohibuit, Romulum quoque insepultum perisse dictitans, primoresque patrum, quos Servi rebus favisse credebat, interfecit; conscius deinde male quaerendi regni ab se ipso adversus se
- 30 exemplum capi posse, armatis corpus circumsaepsit; neque enim ad jus regni quicquam praeter vim habebat, ut qui neque populi jussu neque auctoribus patribus regnaret. Eo accedebat, ut in caritate civium nihil spei reponenti metu regnum tutandum
- 35 esset. Quem ut pluribus incuteret, cognitiones capitalium rerum sine consiliis per se solus exercebat, perque eam causam occidere, in exilium agere, bonis multare poterat non suspectos modo aut invisos, sed unde nihil aliud quam praedam sperare posset.

Praecipue ita patrum numero inminuto, statuit nullos in patres legere, quo contemptior paucitate ipsa ordo esset minusque per se nihil agi indignarentur. Hic enim regum primus traditum a prioribus morem de omnibus senatum consulendi solvit; domesticis consiliis rem publicam administravit; bellum, pacem, foedera, societates per se ipse, cum quibus voluit, injussu populi ac senatus, fecit diremitque.

Latinorum sibi maxime gentem conciliabat, ut peregrinis quoque opibus tutior inter cives esset, neque hospitia modo cum primoribus eorum, sed adfinitates quoque jungebat. Octavio Mamilio Tusculano (is longe princeps Latini nominis erat, si famae credimus, ab Ulixee deaque Circa oriundus), ei Mamilio filiam nuptum dat, perque eas nuptias multos sibi cognatos amicosque ejus conciliat.

L. Jam magna Tarquini auctoritas inter Latinorum proceres erat, cum in diem certam, ut ad lucum Ferentinae conveniant, indicit; esse, quae agere de rebus communibus velit. Conveniunt frequentes prima luce; ipse Tarquinius diem quidem servavit, sed paulo ante quam sol occideret venit. Multa ibi toto die in concilio variis jactata sermonibus erant. Turnus Herdonius ab Aricia ferociter in absentem Tarquinium erat invectus: 'haud mirum esse, Superbo inditum Romae cognomen' (jam enim ita clam quidem mussitantes, volgo tamen, eum appellabant); 'an quicquam superbius esse quam ludificari sic omne nomen Latinum? Principibus longe a domo excitis, ipsum, qui concilium indixerit, non adesse. Temptari profecto patientiam, ut, si jugum acceperint, obnoxios premat. Cui enim non apparere, adfectare eum imperium in Latinos? Quod si sui bene crediderint cives, aut si creditum illud, et non raptum parricidio sit, credere et Latinos, quamquam ne sic quidem alienigenae, debere; sin suos ejus paeniteat, quippe qui alii super alios trucidentur, exulatum eant, amittant bona, quid spei melioris

Latinis portendi? Si se audiant, domum suam quemque inde abituros, neque magis observaturos diem concilii quam ipse, qui indixerit, observet.'

- 5 Haec atque alia eodem pertinentia seditiosus facinorosusque homo hisque artibus opes domi nactus cum maxime dissereret, intervenit Tarquinius. Is finis orationi fuit. Aversi omnes ad Tarquinium salutandum; qui, silentio facto, monitus a proximis, ut 10 purgaret se, quod id temporis venisset, disceptatorem ait se sumptum inter patrem et filium, cura reconciliandi eos in gratiam moratum esse, et, quia ea res exemisset illum diem, postero die acturum, quae constituisset. Ne id quidem ab Turno tulisse tacitum 15 ferunt; dixisse enim, nullam breviorum esse cognitionem quam inter patrem et filium, paucisque transigi verbis posse: ni pareat patri, habiturum infortunium esse.

- LI. Haec Aricinus in regem Romanum increpans
20 ex concilio abiit. Quam rem Tarquinius aliquanto quam videbatur aegrius ferens confestim Turno necem machinatur, ut eundem terrorem, quo civium animos domi oppresserat, Latinis iniceret. Et quia pro imperio palam interfici non poterat, oblato falso crimine
25 insontem oppressit. Per adversae factionis quosdam Aricinos servum Turni auro corrumpit, ut in deversorium ejus vim magnam gladiatorum inferri clam sineret. Ea cum una nocte perfecta essent, Tarquinius, paulo ante lucem accitis ad se principibus Latinorum, quasi 30 re nova perturbatus, moram suam hesternam, velut deorum quadam providentia inlatam, ait saluti sibi atque illis fuisse. Ab Turno dici sibi et primoribus populorum parari necem, ut Latinorum solus imperium teneat. Adgressurum fuisse hesterno die in 35 concilio; dilatam rem esse, quod auctor concilii afuerit, quem maxime peteret. Inde illam absentis insectationem esse natam, quod morando spem destituerit. Non dubitare, si vera deferantur, quin prima luce, ubi ventum in concilium sit, instructus cum conjuratorum manu armatusque venturus sit. Dicit gladiatorum ingentem esse numerum ad eum con-vectum. Id vanum necne sit, extemplo sciri posse.

 Rogare eos, ut inde secum ad Turnum veniant. 5 Suspectam fecit rem et ingenium Turni ferox et oratio hesternae et mora Tarquinii, quod videbatur ob eam differri caedis potuisse. Eunt inclinatis quidem ad credendum animis, tamen, nisi gladiis deprehensis, cetera vana existimaturi. 10

Ubi est eo ventum, Turnum, ex somno excitatum, circumsistunt custodes; comprehensusque servis, qui caritate domini vim parabant, cum gladii abditi ex omnibus locis deverticuli protraherentur, enimvero manifesta res visa, injectaeque Turno catenae; et 15
 confestim Latinorum concilium magno cum tumultu advocatur. Ibi tam atrox invidia orta est gladiis in medio positis, ut indicta causa, novo genere leti, dejectus ad caput aquae Ferentinae, crate superne in-jecta saxisque congestis, mergeretur. 20

LII. Revocatis deinde ad concilium Latinis Tarquinius conlaudatisque, qui Turnum novantem res pro manifesto parricidio merita poena adfecissent, ita verba fecit: 'posse quidem se vetusto jure agere, quod, cum omnes Latini ab Alba oriundi sint, [in] eo foe- 25
 dere teneantur, quo ab Tullo res omnis Albana cum coloniis suis in Romanum cesserit imperium; ceterum se utilitatis [id] magis omnium causa censere, ut renovetur id foedus, secundaque potius fortuna populi Romani ut participes Latini fruantur, quam urbium 30
 excidia vastationesque agrorum, quas Anco prius, patre deinde suo regnante perpassi sint, semper aut
 expectent aut patiantur.'

Haut difficulter persuasum Latinis, quamquam in eo foedere superior Romana res erat; ceterum et 35 capita nominis Latini stare ac sentire cum rege videbant, et Turnus sui cuique periculi, si adversatus esset, recens erat documentum. Ita renovatum foe-

5 dus, indictumque junioribus Latinorum, ut ex foedere die certa ad lucum Ferentinae armati frequentes adessent. Qui ubi ad edictum Romani regis ex omnibus populis convenere, ne ducem suum neve secretum imperium propriave signa haberent, miscuit manipulos ex Latinis Romanisque, ut ex binis singulos faceret binosque ex singulis; ita geminatis manipulis centuriones inposuit.

10 LIII. Nec, ut injustus in pace rex, ita dux belli pravus fuit; quin ea arte aequasset superiores reges, ni degeneratum in aliis huic quoque decori offecisset. Is primus Volscis bellum in ducentos amplius post suam aetatem annos movit, Suessamque Pometiam ex iis vi cepit.

15 Ubi cum dividenda praeda quadraginta talenta argenti refecisset, concepit animo eam amplitudinem Jovis templi, quae digna deū hominumque rege, quae Romano imperio, quae ipsius etiam loci majestate esset; captivam pecuniam in aedificationem ejus 20 templi seposuit.

Excepit deinde eum lentius spe bellum, quo Gabios, propinquam urbem, nequiquam vi adortus, cum obsidendi quoque urbem spes pulso a moenibus adempta esset, postremo minime arte Romana, fraude ac dolo, 25 adgressus est. Nam cum, velut posito bello, fundamentis templi jaciendis aliisque urbanis operibus intentum se esse simularet, Sextus filius ejus, qui minimus ex tribus erat, transfugit ex composito Gabios, patris in se saevitiam intolerabilem conquerens:
30 'jam ab alienis in suos vertisse superbiam, et liberorum quoque eum frequentiae taedere, ut, quam in curia solitudinem fecerit, domi quoque faciat, ne quam stirpem, ne quem heredem regni relinquat. Se quidem inter tela et gladios patris elapsum nihil 35 usquam sibi tutum nisi apud hostes L. Tarquini credidisse. Nam ne errarent, manere iis bellum, quod positum simuletur, et per occasionem eum incautos invasurum. Quod si apud eos supplicibus locus non sit, pererraturum se omne Latium, Volscosque [se] inde et Aequos et Hernicos petiturum, donec ad eos perveniat, qui a patrum crudelibus atque impiis suppliciis tegere liberos sciant. Forsitan etiam ardoris aliquid ad bellum armaque se adversus superbis-simum regem ac ferocissimum populum inventurum.'

Cum, si nihil morarentur, infensus ira porro inde abiturus videretur, benigne ab Gabinis excipitur. Vetant mirari, si, qualis in cives, qualis in socios, talis ad ultimum in liberos esset; in se ipsum postremo saeviturum, si alia desint. Sibi vero gratum adventum ejus esse, futurumque credere brevi, ut, illo adjuvante, a portis Gabinis sub Romana moenia bellum transferatur.

LIV. Inde in consilia publica adhiberi. Ubi cum de aliis rebus adsentire se veteribus Gabinis diceret, quibus eae notiores essent, ipse identidem belli auctor esse et in eo sibi praecipuam prudentiam adsumere, quod utriusque populi vires nosset, sciretque invisam profecto superbiam regiam civibus esse, quam ferre ne liberi quidem potuissent. Ita cum sensim ad rebellandum primores Gabinorum incitaret, ipse cum promptissimis juvenum praedatum atque in expeditiones iret, et, dictis factisque omnibus ad fallendum instructis, vana accresceret fides, dux ad ultimum belli legitur. Ibi cum, inscia multitudine quid ageretur, proelia parva inter Romam Gabiosque fierent, quibus plerumque Gabina res superior esset, tum certatim summi infimique Gabinorum Sex. Tarquinium dono deum sibi missum ducem credere. Apud milites vero obeundo pericula ac labores pariter, praedam munifice largiendo, tanta caritate esse, ut non pater Tarquinius potentior Romae quam filius Gabiis esset.

Itaque postquam satis virium collectum ad omnes conatus videbat, tum ex suis unum sciscitatum Romam ad patrem mittit, quidnam se facere vellet, quandoquidem, ut omnia unus Gabiis posset, ei dii dedissent. Huic nuntio, quia, credo, dubiae fidei videbatur, nihil voce responsum est; rex velut deliberabundus in hortum aedium transit, sequenti 5 nuntio filii; ibi inambulans tacitus summa papa-verum capita dicitur baculo decussisse. Interro-gando exspectandoque responsum nuntius fessus, ut re imperfecta, redit Gabios; quae dixerit ipse quae-que viderit, refert: seu ira seu odio seu superbia 10 insita ingenio nullam eum vocem emisisse. Sexto ubi, quid vellet parens quidque praeciperet tacitis ambagibus, patuit, primores civitatis criminando alios apud populum, alios sua ipsos invidia oppor-tunos interemit. Multi palam, quidam, in quibus 15 minus speciosa criminatio erat futura, clam interfecti. Patuit quibusdam volentibus fuga, aut in exilium acti sunt, absentiumque bona juxta atque interemptorum divisui fuere. Largitiones inde praedaequae; et dulcedine privati commodi sensus malo-20 rum publicorum adimi, donec orba consilio auxilioque Gabina res regi Romano sine ulla dimicatione in manum traditur.

LV. Gabiis receptis, Tarquinius pacem cum Aequorum gente fecit, foedus cum Tuscis renovavit.
25 Inde ad negotia urbana animum convertit; quorum erat primum, ut Jovis templum in monte Tarpeio monumentum regni sui nominisque relinqueret: Tarquinius reges ambos, patrem vovisse, filium perfecisse.
Et ut libera a ceteris religionibus area esset tota 30 Jovis templique ejus, quod inaedificaretur, exaugurare fana sacellaque statuit, quae aliquot ibi a Tatius rege primum in ipso discrimine adversus Romulum pugnae vota, consecrata inaugurataque postea fuerant. Inter principia condendi hujus operis movisse 35 numen ad indicandam tanti imperii molem traditur deos; nam cum omnium sacellorum exaugurationes admitterent aves, in Termini fano non addixere; idque omen auguriumque ita acceptum est, non motam Termini sedem unumque eum deorum non evocatum sacratis sibi finibus firma stabiliaque cuncta portendere. Hoc perpetuitatis auspicio accepto, secutum aliud magnitudinem imperii portendens prodigium est: caput humanum integra facie aperientibus fundamenta templi dicitur apparuisse, quae visa species haut per ambages arcem eam imperii caputque rerum fore portendebat; idque ita cecinere vates, quique in urbe erant quosque ad eam rem consulendam ex Etruria acciverant. Augebatur ad impensas regis animus; itaque Pomptinae manubiae, quae perducendo ad culmen operi destinatae erant, vix in fundamenta suppeditavere. Eo magis Fabio, praeterquam quod antiquior est, crediderim, quadraginta ea sola talenta fuisse, quam Pisoni, qui quadraginta milia pondo argenti seposita in eam rem scribit, summam pecuniae neque ex unius tum urbis praeda sperandam et nullius ne horum quidem [magnificentiae] operum fundamenta non exsuperaturam.

LVI. Intentus perficiendo templo, fabris undique ex Etruria accitis, non pecunia solum ad id publica est usus, sed operis etiam ex plebe. Qui cum haut parvus et ipse militiae adderetur labor, minus tamen plebs gravabatur, se templa deum exaedificare manibus suis, quam postquam et ad alia, ut specie minora, sic laboris aliquanto majoris, traducebantur opera, foros in circo faciendos, cloacanique maximam, receptaculum omnium purgamentorum urbis, sub terra agendam; quibus duobus operibus vix nova haec magnificentia quicquam adaequare potuit. His laboribus exercita plebe, quia et urbi multitudinem, ubi usus non esset, oneri rebatur esse, et colonis mittendis occupari latius imperii fines volebat, Signiam Circéiosque colonos misit, praesidia urbi futura terramarique.

Haec agenti portentum terribile visum: anguis ex columna lignea elapsus cum terrorem fugamque in

- regia fecisset, ipsius regis non tam subito pavore perculit pectus quam anxiiis inplevit curis. Itaque cum ad publica prodigia Etrusci tantum vates adhiberentur, hoc velut domestico exterritus visu Delphos ad
- 5 maxime inclitum in terris oraculum mittere statuit. Neque responsa sortium ulli alii committere ausus, duos filios per ignotas ea tempestate terras, ignotiora maria, in Graeciam misit. Titus et Arruns profecti.
- 10 Comes iis additus - L. Junius Brutus, Tarquinia, sorore regis, natus, juvenis longe alius ingenii, quam cujus simulationem induerat. Is cum primores civitatis, in quibus fratrem suum, ab avunculo interfectos audisset, neque in animo suo quicquam regi
- 15 timendum neque in fortuna concupiscendum relinquere statuit, contemptuque tutus esse, ubi in jure parum praesidii esset. Ergo ex industria factus ad imitationem stultitiae, cum se suaque praedae esse regi sineret, Bruti quoque haut abnuvit cognomen, ut
- 20 sub ejus obtentu cognominis liberator ille populi Romani animus latens opperiretur tempora sua. Is tum ab Tarquiniis ductus Delphos, ludibrium verius quam comes, aureum baculum inclusum corneo cavato ad id baculo tulisse donum Apollini dicitur, per am-
- 25 bages effigiem ingenii sui.
- Quo postquam ventum est, perfectis patris mandatis, cupido incessit animos juvenum sciscitandi, ad quem eorum regnum Romanum esset venturum. Ex infimo specu vocem redditam ferunt: "imperium
- 30 summum Romae habebit, qui vestrum primus, o juvenes, osculum matri tulerit." Tarquinius, ut Sextus, qui Romae relictus fuerat, ignarus responsi expersque imperii esset, rem summa ope taceri jubent; ipsi inter se, uter prior, cum Romam redisset, matri
- 35 osculum daret, sorti permittunt. Brutus alio ratus spectare Pythicam vocem, velut si prolapsus cecidisset, terram osculo contigit, scilicet quod ea communis mater omnium mortalium esset. Reditum inde Romam, ubi adversus Rutulos bellum summa vi parabatur.

LVII. Ardeam Rutuli habebant, gens, ut in ea regione atque in ea aetate, divitiis praepollens; eaque ipsa causa belli fuit, quod rex Romanus cum ipse 5 ditari, exhaustus magnificentia publicorum operum, tum praeda delenire popularium animos studebat, praeter aliam superbiam regno infestos etiam, quod se in fabrorum ministeriis ac servili tam diu habitos opere ab rege indignabantur. Temptata res est, si 10 primo impetu capi Ardea posset; ubi id parum processit, obsidione munitionibusque coepti premi hostes. In his stativis, ut fit longo magis quam acri bello, satis liberi commeatus erant, primoribus tamen magis quam militibus; regii quidem juvenes interdum otium 15 conviviiis comisationibusque inter se terebant.

Forte potantibus his apud Sex. Tarquinium, ubi et Collatinus cenabat Tarquinius, Egerii filius, incidit de uxoribus mentio. Suam quisque laudare miris modis; inde certamine accenso, Collatinus negat 20 verbis opus esse; paucis id quidem horis posse sciri, quantum ceteris praestet Lucretia sua. "Quin, si vigor juventae inest, conscendimus equos invisimusque praesentes nostrarum ingenia? id cuique spectatissimum sit, quod necopinato viri adventu 25 occurrerit oculis." Incaluerant vino; "age sane!" omnes.

Citatis equis avolant Romam. Quo cum primis se intendentibus tenebris pervenissent, pergunt inde Collatiam, ubi Lucretiam hautquaquam ut regias 30 nurus, quas in convivio luxuque cum aequalibus viderant tempus terentes, sed nocte sera deditam lanae inter lucubrantes ancillas in medio aedium sedentem inveniunt. Muliebris certaminis laus penes Lucretiam fuit. Adveniens vir Tarquiniique excepti 35 benigne; victor maritus comiter invitat regios juvenes. Ibi Sex. Tarquinium mala libido Lucretiae per vim stuprandae capit; cum forma tum spectata cas-titas incitat. Et tum quidem ab nocturno juvenali ludo in castra redeunt.

- LVIII. Paucis interjectis diebus Sex. Tarquinius, inscio Collatino, cum comite uno Collatiam venit.
- 5 Ubi exceptus benigne ab ignaris consilii, cum post cenam in hospitale cubiculum deductus esset, amore ardens, postquam satis tuta circa sopitque omnes videbantur, stricto gladio ad dormientem Lucretiam venit, sinistraque manu mulieris pectore oppresso;
- 10 "tace, Lucretia," inquit, "Sex. Tarquinius sum; ferum in manu est; moriere, si emisericis vocem." Cum pavida ex somno mulier nullam opem, prope mortem imminentem videret, tum Tarquinius fateri amorem, orare, miscere precibus minas, versare in omnes partes
- 15 muliebrem animum. Ubi obstinatum videbat et ne mortis quidem metu inclinari, addit ad metum dedecus: cum mortua jugulatum servum nudum positurum ait, ut in sordido adulterio necata dicatur. Quo terrore cum vicisset obstinatum pudicitiam ve-
- 20 lut victrix libido, profectusque inde Tarquinius ferox expugnato decore muliebri esset, Lucretia maesta tanto malo nuntium Romam eundem ad patrem Ardeamque ad virum mittit, ut cum singulis fidelibus amicis veniant; ita facto maturatoque opus
- 25 esse; rem atrocem incidisse.

- Spurius Lucretius cum P. Valerio, Volesi filio, Collatinus cum L. Junio Bruto venit, cum quo forte Romam rediens ab nuntio uxoris erat conventus. Lucretiam sedentem maestam in cubiculo inveniunt.
- 30 Adventu suorum lacrimae obortae, quaerentique viro "satin salve?" "minime" inquit, "quid enim salvi est mulieri amissa pudicitia? Vestigia viri alieni, Collatine, in lecto sunt tuo; ceterum corpus est tantum violatum, animus insons; mors testis erit. Sed
- 35 date dexteras fidemque, haud inpune adultero fore. Sex. est Tarquinius, qui, hostis pro hospite, priore nocte vi armatus mihi sibi, si vos viri estis, pestiferum hinc abstulit gaudium." Dant ordine omnes fidem; consolantur aegram animi, avertendo noxam ab coacta in auctorem delicti: mentem peccare, non corpus, et, unde consilium afuerit, culpam abesse. "Vos" inquit "videritis, quid illi debeatur; ego me etsi peccato absolvo, supplicio non libero; nec ulla 5 deinde inpudica Lucretiae exemplo vivet." Cultrum, quem sub veste abditum habebat, eum in corde defigit, prolapsaque in vulnus moribunda cecidit. Conclamat vir paterque.

LIX. Brutus, illis luctu occupatis, cultrum ex 10 vulnere Lucretiae extractum manantem cruore prae se tenens, "per hunc" inquit "castissimum ante regiam injuriam sanguinem juro, vosque, dii, testes facio, me L. Tarquinius Superbum, cum scelerata conjuge et omni liberorum stirpe, ferro, igni, qua- 15 cumque denique vi possim, exacturum, nec illos nec alium quemquam regnare Romae passurum." Cultrum deinde Collatino tradit, inde Lucretio ac Valerio, stupentibus miraculo rei, unde novum in Bruti pectore ingenium. Ut praeceptum erat, jurant; toti- 20 que ab luctu versi in iram, Brutum, jam inde ad expugnandum regnum vocantem, secuntur ducem. Elatum domo Lucretiae corpus in forum deferunt, concientque miraculo, ut fit, rei novae atque indignitate homines. Pro se quisque scelus regum ac vim 25 queruntur. Movet cum patris maestitia, tum Brutus castigator lacrimarum atque inertium querellarum, auctorque, quod viros, quod Romanos deceret, arma capiendi adversus hostilia ausos. Ferocissimus quisque juvenum cum armis voluntarius adest, sequitur 30 et cetera juvenus. Inde parte praesidio relictâ Collatiae ad portas custodibusque datis, ne quis eum motum regibus nuntiaret, ceteri armati, duce Bruto, Romam profecti. Ubi eo ventum est, quacumque incedit armata multitudo, pavorem ac tumultum 35 facit; rursus, ubi anteire primores civitatis vident, quidquid sit, haud temere esse rentur. Nec minorem metum animum Romae tam atrox res facit, quam

- Collatiae fecerat; ergo ex omnibus locis urbis in forum curritur. Quo simul ventum est, praeco ad tribunum Celerum, in quo tum magistratu forte Brutus erat, populum advocavit. Ibi oratio habita
- 5 nequaquam ejus pectoris ingenique, quod simulatum ad eam diem fuerat, de vi ac libidine Sex. Tarquinius, de stupro infando Lucretiae et miserabili caede, de orbitate Tricipitini, cui morte filiae causa mortis indignior ac miserabilior esset. Addita superbia ipsius
- 10 regis, miseriaeque et labores plebis in fossas cloacasque exhauriendas demersae; Romanos homines, victores omnium circa populorum, opifices ac lapidas pro bellatoribus factos. Indigna Servi Tulli regis memorata caedis, et invecta corpori patris nefando
- 15 vehiculo filia, invocatique ultores parentum dii. His atrocioribusque, credo, aliis, quae praesens rerum indignitas haudquaquam relatu scriptoribus facilia subicit, memoratis, incensam multitudinem perpulit, ut imperium regi abrogaret exulesque esse juberet L.
- 20 Tarquinium cum conjuge ac liberis. Ipse junioribus, qui ultro nomina dabant, lectis armatisque, ad concitandum inde adversus regem exercitum Ardeam in castra est profectus; imperium in urbe Lucretio, praefecto urbis jam ante ab rege instituto, relinquit.
- 25 Inter hunc tumultum Tullia domo profugit, execrantibus, quacumque incedebat, invocantibusque parentum furias viris mulieribusque.

- LX. Harum rerum nuntiis in castra perlatis, cum re nova trepidus rex pergeret Romam ad compri-
- 30 mendos motus, flexit viam Brutus (senserat enim adventum), ne obvius fieret; eodemque fere tempore, diversis itineribus, Brutus Ardeam, Tarquinius Romam venerunt. Tarquinio clausae portae exiliumque indictum; liberatorem urbis laeta castra accipere, exactique inde liberi regis: duo patrem secuti
- 35 sunt, qui exulatum Caere in Etruscos ierunt; Sextus Tarquinius Gabios, tamquam in suum regnum, profectus, ab ultoribus veterum simultatium, quas sibi ipse caedibus rapinisque concierat, est interfectus.

L. Tarquinius Superbus regnavit annos quinque et viginti. Regnatum Romae ab condita urbe ad liberatam annos ducentos quadraginta quattuor. Duo 5 consules inde comitiis centuriatis a praefecto urbis ex commentariis Servi Tulli creati sunt, L. Junius Brutus et L. Tarquinius Collatinus.

LIBER VICESIMVS PRIMVS.

I. IN parte operis mei licet mihi praefari, quod in principio, summae totius professi plerique sunt rerum scriptores, bellum maxime omnium memorabile, quae umquam gesta sint, me scripturum, quod Hannibale duce Carthaginienses cum populo Romano gessere. Nam neque validiores opibus ullae inter se civitates gentesque contulerunt arma, neque his ipsis tantum umquam virium aut roboris fuit; et haud ignotas belli artes inter sese, sed expertas primo Punico conserebant bello; et adeo varia fortuna belli ancepsque Mars fuit, ut propius periculum fuerint qui vicerunt. Odiis etiam prope maioribus certarunt quam viribus, Romanis indignantibus, quod victoribus victi ultro inferrent arma, Poenis, quod superbe avareque crederent imperitatum victis esse. Fama est etiam, Hannibalem, annorum ferme novem, pueriliter blandientem patri Hamilcari, ut duceretur in Hispaniam, cum, perfecto Africo bello, exercitum eo trajecturus sacrificaret, altaribus admotum, tactis sacris, jure jurando adactum, se, cum primum posset, hostem fore populo Romano. Angebant ingentis spiritus virum Sicilia Sardiniaque amissae: nam et Siciliam nimis celerem desperatione rerum concessam, et Sardiniam inter motum Africae fraude Romanorum, stipendio etiam insuper inposito, interceptam.

II. His anxius curis ita se Africo bello, quod fuit sub recentem Romanam pacem, per quinque annos, ita deinde novem annis in Hispania augendo Punico imperio gessit, ut appareret, majus eum quam quod
 5 gereret agitare in animo bellum, et, si diutius vixisset, Hamilcare duce Poenos arma Italiae inlaturus fuisse, quae Hannibalis ductu intulerunt.

Mors Hamilcaris peropportuna et pueritia Hannibalis distulerunt bellum. Medius Hasdrubal inter
 10 patrem ac filium octo ferme annos imperium obtinuit, flore aetatis, uti ferunt, primo Hamilcari conciliatus, gener inde ob altam indolem profecto animi adscitus, et, quia gener erat, factionis Barcinæ opibus, quae apud milites plebemque plus quam modicae erant, 15 haud sane voluntate principum, in imperio positus. Is, plura consilio quam vi gerens, hostilis magis regulorum conciliandisque per amicitiam principum novis gentibus quam bello aut armis rem Carthaginensem auxit. Ceterum nihilo ei pax tutior fuit;
 20 barbarus eum quidam palam ob iram interfecti ab eo domini obtruncat; comprehensusque ab circumstantibus haud alio quam si evasisset vultu, tormentis quoque cum laceraretur, eo fuit habitu oris, ut, superante laetitia dolores, ridentis etiam speciem praeberit.
 25 Cum hoc Hasdrubale, quia mirae artis in sollicitandis gentibus imperioque suo jungendis fuerat, foedus renovaverat populus Romanus, ut finis utriusque imperii esset amnis Hiberus, Saguntinisque mediis inter imperia duorum populorum libertas 30 servaretur.

III. In Hasdrubalis locum haud dubia res fuit, quin praerogativa militaris, qua ex tempore juvenis Hannibal in praetorium delatus imperatorque ingenti omnium clamore atque adsensu appellatus erat, * *
 35 favor plebis sequebatur. Hunc vixdum puberem Hasdrubal litteris ad se accersierat, actaque res etiam in senatu fuerat. Barcinis nitentibus, ut adsuesceret militiae Hannibal atque in paternae recederet opes, Hanno, alterius factionis princeps.

aequum postulare videtur" inquit "Hasdrubal, et ego tamen non censeo quod petit tribuendum." Cum admiratione tam ancipitis sententiae in se omnis convertisset, "florem aetatis" inquit "Hasdrubal, quem ipse patri Hannibalis fruentum praeiuit, justo jure 5 eum a filio repeti censet; nos tamen minime decet juventutem nostram pro militari rudimento adsuefacere libidini praetorum. An hoc timemus, ne Hamilcaris filius nimis sero imperia inmodica et regni paterni speciem videat, et, cujus regis genero 10 hereditarii sint relictis exercitus nostri, ejus filio parum mature serviamus? Ego istum juvenem domi tenendum, sub legibus, sub magistratibus, docendum vivere aequo jure cum ceteris, censeo, ne quandoque parvus hic ignis incendium ingens exsuscitet." 15

IV. Pauci, ac ferme optimus quisque, Hannoni adsentiebantur; sed, ut plerumque fit, major pars meliorem vicit. Missus Hannibal in Hispaniam primo statim adventu omnem exercitum in se convertit. Hamilcarem juvenem redditum sibi veteres 20 milites credere; eundem vigorem in vultu vimque in oculis, habitum oris lineamentaue intueri. Dein brevi effecit, ut pater in se minimum momentum ad favorem conciliandum esset. Numquam ingenium idem ad res diversissimas, parendum atque impe- 25 randum, habilis fuit. Itaque haut facile discerneres, utrum imperatori an exercitui carior esset; neque Hasdrubal alium quemquam praeficere malle, ubi quid fortiter ac strenue agendum esset, neque milites alio duce plus confidere aut audere. Plurimum 30 audaciae ad pericula capessenda, plurimum consilii inter ipsa pericula erat. Nullo labore aut corpus fatigari aut animus vinci poterat. Caloris ac frigoris patientia par; cibi potionisque desiderio naturali, non voluptate modus finitus; vigiliarum 35 somnique nec die nec nocte discriminata tempora; id quod gerendis rebus superesset, quieti datum; ea utque molli strato neque silentio accersita; multi saepe militari sagulo opertum humi jacentem inter custodias stationesque militum conspexerunt. Vestitus nihil inter aequales excellens; arma atque equi conspiciebantur. Equitum peditumque idem longe primus erat; princeps in proelium ibat, ultimus con-5 serto proelio excedebat.

Has tantas viri virtutes ingentia vitia aequabant: inhumana crudelitas, perfidia plus quam Punica, nihil veri, nihil sancti, nullus deum metus, nullum
 10 jus iurandum, nulla religio. Cum hac indole virtutum atque vitiorum triennio sub Hasdrubale imperatore meruit, nulla re, quae agenda videndaque magno futuro duci esset, praetermissa.

V. Ceterum ex quo die dux est declaratus, velut Italia ei provincia decreta bellumque Romanum 15 mandatum esset, nihil prolatandum ratus, ne se quoque, ut patrem Hamilcarem, deinde Hasdrubalem, cunctantem casus aliquis opprimeret, Saguntinis inferre bellum statuit. Quibus oppugnandis, quia haut dubie Romana arma movebantur, in 20 Olcadum prius fines (ultra Hiberum ea gens in parte magis quam in ditione Carthaginiensium erat) induxit exercitum, ut non petisse Saguntinos, sed rerum serie, finitimis domitis gentibus, jungendoque, tractus ad id bellum videri posset. Cartalam urbem
 25 opulentam, caput gentis ejus, expugnat diripitque; quo metu percussae minores civitates stipendio inposito imperium acceperunt. Victor exercitus opulentusque praeda Carthaginem Novam in hiberna est deductus. Ibi large partiendo praedam stipendioque
 30 praeterito cum fide exsolvendo cunctis civium sociorumque animis in se firmatis, vere primo in Vaccaeos promotum bellum. Hermandica et Arbocala, eorum urbes, vi captae. Arbocala et virtute et multitudine oppidanorum diu defensa. Ab Hermandica profugi-
 35 exulibus Olcadum, priore aestate domitae gentis, cum se junxissent, concitant Carpetanos, adortique Hannibalem regressum ex Vaccaeis haut procul Tago flumine, agmen grave praeda turbavere.

Hannibal proelio abstinuit, castrisque super ripam

positis, cum prima quies silentiumque ab hostibus fuit, amnem vado trajecit, valloque ita producto ut locum ad transgrediendum hostes haberent, invadere eos transeuntes statuit. Equitibus praecepit, ut, cum ingressos aquam viderent, adorirentur impeditum agmen; in ripa elephantos (quadraginta autem erant) disponit. Carpetanorum cum adpendicibus Olcadum Vaccaeorumque centum milia fuere, invicta acies, si aequo dimicaretur campo. Itaque et ingenio feroces et multitudine frēti, et, quod metu cessasse credebant hostem, id morari victoriam rati quod interesset amnis, clamore sublato, passim sine ullius imperio, qua cuique proximum est, in amnem ruunt. XEt ex parte altera ripae vis ingens equitum in flumen inmissa, medioque alveo hautquaquam pari certamine concursus, quippe ubi pedes instabilis ac vix vado fidens vel ab inermi equite, equo temere acto, perverti posset, eques corpore armisque liber, equo vel per medios gurgites stabili, cominus eminusque rem gereret. Pars magna flumine absumpta; quidam verticoso amni delati in hostis ab elephantis obtriti sunt. Postremi, quibus regressus in suam ripam tutior fuit, ex varia trepidatione cum in unum colligerentur, priusquam a tanto pavore reciperent animos; Hannibal agmine quadrato amnem ingressus fugam ex ripa fecit, vastatisque agris intra paucos dies Carpetanos quoque in deditionem accepit; et jam omnia trans Hiberum praeter Saguntinos Carthaginiensium erant.

VI. Cum Saguntinis bellum nondum erat, ceterum jam belli causa. Certamina cum finitimis serebantur, maxime Turdetanis. Quibus cum adesset idem qui litis erat sator, nec certamen juris, sed vim quaeri appareret, legati a Saguntinis Romam missi, auxilium ad bellum jam haut dubie imminens orantes.

Consules tunc Romae erant P. Cornelius Scipio et Ti. Sempronius Longus. Qui cum, legatis in senatum introductis, de re publica retulissent, placuisset que mitti legatos in Hispaniam ad res sociorum inspiciendas, quibus si videretur digna causa, et Hannibali denuntiarent ut ab Saguntinis, sociis populi Romani, abstineret, et Carthaginem in Africam tra-

5 cerent ac sociorum populi Romani querimonias deferrent, — hac legatione decreta necdum missa, omnium spe celerius Saguntum oppugnari adlatum est.
Tunc relata de integro res ad senatum; et alii, pro-vincias consulibus Hispaniam atque Africam decer-10 nentes, terra marique rem gerendam censebant, alii totum in Hispaniam Hannibalemque intendebant bellum; erant, qui non temere movendam rem tan-tam, expectandosque ex Hispania legatos, censerent.
Haec sententia, quae tutissima videbatur, vicit;
15 legatique eo maturius missi, P. Valerius Flaccus et Q. Baebius Tamphilus, Saguntum ad Hannibalem atque inde Carthaginem, si non absisteretur bello, ad ducem ipsum in poenam foederis rupti deposcendum.

VII. Dñm eā Rōmānī parānt cōsultāntque, jām 20 Sāgūntū sūmmā vī oppūgnābātur. Civitas eā longē opulentissima ultra Hiberum fuit, sita passus mille ferme a mari. Oriundi a Zacyntho insula dicuntur, mixtique etiam ab Ardea Rutulorum quidam generis;
ceterum in tantas brevi creverant opes seu maritimis 25 seu terrestribus fructibus seu multitudinis incremento seu disciplinae sanctitate, qua fidem socialem usque ad perniciem suam coluerunt.

Hannibal infesto exercitu ingressus finis, pervastatis passim agris, urbem tripertito adgreditur. An-30 gulus muri erat in planiorem patientioremque, quam cetera circa, vallem vergens; adversus eum vineas agere instituit, per quas aries moenibus admoveri posset. Sed ut locus procul muro satis aequus agendis vineis fuit, ita hautquaquam prospere, postquam 35 ad effectum operis ventum est, coeptis succedebat.
Et turris ingens imminebat, et murus, ut in suspecto loco, supra ceterae modum altitudinis emunitus erat, et juvenus delecta, ubi plurimum periculi ac timoris ostendebatur, ibi vi majore obsistebant. Ac primo missilibus submovere hostem, nec quicquam sat-tutum munientibus pati; deinde jam non pro moeni-bus modo atque turri tela micare, sed ad erumpendum etiam in stationes operaque hostium animus erat; quibus tumultuariis certaminibus haud ferme plures Saguntini cadebant quam Poeni. Ut vero Hannibal ipse, dum murum incautius subit, ad-versum femur tragula graviter ictus cecidit, tanta circa fuga ac trepidatio fuit, ut non multum abesset

 quin opera ac vineae desererentur. # 10

VIII. Obsidio deinde per paucos dies magis quam oppugnatio fuit, dum vulnus ducis curaretur; per quod tempus ut quies certaminum erat, ita ab ap-paratu operum ac munitionum nihil cessatum. Ita-que acrius de integro coortum est bellum, pluribus que partibus (vix accipientibus quibusdam opera locis) vineae coeptae agi admoventique aries. Abun-dabat multitudine hominum Poenus (ad centum quinquaginta milia habuisse in armis satis creditur); oppidani ad omnia tuenda atque obeunda multifariam distineri coepti sunt; non sufficebant itaque.
 Jam feriebantur arietibus muri, quassataeque multae partes erant; una continentibus ruinis nudaverat urbem; tris deinceps turris, quantumque inter eas muri erat, cum fragore ingenti prociderunt. Captum oppidum ea ruina crediderant Poeni; qua, velut si pariter utrosque murus texisset, ita utrimque in pugnam procursum est. Nihil tumultuariæ pugnae simile erat, quales in oppugnationibus urbium per occasionem partis alterius conseri solent; sed justae acies, velut patenti campo, inter ruinas muri tectaque urbis modico distantia intervallo constiterant. Hinc spes, hinc desperatio animos inritat; Poeno cepisse jam se urbem, si paulum adnitatur, credente; Sa-guntinis pro nudata moenibus patria corpora opponentibus, nec ullo pedem referente, ne in relictum a se locum hostem inmitteret. Ataque quo acrius et conferti magis utrimque pugnabant, eo plures vulnerabantur, nullo inter arma corporaque vano intercidente telo. <sup>f</sup> Phalarica erat Saguntinis, missile telum hastili abiegno et cetera tereti praeterquam ad extremum, unde ferrum extabat; id, sicut in pilo, quadratum stuppa circumligabant linebantque pice; 5 ferrum autem tres longum habebat pedes, ut cum armis transfigere corpus posset. Sed id maxime, etiam si haesisset in scuto nec penetrasset in corpus, pavorem faciebat, quod, cum medium accensum mitteretur conceptumque ipso motu multo maiorem 10 ignem ferret, arma omitti cogebat, nudumque militem ad insequentem ictus praebebat.

IX. Cum diu anceps fuisset certamen, et Saguntinis, quia praeter spem resisterent, crevissent animi, Poenus, quia non vicisset, pro victo esset, clamorem 15 repente oppidani tollunt, hostemque in ruinas muri expellunt, inde ineditum trepidantemque exturbant, <sup>franco</sup> postremo fusum fugatumque in castra redigunt. <sup>drive</sup>

Interim ab Roma legatos venisse nuntiatum est; quibus obviam ad mare missi ab Hannibale, qui 20 dicerent, nec tuto eos adituros inter tot tam effrenatarum gentium arma, nec Hannibali in tanto discrimine rerum operae esse legationes audire. Apparebat, non admissos Carthaginem protinus ituros. Litteras igitur nuntiosque ad principes factionis 25 Barcinae praemittit, ut praepararent suorum animos, ne quid pars altera gratificari populo Romano posset.

X. Itaque, praeterquam quod admissi auditique sunt, ea quoque vana atque inrita legatio fuit. <sup>drive</sup> Hanno unus adversus senatum causam foederis, 30 magno silentio propter auctoritatem suam, non cum adsensu audientium, egit, per deos foederum arbitros ac testis senatum obtestans, ne Romanum cum Saguntino suscitarent bellum: 'monuisse, praedixisse se, ne Hamilcaris progeniem ad exercitum mitterent; 35 non manes, non stirpem ejus conquiescere viri, nec umquam, donec sanguinis nominisque Barcini ququam supersit, quietura Romana foedera. "Juvenem flagrantem cupidine regni viamque unam ad id cernentem, si ex bellis bella serendo succinctus armis legionibusque vivat, velut materiam igni prae-bentes, ad exercitus misistis. Aluistis ergo hoc incendium, quo nunc ardetis. Saguntum vestri circumsedent exercitus, unde arcentur foedere; mox Carthaginem circumsedebunt Romanae legiones, ducibus isdem 5

 diis, per quos priore bello rupta foedera sunt ulti.
 [Utrum hostem an vos an fortunam utriusque populi ignoratis?] Legatos ab sociis et pro sociis venientes bonus imperator vester in castra non admisit; jus gentium sustulit; hi tamen, unde ne hostium quidem 10 legati arcentur/pulsi, ad nos venerunt; res ex foedere repetuntur; ut publica fraus absit, auctorem culpae et reum criminis deposcant. Quo lenius agunt, segnius incipiunt, eo, cum coeperint, vereor ne perseverantius saeviant. Aegatis insulas Erycemque 15 ante oculos proponite, quae terra, marique per quat-tuor et viginti annos passi sitis. Nec puer hic dux erat, sed pater ipse Hamilcar, Mars alter, ut isti volunt; sed Tarento, id est Italia, non abstineramus
 ex foedere, sicut nunc Sagunto non abstinemus. 20 Vicerunt ergo dii homines, et id de quo verbis ambigebatur, uter populus foedus rupisset, eventus belli, velut aequus iudex, unde jus stabat, ei victoriam dedit. Carthagini nunc Hannibal vineas tur-resque admovet, Carthaginis moenia quatit ariete. 25
 Sagunti ruinae (falsus utinam vates sim!) nostris capitibus incident, susceptumque cum Saguntinis bellum habendum cum Romanis est. Dedemus ergo Hannibalem? dicet aliquis. Scio meam levem esse in eo auctoritatem propter paternas inimicitias; sed 30 et Hamilcarem eo perisse laetatus sum, quod, si ille viveret, bellum jam haberemus cum Romanis, et hunc juvenem tamquam furiam facemque hujus belli odi ac detestor; nec dedendum solum ad piaculum rupti foederis, sed, si nemo deposcat, devehendum in 35 ultimas maris terrarumque oras, ablegandum eo, unde nec ad nos nomen famaue ejus accidere neque ille sollicitare quietae civitatis statum possit. Ego ita censeo, legatos extemplo Romam mittendos qui senatui satisfaciant; alios qui Hannibali nuntient ut exercitum ab Sagunto abducat, ipsumque Hannibalem ex foedere Romanis dedant; tertiam legationem ad res Saguntinis reddendas decerno." 711

- 5 XI. Cum Hanno perorasset, nemini omnium cernere oratione cum eo necesse fuit; adeo prope omnis senatus Hannibalis erat, infestiusque locutum arguebant Hannonem quam Flaccum Valerium, legatum Romanum. Responsum inde legis Romanis est, 10 'bellum ortum ab Saguntinis, non ab Hannibale esse; populum Romanum injuste facere, si Saguntinos vetustissimae Carthaginiensium societati praeponat.'

- Dum Romani tempus terunt legationibus mittendis, Hannibal, quia fessum militem proeliis operibusque habebat, paucorum iis dierum quietem dedit, stationibus ad custodiam vinearum aliorumque operum dispositis. Interim animos eorum nunc ira in hostis stimulando, nunc spe praemiorum accendit;
20 ut vero pro contione praedam captae urbis edixit militum fore, adeo accensi omnes sunt, ut, si ex templo signum datum esset, nulla vi resisti videretur posse. Saguntini ut a proeliis quietem habuerant, alibi
nec lacessentes nec lacessiti per aliquot dies, ita non 712
25 nocte non die umquam cessaverant ab opere, ut novum murum ab ea parte, qua patefactum oppidum ruinis erat, reficerent. Inde oppugnatio eos aliquanto atrocior quam ante adorta est, nec, qua primum aut potissimum parte ferrent opem, cum omnia variis
30 clamoribus streperent, satis scire poterant. Ipse Hannibal, qua turris mobilis, omnia munimenta urbis superans altitudine, agebatur, hortator aderat. Quae cum admota, catapultis ballistisque per omnia tabulata dispositis, muros defensoribus nudasset, tum 35 Hannibal occasionem ratus, quingentos ferme Afros cum dolabris ad subruendum ab imo murum mittit. Nec erat difficile opus, quod caementa non calce durata erant, sed interlita luto, structurae antiquae genere. Itaque latius quam qua caederetur ruebat, 71

perque patentia ruinis agmina armatorum in urbem vadebant. | Locum quoque editum capiunt, conlatisque eo catapultis ballistisque; ut castellum in ipsa urbe velut arcem imminuentem haberent, inuro circumdant. Et Saguntini murum interiorem ab nondum capta parte urbis ducunt. Utrumque summa vi et muniunt et pugnant; sed, interiora tuendo, minorem in dies urbem Saguntini faciunt. Simul crescit inopia omnium longa obsidione, et minuitur expectatio externae opis, cum tam procul Romani, unica spes, circa omnia hostium essent. Paulisper tamen adfectos animos recreavit repentina profectio Hannibalis in Oretanos Carpetanosque, qui duo populi, dilectus acerbitate consternati, retentis conquisitoribus, metum defectionis cum praebuissent, oppressi celeritate Hannibalis omiserunt mota arma.

XII. Nec Sagunti oppugnatio segnior erat, Maharbale Himilconis filio (eum praefecerat Hannibal) ita inipigre rem agente, ut, ducem abesse nec cives nec hostes sentirent. Is et proelia aliquot secunda fecit, et tribus arietibus aliquantum muri discussit, strataque omnia recentibus ruinis advenienti Hannibali ostendit. Itaque ad ipsam arcem extemplo ductus exercitus, atroxque proelium cum multorum utrimque caede initum, et pars arcis capta est.

Temptata deinde per duos est exigua pacis spes, Alconem Saguntinum et Alorcum Hispanum. Alco, insciis Saguntinis, precibus aliquid moturum ratus, cum ad Hannibalem noctu transisset, postquam nihil lacrimae movebant condicionesque tristes ut ab irato victore ferebantur, transfuga ex oratore factus apud hostem mansit, moriturum adfirmans qui sub condicionibus iis de pace ageret. Postulabatur autem, redderent res Turdetanis, traditoque omni auro atque argento, egressi urbe cum singulis vestimentis ibi habitarent ubi Poenus jussisset. Has pacis leges abnuente Alcone accepturos Saguntinos, Alorcus, vinci animos ubi alia vincantur adfirmans, se pacis ejus interpretem fore pollicetur; erat autem tum miles Hannibalis, ceterum publice Saguntinis amicus atque hospes. Tradito palam telo custodibus hostium, transgressus munimenta ad praetorem Saguntinum (et ipse ita jubebat) est deductus. Quo cum 5 extemplo concursus omnis generis hominum esset factus, submota cetera multitudine, senatus Alorco datus est, cujus talis oratio fuit:

- XIII. "Si civis vester Alco, sicut ad pacem petendam ad Hannibalem venit, ita pacis condiciones
 10 ab Hannibale ad vos retulisset, supervacaneum hoc mihi fuisset iter, quo nec orator Hannibalis nec transfuga ad vos veni; sed cum ille aut vestra aut sua culpa manserit apud hostem (sua, si metum simulavit, vestra, si periculum est apud vos vera 15 referentibus), ego, ne ignoraretis esse aliquas et salutis et pacis vobis condiciones, pro vetusto hospitio, quod mihi vobiscum est, ad vos veni. Vestra autem causa me, nec ullius alterius, loqui quae loquor apud vos, vel ea fides sit, quod neque dum vestris viribus
 20 restitistis, neque dum auxilia ab Romanis sperastis, pacis umquam apud vos mentionem feci. Postquam nec ab Romanis vobis ulla est spes, nec vestra vos jam aut arma aut moenia satis defendunt, pacem adfero ad vos magis necessariam quam aequam.
 25 Cujus ita aliqua spes est, si eam, quem ad modum ut victor fert Hannibal, sic vos ut victi audietis, et non id quod amittitur in damno, cum omnia victoris sint, sed quidquid relinquitur pro munere, habituri estis. Urbem vobis, quam ex magna parte dirutam, captam
 30 fere totam habet, adimit, agros relinquit, locum adsignaturus in quo novum oppidum aedificetis: aurum et argentum omne, publicum privatumque, ad se jubet deferri: corpora vestra, conjugum ac liberorum vestrorum, servat inviolata, si inermes cum binis ves-
 35 timentis velitis ab Sagunto exire. Haec victor hostis imperat; haec, quamquam sunt gravia atque acerba, fortuna vestra vobis suadet. Equidem haud despero, cum omnium potestas ei facta sit, aliquid ex his rebus remissurum; sed vel haec patienda censeo, potius quam trucidari corpora vestra, rapi trahique ante ora vestra conjuges ac liberos belli jure sinatis."

XIV. Ad haec audienda cum circumfusa paulatim multitudine permixtum senatui esset populi concilium, repente primores, secessionem facta, priusquam responsum daretur, argentum aurumque omne ex publico privatoque in forum conlatum in ignem ad id raptim factum conicientes, eodem plerique semet ipsi praecipitaverunt. Cum ex eo pavor ac trepidatio totam urbem pervasisset, alius insuper tumultus ex arce auditur. Turris diu quassata prociderat, perque ruinam ejus cohors Poenorum impetu facto cum signum imperatori dedisset nudatam stationibus custodiisque solitis hostium esse urbem, non cunctandum in tali occasione ratus Hannibal, totis viribus adgressus urbem momento cepit, signo dato, ut omnes puberes interficerentur. Quod imperium crudele, ceterum prope necessarium cognitum ipso eventu est: cui enim parci potuit ex iis, qui aut inclusi cum conjugibus ac liberis domos super se ipsos concremaverunt, aut armati nullum ante finem pugnae quam morientes fecerunt?

XV. Captum oppidum est cum ingenti praeda. Quamquam pleraque ab dominis de industria corrupta erant, et in caedibus vix ullum discrimen aetatis ira fecerat, et captivi militum praeda fuerant, tamen et ex pretio rerum venditarum aliquantum pecuniae redactum esse constat, et multam pretiosam supellectilem vestemque missam Carthaginem.

Octavo mense quam coeptum oppugnari captum Saguntum quidam scripsere; inde Carthaginem Novam in hiberna Hannibalem concessisse; quinto deinde mense quam ab Carthagine profectus sit in Italiam pervenisse. Quae si ita sunt, fieri non potuit ut P. Cornelius Ti. Sempronius consules fuerint, ad quos et principio oppugnationis legati Saguntini missi sint, et qui in suo magistratu cum Hannibale, alter ad Ticinum amnem, ambo aliquanto post ad Trebiam, pugnaverint. Aut omnia breviora ali-

- legatio verbis adhuc lenior est, re asperior. Tunc enim Hannibal et insimulabatur et deposcebatur; nunc ab nobis et confessio culpae exprimitur, et, ut a confessis, res extemplo repetuntur.) Ego autem
- 5 non, 'privato publicone consilio Saguntum oppugnatum sit,' quaerendum censeam, sed 'utrum jure an injuria;' (nostra enim haec quaestio atque animadversio in civem nostrum est, quid nostro aut suo fecerit, arbitrio; vobiscum una disceptatio est,
- 10 licueritne per foedus fieri.) Itaque quoniam discerni placet, quid publico consilio, quid sua sponte imperatores faciant, nobis vobiscum foedus est a C. Lutatio consule ictum, in quo cum caveretur utrorumque sociis, nihil de Saguntinis (necdum enim erant socii
- 15 vestri) cautum est. 'At enim eo foedere, quod cum Hasdrubale ictum est, Saguntini excipiuntur.' Adversus quod ego nihil dicturus sum, nisi quod a vobis didici: vos enim quod C. Lutatius consul primo nobiscum foedus icit, quia neque auctoritate patrum
- 20 nec populi jussu ictum erat, negastis vos eo teneri, itaque aliud de integro foedus publico consilio ictum est. Si vos non tenent foedera vestra nisi ex auctoritate aut jussu vestro icta, ne nos quidem Hasdrubalis foedus, quod nobis insciis icit, obligare potuit.
- 25 Proinde omittite Sagunti atque Hiberi mentionem facere, et quod diu parturit animus vester aliquando pariat.")
- Tum Romanus, sinu ex toga facto, "hic" inquit "vobis bellum et pacem portamus; utrum placet,
- 30 sumite." Sub hanc vocem haut minus ferociter, 'daret utrum vellet,' subclamatum est. Et cum is iterum, sinu effuso, bellum dare dixisset, accipere se omnes responderunt, et, quibus acciperent animis, isdem se gesturos.
- 35 XIX. Haec directa percunctatio ac denuntiatio belli magis ex dignitate populi Romani visa est quam de foederum jure verbis disceptare, cum ante, tum maxime Sagunto excisa. Nam si verborum disceptationis res esset, quid foedus Hasdrubalis cum Lutatii priore foedere, quod mutatum est, comparandum erat? cum in Lutati foedere diserte additum esset, ita videtur ratum fore, si populus scivisset, in Hasdrubalis foedere nec exceptum tale quicquam fuerit, et tot annorum silentio ita vivo eo comprobatum sit foedus, ut ne mortuo quidem auctore quicquam mutaretur. Quamquam, et si priore foedere staretur, satis cautum erat Saguntinis, sociis utrorumque exceptis; nam neque additum erat 'iis qui tunc essent,' nec 'ne qui postea adsumerentur.' Et cum adsumere novos liceret socios, quis aequum censeret aut ob nulla quemquam merita in amicitiam recipi, aut receptos in fidem non defendi? tantum ne Carthaginensium socii aut sollicitarentur ad defectionem, aut sua sponte desciscentes reciperentur.

Legati Romani ab Carthagine, sicut iis Romae imperatum erat, in Hispaniam, ut adirent civitates et in societatem perlicerent aut averterent a Poenis, trajecerunt. Ad Bargusios primum venerunt, a quibus benigne excepti, quia taedebat imperii Punici; multos trans Hiberum populos ad cupidinem novae fortunae erexerunt. Ad Volcianos inde est ventum, quorum celebrem per Hispaniam responsum ceteros populos ab societate Romana avertit. Ita enim maximus natu ex iis in concilio respondit: "quae verecundia est, Romani, postulare vos, uti vestram Carthaginensium amicitiae praeponamus, cum qui id fecerunt, Saguntinos, crudelius quam Poenus hostis perdidit, vos socii prodideritis? Ibi quaeratis socios censeo, ubi Saguntina clades ignota est. Hispanis populis, sicut lugubre, ita insigne documentum Sagunti ruinae erunt, ne quis fidei Romanae aut societati confidat." Inde extemplo abire finibus Volcianorum jussi, ab nullo deinde concilio Hispaniae benigniora verba tulere. Ita nequiquam peragrata Hispania in Galliam transeunt.

XX. In iis nova terribilisque species visa est, quod armati (ita mos gentis erat) in concilium venerunt. Cum, verbis extollentes gloriam virtutemque

- populi Romani ac magnitudinem imperii, petissent, ne Poeno bellum Italiae inferenti per agros urbesque suas transitum darent, tantus cum fremitu risus dicitur ortus, ut vix a magistratibus majoribusque
- 5 natu juvenus sedaretur; adeo stolidi inprudensque postulatio visa est, censere, ne in Italiam transmittant Galli bellum, ipsos id avertere in se, agrosque suos pro alienis populandos obicere. Sedato tandem fremitu, responsum legatis est, neque Romanorum in
- 10 se meritum esse neque Carthaginensium injuriam, ob quae aut pro Romanis aut adversus Poenos sumant arma; contra ea audire sese, gentis suae homines agro finibusque Italiae pelli a populo Romano stipendiumque pendere et cetera indigna pati. Eadem
- 15 ferme in ceteris Galliae conciliis dicta auditaque; nec hospitale quicquam pacatumve satis prius auditum quam Massiliam venere. Ibi omnia ab sociis inquisita cum cura ac fide cognita: praeoccupatos jam ante ab Hannibale Gallorum animos esse; sed
- 20 ne illi quidem ipsi satis mitem gentem fore (adeo ferocia atque indomita ingenia esse), ni subinde auro, cujus avidissima gens est, principum animi conciliantur. Ita peragratis Hispaniae et Galliae populis, legati Romam redeunt, haud ita multo post quam
- 25 consules in provincias profecti erant. Civitatem omnem expectatione belli erectam invenerunt, satis constante fama jam Hiberum Poenos tramisisse.

- XXI. Hannibal Sagunto capto Carthaginem Novam in hiberna concesserat, ibique auditis quae Romae quaeque Carthagine acta decretaque forent,
- 30 seque non ducem solum sed etiam causam esse belli, partitis divenditisque reliquiis praedae, nihil ultra differendum ratus, Hispani generis milites convocat. "Credo ego vos," inquit, "socii, et ipsos cernere,
- 35 pacatis omnibus Hispaniae populis, aut finiendam nobis militiam exercitusque dimittendos esse, aut in alias terras transferendum bellum; ita enim hae gentes non pacis solum sed etiam victoriae bonis floreant, si ex aliis gentibus praedam et gloriam quaeremus. Itaque cum longinqua a domo instet militia, incertumque sit, quando domos vestras et quae cuique ibi cara sunt visuri sitis, si quis vestrum suos invisere volt, com meatum do. Primo vere edico adsitis, ut, diis bene juvantibus, bellum ingentis gloriae praedaeque futurum incipiamus." 5

Omnibus fere visendi domos oblata ultro potestas grata erat, et jam desiderantibus suos et longius in futurum providentibus desiderium. Per totum tempus hiemis quies inter labores aut jam exhaustos aut 10 mox exhauriendos renovavit corpora animosque ad omnia de integro patienda. Vere primo ad edictum convenere.

X Hannibal, cum recensuisset omnium gentium auxilia, Gadis profectus Herculi vota exsolvit, novisque 15 se obligat votis, si cetera prospera evenissent. Inde partiens curas simul in inferendum atque arandum bellum, ne, dum ipse terrestri per Hispaniam Galliasque itinere Italiam peteret, nuda apertaue Romanis Africa ab Sicilia esset, valido praesidio 20 firmare eam statuit; pro eo supplementum ipse ex Africa maxime jaculatorum, levium armis, petiit, ut Afri in Hispania, Hispani in Africa, melior procul ab domo futurus uterque miles, velut mutuis pigneribus obligati, stipendia facerent. Tredecim milia 25 octingentos quinquaginta pedites cetratos misit in Africam, et funditores Baleares octingentos septuaginta, equites mixtos ex multis gentibus mille ducentos. Has copias partim Carthagini praesidio esse, partim distribui per Africam jubet. Simul conqui- 30 sitoribus in civitates missis, quattuor milia conscripta delectae juventutis, praesidium eosdem et obsides, duci Carthaginem jubet.

XXII. Neque Hispaniam neglegendam ratus, atque id eo minus, quod haud ignarus erat, circum- 35 itam ab Romanis eam legatis ad sollicitandos principum animos, Hasdrubali fratri, viro inpigro, eam provinciam destinat, firmitque eum Africis maxime praesidiis, peditum Afrorum undecim milibus octin-

- gentis quinquaginta, Liguribus trecentis, Baliaribus quingentis. Ad haec peditum auxilia additi equi-tes Libyphoenices, mixtum Punicum Afris genus, quadringenti quinquaginta, et Numidae Maurique, 5 accolae Oceani, ad mille octingenti, et parva Il-getum manus ex Hispania, ducenti equites, et, ne quod terrestris deesset auxilii genus, elephantum viginti unus. Classis praeterea data ad tuendam maritimam oram, quia, qua parte belli vicerant, ea tum quoque 10 rem gesturos Romanos credi poterat, quinquaginta quinqueremes, quadriremes duae, triremes quinque;
 sed aptae instructaeque remigio triginta et duae quinqueremes erant et triremes quinque.
- Ab Gadibus Carthaginem ad hiberna exercitus 15 rediit; atque inde profectus praeter Omissam urbem ad Hiberum maritima ora ducit. Ibi fama est in quiete visum ab eo juvenem divina specie, qui se ab Jove diceret ducem in Italiam Hannibali missum:
 proinde sequeretur, neque usquam a se deflecteret 20 oculos. Pavidum primo, nusquam circumspicientem aut respicientem, secutum (deinde cura ingenii humani, cum, quidnam id esset quod respicere vetitus esset, agitare animo, temperare oculis nequivisse);
 tum vidisse post sese serpentem mira magnitudine 25 cum ingenti arborum ac virgultorum strage ferri, ac post insequi cum fragore caeli nimbum. Tum, quae moles ea quidve prodigii esset, quaerentem audisse, vastitatem Italiae esse; pergeret porro ire, nec ultra inquireret, sineretque fata in occulto esse.
- 30 XXIII. Hoc visu laetus tripertito Hiberum copias trajecit, praemissis qui Gallorum animos, qua traducendus exercitus erat, donis conciliarent, Alpiumque transitus specularentur. Nonaginta milia peditum, duodecim milia equitum Hiberum traduxit.
 35 Ilargetes inde Bargusiosque et Ausetanos et Lacetaniam, quae subjecta Pyrenaeis montibus est, subegit, oraeque huic omni praefecit Hannonem, ut fauces, quae Hispanias Galliis jungunt, in potestate essent.
 Decem milia peditum Hannoni ad praesidium obti-nendae regionis data, et mille equites. Postquam per Pyrenaeum saltum traduci exercitus est coeptus, rumorque per ~~barbaros~~ manavit certior de bello Romano, tria milia inde Carpetanorum peditum iter averterunt. Constabat non tam bello motos, quam 5 longinquitate viae insuperabilique Alpium transitu. Hannibal, quia revocare aut vi retinere eos anceps erat, ne ceterorum etiam feroces animi inritarentur, supra septem milia hominum domos remisit, quos et ipsis gravari militia senserat, Carpetanos quoque ab 10 se dimissos simulans.

directa XXIV. Inde, ne mora atque otium animos sollicitaret, cum reliquis copiis Pyrenaeum transgreditur, et ad oppidum Iliberri castra locat. Galli quamquam Italiae bellum inferri audiebant, tamen, 15 quia vi subactos trans Pyrenaeum Hispanos fama erat praesidiaque valida inposita, metu servitutis ad arma consternati Ruscinonem aliquot populi conveniunt. Quod ubi Hannibali nuntiatum est, moram magis quam bellum metuens, oratores ad regulos 20 eorum misit, conloqui semet ipsum cum iis velle; [et] vel illi propius Iliberrim accederent, vel se Ruscinonem processurum, ut ex propinquo congressus faciliior esset; nam et accepturum eos in castra sua se laetum, nec cunctanter se ipsum ad eos ven- 25 turum; hospitem enim se Galliae, non hostem, advenisse, nec stricturum ante gladium, si per Gallos liceat, quam in Italiam venisset. Et per nuntios quidem haec; ut vero reguli Gallorum, castris ad Iliberrim extemplo motis, haud gravanter ad Poenum 30 venerunt, capti donis cum bona pace exercitum per finis suos praeter Ruscinonem oppidum transmiserunt.

XXV. In Italiam interim nihil ultra, quam Hi-berum transisse Hannibalem, a Massiliensium legatis 35 Romam perlatum erat, cum, perinde ac si Alpibus jam transisset, Boii sollicitatis Insubribus defecerunt, nec tam ob veteres in populum Romanum iras, quam quod nuper circa Padum Placentiam Cremonamque

207.2+9

- colonias in agrum Gallicum deductas aegre patiebantur. Itaque armis repente arreptis, in eum ipsum agrum impetu facto, tantum terroris ac tumultus fecerunt, ut non agrestis modo multitudo, sed ipsi
- 5 triumviri Romani, qui ad agrum venerant adsignandum, diffusi Placentiae moenibus Mutinam confugerint, C. Lutatius, C. Servilius, M. Annius. Lutati nomen haud dubium est; pro Annio Servilioque
M'. Acilium et C. Herennium habent quidam annales,
- 10 alii P. Cornelium Asinam et C. Papirium Masonem.
Id quoque dubium est, legati ad expostulandum missi ad Boios violati sint, an in triumviros agrum metantis impetus sit factus.

- Mutinae cum obsiderentur, et gens ad oppugnan-darum urbium artes rudis, pigerrima eadem ad militaria opera, segnis intactis adsideret muris, simulari coeptum de pace agi; evocatique ab Gallorum principibus legati ad colloquium, non contra jus modo gentium, sed violata etiam, quae data in id tempus
- 20 erat, fide, comprehenduntur, negantibus Gallis, nisi obsides sibi redderentur, eos dimissuros. Cum haec de legatis nuntiata essent et Mutina praesidiumque in periculo esset, L. Manlius praetor ira accensus effusum agmen ad Mutinam ducit. Silvae tunc
- 25 circa viam erant, plerisque incultis. Ibi, inexplorato profectus, in insidias praecipitat, multaque cum caede suorum aegre in apertos campos emersit. Ibi castra communita, et, quia Gallis ad temptanda ea defuit spes, refectioni sunt militum animi, quamquam ad [quingentos] cecidisse satis constabat. Iter deinde de in-tegro coeptum, nec, dum per patentia loca ducebatur agmen, apparuit hostis; ubi rursus silvae intratae, tum postremos adorti cum magna trepidatione ac pavore omnium septingentos milites occiderunt, sex
- 30 signa ademere. Finis et Gallis territandi et pavendi fuit Romanis, ut e saltu invio atque impedito evasere.
Inde apertis locis facile tutantes agmen Romani Tan-netum, vicum propincum Pado, contenderunt. Ibi se munimento ad tempus commeatibusque munis et

Brixianorum etiam Gallorum auxilio adversus crescentem in dies multitudinem hostium tutabantur.

XXVI. Qui tumultus repens postquam est Romam perlatus, et Punicum insuper Gallico bellum auctum patres acceperunt, C. Atilium praetorem cum una legione Romana et quinque milibus sociorum, dilectu novo a consule conscriptis, auxilium ferre Manlio jubent; qui sine ullo certamine (abscesserant enim metu hostes) Tannetum pervenit. 5

Et P. Cornelius, in locum ejus, quae missa cum praetore erat, scripta legione nova, profectus ab urbe sexaginta longis navibus, praeter oram Etruriae Ligurumque et inde Salyum montis pervenit Massiliam, et ad proximum ostium Rhodani (pluribus enim divisus amnis in mare decurrit) castra locat, vixdum satis credens Hannibalem superasse Pyrenaeos montis. Quem ut de Rhodani quoque transitu agitare animadvertit, incertus, quonam ei loco occurreret, necdum satis relictis ab jactatione maritima militibus, trecentos interim delectos equites ducibus Massiliensibus et auxiliaribus Gallis ad exploranda omnia visendosque ex tuto hostes praemittit. Hannibal, ceteris metu aut pretio pacatis, jam in Volcarum pervenerat agrum, gentis validae. Colunt autem circa utramque ripam Rhodani; sed diffusi citeriore agro arceri Poenum posse, ut flumen promunimento haberent, omnibus ferme suis trans Rhodanum trajectis, ulteriorem ripam amnis armis obtinebant. Ceteros accolae fluminis Hannibal et eorum ipsorum, quos sedes suae tenuerant, simul perlicit donis ad naves undique contrahendas fabricandasque, simul et ipsi traici exercitum levarique quam primum regionem suam tanta hominum urgente turba cupiebant. Itaque ingens coacta vis navium est linitumque temere ad vicinalem usum paratarum; novaeque alias primum Galli inchoantes cavabant ex singulis arboribus, deinde et ipsi milites, simul copia materiae simul facilitate operis inducti, alveos informes, nihil dummodo innare aquae et capere onera 35 possent curantes, raptim, quibus se suaque trans-veherent, faciebant.

XXVII. Jamque omnibus satis comparatis ad traiciendum, terrebant ex adverso hostes, omnem
5 ripam equites virique obtinentes; quos ut averteret, Hannonem Bomilcaris filium vigilia prima noctis cum parte copiarum, maxime Hispanis, adverso flumine ire iter unius diei jubet, et, ubi primum possit, quam occultissime trajecto amni, circum-10 ducere agmen, ut, cum opus facto sit, adoriatur ab tergo hostem. Ad id dati duces Galli edocent, inde milicia quinque et viginti ferme supra parvae insulae circumfusum amnem latiore, ubi dividebatur, eoque minus alto alveo transitum ostendere. Ibi raptim 15 caesa materia ratesque fabricatae, in quibus equi virique et alia onera traicerentur. Hispani sine ulla mole, in utres vestimentis coniectis, ipsi caetris superpositis incubantes flumen tranavere. Et alius exercitus ratibus junctis trajectus, castris prope 20 flumen positus, nocturno itinere atque operis labore fessus quiete unius diei reficitur, intento duce ad con-siliium opportune exsequendum. Postero die profecti ex loco edito fumo significant transisse se et haud procul abesse; quod ubi accepit Hannibal, ne tem-25 poris deesset, dat signum ad traiciendum. Jam paratas aptatasque habebat pedes lintres, eques fere propter equos naves. Navium agmen ad excipien-dum adversi impetum fluminis parte superiore trans-mittens, tranquillitatem infra traicientibus lintribus 30 praebebat. Equorum pars magna nantes loris a puppibus trahebatur, praeter eos, quos instratos frenatosque, ut extemplo egresso in ripam equiti usui essent, inposuerant in naves.

XXVIII. Galli occursant in ripa cum variis 35 ululatibus cantuque moris sui, quatientes scuta super capita vibrantesque dexteris tela, quamquam et ex adverso terrebat tanta vis navium cum ingenti sono fluminis et clamore vario nautarum militumque, et qui nitebantur perrumpere impetum fluminis et qui

ex altera ripa traiciētes suos hortabantur. Jam satis pavētes adverso tumultu terribilior ab tergo adortus clamor, castris ab Hannone captis. Mox et ipse aderat, ancepsque terror circumstabat, et e navibus tanta vi armatorum in terram evadente et ab tergo improvisa premente acie. Galli, postquam utroque vim facere conati pellebantur, qua patere visum maxime iter, perrumpunt, trepidique in vicos passim suos diffugiunt. Hannibal, ceteris copiis per otium trajectis, spernens jam Gallicos tumultus, castra locat.

Elephantorum traiciendorum varia consilia fuisse credo; certe variat memoria actae rei. Quidam congregatis ad ripam elephantis tradunt ferocissimum ex iis irritatum ab rectore suo, cum refugientem in aquam [nantem] sequeretur, traxisse gregem, ut quemque timentem altitudinem destitueret vadum, impetu ipso fluminis in alteram ripam rapiente. Ceterum magis constat ratibus trajectos; id ut tutius consilium ante rem foret, ita acta re ad fidem pronius est. Ratem unam, ducentos longam pedes, quinquaginta latam, a terra in amnem porrexerunt, quam, ne secunda aqua deferretur, pluribus validis retinaculis parte superiore ripae religatam pontis in modum humo injecta constraverunt, ut beluae audacter velut per solum ingrederentur. Altera ratis aequae lata, longa pedes centum, ad traiciendum flumen apta, huic copulata est; tum elephantum per stabilem ratem tamquam viam, praegredientibus feminis, acti ubi in minorem adplicatam transgressi sunt, extemplo resolutis quibus leviter adnexa erat vinculis, ab actuariis aliquot navibus ad alteram ripam pertrahitur. Ita primis expositis, alii deinde repetiti ac trajecti sunt. Nihil sane trepidabant, donec continenti velut ponte agerentur; primus erat pavor, cum, soluta ab ceteris rate, in altum raperentur; ibi urgentes inter se, cedentibus extremis ab aqua, trepidationis aliquantum edebant, donec quietem ipse timor circumspicientibus aquam fecisset. Excidere etiam saevientes quidam in flumen; sed pondere ipso stabiles, dejectis rectoribus, quaerendis pedetemptim vadis in terram evasere.

- XXIX. Dum elephanti traiciuntur, interim Hannibal Numidas equites quingentos ad castra Romana miserat speculatum, ubi et quantae copiae essent et quid pararent. Huic alae equitum missi, ut ante dictum est, ab ostio Rhodani trecenti Romanorum equites occurrunt. Proelium atrocius quam pro numero pugnantium editur; nam praeter multa vulnera caedes etiam prope par utrimque fuit, fugaque et pavor Numidarum Romanis jam admodum fessis victoriam dedit. Victores ad centum sexaginta, nec omnes Romani, sed pars Gallorum, victi amplius ducenti ceciderunt. Hoc principium simul omenque belli, ut summae rerum prosperum eventum, ita haud sane incruentam ancipitisque certaminis victoriam Romanis portendit.

- Ut, re ita gesta, ad utrumque ducem sui redierunt, nec Scipioni stare sententia poterat, nisi ut ex consiliis coeptisque hostis et ipse conatus caperet, et Hannibalem incertum, utrum coeptum in Italiam intenderet iter, an cum eo, qui primus se obtulisset Romanus exercitus, manus consereret, avertit a praesenti certamine Boiorum legatorum regulique Magali adventus, qui, se duces itinerum, socios periculi fore adfirmantes, integro bello nusquam ante libatis viribus Italiam adgrediendam censent. Multitudo timebat quidem hostem, nondum oblitterata memoria superioris belli; sed magis iter immensum Alpesque, rem fama utique inexpertis horrendam, metuebat.

- XXX. Itaque Hannibal, postquam ipsi sententia stetit pergere ire atque Italiam petere, advocata contione, varie militum versat animos castigando adhortandoque: 'mirari se, quinam pectora semper impavida repens terror invaserit. Per tot annos vincientis eos stipendia facere, neque ante Hispania excessisse quam omnes gentesque et terrae, quas duo diversa maria amplectantur, Carthaginiensium essent.

Indignatos deinde, quod, quicumque Saguntum obsedissent, velut ob noxam sibi dedi postulare populus Romanus, Hiberum trajecisse ad delendum nomen Romanorum liberandumque orbem terrarum. Tum nemini visum id longum, cum ab occasu solis ad 5 exortus intenderent iter; nunc, postquam multo majorem partem itineris emensam cernant, Pyrenaeum saltum inter ferocissimas gentes superatum, Rhodanum, tantum amnem, tot milibus Gallorum prohibentibus, domita etiam ipsius fluminis vi, tra- 10 jectum, in conspectu Alpīs habeant, quarum alterum latus Italiae sit, in ipsis portis hostium fatigatos sub-sistere — quid Alpīs aliud esse credentes quam montium altitudines? Fingerent altiores Pyrenaei jugis; nullas profecto terras caelum contingere nec inex- 15 superabiles humano generi esse. Alpīs quidem habitari, coli, gignere atque alere animantes; pervias fauces esse exercitibus. Eos ipsos, quos cernant, legatos non pinnis sublimē elatos Alpīs transgressos.
Ne majores quidem eorum indigenas, sed advenas 20
Italiae cultores. has ipsas Alpīs ingentibus saepe agminibus cum liberis ac conjugibus, migrantium modo, tuto transmisisse. Militi quidem armato, nihil secum praeter instrumenta belli portanti, quid invium aut inexcuperabile esse? Saguntum ut caperetur, 25 quid per octo menses periculi, quid laboris exhaus-tum esse? Romam, caput orbis terrarum, petentibus quicquam adeo asperum atque arduum videri, quod inceptum moretur? Cepisse quondam Gallos ea, quae adiri posse Poenus desperet; proinde aut 30 cederent animo atque virtute genti per eos dies totiens ab se victae, aut itineris finem sperent campum interjacentem Tiberi ac moenibus Romanis.

XXXI. His adhortationibus incitatos corpora curare atque ad iter se parare jubet. Postero die 35 profectus adversa ripa Rhodani mediterranea Galliae petit, non quia rectior ad Alpīs via esset, sed, quantum a mari recessisset, minus obvium fore Romanum credens, cum quo, priusquam in Italiam ventum

foret, non erat in animo manus conserere. Quartis castris ad Insulam pervenit. Ibi Isara Rhodanusque amnes diversis ex Alpibus decurrentes, agri aliquantum amplexi confluunt in unum; mediis campis Insulae nomen inditum. Incolunt prope Allobroges, gens jam inde nulla Gallica gente opibus aut fama inferior. Tum discors erat. Regni certamine ambigebant fratres; major, et qui prius imperitarat, Brancus nomine, minore ab fratre et coetu juniorum, qui jure minus, vi plus poterat, pellebatur. Hujus seditionis peropportuna disceptatio cum ad Hannibalem rejecta esset, arbiter regni factus, quod ea senatus principumque sententia fuerat, imperium majori restituit. Ob id meritum commeatu copiaque rerum omnium, maxime vestis, est adjunctus, quam infames frigoribus Alpes praeparari cgebant. Sedatis certaminibus Allobrogum cum jam Alpes peteret, non recta regione iter instituit, sed ad laevam in Tricastinos flexit; inde per extremam oram Vocontiorum agri tendit in Tricorios, haut usquam inpedita via priusquam ad Druentiam flumen pervenit. Is et ipse Alpinus amnis longe omnium Galliae fluminum difficillimus transitu est; nam, cum aquae vim vehat ingentem, non tamen navium patiens est, quia nullis coercitus ripis, pluribus simul neque isdem alveis fluens, nova semper vada novosque gurgites, (et ob eadem pediti quoque incerta via est,) ad hoc saxa glareosa volvens, nihil stabile nec tutum ingredienti praebet. Et tum forte imbribus auctus ingentem transgredientibus tumultum fecit, cum super cetera trepidatione ipsi sua atque incertis clamoribus turbarentur.

XXXII. P. Cornelius consul triduo fere postquam Hannibal a ripa Rhodani movit, quadrato agmine ad castra hostium venerat, nullam dimicandi moram facturus; ceterum ubi deserta munimenta nec facile se tantum praegressos adsecuturum videt, ad mare ac naves rediit, tutius faciliusque ita descendentem ab Alpibus Hannibali occursurus. Ne tamen nuda auxiliis Romanis Hispania esset, quam provinciam sortitus erat, Cn. Scipionem fratrem cum maxima parte copiarum adversus Hasdrubalem misit, non ad tuendos tantummodo veteres socios conciliandosque novos, sed etiam ad pellendum Hispania Hasdrubalem. Ipse cum admodum exiguis copiis Genuam repetit, eo, qui circa Padum erat exercitus, Italiam defensurus. 5

Hannibal ab Druentia campestri maxime itinere ad Alpis cum bona pace incolentium ea loca Gal- 10
lorum pervenit. Tum, quamquam fama prius, qua incerta in majus fere ferri solent, praecepta res erat, tamen ex propinquo visa montium altitudo nivesque caelo prope inmixtae, tecta informia inposita rupibus, pecora jumentaue torrida frigore, homines intonsi et 15 inculti, animalia inanimaue omnia rigentia gelu, cetera visu quam dictu foediora, terrorem renovarunt. S. u.
Erigentibus in primos agmen clivos apparuerunt imminentes tumulos insidentes montani, qui, si valles occultiores insedissent, coorti ad pugnam repente 20 ingentem fugam stragemque dedissent. Hannibal consistere signa jussit; Gallisque ad visenda loca praemissis, postquam conperit transitum ea non esse, castra inter confragosa omnia praeruptaque, quam extentissima potest valle, locat. Tum per eosdem 25 Gallos, haud sane multum lingua moribusque abhorrentis, cum se inmiscuissent conloquiis montanorum, edoctus, interdiu tantum obsideri saltum, nocte in sua quemque dilabi tecta, luce prima subiit tumulos, ut h. u.
ex aperto atque interdiu vim per angustias factururus. 30
Die deinde simulando aliud quam quod parabatur consumpto, cum eodem quo constiterant loco castra communissent, ubi primum degressos tumulis montanos laxatasque sensit custodias, pluribus ignibus quam pro numero manentium in speciem factis, in- 35 pedimentisque cum equite relictis et maxuma parte peditum, ipse cum expeditis, acerrimo quoque viro, raptim angustias evadit, iisque ipsis tumulis, quos hostes tenuerant, consedit.

- XXXIII. Prima deinde luce castra mota, et agmen relicum incedere coepit. Jam montani signo dato ex castellis ad stationem solitam conveniebant, cum repente conspiciunt alios, arce occupata sua, 5 super caput imminentis, alios via transire hostis. 97c.
- Utraque simul objecta res oculis animisque immobiles parumper eos defixit; deinde, ut trepidationem in angustiis suoque ipsum tumultu misceri agmen videre, equis maxime consternatis, quidquid adiecissent ipsi P. 250-
- 10 terroris satis ad perniciem fore rati, transversis rupibus, per juxta invia ac devia adsueta decurrunt. Tum vero simul ab hostibus, simul ab iniquitate locorum Poeni oppugnabantur, plusque inter ipsos, sibi quoque tendente ut periculo prius evaderet,
- 15 quam cum hostibus, certaminis erat. Equi maxime infestum agmen faciebant, qui et clamoribus dissonis, quos nemora etiam repercussaeque valles augebant, territi trepidabant, et icti forte aut vulnerati adeo consternabantur, ut stragem ingentem simul homi-
- 20 num ac sarcinarum omnis generis facerent; multosque turba, cum praecipites deruptaeque utrimque angustiae essent, in immensum altitudinis dejecit, quosdam et armatos; sed ruinae maxime modo jumenta cum oneribus devolvebantur. Quae quam-
- 25 quam foeda visu erant, stetit parumper tamen Hannibal ac suos continuit, ne tumultum ac trepidationem augeret; deinde, postquam interrumpi agmen vidit periculumque esse, ne exutum impedimentis exercitum nequiquam incolumem traduxisset, de-
- 30 currit ex superiore loco, et, cum impetu ipso fudisset hostem, suis quoque tumultum auxit. Sed is tumultus momento temporis, postquam liberata itinera fuga montanorum erant, sedatur, nec per otium modo, sed prope silentio mox omnes traducti. Cas-
- 35 tellum inde, quod caput ejus regionis erat, viculosque circumjectos capit, et captivo cibo ac pecoribus per triduum exercitum aluit; et, quia nec a montanis primo percussis nec loco magno opere impediabantur, aliquantum eo triduo viae confecit.

XXXIV. Perventum inde ad frequentem cultoribus alium, ut inter montanos, populum. Ibi non bello aperto, sed suis artibus, fraude et insidiis, est prope circumventus. Magno natu principes castellorum oratores ad Poenum veniunt, 'alienis malis, 5 utili exemplo, doctos' memorantes 'amicitiam malle quam vim experiri Poenorum; itaque oboedienter imperata facturos, commeatum itinerisque duces et ad fidem promissorum obsides acciperet.' Hannibal, nec temere credendum nec aspernandum ratus, ne 10 repudiati aperte hostes fierent, benigne cum respondisset, obsidibus quos dabant acceptis et commeatu quem in viam ipsi detulerant usus, nequaquam ut inter pacatos composito agmine duces eorum sequitur. Primum agmen elephantum et equites erant; ipse post 15 cum robore peditum circumspectans sollicitus omnia incedebat. Ubi in angustiore viam et parte altera subjectam jugo insuper imminente ventum est, undique ex insidiis barbari, a fronte, ab tergo coorti, comminus, eminus petunt, saxa ingentia in agmen devolvunt. ~~Maxima~~ ab tergo vis hominum urgebat. In eos versa peditum acies haut dubium fecit, quin, nisi firmata extrema agminis fuissent, ingens in eo saltu accipienda clades fuerit. Tunc quoque ad extremum periculi ac prope perniciem ventum est; nam, 25 dum cunctatur Hannibal demittere agmen in angustias, quia non, ut ipse equitibus praesidio erat, ita peditibus quicquam ab tergo auxilii reliquerat, occurrentes per obliqua montani, interrupto medio agmine, viam insedere, noxque una Hannibali sine 30 equitibus atque impedimentis acta est.

XXXV. Postero die, jam segnius intercurrentibus barbaris, junctae copiae, saltusque haud sine clade, majore tamen jumentorum quam hominum perniciem, superatus. Inde montani pauciores jam et 35 latrocinii magis quam belli more concursabant, modo in primum, modo in novissimum agmen, utcumque aut locus opportunitatem daret aut progressi morative aliquam occasionem fecissent. Elephantum, sicut per artas praecipitesque vias magna mora agebantur, ita tutum ab hostibus, quacumque incederent, quia insuetis adeundi propius metus erat, agmen praebebant.

- 5 Nono die in jugum Alpium perventum est per invia pleraque et errores, quos aut ducentium fraus, aut, ubi fides iis non esset, temere initae valles a conjectantibus iter faciebant. ~~¶~~ Biduum in jugo stativa habita, fessisque labore ac pugnando quies data militibus; jumenta~~que~~ aliquot, quae prolapsa in rupibus erant, sequendo vestigia agminis in castra pervenere. Fessis taedio tot malorum nivis etiam casus, occidente jam sidere Vergiliarum, ingentem terrorem adjecit. Per omnia nive oppleta cum, signis prima luce motis,
- 15 segniter agmen incederet, pigritiaque et desperatio in omnium vultu emineret, praegressus signa Hannibal in promunturio quodam, unde longe ac late prospectus erat, consistere jussis militibus Italiam ostentat subjectosque Alpinis montibus Circumpadanos campos: "moenia eos tum transcendere non Italiae modo, sed etiam urbis Romanae. ~~¶~~ cetera plana, proclivia fore; uno aut summum altero proelio arcem et caput Italiae in manu ac potestate habituros."

- Procedere inde agmen coepit, jam nihil ne hostibus
- 25 quidem praeter parva furta per occasionem temptantibus. Ceterum iter multo quam in ascensu fuerat (ut pleraque Alpium ab Italia sicut breviora ita arrectiora sunt) difficilius fuit; omnis enim ferme via praeceps, angusta, lubrica erat, ut neque sustinere
- 30 se a lapsu possent, nec qui paulum titubassent haerere adfixi vestigio suo, alii~~que~~ super alios et jumenta in homines succiderent.

- XXXVI. Ventum deinde ad multo angustiores rupem, atque ita rectis saxis, ut aegre expeditus miles
- 35 temptabundus manibusque retinens virguita ac stirpes circa eminentes demittere sese posset. Natura locus jam ante praeceps recenti lapsu terrae in pedum mille admodum altitudinem abruptus erat. Ibi cum velut ad finem viae equites constitissent, miranti

Hannibali, quae res moraretur agmen, nuntiatur, rupem inviam esse. Digressus deinde ipse ad locum visendum, Haut dubia res visa, quin per invia circa nec trita antea, quamvis longo ambitu, circumduceret agmen. Ea vero via insuperabilis fuit; nam cum 5 super veterem nivem intactam nova modicae altitudinis esset, molli nec praealtae facile pedes ingredientium insistebant; ut vero tot hominum jumentorumque incessu dilapsa est, per nudam infra glaciem fluentemque tabem liquescentis nivis ingrediebantur. Taetra ibi luctatio erat, via lubrica glacie non recipiente vestigium et in prono citius pedes fallente, ut, seu manibus in adsurgendo seu genu se adjuvissent, ipsis adminiculis prolapsis, iterum eorruerent; nec stirpes circa radicesve, ad quas pede 15 aut manu quisquam eniti posset, erant; ita in levi tantum glacie tabidaque nive volutabantur. Jumenta secabant interdum etiam infimam ingredientia nivem, et prolapsa jactandis gravius in conitendo ungulis penitus perfringebant, ut pleraque, velut pedica 20 capta, haerent in dura et alte concreta glacie.

XXXVII. Tandem nequiquam jumentis atque hominibus fatigatis, castra in jugo posita, aegerrime ad id ipsum loco purgato; tantum nivis fodiendum atque egerendum fuit. Inde ad rupem muniendam, 25 per quam unam via esse poterat, milites ducti, cum caedendum esset saxum, arboribus circa inmanibus dejectis detruncatisque struem ingentem lignorum faciunt, eamque, cum et vis venti apta faciendo igni coorta esset, succendunt, ardentiaque saxa infuso 30 aceto putrefaciunt. Ita torridam incendio rupem ferro pandunt, molliuntque anfractibus modicis clivos, ut non jumenta solum, sed elephantum etiam deduci possent. Quadriduum circa rupem consumptum, jumentis prope fame absumptis; nuda enim 35 fere cacumina sunt, et si quid est pabuli, obruunt nives. Inferiora valles apricosque quosdam colles habent, rivosque prope silvas, et jam humano cultu digniora loca. Ibi jumenta in pabulum missa, et quies muniendo fessis hominibus data. Triduo inde ad planum descensum, jam et locis mollioribus et accolarum ingeniis.

- XXXVIII. Hoc maxime modo in Italiam per-
 5 ventum est, quinto mense a Carthagine Nova, ut quidam auctores sunt, quinto decimo die Alpibus superatis. Quantae copiae transgresso in Italiam Hannibali fuerint, nequaquam inter auctores constat. Qui plurimum, centum milia peditum, viginti equitum
 10 fuisse scribunt, qui minimum, viginti milia peditum, sex equitum. L. Cincius Alimentus, qui captum se ab Hannibale scribit, maxime me auctor moveret, nisi confunderet numerum Gallis Liguribusque additis: cum his octoginta milia peditum, decem equi-
 15 tum adducta; (in Italia magis adfluxisse veri simile est, et ita quidam auctores sunt;) ex ipso autem audisse Hannibale, postquam Rhodanum transierit, triginta sex milia hominum ingentemque numerum equorum et aliorum jumentorum amisisse. ~~Taurini~~
 20 Semigalli proxuma gens erat in Italiam degresso. Id cum inter omnes constet, eo magis miror ambigi, quam Alpibus transierit, et vulgo credere Poenino (atque inde nomen ei jugo Alpium inditum) transgressum, Coelium per Cremonis jugum dicere trans-
 25 isse; qui ambo saltus eum non in Taurinos, sed per alios montanos ad Libuos Gallos deduxissent. Nec veri simile est ea tum ad Galliam patuisse itinera; utique quae ad Poeninum ferunt obsepta gentibus Semigermanis fuissent. Neque hercule montibus his,
 30 si quem forte id movet, ab transitu Poenorum ullo Seduni Veragrique, incolae jugi ejus, norunt nomen inditum, sed ab eo quem in summo sacratum vertice Poeninum montani appellant.

- * XXXIX. Peropportune ad principia rerum Taurin-35 is, proximae genti, adversus Insubres motum bellum erat. Sed armare exercitum Hannibal, ut parti alteri auxilio esset, in reficiendo maxime sentientem contracta ante mala, non poterat; otium enim ex labore, copia ex inopia, cultus ex inluevie tabeque,

aequalida et prope ~~effrata~~ corpora varie movebat.
 Ea P. Cornelio consuli causa fuit, cum Pisas navibus venisset, exercitu a Manlio Atilioque accepto tirone et in novis ignominis trepido, ad Padum festinandi, ut cum hoste nondum refecto manus consereret. Sed 5 cum Placentiam consul venit, jam ex stativis moverat Hannibal, Taurinorumque unam urbem, caput gentis ejus, quia volentis in amicitiam non veniebant, vi expugnarat; et junxisset sibi non metu solum, sed etiam voluntate, Gallos accolae Padi, ni eos circum- 10 spectantis defectionis tempus subito adventu consul oppressisset. Et Hannibal movit ex Taurinis, in-certos, quae pars sequenda esset, Gallos praesentem secuturos esse ratus. Jam prope in conspectu erant exercitus, convenerantque duces, sicuti inter se non- 15 dum satis noti, ita jam inbutus uterque quadam admiratione alterius. Nam et Hannibalis apud Romanos jam ante Sagunti excidium celeberrimum nomen erat, et Scipionem Hannibal eo ipso, quod adversus se dux potissimum lectus esset, praestantem 20
 virum credebat; et auxerant inter se opinionem, Scipio, quod, relictus in Gallia, obvisus fuerat in Italiam transgresso Hannibali, Hannibal et conatu tam audaci traiciendarum Alpium et effectum.

Occupavit tamen Scipio Padum traicere, et ad 25
 Ticinum amnem motis castris, priusquam educeret in aciem, adhortandorum militum causa talem orationem est exorsus:

XL. "Si eum exercitum, milites, educerem in aciem, quem in Gallia mecum habui, supersedissem 30
 loqui apud vos; quid enim adhortari referret aut eos equites, qui equitatum hostium ad Rhodanum flumen egregie vicissent, aut eas legiones, cum quibus fugientem hunc ipsum hostem secutus confessionem cedentis ac detractantis certamen pro victoria habui? Nunc, 35
 quia ille exercitus, Hispaniae provinciae scriptus, ibi cum fratre Cn. Scipione meis auspiciis rem gerit, ubi eum gerere senatus populusque Romanus voluit, ego, ut consulem ducem adversus Hannibalem ac Poenos

- haberetis, ipse me huic voluntario certamini obtuli, novo imperatori apud novos milites pauca verba facienda sunt. Ne genus belli neve hostem ignoretis, cum iis est vobis, milites, pugnandum, quos terra
5 marique priore bello vicistis, a quibus stipendium per viginti annos exegistis, a quibus capta belli praemia Siciliam ac Sardiniam habetis. Erit igitur in hoc certamine is vobis illisque animus, qui victoribus et victis esse solet. Nec nunc illi, quia
10 audent, sed quia necesse est, pugnaturi sunt; nisi creditis, qui exercitu incolumi pugnam detractavere, eos, duabus partibus peditum equitumque in transitu Alpium amissis, [quum plures paene perierint quam supersint,] plus spei nactos esse. 'At enim pauci
15 quidem sunt, sed vigentes animis corporibusque, quorum robora ac vires vix sustinere vis ulla possit.' Effigies immo, umbrae hominum, fame, frigore, inlue, squalore enecti, contusi ac debilitati inter saxa rupesque; ad hoc praeusti artus, nive rigentes nervi,
20 membra torrida gelu, quassata fractaque arma, claudi ac debiles equi. Cum hoc equite, cum hoc pedito pugnaturi estis; reliquias extremas hostium, non hostem habebitis; ac nihil magis vereor, quam ne, vos cum pugnaveritis, Alpes vicisse Hannibalem
25 videantur. Sed ita forsitan decuit, cum foederum ruptore duce ac populo deos ipsos sine ulla humana ope committere ac profligare bellum, nos, qui secundum deos violati sumus, commissum ac profligatum conficere.
- 30 XLI. Non vereor, ne quis me haec vestri adhortandi causa magnifice loqui existimet, ipsum aliter animo adfectum esse. Licuit in Hispaniam, provinciam meam, quo jam profectus eram, cum exercitu ire meo, ubi et fratrem consilii participem 35 ac periculi socium haberem, et Hasdrubalem potius quam Hannibalem hostem, et minorem haud dubie molem belli; tamen, cum praeterveherer navibus Galliae oram, ad famam hujus hostis in terram egressus, praemisso equitatu, ad Rhodanum movi castra.

Equestri proelio, qua parte copiarum conserendi manum fortuna data est, hostem fudi; peditum agmen, quod in modum fugientium raptim agebatur, quia adsequi terra non poteram, regressus ad navis, quanta maxime potui celeritate, tanto maris terrarumque circuitu, in radicibus prope Alpium huic timendo hosti obvius fui. Utrum, cum declinarem certamen, improvisus incidisse videor, an occurrere in vestigiis ejus, lacessere ac trahere ad decernendum? Experiri juvat, utrum alios repente Carthaginienses per viginti annos terra ediderit, an idem sint, qui ad Aegatis pugnaverunt insulas, et quos ab Eryce duodevicens denariis aestimatos emisistis, et utrum Hannibal hic sit aemulus itinerum Hercules, ut ipse fert, an vectigalis stipendiariusque et servus populi Romani a patre relictus. Quem nisi Saguntinum scelus agitare, respiceret profecto, si non patriam victam, domum certe patremque et foedera Hamilcaris scripta manu, qui jussus ab consule nostro praesidium deduxit ab Eryce, qui graves inpositas victis Carthaginensibus leges fremens maerensque accepit, qui decedere Sicilia, qui stipendium populo Romano dare pactus est.

Itaque vos ego, milites, non eo solum animo quo adversus alios hostes soletis, pugnare velim, sed cum indignatione quadam atque ira, velut si servos videatis vestros arma repente contra vos ferentes. Licuit ad Erycem clausos ultimo supplicio humanorum, fame, interficere; licuit victricem classem in Africam traicere atque intra paucos dies sine ullo certamine Carthaginem delere; veniam dedimus precantibus, emisimus ex obsidione, pacem cum victis fecimus, tutelae deinde nostrae duximus, cum Africo bello urgerentur. Pro his inperitis furiosum juvenem sequentes oppugnatum patriam nostram veniunt. Atque utinam pro decore tantum hoc vobis et non pro salute esset certamen! Non de possessione Siciliae ac Sardiniae, de quibus quondam agebatur, sed pro Italia vobis est pugnandum. Nec est alius ab tergo exercitus, qui, nisi nos vincimus, hosti obsistat, nec Alpes aliae sunt, quas dum superant comparari nova possint praesidia: hic est obstandum, milites, velut si ante Romana moenia pugnemus.

- 5 Unus quisque se non corpus suum, sed conjugem ac liberos parvos armis protegere putet; nec domesticas solum agitet curas, sed identidem hoc animo reputet, nostras nunc intueri manus senatum populumque Romanum: qualis nostra vis virtusque fuerit, talem
10 deinde fortunam illius urbis ac Romani imperii fore."

- ✓ XLII. Haec aput Romanos consul. Hannibal rebus prius quam verbis adhortandos milites ratus, circumdato ad spectaculum exercitu, captivos mon-
15 tanos vinctos in medio statuit, armisque Gallicis ante pedes eorum projectis, interrogare interpretem jussit, ecquis, si vinculis levaretur armaque et equum victor acciperet, decertare ferro vellet. Cum ad unum omnes ferrum pugnamque poscerent et dejecta 20 in id sors esset, se quisque eum optabat, quem fortuna in id certamen legeret, et, ut cujusque sors exciderat, alacer, inter gratulantes gaudio exultans, cum sui moris tripudiis arma raptim capiebat. Ubi vero dimicarent, is habitus animorum non inter ejus-25 dem modo condicionis homines erat, sed etiam inter spectantes vulgo, ut non vincentium magis quam bene morientium fortuna laudaretur.

- XLIII. Cum sic aliquot spectatis paribus adfectos dimisisset, contione inde advocata ita aput 30 eos locutus fertur: "si, quem animum in alienae sortis exemplo paulo ante habuistis, eundem mox in aestimanda fortuna vestra habueritis, vicimus, milites; neque enim spectaculum modo illud, sed quaedam veluti imago vestrae condicionis erat. Ac nescio
35 an majora vincula majoresque necessitates vobis quam captivis vestris fortuna circumdederit. Dextra laevaue duo maria claudunt, nullam ne ad effugium quidem navem habentes; circa Padus amnis, major [Padus] ac violentior Rhodano, ab tergo Alpes urgent, vix integris vobis ac vigentibus transitae. Hic vincendum aut moriendum, milites, est, ubi primum hosti occurristis. Et eadem fortuna, quae necessitatem pugnandi inposuit, praemia vobis ea victoribus proponit, quibus ampliora homines ne ab diis quidem immortalibus optare solent. Si Siciliam tantum ac Sardiniam parentibus nostris ereptas nostra virtute recuperaturi essemus, satis tamen ampla pretia essent; quidquid Romani tot triumphis partum congestumque possident, id omne vestrum cum ipsis dominis futurum est; in hanc tam opimam mercedem, agite dum, diis bene juvantibus arma capite. Satis adhuc in vastis Lusitaniae Celtiberiaeque montibus pecora consectando nullum emolumentum tot laborum periculorumque vestrorum vidistis; tempus est jam opulenta vos ac ditia stipendia facere et magna operae pretia mereri, tantum itineris per tot montes fluminaque et tot armatas gentes emensos. Hic vobis terminum laborum fortuna dedit; hic dignam mercedem emeritis stipendiis dabit. Nec, quam magni nominis bellum est, tam difficilem existimaritis victoriam fore; saepe et contemptus hostis cruentum certamen edidit, et inclyti populi regesque perlevi momento victi sunt. Nam dempto hoc uno fulgore nominis Romani, quid est, cur illi vobis comparandi sint? Ut viginti annorum militiam vestram cum illa virtute, cum illa fortuna taceam, ab Herculis columnis, ab Oceano terminisque ultimis terrarum per tot ferocissimos Hispaniae et Galliae populos vincentes huc pervenistis; pugna bitis cum exercitu tirone, hac ipsa aestate caeso, victo, circumssesso a Gallis, ignoto adhuc duci suo ignorantique ducem. An me in praetorio patris, clarissimi imperatoris, prope natum, certe eductum, domitorem Hispaniae Galliaeque, victorem eundem non Alpinarum modo gentium, sed ipsarum, quod multo majus est, Alpium, cum semenstri hoc conferam duce, desertore exercitus sui? Cui si quis demptis signis Poenos Romanosque hodie ostendat, ignoraturum

- certum habeo, utrius exercitus sit consul. Non ego illud parvi aestimo, milites, quod nemo est vestrum, cujus non ante oculos ipse saepe militare aliquod ediderim facinus, cui non idem ego virtutis spectator
- 5 ac testis notata temporibus locisque referre sua possim decora. Cum laudatis a me milliens donatisque, alumnus prius omnium vestrum quam imperator, procedam in aciem adversus ignotos inter se ignorantesque.
- 10 XLIV. Quocumque circumtuli oculos, plena omnia video animorum ac roboris: veteranum peditem, generosissimarum gentium equites frenatos infrenatosque, vos socios fidelissimos fortissimosque, vos, Carthaginienses, cum pro patria tum ob iram
- 15 justissimam pugnatueros. Inferimus bellum infestisque signis descendimus in Italiam, tanto audacius fortiusque pugnaturi quam hostis, quanto major spes, major est animus inferentis vim quam arcentis. Accendit praeterea et stimulat animos dolor, injuria,
- 20 indignitas. Ad supplicium depoposcerunt me ducem primum, deinde vos omnes, qui Saguntum oppugnassetis; deditos ultimis cruciatibus adfecturi fuerunt. Crudelissima ac superbissima gens sua omnia sui arbitrii facit; cum quibus bellum, cum quibus
- 25 pacem habeamus, se modum inponere aecum censet. Circumscribit includitque nos terminis montium fluminumque, quos non excedamus, neque eos, quos statuit, terminos observat. "Ne transieris Hiberum! ne quid rei tibi sit cum Saguntinis!" "At non ad
- 30 Hiberum est Saguntum." "Nusquam te vestigio moveris!" Parum est, quod veterrimas provincias meas Siciliam ac Sardiniam adimis? Etiam in Hispanias, et, si inde cessero, in Africam transcendes? Transcendes autem? Transcendisse dico.
- 35 Duos consules hujus anni, unum in Africam, alterum in Hispaniam miserunt. Nihil usquam nobis relictum est, nisi quod armis vindicarimus. Illis timidis et ignavis esse licet, qui respectum habent, quos sua terra, suus ager per tuta ac pacata itinera fugientes accipient; vobis necesse est fortibus viris esse, et, omnibus inter victoriam mortemve certa desperatione abruptis, aut vincere, aut, si fortuna dubitabit, in proelio potius quam in fuga mortem oppetere. Si hoc bene fixum omnibus [destinatum] 5 in animo est, iterum dicam, vicistis; nullum contemptu mortis telum ~~at~~ vincendum homini ab diis immortalibus acrius datum est."

XLV. His adhortationibus cum utrimque ad certamen accensi militum animi essent, Romani ponte 10 Ticinum jungunt, tutandique pontis causa castellum insuper inponunt; Poenus, hostibus opere occupatis, Maharbalem cum ala Numidarum, equitibus quingentis, ad depopulandos sociorum populi Romani agros mittit; Gallis parci quam maxime jubet, principumque animos ad defectionem sollicitari. Ponte 15 perfecto traductus Romanus exercitus in agrum Insubrium quinque milia passum ab Ictumulis consedit.

Ibi Hannibal castra habebat; revocatoque pro- 20 pere Maharbale atque equitibus, cum instare certamen cerneret, nihil unquam satis dictum praemonitumque ad cohortandos milites ratus, vocatis ad contionem certa praemia pronuntiat, in quorum spem pugnarent: 'agrum sese daturum esse in Italia, Africa, 25 Hispania, ubi quisque velit, immunem ipsi qui acceperisset liberisque; qui pecuniam quam agrum maluisset, ei se argento satisfacturum; qui sociorum cives Carthaginienses fieri vellent, potestatem facturum; qui domos redire mallent, daturum se operam ne 30 cujus suorum popularium mutata secum fortunam esse vellent.' Servis quoque dominos prosecutis libertatem proponit, binaque pro his mancipia dominis se redditurum. Eaque ut rata scirent fore, agnum laeva manu, dextera silicem retinens, si falleret, Jovem 35 ceterosque precatus deos, ita se mactarent, quem ad modum ipse agnum mactasset, secundum precationem caput pecudis saxo elisit. Tum vero omnes, velut diis auctoribus in spem suam quisque acceptis, id morae quod nondum pugnarent ad potienda sperata rati, proelium uno animo et voce una poscunt.

XLVI. Aput Romanos hautquaquam tanta alacritas erat, super cetera recentibus etiam territos 5 prodigiis; nam et lupus intraverat castra laniatisque obviis ipse intactus evaserat, et examen apum in arbore praetorio imminente consederat.

Quibus procuratis, Scipio cum equitatu jaculatoribusque expeditis profectus ad castra hostium ex pro-
 10 pinquo copiasque quantae et cujus generis essent, speculandas, obvius fit Hannibali et ipsi cum equitibus ad exploranda circa loca progresso. Neutri alteros primo cernebant; densior deinde incessu tot hominum equorumque oriens pulvis signum propin-
 15 quantum hostium fuit. Consistit utrumque agmen, et ad proelium sese expediebant. Scipio jaculatores et Gallos equites in fronte locat, Romanos sociorumque quod roboris fuit in subsidiis; Hannibal frenatos equites in medium accipit, cornua Numidis firmat.
 20 Vixdum clamore sublato, jaculatores fugerunt inter subsidia ad secundam aciem. Inde equitum certamen erat aliquamdiu anceps; dein, quia turbabant equos pedites intermixti, multis labentibus ex equis aut desilientibus ubi suos premi circumventos vidis-25 sent, jam magna ex parte ad pedes pugna venerat, donec Numidae, qui in cornibus erant, circumvecti paulum ab tergo se ostenderunt. Is pavor perculit Romanos, auxitque pavorem consulis vulnus periculumque intercurso tum primum pubescentis filii 30 pulsatum.

Hic erat juvenis, penes quem perfecti hujusce belli laus est, Africanus ob egregiam victoriam de Hannibale Poenisque appellatus. Fuga tamen effusa jaculatorum maxume fuit, quos primos Numidae invase-35 runt; alius confertus equitatus consulem in medium acceptum, non armis modo, sed etiam corporibus suis protegens, in castra nusquam trepide neque effuse cedendo reduxit. Servati consulis decus Coelius ad servum natione Ligurem delegat; malim equidem de filio verum esse, quod et plures tradidere auctores et fama obtinuit.

XLVII. Hoc primum cum Hannibale proelium fuit; quo facile apparuit [et] equitatu meliorem Poenum esse, et ob id campos patentis, quales sunt inter Padum Alpesque, bello gerendo Romanis aptos non esse. Itaque proxima nocte, jussis militibus vasa silentio conligere, castra ab Ticino mota festinatumque ad Padum est, ut ratibus, quibus junxerat flumen, nondum resolutis sine tumultu atque insectatione hostis copias traiceret. Prius Placentiam pervenere quam satis sciret Hannibal ab Ticino profectos; tamen ad sexcentos moratorum in citeriore ripa Padi, segniter ratein solventes, cepit. Transire pontem non potuit, ut extrema resoluta erant, tota rate in secundam aquam labente. Coelius auctor est Magonem cum equitatu et Hispanis peditibus flumen extemplo transnasse, ipsum Hannibalem per superiora Padi vada exercitum traduxisse, elephantis in ordinem ad sustinendum impetum fluminis oppositis. Ea peritis amnis ejus vix fidem fecerint; nam neque equites armis equisque salvis tantam vim fluminis superasse veri simile est, ut jam Hispanos omnis inflati travexerint utres, et multorum dierum circuitu Padi vada petenda fuerunt, qua exercitus gravis in pedimentis traduci posset. Potiores aput me auctores sunt, qui biduo vix locum rate jungendo flumini inventum tradunt; ea cum Magone equites Hispanorum expeditos praemissos. Dum Hannibal, circa flumen legationibus Gallorum audiendis moratus, traicit gravius peditum agmen, interim Mago equitesque ab transitu fluminis diei unius itinere Placentiam ad hostes contendunt. Hannibal paucis post diebus sex milia a Placentia castra communivit, et postero die in conspectu hostium acie directa potestatem pugnae fecit.

XLVIII. Insequenti nocte caedes in castris Romanis, tumultu tamen quam re major, ab auxiliariis Gallis facta est. Ad duo milia peditum et ducenti equites, vigilibus ad portas trucidatis, ad Hannibalem transfugiunt; quos Poenus benigne adlocutus, et spe ingentium donorum accensos in civitates quemque suas ad sollicitandos popularium animos 5 dimisit. Scipio caedem eam signum defectionis omnium Gallorum esse ratus, contactosque eo scelere velut injecta rabie ad arma ituros, quamquam gravis adhuc vulnere erat, tamen quarta vigilia noctis insequentis tacito agmine profectus, ad Trebiam fluvium acc. 10 jam in loca altiora collisque impeditiores equiti castra movet. Minus quam ad Ticinum fefellit; missisque Hannibal primum Numidis, deinde omni equitatu, turbasset utique novissimum agmen, ni aviditate praedae in vacua Romana castra Numidae dever-15 tissent. Ibi dum perscrutantes loca omnia castrorum nullo satis digno morae pretio tempus terunt, emissus hostis est de manibus; et cum jam transgressos Trebiam Romanos metantisque castra conspexissent, paucos moratorum occiderunt citra flumen interceptos. Scipio nec vexationem vulneris in via jac-

 20 tati ultra patiens et collegam (jam enim et revocatum ex Sicilia audierat) ratus expectandum, locum, qui prope flumen tutissimus stativis ~~est~~ visus, delectum communiit. Nec procul inde Hannibal cum condisset, quantum victoria equestri elatus, tantum
 25 anxius inopia, quae per hostium agros euntem, nusquam praeparatis com meatibus, major in dies excipiebat, ad Clastidium vicum, quo magnum frumenti numerum congesserant Romani, mittit. Ibi cum vim
 30 pararent, spes facta proditionis; nec sane magno pretio, nummis aureis quadringentis, Dasio Brundisino praefecto praesidi corrupto, traditur Hannibali Clastidium. Id horreum fuit Poenis sedentibus ad Trebiam. In captivos ex tradito praesidio, ut 35 fama clementiae in principio rerum colligeretur, nihil saevitum est.

XLIX. Cum ad Trebiam terrestre constitisset bellum, interim circa Siciliam insulasque Italiae imminentes et a Sempronio consule et ante adventum ejus terra marique res gestae. Viginti quinqueremes cum mille armatis ad depopulandam oram Italiae a Carthaginiensibus missae; novem Liparas, octo ad insulam Vulcani tenuerunt, tres in fretum avertit aestus. Ad eas conspectas a Messana duodecim 5 naves ab Hierone rege Syracusanorum missae, qui tum forte Messanae erat consulem Romanum opperiens, nullo repugnante captas naves Messanam in portum deduxerunt. Cognitum ex captivis, praeter viginti naves, cujus ipsi classis essent, in Italiam 10 missas, quinque et triginta alias quinqueremes Siciliam petere ad sollicitandos veteres socios; Lilybaei occupandi praecipuam curam esse; credere, eadem tempestate, qua ipsi disjecti forent, eam quoque classem ad Aegatis insulas dejectam. Haec, sicut audita 15 erant, rex M. Aemilio praetori, cujus Sicilia provincia erat, perscribit, monetque, ut Lilybaeum firmo teneret praesidio. Extemplo et a praetore circa civitates missi legati tribunique, qui suos ad curam custodiae intenderent, et ante omnia Lilybaeum 20 teneri apparatu belli, edicto proposito, ut socii navales decem dierum cocta cibaria ad naves deferrent, ut, ubi signum datum esset, ne quid moram conscendendi faceret, perque omnem oram, qui ex speculis prospicerent adventantem hostium classem, 25 missis. Itaque, quamquam de industria morati cursum navium erant Carthaginienses, ut ante lucem accederent Lilybaeum, praesensum tamen est, quia et luna pernox erat et sublatis armamentis veniebant. Extemplo datum e speculis signum et in op- 30 pido ad arma conclamatum est et in naves conscensum; pars militum in muris portarumque in stationibus, pars in navibus erant. Et Carthaginienses, quia rem fore haut cum inparatis cernebant, usque ad lucem portu se abstinerunt, demendis armamentis 35 eo tempore aptandaque ad pugnam classe absumpto. Ubi inluxit, recepere classem in altum, ut spatium pugnae esset exitumque liberum e portu naves hostium haberent. Nec Romani detrectavere pugnam, et memoria circa ea ipsa loca gestarum rerum freti et militum multitudine ac virtute.

L. Ubi in altum evecti sunt, Romanus conserere pugnam et ex propinquo vires conferre velle; contra eludere Poenus, et arte, non vi, rem gerere, naviumque quam virorum aut armorum malle certamen facere. Nam ut sociis navalibus adfatim instructam classem, ita inopem milite habebant, et, sicubi conserta navis esset, hautquaquam par numerus armorum ex ea pugnabat. Quod ubi animadversum est, et Romanis multitudo sua auxit animum et paucitas illis minuit. Extemplo septem naves Punicae circumventae, fugam ceterae ceperunt. Mille et septingenti fuere in navibus captis milites nautaeque, in his tres nobiles Carthaginensium. Classis Romana incolumis, una tantum perforata navi, sed ea quoque ipsa reduce, in portum rediit.

Secundum hanc pugnam, nondum gnaris ejus qui Messanae erant, Ti. Sempronius consul Messanam venit. Ei fretum intranti rex Hiero classem armatam ornatamque obviam duxit, transgressusque ex regia in praetoriam navem, gratulatus sospitem cum exercitu et navibus advenisse precatusque prosperum ac felicem in Siciliam transitum, statum deinde insulae et Carthaginensium conata exposuit, pollicitusque est, quo animo priore bello populum Romanum juvenis adjuvisset, eo senem adjuturum; frumentum vestimentaue sese legionibus consulis sociisque navalibus gratis praebiturum; grande periculum Lilybaeo maritumisque civitatibus esse, et quibusdam volentibus novas res fore. Ob haec consuli nihil cunctandum visum quin Lilybaeum classe peteret. Et rex regiaeque classis una profecti. Navigantes inde, pugnatum ad Lilybaeum fusasque et captas hostium naves, accepere.

LI. A Lilybaeo consul, Hierone cum classe regia dimisso relictoque praetore ad tuendam Siciliae oram, ipse in insulam Melitam, quae a Carthaginensibus tenebatur, trajecit. Advenienti Hamilcar Gisgonis filius, praefectus praesidii, cum paulo minus duobus milibus militum oppidumque cum insula traditur. Inde post paucos dies reditum Lilybaeum, captivique et a consule et a praetore, praeter insignes nobilitate viros, sub corona venierunt. Postquam ab ea parte 5 satis tutam Siciliam censebat consul, ad insulas Vulcani, quia fama erat stare ibi Punicam classem, trajecit; nec quisquam hostium circa eas insulas inventus; nam forte transmiserant ad vastandam Italiae oram, depopulatoque Viboniensi agro, urbem etiam 10 terrebant. Repetenti Siciliam consuli exscensio hostium in agrum Viboniensem facta nuntiatur, litteraeque ab senatu de transitu in Italiam Hannibalis, et ut primo quoque tempore conlegae ferret auxilium, missae traduntur. Multis simul anxius curis exer- 15 citum extemplo in naves inpositum Ariminum mari supero misit, Sexto Pomponio legato cum viginti quinque longis navibus Viboniensem agrum maritimamque oram Italiae tuendam adtribuit, M. Aemilio praetori quinquaginta navium classem explevit. 20 Ipse, compositis Siciliae rebus, decem navibus oram Italiae legens Ariminum pervenit. Inde cum exercitu suo profectus ad Trebiam flumen conlegae conjungitur.

Idem LII. Jam ambo consules et quidquid Romana- 25 rum virium erat, Hannibali oppositum, aut illis copiis defendi posse Romanum imperium aut spem nullam aliam esse satis declarabat. Tamen consul alter, equestri proelio uno et vulnere suo admonitus, trahi rem malebat; recentis animi alter eoque 30 ferocior nullam dilationem patiebatur. Quod inter Trebiam Padumque agri est Galli tum incolebant, in duorum praepotentium populorum certamine per ambiguum favorem haut dubie gratiam victoris spectantes. Id Romani, modo ne quid moverent, aequo 35 satis, Poenus periniquo animo ferebat, ab Gallis accitum se venisse ad liberandos eos dictitans. Ob eam iram, simul ut praeda militem aleret, duo milia peditum et mille equites, Numidas plerosque, mixtos quosdam et Gallos, populari omnem deinceps agrum usque ad Padi ripas jussit. Egentes ope Galli, cum ad id dubios servassent animos, coacti ab auctoribus injuriae ad vindices futuros declinant, legatisque ad

 5 consules missis, auxilium Romanorum terrae ob nimiam cultorum fidem in Romanos laboranti orant. Cornelio nec causa nec tempus agenda rei placebat, suspectaque ei gens erat cum ob infida multa facinora, tum, ut illa vetustate obsolevissent, ob recentem
 10 Boiorum perfidiam; Sempronius contra, continendis in fide sociis maximum vinculum esse primos qui eguissent ope defensos censebat. Conlega cunctante, equitatum suum, mille peditum jaculatoribus ferme admixtis, ad defendendum Gallicum agrum trans
 15 Trebiam mittit. Sparsos et inconpositos, ad hoc gravis praeda plerosque cum inopinato invasissent, ingentem terrorem caedemque ac fugam usque ad castra stationesque hostium fecere; unde multitudine effusa pulsi rursus subsidio suorum proelium resti-
 20 tuere. Varia inde pugna sequentes cedentesque cum ad extremum aequassent certamen, major tamen hostium caedes, penes Romanos fama victoriae fuit.

LIII. Ceterum nemini omnium major justiorque
 25 quam ipsi consuli videri; gaudio efferri, qua parte copiarum alter consul victus foret, ea se vicisse: 'restitutos ac refectos militibus animos, nec quemquam esse praeter conlegam, qui dilatam dimicationem vellet; eum, animo magis quam corpore
 30 aegrum, memoria vulneris aciem ac tela horrere. Sed non esse cum aegro senescendum. Quid enim ultra differri aut teri tempus? quem tertium consulem, quem alium exercitum expectari? Castra Carthaginiensium in Italia ac prope in conspectu 35 urbis esse. Non Siciliam ac Sardiniam, victis ademptas, nec cis Hiberum Hispaniam peti, set solo patrio terraque in qua geniti forent, pelli Romanos. "Quantum ingemiscant" inquit "patres nostri, circa moenia Carthaginis bellare soliti, si videant nos, pro-geniem suam, duos consules consularesque exercitus, in media Italia paventis intra castra, Poenum, quod inter Alpis Apenninumque agri sit, suae dicionis fecisse?" Haec adsidens aegro conlegae, haec in praetorio prope contionabundus agere. Stimulabat 5 et tempus propincum comitiorum, ne in novos consules bellum differretur, et occasio in se unum vertendae gloriae, dum aeger conlega erat. Itaque, nequiquam dissentiente Cornelio, parari ad propincum certamen milites jubet. 10

Hannibal cum, quid optimum foret hosti, cerneret, vix ullam spem habebat temere atque inprovidè quicquam consules acturos; cum alterius ingenium, fama prius, deinde re cognitum, percitum ac ferox sciret esse, ferociusque factum prospero cum praeda- 15 toribus suis certamine crederet, adesse gerendae rei fortunam haud diffidebat. Cujus ne quod praetermitteret tempus sollicitus intentusque erat, dum tiro hostium miles esset, dum meliorem ex ducibus inutilem vulnus faceret, dum Gallorum animi vige- 20 rent, quorum ingentem multitudinem sciebat segnius secuturam, quanto longius ab domo traherentur. Cum ob haec taliaque speraret propincum certamen et facere, si cessaretur, cuperet, speculatoresque Galli, ad ea exploranda quae vellet tutiores quia in 25 utrisque castris militabant, paratos pugnae esse Romanos rettulissent, locum insidiis circumspectare Poenus coepit.

LIV. Erat in medio rivus praealtis utrimque clausus ripis, et circa obsitus palustribus herbis, et, 30 quibus inculta ferme vestiuntur, virgultis vepribusque. Quem ubi equites quoque tegendo satis latebrosus locum circumvectus ipse oculis perlustravit, "hic erit locus," Magoni fratri ait, "quem teneas. Delige centenos viros ex omni pedite atque equite, 35 cum quibus ad me vigilia prima venias; nunc corpora curare tempus est." Ita praetorium missum. Mox cum delectis Mago aderat. "Robora virorum cerno," inquit Hannibal; "sed uti numero etiam,

non animis modo valeatis, singulis vobis novenos ex
turmis manipulisque vestri similes eligite. Mago locum monstrabit quem insideatis; hostem caecum ad has belli artes habetis." Ita mille equitibus' Ma-5 goni, mille peditibus dimissis, Hannibal prima luce Numidas equites transgressos Trebiam flumen obequitare jubet hostium portis, jaculandoque in stationes elicere ad pugnam hostem, injecto deinde certamine, cedendo sensim citra flumen pertrahere. Haec man-10 data Numidis; ceteris ducibus peditum equitumque praeceptum, ut prandere omnes juberent, armatos deinde instratisque equis signum expectare.

Sempronius ad tumultum Numidarum primum
omnem equitatum, ferox ea parte virium, deinde sex 15 milia peditum, postremo omnes copias, a destinato jam ante consilio avidus certaminis, eduxit. Erat forte brumae tempus et nivalis dies in locis Alpibus Apenninoque interjectis, propinquitatem etiam flumi-num ac paludium praelidis. Ad hoc raptim educ-20 tis hominibus atque equis, non capto ante cibo, non ope ulla ad arcendum frigus adhibita, nihil calor inerat, et quidquid aurae fluminis adpropinquabant, adflabat acrior frigoris vis. Ut vero refugientes Nu-midas insequentes aquam ingressi sunt (et erat pec-25 toribus tenuis aucta nocturno imbri), tum utique egressis rigere omnibus corpora, ut vix armorum tenendorum potentia essent, et simul lassitudine et, precedente jam die, fame etiam deficere.

LV. Hannibalis interim miles, ignibus ante ten-30 toria factis, oleoque per manipulos, ut mollirent artus, misso, et cibo per otium capto, ubi transgres-sos flumen hostis nuntiatum est, alacer animis cor-poribusque arma capit atque in aciem procedit.
Baliares locat ante signa, levem armaturam, octo 35 ferme milia hominum, dein graviores armis peditem, quod virium, quod roboris erat; in cornibus circumfudit decem milia equitum, et ab cornibus in utram-que partem divisos elephantos statuit. Consul effuse sequentis equites, cum ab resistentibus subito Nu-

midis incauti exciperentur, signo receptui dato revocatos circumdedit peditibus. Duodeviginti milia Romana erant, socium nominis Latini viginti, auxilia praeterea Cenomanorum; ea sola in fide manserat Gallica gens. Iis copiis concursus est. Proelium a Baliaribus ortum est; quibus cum majore robore legiones obsisterent, diducta propere in cornua levis armatura est, quae res effecit ut equitatus Romanus extemplo urgeretur. Nam cum vix jam per se resisterent decem milibus equitum quattuor milia, et fessi integris plerisque, obruti sunt insuper velut nube jaculorum a Baliaribus coniecta. Ad hoc elephantum eminentes ab extremis cornibus, equis maxime non visu modo, sed odore insolito territis, fugam late faciebant. Pedestris pugna par animis magis quam viribus erat, quas recentis Poenus, paulo ante curatis corporibus, in proelium attulerat; contra jejuna fessaque corpora Romanis et rigentia gelu torpebant. Restitissent tamen animis, si cum peditum solum foret pugnatum; sed et Baliares, pulso equite, jaculabantur in latera, et elephantum jam in mediam peditum aciem sese tulerant, et Mago Numidaeque, simul latebras eorum inprovida praeterlata acies est, exorti ab tergo ingentem tumultum ac terrorem fecere. Tamen in tot circumstantibus malis mansit aliquamdiu inmotae acies, maxime praeter spem omnium adversus elephantos. Eos velites ad id ipsum locati verutis coniectis et avertere et insecuti aversos sub caudis, quae maxime molli cute vulnera accipiunt, fodiebant.

LVI. Trepidantisque et prope jam in suos consternatos e media acie in extremam ad sinistrum cornu adversus Gallos auxiliares agi jussit Hannibal. Ibi extemplo haut dubiam fecere fugam, novusque terror additus Romanis ut fusa auxilia suorum viderunt. Itaque cum jam in orbem pugnarent, decem milia ferme hominum, cum alibi evadere nequissent, media Afrorum acie, qua Gallicis auxiliis firmata erat, cum ingenti caede hostium perrupere, et, cum

- neque in castra reditus esset flumine interclusis, neque prae imbri satis decernere possent, qua suis opem ferrent, Placentiam recto itinere perrexere. Plures deinde in omnes partes eruptiones factae; et
- 5 qui flumen petiere aut gurgitibus absumpti sunt aut inter cunctationem ingrediendi ab hostibus oppressi; qui passim per agros fuga sparsi erant, vestigia cedentis sequentes agminis Placentiam contendere; aliis timor hostium audaciam ingrediendi flumen
- 10 fecit, transgressique in castra pervenerunt. Imber nive mixtus et intoleranda vis frigoris et homines multos et iumenta et elephantos prope omnis absumpsit. Finis insequendi hostis Poenis flumen Trebia fuit, et ita torpentes gelu in castra rediere,
- 15 ut vix laetitiam victoriae sentirent. Itaque nocte insequenti, cum praesidium castrorum et quod relicum sauciorum ex magna parte militum erat ratibus Trebiam traicerent, aut nihil sentire obstreperante pluvia, aut, quia jam moveri nequibant
- 20 prae lassitudine ac vulneribus, sentire sese dissimularunt, quietisque Poenis tacito agmine ab Scipione consule exercitus Placentiam est perductus, inde Pado trajectus Cremonam, ne duorum exercituum hibernis una colonia premeretur.
- 25 LVII. Romam tantus terror ex hac clade perlatus est, ut jam ad urbem Romanam crederent infestis signis hostem venturum, nec quicquam spei aut auxilii esse, quo a portis moenibusque vim arcerent: uno consule ad Ticinum victo, alterum ex Sicilia
- 30 revocatum; duobus consulibus, duobus consularibus exercitibus victis, quos alios duces, quas alias legiones esse, quae arcessantur?
- Ita territis Sempronius consul advenit, ingenti periculo per effusos passim ad praedandum hostium
- 35 equites audacia magis quam consilio aut spe fallendi resistendive, si non falleret, transgressus. Id quod unum maxime in praesentia desiderabatur, comitiis consularibus habitis, in hiberna rediit. Creati consules Cn. Servilius et C. Flaminius.

Ceterum ne hiberna quidem Romanis quieta erant, vagantibus passim Numidis equitibus et, ut quaeque iis impeditiora erant, Celtiberis Lusitanisque. Omnes igitur undique clausi commeatus erant, nisi quos Pado naves subveherent. Emporium prope Placentiam fuit et opere magno munitum et valido firmatum praesidio. Ejus castelli expugnandi spe cum equitibus ac levi armatura profectus Hannibal, cum plurimum in celando incepto ad effectum spei habuisset, nocte adortus non fefellit vigiles. Tantus repente clamor est sublatus, ut Placentiae quoque audiretur. Itaque sub lucem cum equitatu consul aderat, jussis quadrato agmine legionibus sequi. Equestre interim proelium commissum; in quo, quia saucius Hannibal pugna excessit, pavore hostibus injecto, defensum egregie praesidium est. Paucorum indierum quiete sumpta, et, vixdum satis percurato vulnere, ad Victumvias oppugnandas ire pergit. Id emporium Romanis Gallico bello fuerat; munitum inde locum frequentaverant adcolae mixti undique ex finitimis populis, et tum terror populationum eo plerosque ex agris compulerat. Hujus generis multitudo, fama inipigre defensi ad Placentiam praesidi accensa, armis arreptis obviam Hannibali procedit. Magis agmina quam acies in via concurrerunt, et, cum ex altera parte nihil praeter inconditam turbam esset, in altera et dux militi et duci miles fidens, ad triginta quinque milia hominum a paucis fusa. Postero die deditione facta praesidium intra moenia accipere; jussique arma tradere cum dicto paruissent, signum repente victoribus datur, ut tamquam vi captam urbem diriperent, neque ulla, quae in tali re memorabilis scribingentibus videri solet, praetermissa clades est: adeo omnis libidinis crudelitatisque et inhumanae superbiae editum in miseros exemplum est. Hae fuere hibernae expeditiones Hannibalis.

LVIII. Haud longi inde temporis, dum intolerabilia frigora erant, quies militi data est; et ad prima ac dubia signa veris profectus ex hibernis in Etruriam ducit, eam quoque gentem, sicut Gallos Liguresque, aut vi aut voluntate adjuncturus. Transeuntem Apenninum adeo atrox adorta tempestas est, ut Alpium prope foeditatem superaverit. Vento mixtus

5 imber cum ferretur in ipsa ora, primo, quia aut arma omittenda erant aut contra enitentes vertice intorti adfligebantur, constitere; dein, cum jam spiritum includeret nec reciprocare animam sineret, aversi a vento parumper consedere. Tum vero ingenti sono
10 caelum strepere, et inter horrendos fragores micare ignes; capti auribus et oculis metu omnes torpere; tandem effuso imbre, cum eo magis accensa vis venti esset, ipso illo quo deprensi erant loco castra ponere necessarium visum est. Id vero laboris velut de integro initium fuit; nam nec explicare quicquam nec statuere poterant, nec quod statutum esset manebat, omnia perscindente vento et rapiente. Et mox aqua levata vento, cum super gelida montium juga concreta esset, tantum nivosae grandinis dejecit, ut omnibus omissis procumberent homines, tegminibus suis 20 magis obruti quam tecti; tantaque vis frigoris insecuta est, ut ex illa miserabili hominum jumentorumque strage cum se quisque extollere ac levare vellet, diu nequiret, quia, torpentibus rigore nervis, 25 vix flectere artus poterant. Deinde, ut tandem agitando sese movere ac recipere animos et raris locis ignis fieri est coeptus, ad alienam opem quisque inops tendere. Biduum eo loco velut obsessi mansere; multi homines, multa jumenta, elephanti quoque ex
30 iis, qui proelio ad Trebiam facto superfuerant, septem absumpti.

LIX. Degressus Apennino retro ad Placentiam castra movit, et ad decem milia progressus consedit. Postero die duodecim milia peditum, quinque equitum adversus hostem ducit, nec Sempronius consul (jam enim redierat ab Roma) detrectavit certamen. Atque eo die tria milia passum inter bina castra fuere; postero die ingentibus animis, vario eventu, pugnatum est. Primo concursu adeo res Romana superior fuit, ut non acie vincerent solum, sed pulsos hostes in castra persequerentur, mox castra quoque oppugnarent. Hannibal, paucis propugnatoribus in vallo portisque positus, ceteros confertos in media castra recepit, intentosque signum ad erumpendum 5 expectare jubet. Jam nona ferme diei hora erat, cum Romanus, nequiquam fatigato milite, postquam nulla spes erat potiundi castris, signum receptui dedit. Quod ubi Hannibal accepit, laxatamque pugnam et recessum a castris vidit, extemplo equitibus dextra laevaque emissis in hostem, ipse cum peditum robore mediis castris erupit. Pugna raro magis ulla saeva aut utriusque partis perniciē clarior fuisset, si extendi eam dies in longum spatium sivisset; nox accensum ingentibus animis proelium diremit. Itaque acrior concursus fuit quam caedes, et, sicut aequata ferme pugna erat, ita clade pari discessum est. Ab neutra parte sescentis plus peditibus et dimidium ejus equitum tecidit; sed major Romanis quam pro numero jactura fuit, quia equestris ordinis 20 aliquot et tribuni militum quinque et praefecti sociorum tres sunt interfecti.

Secundum eam pugnam Hannibal in Ligures, Sempronius Lucam concessit. Venienti in Ligures Hannibali per insidias intercepti duo quaestores Romani, 25 C. Fulvius et L. Lucretius, cum duobus tribunis militum et quinque equestris ordinis, senatorum ferme liberis, quo magis ratam fore cum is pacem societatemque crederet, traduntur.

LX. Dum haec in Italia geruntur, Cn. Cornelius 30 Scipio in Hispaniam cum classe et exercitu missus, cum ab ostio Rhodani profectus Pyrenaeosque montes circumvectus Emporis adpulisset classem, exposito ibi exercitu, orsus a Lacetanis omnem oram usque ad Hiberum flumen, partim renovandis societatibus, 35 partim novis instituendis, Romanae ditionis fecit. Inde conciliata clementiae fama, non ad maritimos modo populos, sed in mediterraneis quoque ac montanis ad ferociore jam gentes valuit; nec pax modo aput eos, sed societas etiam armorum parta est, validaeque aliquot auxiliorum cohortes ex iis conscriptae sunt. Hannonis cis Hiberum provincia erat; eum reliquerat Hannibal ad regionis ejus praesidium.

- 5 Itaque, priusquam alienarentur omnia, obviam eundum ratus, castris in conspectu hostium positis, in aciem eduxit. Nec Romano differendum certamen visum, quippe qui sciret cum Hannone et Hasdrubale sibi dimicandum esse, malletque adversus singulos separatim quam adversus duos simul rem gerere. Nec magni certaminis ea dimicatio fuit; ~~Sex~~ 10 milia hostium caesa, duo capta cum praesidio castrorum; nam et castra expugnata sunt, atque ipse dux cum aliquot principibus capiuntur, et Cissis, 15 propincuum castris oppidum, expugnatur. Ceterum praeda oppidi parvi preti rerum fuit, supellex barbarica ac vilium mancipiorum; castra militem ditavere, non ejus modo exercitus qui victus erat, sed et ejus qui cum Hannibale in Italia militabat, omnibus 20 fere caris rebus, ne gravia impedimenta ferentibus essent, citra Pyrenaeum relictis.

- LXI. Priusquam certa hujus cladis fama accideret, transgressus Hiberum Hasdrubal cum octo milibus peditum, mille equitum, tamquam ad primum adventum Romanorum occursurus, postquam 25 perditas res ad Cissim amissaque castra accepit, iter ad mare convertit. Haud procul Tarracone classicos milites navalesque socios vagos palantisque per agros, quod ferme fit, ut secundae res negligentiam creent, 30 equite passim dimisso, cum magna caede, majore fuga, ad naves compellit; nec diutius circa ea loca morari ausus, ne ab Scipione opprimeretur, trans Hiberum sese recepit. Et Scipio raptim ad famam novorum hostium agmine acto, cum in paucos praefectos navium animadvertisset, praesidio Tarracone modico relicto, Emporias cum classe rediit. Vixdum digresso eo, Hasdrubal aderat, et Ilergetum populo, qui obsides Scipioni dederat, ad defectionem impulso, cum eorum ipsorum juventute agros fidelium Romanis sociorum vastat. Excito deinde Scipione hibernis, toto cis Hiberum rursus cedit agro. Scipio relictam ab auctore defectionis Ilergetum gentem cum infesto exercitu invasisset, compulsis omnibus Atanagrum urbem, quae caput ejus populi erat, circum- 5

cumsedit, intraque dies paucos, pluribus quam ante obsidibus imperatis, Ilergetes pecunia etiam multatos in jus dicionemque recepit. Inde in Ausetanos prope Hiberum, socios et ipsos Poenorum, procedit, atque urbe eorum obsessa, Lacetanos auxilium finitimis 10 ferentes nocte, haud procul jam urbe, cum intrare vellent, excepit insidiis. Caesa ad duodecim milia; exuti prope omnes armis domos passim palantes per agros diffugere, nec obsessos alia ulla res quam iniqua oppugnantibus hiems tutabatur. Triginta dies ob- 15 sidio fuit, per quos raro umquam nix minus quattuor pedes alta jacuit, adeoque pluteos ac vineas Romanorum operuerat, ut ea sola, ignibus aliquotiens connectis ab hoste, etiam tutamentum fuerit. Postremo, cum Amusicus princeps eorum ad Hasdrubalem pro- 20 fugisset, viginti argenti talentis pacti deduntur. Tarraconem in hiberna reditum est.

LXII. Romae aut circa urbem multa ea hieme prodigia facta, aut, quod evenire solet motis semel in religionem animis, multa nuntiata et temere credita 25
sunt, in quibus, ingenuum infantem semestrem in foro holitorio 'triumphum' clamasse, — et in foro boario bovem in tertiam contignationem sua sponte escendisse, atque inde, tumultu habitatorum territum, sese dejecisse, — et navium speciem de caelo adfulsisse, — 30 et aedem Spei, quae est in foro holitorio, fulmine ictam, — et Lanuvi hastam se commovisse, et corvum in aedem Junonis devolasse atque in ipso pulvinari consedis-se, — et in agro Amiternino multis locis hominum specie procul candida veste visos, nec cum 35 ullo congressos, — et in Piceno lapidibus pluvisse, — et Caere sortes extenuatas, — et in Gallia lupum vigili gladium ex vagina raptum abstulisse. Ob cetera prodigia libros adire decemviri jussi; quod autem lapidibus pluvisset in Piceno, novemdiale sacrum edictum, et subinde aliis procurandis prope tota civitas operata fuit. Jam primum omnium urbs lustrata est, hostiaeque majores quibus editum est

5 diis caesae, et donum ex auri pondo quadraginta Lanuvium Junoni portatum est, et signum aeneum matronae Junoni in Aventino dedicaverunt, et lectisternium Caere, ubi sortes adtenuatae erant, imperatum, et supplicatio Fortunae in Algido; Romae quoque et lectisternium et supplicatio juventuti ad
10 aedem Herculis nominatim, deinde universo populo circa omnia pulvinaria indicta, et Genio majores hostiae caesae quinque, et C. Atilius Serranus praetor vota suscipere jussus, si in decem annos res publica 15 eodem stetisset statu. Haec procurata votaque ex libris Sibyllinis magna ex parte levaverant religione animos.

LXIII. Consulum designatorum alter Flaminius, cui eae legiones quae Placentiae hibernabant sorte 20 evenerant, edictum et litteras ad consulem misit, ut is exercitus idibus Martis Arimini adesset in castris. Hic in provincia consulatum inire consilium erat memori veterum certaminum cum patribus, quae tribunus plebis et quae postea consul prius de consulatu, 25 qui abrogabatur, dein de triumpho habuerat, invisus etiam patribus ob novam legem, quam Q. Claudius tribunus plebis, adverso senatu atque uno patrum adjuvante C. Flaminio, tulerat, ne quis senator, cuive senator pater fuisset, maritimam navem, quae plus
30 quam trecentarum amphorarum esset, haberet. Id satis habitum ad fructus ex agris vectandos; quaestus omnis patribus indecorus visus. Res per summam contentionem acta invidiam aput nobilitatem suasori legis Flaminio, favorem aput plebem alterumque inde
35 consulatum peperit. Ob haec ratus auspiciis ementiendis Latinarumque feriarum mora et consularibus aliis inpedimentis retenturos se in urbe, simulato itinere, privatus clam in provinciam abiit. Ea res ubi palam facta est, novam insuper iram infestis jam ante patribus movit: 'non cum senatu modo, sed jam cum diis immortalibus C. Flaminium bellum gerere. Consulem ante inauspicato factum revocantibus ex ipsa acie diis atque hominibus non paruisse; nunc conscientia spreto et Capitolium et sollemnem 5 votorum nuncupationem fugisse, ne die initi magistratus Jovis optimi maximi templum adiret, ne senatum invisus ipse et sibi uni invisum videret consulereretque, ne Latinas indiceret Jovique Latiari sollemne sacrum in monte faceret, ne auspicato profectus in 10 Capitolium ad vota nuncupanda, paludatus inde cum lictoribus in provinciam iret. Lixae modo sine insignibus, sine lictoribus profectum clam, furtim, haud aliter quam si exilii causa solum vertisset. Magis pro maiestate videlicet imperii Arimini quam Romae 15 magistratum initurum, et in deversorio hospitali quam apud penates suos praetextam sumpturum.' Revocandum universi retrahendumque censuerunt, et cogendum omnibus prius praesentem in deos hominesque fungi officiis quam ad exercitum et in 20 provinciam iret. In eam legationem (legatos enim mitti placuit) Q. Terentius et M. Antistius profecti nihilo magis eum moverunt, quam priore consulatu litterae moverant ab senatu missae. Paucos post dies magistratum iniit, inmolantique ei vitulus jam 25 ictus e manibus sacrificantium sese cum proripisset, multos circumstantes cruore respersit; fuga procul etiam major apud ignaros quid trepidaretur, et concursatio fuit. Id a plerisque in omen magni terroris acceptum. Legionibus inde duabus a Sem- 30 pronio prioris anni consule, duabus a C. Atilio praetore acceptis, in Etruriam per Apennini tramites exercitus duci est coeptus.

[HANNIBAL per continuas vigilias in paludibus oculo amisso in Etruriam venit, per quas paludes quadriduo et tribus noctibus sine ulla requie iter fecit. C. I. JAM ver adpetebat, atque Hannibal ex hibernis movit, et nequiquam ante conatus transcendere Apenninum intolerandis frigoribus, et cum ingenti periculo moratus ac metu. Galli, quos praedae populationumque conciverat spes, postquam pro eo, 5 ut ipsi ex alieno agro raperent agerentque, suas terras sedem belli esse premique utriusque partis exercituum hibernis viderunt, verterunt retro in Hannibalem ab Romanis odia; petitusque saepe principum insidiis, ipsorum inter se fraude, eadem levitate, qua consen- 10 serant, consensum indicantium, servatus erat, et mutando nunc vestem, nunc tegumenta capitis, errore etiam sese ab insidiis munierat. Ceterum hic quoque ei timor causa fuit maturius movendi ex hibernis.

Per idem tempus Cn. Servilius consul Romae idi- 15 bus Martis magistratum iniit. Ibi cum de re publica rettulisset, redintegrata in C. Flaminium invidia est: 'duos se consules creasse, unum habere; quod enim illi justum imperium, quod auspiciū esse? Magis- 20 tratus id a domo, publicis privatisque penetibus, Latinis feriis actis, sacrificio in monte perfecto, votis rite in Capitolio nuncupatis, secum ferre; nec privatū auspicia sequi, nec sine auspiciis profectum in externo ea solo nova atque integra concipere posse.'

Augebant metum prodigia ex pluribus simul locis 25

- nuntiata: in Sicilia militibus aliquot spicula, in Sardinia autem in muro circumeunti vigilias equiti scipionem, quem manu tenuerat, arsisse, et litora crebris ignibus fulsisse, et scuta duo sanguine sudasse, et
- 5 milites quosdam ictos fulminibus, et solis orbem minui visum, et Praeneste ardentem lapides caelo cecidisse, et Arpis parmas in caelo visas pugnantesque cum luna solem, et Capenae duas interdum lunas ortas, et aquas Caeretes sanguine mixtas fluxisse,
- 10 fontemque ipsum Herculis cruentis manasse sparsum maculis, et in Antiati metentibus cruentas in corbem spicas cecidisse, et Faleriis caelum findi velut magno hiatu visum, quaque patuerit ingens lumen effulsisse, sortes sua sponte adtenuatas, unamque excidisse ita
- 15 scriptam "MAVORS TELVM SVVM CONCVTIT," et per idem tempus Romae signum Martis Appia via ac simulacra luporum sudasse, et Capuae speciem caeli ardentis fuisse lunaeque inter imbrem cadentis. Inde minoribus etiam dictu prodigiis fides habita: capras
- 20 lanatas quibusdam factas, et gallinam in marem, gallum in feminam sese vertisse. His, sicut erant nuntiata, expositis, auctoribusque in curiam introductis, consul de religione patres consuluit. Decretum, ut ea prodigia partim maioribus hostiis, partim
- 25 lactentibus procurarentur, et uti supplicatio per tri-duum ad omnia pulvinaria haberetur; cetera, cum decemviri liberos inspexissent, ut ita fierent, quem ad modum cordi esse divis e carminibus profarentur. Decemvirorum monitu decretum est, Jovi primum
- 30 donum fulmen aureum pondo quinquaginta fieret, Junoni Minervaeque ex argento dona darentur, et Junoni reginae in Aventino Junonique Sospitae Lanuvii maioribus hostiis sacrificaretur, matronaeque pecunia conlata, quantum conferre cuique commo-
- 35 dum esset, donum Junoni reginae in Aventinum ferrent, lectisterniumque fieret, et ut libertinae et ipsae, unde Feroniae donum daretur, pecuniam pro facultatibus suis conferrent. Haec ubi facta, decemviri Ardeae in foro maioribus hostiis sacrificarunt. Pos-

tremo Decembri jam mense ad aedem Saturni Romae immolatum est, lectisterniumque imperatum ([et] eum lectum senatores straverunt) et convivium publicum, ac per urbem Saturnalia diem ac noctem clamata, populusque eum diem festum habere ac servare in perpetuum jussus. 5

II. Dum consul placandis Romae dīs habendoque dilectu dat operam, Hannibal, profectus ex hibernis, quia jam Flaminium consulem Arretium pervenisse fama erat, cum aliud longius, ceterum 10 commodius ostenderetur iter, propiorem viam per paludem petit, qua fluvius Arnus per eos dies solito magis inundaverat. Hispanos et Afros (id omne veterani erat robur exercitus), admixtis ipsorum inpedimentis, necubi consistere coactis necessaria ad 15 usus deessent, primos ire jussit; sequi Gallos, ut id agminis medium esset; novissimos ire equites; Magonem inde cum expeditis Numidis cogere agmen, maxime Gallos, si taedio laboris longaeque viae, ut est mollis ad talia gens, dilaberentur aut subsisterent, 20 cohibentem. Primi, qua modo praeirent duces, per praealtas fluvii ac profundas voragines, hausti paene limo inmergentesque se, tamen signa sequebantur. Galli neque sustinere se neque prolapsi adsurgere ex voraginibus poterant, nec aut corpora animis aut 25 animos spe sustinebant, alii fessa aegre trahentes membra, alii, ubi semel victis taedio animis procubuissent, inter jumenta et ipsa jacentia passim morientes; maximeque omnium vigiliae conficiebant per quadriduum jam et tres noctes toleratae. Cum, 30 omnia obtinentibus aquis, nihil ubi in sicco fessa sternerent corpora inveniri posset, cumulatis in aqua sarcinis insuper incumbabant, aut jumentorum itinere toto prostratorum passim acervi tantum quod exstaret aqua quaerentibus ad quietem parvi tem- 35 poris necessarium cubile dabant. Ipse Hannibal, aeger oculis ex verna primum intemperie variante calores frigoraque, elephanto, qui unus superfuerat, quo altius ab aqua exstaret, vectus, vigiliis tamen et nocturno umore palustrique caelo gravante caput, et quia medendi nec locus nec tempus erat, altero oculo capitur.

- III. Multis hominibus jumentisque foede amissis
 5 cum tandem de paludibus emersisset, ubi primum in sicco potuit, castra locat, certumque per praemissos exploratores habuit, exercitum Romanum circa Arreti moenia esse. Consulis deinde consilia atque animum; et situm regionum, itineraque, et copias ad
 10 commeatus expediendos, et cetera quae cognosse in rem erat, summa omnia cum cura inquirendo-exequabatur. Regio erat in primis Italiae fertilis, Etrusci campi, qui Faesulas inter Arretiumque jacent, frumenti ac pecoris et omnium copia rerum opulenti;
 15 consul ferox ab consulatu priore, et non modo legum aut patrum majestatis, sed ne deorum quidem satis metuens; hanc insitam ingenio ejus temeritatem fortuna prospero civilibus bellicisque rebus successu aluerat. Itaque satis apparebat nec deos nec ho-
 20 mines consulentem ferociter omnia ac praepropere acturum; quoque pronior esset in vitia sua, agitare eum atque irritare Poenus parat, et laeva relicto hoste Faesulas petens, medio Etruriae agro praedatum profectus, quantam maximam vastitatem potest 25 caedibus incendiisque consuli procul ostendit.

- Flaminius, qui ne quieto quidem hoste ipse quieturus erat, tum vero, postquam res sociorum ante oculos prope suos ferri agique vidit, suum id dedecus ratus, per mediam jam Italiam vagari Poenum, atque, 30 obsistente nullo, ad ipsa Romana moenia ire oppugnanda, ceteris omnibus in consilio salutaria magis quam speciosa suadentibus: 'collegam expectandum, ut, conjunctis exercitibus, communi animo consilioque rem gererent; interim equitatu auxiliisque levium
 35 armorum ab effusa praedandi licentia hostem cohibendum: ' iratus se ex consilio proripuit, signumque simul itineris pugnaeque cum proposuisset "immo Arreti ante moenia sedeamus," inquit, "hic enim patria et penates sunt. Hannibal emissus e manibus perpopuletur Italiam, vastandoque et urendo omnia ad Romana moenia perveniat; nec ante nos hinc moverimus quam, sicut olim Camillum ab Veis, C. Flaminium ab Arretio patres acciverint." Haec simul increpans, cum ocus signa convelli juberet et ipse in eum insiluisset, ecus repente conruit consulemque lapsum super caput effudit. Territis omnibus qui circa erant velut foedo omine incipiendae rei, insuper nuntiatur, signum, omni vi moliente signifero, convelli nequire. Conversus ad nuntium "num literas quoque" inquit "ab senatu adfers, quae me rem gerere vetent? Abi, nuntia, effodiant signum, si ad convellendum manus prae metu obtorpuerunt." Incedere inde agmen coepit, primoribus, super quam quod dissenserant ab consilio, territis etiam duplici prodigio, milite in vulgus laeto ferocia ducis, cum spem magis ipsam quam causam spei intueretur.

IV. Hannibal quod agri est inter Cortonam urbem Trasumennumque lacum omni clade belli pervastat, quo magis iram hosti ad vindicandas sociorum injurias acuat; et jam pervenerant ad loca nata insidiis, ubi maxime montes Cortonenses Trasumennus subit. Via tantum interest perangusta, velut ad id ipsum de industria relicto spatio; deinde paulo latior patescit campus; inde colles insurgunt. Ibi castra in aperto locat, ubi ipse cum Afris modo Hispanisque consideret; Baliares ceteramque levem armaturam post montis circumducit; equites ad ipsas fauces saltus, tumulis apte tegentibus, locat, ut, ubi intrassent Romani, objecto equitatu clausa omnia lacu ac montibus essent.

Flaminius cum pridie solis occasu ad lacum pervenisset, inexplorato postero die vixdum satis certa luce angustis superatis, postquam in patentiore campum pandi agmen coepit, id tantum hostium quod ex adverso erat conspexit; ab tergo ac super caput decipere insidiae. Poenus ubi, id quod petierat, clausum lacu ac montibus et circumfusum suis copiis habuit hostem, signum omnibus dat simul invadendi. Qui

- ubi qua cuique proximum fuit decucurrerunt, eo magis Romanis subita atque improvisa res fuit, quod orta ex lacu nebula campo quam montibus densior sederat, agminaque hostium ex pluribus collibus ipsa
5 inter se satis conspecta eoque magis pariter decucurrerant. Romanus, clamore prius undique orto quam satis cerneret, se circumventum esse sensit; et ante in frontem lateraque pugnari coeptum est, quam satis instrueretur acies aut expediri arma stringique gladii 10 possent.
- V. Consul, percussis omnibus, ipse satis, ut in re trepida, inpavidus, turbatos ordines, vertente se quoque ad dissonos clamores, instruit ut tempus locusque patitur; et, quacumque adire audirique potest, ad
15 hortatur ac stare ac pugnare jubet: 'nec enim inde votis aut inploratione deum, sed vi ac virtute evadendum esse; per medias acies ferro viam fieri, et, quo timoris minus sit, eo minus ferme periculi esse.' Ceterum prae strepitu ac tumultu nec consilium nec
20 imperium accipi poterat, tantumque aberat ut sua signa atque ordines et locum noscerent, ut vix ad arma capienda aptandaque pugnae conpeteret animus, opprimerenturque quidam onerati magis his quam tecti. Et erat in tanta caligine major usus
25 aurium quam oculorum. Ad gemitus vulnorum ictusque corporum aut armorum et mixtos strepentium paventiumque clamores circumferebant ora oculosque. Alii fugientes pugnantium globo inlati haerebant; alios redeuntes in pugnam avertebat
30 fugientium agmen. Deinde, ubi in omnis partis nequiquam impetus capti, et ab lateribus montes ac lacus, a fronte et ab tergo hostium acies claudebat, apparuitque nullam nisi in dextera ferroque salutis spem esse, tum sibi quisque dux adhortatorque factus
35 ad rem gerendam, et nova de integro exorta pugna est, non illa ordinata per principes hastatosque ac triarios, nec ut pro signis antesignani, post signa alia pugnaret acies, nec ut in sua legione miles aut cohorte aut manipulo esset; fors conglobabat, et animus suus

cuique ante aut post pugnandi ordinem dabat; tantusque fuit ardor [animorum], adeo intentus pugnae animus, ut eum motum terrae, qui multarum urbium Italiae magnas partes prostravit avertitque cursu rapidos amnis, mare fluminibus invexit, montes lapsu ingenti proruit, nemo pugnantium senserit. 5

VI. Tris ferme horas pugnatum est, et ubique atrociter; circa consulem tamen acrior infestiorque pugna est. Eum et robora virorum sequebantur, et ipse, quacumque in parte premi ac laborare senserat suos, inpigre ferebat opem; insignemque armis et hostes summa vi petebant et tuebantur cives, donec Insuber eques (Ducario nomen erat) facie quoque noscitans consulem, "en" inquit "hic est" popularibus suis, "qui legiones nostras cecidit agrosque et urbem est depopulatus! Jam ego hanc victimam manibus peremptorum foede civium dabo;" subditisque calcaribus equo, per confertissimam hostium turbam inpetum facit, obtruncatoque prius armigero, qui se infesto venienti obviam objecerat, consulem lancea transfixit; spoliare cupientem triarii objectis scutis arcuere. Magnae partis fuga inde primum coepit; et jam nec lacus nec montes pavori obstant; per omnia arta praeruptaque velut caeci evadunt, armaque et viri super alium alii praecipitantur. Pars magna, ubi locus fugae deest, per prima vada paludis in aquam progressi, quoad capitibus umerisque extare possunt, sese inmergunt; fuere quos inconsultus pavor nando etiam capessere fugam impulerit; quae ubi immensa ac sine spe erat, aut deficientibus animis hauriebantur gurgitibus, aut nequiquam fessi vada retro aegerrime repetebant, atque ibi ab ingressis aquam hostium equitibus passim trucidabantur. Sex milia ferme primi agminis, per adversos hostis eruptione inpigre facta, ignari omnium quae post se agerentur, ex saltu evasere, et cum in tumultu quodam constitissent, clamorem modo ac sonum armorum audientes, quae fortuna pugnae esset neque scire nec perspicere prae caligine pote-rant. Inclinata denique re, cum incalcescente sole dispulsa nebula aperuisset diem, tum liquida jam luce montes campique perditas res stratanque ostendere foede Romanam aciem. Itaque, ne in conspectos 5 procul inmitteretur eques, sublatis raptim signis, quam citatissimo poterant agmine, sese abripuerunt. Postero die, cum super cetera extrema fames etiam instaret, fidem dante Maharbale, qui cum omnibus equestribus copiis nocte consecutus erat, si arma tra-10 didissent abire cum singulis vestimentis passurum, sese dediderunt; quae Punica religione servata fides ab Hannibale est, atque in vincula omnes coniecti.

VII. Haec est nobilis ad Trasumennum pugna atque inter paucas memorata populi Romani clades.
 15 Quindecim milia Romanorum in acie caesa; decem milia sparsa fuga per omnem Etruriam aversis itineribus urbem petiere; duo milia quingenti hostium in acie, multi postea [utrimque] ex vulneribus periire. Multiplex caedes utrimque facta traditur ab aliis;
 20 ego, praeterquam quod nihil auctum ex vano velim, quo nimis inclinant ferme scribentium animi, Fabium, aequalem temporibus hujusce belli, potissimum auctorem habui. Hannibal, captivorum qui Latini nominis essent sine pretio dimissis, Romanis in vincula 25 datis, segregata ex hostium coacervatorum cumulis corpora suorum cum sepeliri jussisset, Flamini quoque corpus funeris causa magna cum cura inquisitum non invenit.

Romae ad primum nuntium cladis ejus cum in-30 genti terrore ac tumultu concursus in forum populi est factus. Matronae vagae per vias, quae repens clades adlata, quaeve fortuna exercitus esset, obvios percunctantur; et cum frequentis contionis modo turba in comitium et curiam versa magistratus
 35 vocaret, tandem haud multo ante solis occasum M. Pomponius praetor "pugna" inquit "magna victi sumus." Et quamquam nihil certius ex eo auditum est, tamen alius ab alio impleti rumoribus domos referunt, 'consulem cum magna parte copiarum

caesum; superesse paucos, aut fuga passim per Etruriam sparsos aut captos ab hoste.' Quot casus exercitus victi fuerant, tot in curas dispertiti animi eorum erant, quorum propinqui sub C. Flaminio consule meruerant, ignorantium quae cujusque suorum fortuna esset; nec quisquam satis certum habet, quid aut speret aut timeat. Postero ac deinceps aliquot diebus ad portas major prope mulierum quam virorum multitudo stetit, aut suorum aliquem aut nuntios de iis opperiens; circumfundebanturque obviis sciscitantes, neque avelli, utique ab notis, priusquam ordine omnia inquisissent, poterant. Inde varios vultus digredientium ab nuntiis cerneret, ut cuique laeta aut tristia nuntiabantur, gratulantisque aut consolantis redeuntibus domos circumfusos. Feminarum praecipue et gaudia insignia erant et luctus. Unam in ipsa porta sospiti filio repente oblatam in complexu ejus expirasse ferunt; alteram, cui mors filii falso nuntiata erat, maestam sedentem domi, ad primum conspectum redeuntis filii gaudio nimio exanimatam. Senatum praetores per dies aliquot ab orto usque ad occidentem solem in curia retinent, consultantes, quonam duce aut quibus copiis resisti victoribus Poenis posset.

VIII. Priusquam satis certa consilia essent, repens alia nuntiatur clades, quattuor milia equitum cum C. Centenio propraetore missa ad conlegam ab Servilio consule in Umbria, quo post pugnam ad Trasumennum auditam averterant iter, ab Hannibale circumventa. Ejus rei fama varie homines adfecit: pars, occupatis majore aegritudine animis, levem ex conparatione priorum ducere recentem equitum jacturam; pars non id quod acciderat per se aestimare, sed, ut in adfecto corpore quamvis levis causa magis quam in valido gravior sentiretur, ita tum aegrae et adfectae civitati quodcumque adversi incideret, non rerum magnitudine, sed viribus extenuatis, quae nihil quod adgravaret pati possent, aestimandum esse. Itaque ad remedium jam diu

neque desideratum nec adhibitum, dictatorem dicendum, civitas confugit; et quia et consul aberat, a quo uno dici posse videbatur, nec per occupatam armis Punicis Italiam facile erat aut nuntium aut 5 litteras mitti, nec dictatorem populus creare poterat, quod numquam ante eam diem factum erat, prodic-tatore populus creavit Q. Fabium Maximum et magistrum equitum M. Minucium Rufum; hisque negotium ab senatu datum, ut muros turresque urbis 10 firmarent, et praesidia disponerent, quibus locis videretur, pontesque rescinderent fluminum: pro urbe ac penatibus dimicandum esse, quando Italiam tueri nequissent.

IX. Hannibal recto itinere per Umbriam usque
 15 ad Spoletium venit. Inde, cum perpopulato agro urbem oppugnare adortus esset, cum magna caede suorum repulsus, conjectans ex unius coloniae haud nimis prospere temptatae viribus, quanta moles Romanae urbis esset, in agrum Picenum avertit iter, 20 non copia solum omnis generis frugum abundantem, sed refertum praeda, quam effuse avidi atque egentes rapiebant. Ibi per dies aliquot stativa habita, refectusque miles hibernis itineribus ac palustri via proelioque magis ad eventum secundo quam levi aut
 25 facili adfectus. Ubi satis quietis datum praeda ac populationibus magis quam otio aut requie gaudentibus, profectus Praetutianum Hadrianumque agrum, Marsos inde Marrucinosque et Paelignos devastat circaque Arpos et Luceriam proximam Apuliae regionem. Cn. Servilius consul, levibus proeliis cum 30 Gallis factis et uno oppido ignobili expugnato, postquam de collegae exercitusque caede audivit, jam moenibus patriae metuens, ne abesset in discrimine extremo, ad urbem iter intendit.

35 Q. Fabius Maximus dictator iterum, quo die magistratum iniit, vocato senatu, ab diis orsus, cum edocuisset patres, plus negligentia caerimoniarum auspiciorumque quam temeritate atque inscitia peccatum a C. Flaminio consule esse, quaeque piacula irae deūm essent ipsos deos consulendos esse, pervicit, ut, quod non ferme decernitur nisi cum taetra prodigia nuntiata sunt, decemviri libros Sibyllinos adire juberentur. Qui inspectis fatalibus libris rettulerunt patribus, 'quod ejus belli causa votum Marti foret, id non rite factum de integro atque amplius faciundum esse; et Jovi ludos magnos et aedes Veneri Erucinae ac Menti vovendas esse, et supplicationem lectisterniumque habendum, et ver sacrum vovendum, si bellatum prospere esset resque publica in eodem quo ante bellum fuisset statu permansisset.' Senatus, quoniam Fabium belli cura occupatura esset, M. Aemilium praetorem ex collegii pontificum sententia omnia ea ut mature fiant curare jubet.

X. His senatus consultis perfectis, L. Cornelius Lentulus pontifex maximus, consulente collegium praetore, omnium primum populum consulendum de vere sacro censet: injussu populi voveri non posse. Rogatus in haec verba populus: "Velitis jubeatisne haec sic fieri? Si res publica populi Romani Quiritium ad quinquennium proximum, sicut velim voveamque, salva servata erit hisce duellis, quod duellum populo Romano cum Carthaginensi est, quaeque duella cum Gallis sunt, qui cis Alpibus sunt, tum donum duit populus Romanus Quiritium, quod ver attulerit ex suillo, ovillo, caprino, bovillo grege, quaeque profana erunt, Jovi fieri, ex qua die senatus populusque jusserit. Qui faciet, quando volet quaque lege volet, facito; quo modo faxit, probe factum esto. Si id moritur quod fieri oportebit, profanum esto, neque scelus esto. Si quis rumpet occidetve insciens, ne fraus esto. Si quis clepsit, ne populo scelus esto, neve cui cleptum erit. Si atro die faxit insciens, probe factum esto. Si nocte sive luce, si servus sive liber faxit, probe factum esto. Si antidea ac senatus populusque jusserit fieri faxitur, eo populus solutus liber esto." Ejusdem rei causa ludi magni voti aeris trecentis triginta tribus milibus, trecentis triginta tribus triente, praeterea bubus Jovi trecentis, multis aliis divis bubus albis atque ceteris hostiis. Votis rite nuncupatis, supplicatio edicta; supplicatumque iere cum conjugibus ac liberis non urbana multitudo tantum, sed agrestium etiam, quos in 5 aliqua sua fortuna publica quoque contingebat cura. Tum lectisternium per triduum habitum, decemviris sacrorum curantibus. Sex pulvinaria in conspectu fuerunt: Jovi ac Junoni unum, alterum Neptuno ac Minervae, tertium Marti ac Veneri, quartum Apol-

10 lini ac Dianae, quintum Vulcano ac Vestae, sextum Mercurio et Cereri. Tum aedes votae. Veneri Erucinae aedem Q. Fabius Maximus dictator vovit, quia ita ex fatalibus libris editum erat, ut is voveret, cujus maximum imperium in civitate esset; Menti 15 aedem T. Otacilius praetor vovit.

XI. Ita rebus divinis peractis, tum de bello reque [de] publica dictator rettulit, quibus quotque legionibus victori hosti obviam eundum esse patres censerent. Decretum, ut 'ab Cn. Servilio consule 20 exercitum acciperet, scriberet praeterea ex civibus sociisque quantum equitum ac peditum videretur; cetera omnia ageret faceretque ut e re publica duceret.' Fabius duas legiones se adjecturum ad Servilianum exercitum dixit. Iis per magistrum equi-
25 tum scriptis Tibur diem ad conveniendum edixit. Edictoque proposito, ut, quibus oppida castellaque immunita essent, ut ii commigrarent in loca tuta, ex agris quoque demigrarent omnis regionis ejus qua iturus Hannibal esset, tectis prius incensis ac frugibus
30 corruptis, ne cujus rei copia esset, ipse via Flaminia profectus obviam consuli exercituque, cum ad Tiberim circa Oriculum prospexisset agmen consulemque cum equitibus ad se progredientem, viatorem misit qui consuli nuntiaret, ut sine lictoribus ad dictatorem 35 veniret. Qui cum dicto paruisset, congressusque eorum ingentem speciem dictaturae apud cives sociosque vetustate jam prope oblitos ejus imperii fecisset, litterae ab urbe adlatae sunt, naves onerarias commeatum ab Ostia in Hispaniam ad exercitum portantes a classe Punica circa portum Cosanum captas esse. Itaque extemplo consul Ostiam proficisci iussus, navibusque, quae ad urbem Romanam aut Ostiae essent, completis milite ac navalibus sociis, persequi hostium classem ac litora Italiae tutari. Magna vis hominum conscripta Romae erat; libertini etiam, quibus liberi essent et aetas militaris, in verba iuraverant. Ex hoc urbano exercitu, qui minores quinque et triginta annis erant, in navis inpositi, alii, ut urbi praesiderent, relictii. 5 10

XII. Dictator, exercitu consulis accepto a Fulvio Flacco legato, per agrum Sabinum Tibur, quo diem ad conveniendum edixerat novis militibus, venit. Inde Praeneste ac transversis limitibus in viam Latinam est egressus, unde, itineribus summa cum cura exploratis, ad hostem ducit, nullo loco, nisi quantum necessitas cogeret, fortunae se commissurus. Quo primum die haut procul Arpis in conspectu hostium posuit castra, nulla mora facta, quin Poenus educeret in aciem copiamque pugnandi faceret. Sed ubi quieta omnia aput hostes nec castra ullo tumultu mota videt, increpans quidem, 'victos tandem' Martios animos Romanis, debellatumque et concessum propalam de virtute ac gloria esse, in castra rediit; ceterum tacita cura animum incessit, quod cum duce haudquaquam Flamiui Semproniique simili futura sibi res esset, ac tum demum, edocti malis, Romani parem Hannibali ducem quaesissent. Et prudentiam quidem novi dictatoris extemplo timuit; constantiam hautdum expertus, agitare ac temptare animum movendo crebro castra populandoque in oculis ejus agros sociorum coepit; et modo citato agmine ex conspectu abibat, modo repente in aliquo flexu viae, si excipere degressum in aequum posset, occultus subsistebat. Fabius per loca alta agmen ducebat, modico ab hoste intervallo, ut neque omitteret eum neque congrediretur. Castris, nisi quantum usus necessarii cogerent, tenebatur miles; pabulum et ligna nec pauci petebant nec passim; equitum levisque armaturae statio, con-

posita instructaque in subitos tumultus, et suo militi tuta omnia et infesta effusis hostium populatoribus praebebat; neque universo periculo summa rerum committebatur, et parva momenta levium certami-5 num ex tuto coeptorum, fuitimo receptu, adsuefaciebant territum pristinis cladibus militem minus jam tandem aut virtutis aut fortunae paenitere suae. Sed non Hannibalem magis infestum tam sanis consiliis habebat quam magistrum equitum, qui nihil aliud, 10 quam quod impar erat imperio, morae ad rem publicam praecipitandam habebat, ferox rapidusque in consiliis ac lingua inmodicus. Primo inter paucos, dein propalam in vulgus, pro cunctatore segnem, pro
cauto timidum, adfingens vicina virtutibus vitia, con-15 pellabat, premendoque superiorem, quae pessima ars nimis prosperis multorum successibus crevit, sese ex-tollebat.

XIII. Hannibal ex Hirpinis in Samnium transit, Beneventanum depopulatur agrum, Telesiam urbem 20 capit, inritat etiam de industria ducem, si forte accensum tot indignitatibus ac cladibus sociorum detrahere ad aecum certamen possit. Inter multitudinem sociorum Italici generis, qui ad Trasumennum capti ab Hannibale dimissique fuerant, tres Campani 25 equites erant, multis jam tum inlecti donis promissisque Hannibalis ad conciliandos popularium animos.
Hi nuntiantes, si in Campaniam exercitum admovisset, Capuae potiendae copiam fore, cum res major quam auctores esset, dubium Hannibalem alternis-30 que fidentem ac diffidentem tamen ut Campanos ex Samnio peteret moverunt. Monitos etiam atque etiam ut promissa rebus adfirmarent, iussosque cum pluribus et aliquibus principum redire ad se, dimisit.
Ipse imperat duci ut se in agrum Casinatem ducat, 35 edoctus a peritis regionum, si eum saltum occupasset, exitum Romano ad opem ferendam sociis interclusurum; sed Punicum abhorrens ab Latinorum nominum pro[nuntiatione] os, Casilinum] pro Casino dux ut acciperet fecit, aversusque ab suo itinere per

Allifanum Callifanumque et Calenum agrum in campum Stellatam descendit. Ubi cum montibus fluminibusque clausam regionem circumspexisset, vocatum ducem percunctatur, ubi terrarum esset. Cum is Casilini eo die mansurum eum dixisset, tum demum 5 cognitus est error, et Casinum longe inde alia regione esse; virisque caeso duce et ad reliquorum terrorem in crucem sublato, castris communitis, Maharbalem cum equitibus in agrum Falernum praedatum dimisit. Usque ad aquas Sinuessanas populatio ea per- 10 venit. Ingentem cladem, fugam tamen terroremque latius, Numidae fecerunt; nec tamen is terror, cum omnia bello flagrarent, fide socios dimovit, videlicet quia justo et moderato regebantur imperio, nec abnuebant, quod unum vinculum fidei est, melioribus parere. 15

XIV. Ut vero, postquam ad Vulturum flumen castra sunt posita, exurebatur amoenissimus Italiae ager villaeque passim incendiis fumabant, per juga Massici montis Fabio ducente, tum prope de integro seditio accensa; quieverant enim per paucos dies, 20 quia, cum celerius solito ductum agmen esset, festinari ad prohibendam populationibus Campaniam crediderant. Ut vero in extrema juga Massici montis ventum, et hostes sub oculis erant Falerni agri colorumque Sinuessae tecta urentes, nec ulla erat 25 mentio pugnae, "spectatum huc" inquit Minucius, "ut rem fruendam oculis, sociorum caedes et incendia venimus? nec, si nullius alterius, nos ne civium quidem horum pudet, quos Sinuessam colonos patres nostri miserunt, ut ab Samnite hoste tuta haec 30 ora esset, quam nunc non vicinus Samnis urit, sed Poenus advena, ab extremis orbis terrarum terminis nostra cunctatione et socordia jam huc progressus? Tantum, pro! degeneramus a patribus nostris, ut praeter quam oram illi Punicas vagari classes dede- 35 cus esse imperii sui duxerint, eam nunc plenam hostium Numidarumque ac Maurorum jam factam videamus? Qui modo, Saguntum oppugnari indig- nando, non homines tantum, sed foedera et deos cie-

- bamus, scandentem moenia Romanae coloniae Hannibalem lenti spectamus! Fumus ex incendiis villarum agrorumque in oculos atque ora venit; strepunt aures clamoribus plorantium sociorum, saepius
- 15 nostram quam deorum invocantium opem; nos hic pecorum modo per aestivos saltus deviasque callis exercitum ducimus, conditi nubibus silvisque. Si hoc modo peragrando cacumina saltusque M. Furius recipere a Gallis urbem voluisset, quo hic novus
- 10 Camillus, nobis dictator unicus in rebus adfectis quaesitus, Italiam ab Hannibale recuperare parat, Gallorum Roma esset, quam vereor ne, sic cunctantibus nobis, Hannibali ac Poenis totiens servaverint majores nostri. Sed vir ac vere Romanus, quo die
- 15 dictatorem cum ex auctoritate patrum jussuque populi dictum Veios allatum est, cum esset satis altum Janiculum, ubi sedens prospectaret hostem, descendit in aecum, atque illo ipso die media in urbe, qua nunc busta Gallica sunt, et postero die citra Gabios cecidit
- 20 Gallorum legiones. Quid? post multos annos cum ad Furculas Caudinas ab Samnite hoste sub jugum missi sumus, utrum tandem L. Papirius Cursor juga Samnii perlustrando, an Luceriam premendo obsidendoque et lacescendo victorem hostem, depulsum
- 25 ab Romanis cervicibus jugum superbo Samniti inposuit? Modo C. Lutatio quae alia res quam celeritas victoriam dedit? quod postero die quam hostem vidit, classem gravem commeatibus, inpeditam suomet ipsam instrumento atque adparatu, oppressit:
- 30 Stultitia est sedendo aut votis debellari credere posse. Arma capias oportet et descendas in aecum et vir cum viro congrediari. Audendo atque agendo res Romana crevit, non his segnibus consiliis, quae timidi cauta vocant."
- 35 Haec velut contionanti Minucio circumfundebatur tribunorum equitumque Romanorum multitudo, et ad aures quoque militum dicta ferocia evolvebantur; ac, si militaris suffragii res esset, haud dubie ferebant, Minucium Fabio ducem praelaturos.

XV. Fabius pariter in suos haud minus quam in hostis intentus, prius ab illis invictum animum praestat. Quamquam probe scit, non in castris modo suis, sed jam etiam Romae infamem suam cunctationem esse, obstinatus tamen tenore eodem consiliorum aestatis reliquum extrahit, ut Hannibal, destitutus ab spe summa ope petiti certaminis, jam hibernis locum circumspectaret, quia ea regio praesentis erat copiae, non perpetuae, arbusta vineaeque et consita omnia magis amoenis quam necessariis fructibus. Haec per exploratores relata Fabio. Cum satis sciret, per easdem angustias, quibus intraverat Falernum agrum, rediturum, Calliculam montem et Casilinum occupat modicis praesidiis, quae urbs Vulturno flumine dirempta Falernum a Campano agro dividit; ipse jugis isdem exercitum reducit, misso exploratum cum quadringentis equitibus sociorum L. Hostilio Mancino. Qui, ex turba juvenum audientium saepe ferociter contionantem magistrum equitum, progressus primo exploratoris modo, ut ex tuto specularetur hostem, ubi vagos passim per vicos Numidas vidit, [et] per occasionem etiam paucos occidit, extemplo occupatus certamine est animus, excideruntque praecepta dictatoris, qui, quantum tuto posset progressum, prius recipere sese jusserat quam in conspectum hostium veniret. Numidae alii atque alii occursantes refugientesque ad castra prope ipsa cum fatigatione equorum atque hominum pertraxere. Inde Carthalo, penes quem summa equestris imperii erat, concitatis equis inventus, cum, priusquam ad conjectum teli veniret, avertisset hostis, quinque ferme milia continenti cursu secutus est fugientis. Mancinus, postquam nec hostem desistere sequi nec spem vidit effugiendi esse, cohortatus suos in proelium rediit, omni parte virum inpar. Itaque ipse et delecti equitum circumventi occiduntur; ceteri effuso rursus cursu Cales primum, inde prope inviis callibus ad dictatorem perfrugerunt.

Eo forte die Minucius se conjunxerat Fabio, missus

ad firmandum praesidio saltum, qui super Tarracinam in artas coactus fauces imminet mari, ne ab Sinuessa Poenus Appiae limite pervenire in agrum Romanum posset. Coniunctis exercitibus dictator ac magister equitum castra in viam deferunt, qua Hannibal ducturus erat; duo inde milia hostes aberant.

XVI. Postero die Poeni quod viae inter bina castra erat agmine conplevere. Cum Romani sub ipso constitissent vallo, haut dubie aequiore loco, successit tamen Poenus cum expeditis equitibusque ad lacessendum hostem. Carptim Poeni et procursando recipiendoque sese pugnare; restitit suo loco Romana acies; lenta pugna et ex dictatoris magis quam Hannibalis fuit voluntate. Ducenti ab Romanis, octingenti hostium cecidere.

Inclusus inde videri Hannibal, via ad Casilinum obsessa, cum Capua et Samnium et tantum ab tergo divitum sociorum Romanis conmeatus subveheret, Poenus inter Formiana saxa ac Literni harenas stagnaque et perhorridas silvas hibernaturus esset; nec Hannibalem fefellit, suis se artibus peti. Itaque cum per Casilinum evadere non posset, petendique montes et jugum Calliculae superandum esset, necubi Romanus inclusum vallibus agmen adgrederetur, ludibrium oculorum specie terribile ad frustrandum hostem commentus, principio noctis furtim succedere ad montes statuit. Fallacis consilii talis apparatus fuit: faces undique ex agris conlectae fascisque virgarum atque aridi sarmenti praeligantur cornibus boum, quos domitos indomitosque multos inter ceteram agrestem praedam agebat. Ad duo milia ferme boum effecta; Hasdrubalique negotium datum, ut nocte id armentum accensis cornibus ad montis ageret, maxime, si posset, super saltus ab hoste insessos.

XVII. Primis tenebris silentio mota castra; boves aliquanto ante signa acti. Ubi ad radices montium viasque angustas ventum est, signum extemplo datur, ut accensis cornibus armenta in ad-

versos concitentur montis; et metus ipse relucens flammae ex capite calorque jam ad vivum ad inaeque cornuum adveniens velut stimulos furore agebat boves. Quo repente discursu, haut secus quam silvis montibusque accensis, omnia circum virgulta [visa] 5 ardere; capitumque inrita quassatio, excitans flammam, hominum passim discurrentium speciem praebe-
 bat. Qui ad transitum saltus insidendum locati erant, ubi in summis montibus ac super se quosdam ignes conspexere, circumventos se esse rati, praesidio ex- 10 cessere. Qua minime densae micabant flammae, velut tutissimum iter petentes summa montium juga, tamen in quosdam boves palatos a suis gregibus inciderunt. Et primo cum procul cernerent, veluti flammam spirantium miraculo adtoniti constiterunt; 15 deinde ut humana apparuit fraus, tum vero insidias rati esse, cum majore tumultu concitant se in fugam.
 Levi quoque armaturae hostium incurrere; ceterum nox aequato timore neutros pugnam incipientis ad lucem tenuit. Interea toto agmine Hannibal trans- 20
 ducto per saltum, et quibusdam in ipso saltu hostium oppressis, in agro Allifano posuit castra.

XVIII. Hunc tumultum sensit Fabius; ceterum et insidias esse ratus et ab nocturno utique abhorrens certamine, suos munimentis tenuit. Luce prima sub 25 jugo montis proelium fuit, quo interclusam ab suis levem armaturam facile (etenim numero aliquantum praestabant) Romani superassent, nisi Hispanorum cohors ad id ipsum remissa ab Hannibale supervenisset.
 Ea adsuetior montibus, et ad concursandum 30
 inter saxa rupesque aptior ac levior, cum velocitate corporum, tum armorum habitu, campestem hostem, gravem armis statariumque, pugnae genere facile elusit. Ita haudquaquam pari certamine digressi, Hispani fere omnes incolumes, Romani aliquot suis 35
 amissis in castra contenderunt.

Fabius quoque movit castra, transgressusque saltum super Allifas loco alto ac munito consedit. Tum per Samnium Romam se petere simulans Hannibal

usque in Paelignos populabundus rediit; Fabius medius inter hostium agmen urbemque Romam jugis ducebat, nec absistens nec congregiendi. Ex Paelignis Poenus flexit iter, retroque Apuliam repetens
 5 Gereonium pervenit, urbem metu, quia conlapsa ruinis pars moenium erat, ab suis desertam; dictator in Larinate agro castra communiit. Inde sacrorum causa Romam revocatus, non imperio modo, sed consilio etiam ac prope precibus agens cum magistro
 10 equitum, ut 'plus consilio quam fortunae confidat, et se potius ducem quam Sempronium Flaminiumque imitetur: ne nihil actum censeret, extracta prope aestate per ludificationem hostis; medicos quoque plus interdum quiete quam movendo atque agendo
 15 proficere; haut parvam rem esse ab totiens victore hoste vinci desisse et ab continuis cladibus respirasse' — haec nequiquam praemonito magistro equitum, Romam est profectus.

XIX. Principio aestatis, qua haec gerebantur, in 20 Hispania quoque terra marique coeptum bellum est. Hasdrubal ad eum navium numerum, quem a fratre instructum paratumque acceperat, decem adjecit; quadraginta navium classem Himilconi tradit, atque ita Carthagine profectus naves prope terram, exercitum in litore ducebat, paratus configere, quacumque parte copiarum hostis occurrisset. Cn. Scipio postquam movisse ex hibernis hostem audivit, primo idem consilii fuit; deinde minus terra propter ingentem famam novorum auxiliorum concurrere ausus, delecto milite ad naves inposito, quinque et triginta navium classe ire obviam hosti pergit. Altero ab Tarracone die ad stationem decem milia passuum distantem ab ostio Hiberi amnis pervenit. Inde duae Massiliensium speculatoriae praemissae rettulere, classem Punicam stare in ostio fluminis castraque in ripa posita. Itaque ut improvidos incautosque universo simul effuso terrore opprimeret, sublati ancoris ad hostem vadit.

Multas et locis altis positas turris Hispania habet, quibus et speculis et propugnaculis adversus latrones utuntur. Inde primo conspectis hostium navibus, datum signum Hasdrubali est, tumultusque prius in terra et castris quam ad mare et ad naves est ortus, nondum aut pulsu remorum strepituque alio nautico exaudito aut aperientibus classem promunturiis, cum repente eques alius super alium ab Hasdrubale missus vagos in litore quietosque in tentoriis suis, nihil minus quam hostem aut proelium eo die expectantis, conscendere naves propere atque arma capere jubet: classem Romanam jam haud procul portu esse. Haec equites dimissi passim imperabant; mox Hasdrubal ipse cum omni exercitu aderat, varioque omnia tumultu strepunt, ruentibus in naves simul remigibus militibusque, fugientium magis e terra quam in pugnam euntium modo. Vixdum omnis conscenderant, cum alii resolutis oris in ancoras evehuntur, alii, ne quid teneat, ancoralia incidunt; raptimque omnia ac praepropere agendo, militum apparatu nautica ministeria inpediuntur, trepidatione nautarum capere et aptare arma miles prohibetur. Et jam Romanus non appropinquabat modo, sed derexerat etiam in pugnam naves. Itaque non ab hoste et proelio magis Poeni quam suomet ipsi tumultu turbati, temptata verius pugna quam inita, in fugam averterunt classem, et cum adversi amnis os lato agmini et tam multis simul venientibus haud sane intrabile esset, in litus passim naves egerunt, atque alii vadis alii sicco litore excepti, partim armati partim inermes, ad instructam per litus aciem suorum perfugere; duae tamen primo concursu captae erant Punicae naves, quattuor suppressae.

XX. Romani, quamquam terra hostium erat armatamque aciem toto praetentam [in] litore cernebant, haud cunctanter insecuti trepidam hostium classem, navis omnis, quae non aut perfregerant proras litori inlitas aut carinas fixerant vadis, religatas puppibus in altum extraxere; ad quinque et viginti naves e quadraginta cepere.

- Neque id pulcherrimum ejus victoriae fuit, sed quod una levi pugna toto ejus orae mari potiti erant. Itaque ad Onusam classe profecti; escensio ab navibus in terram facta. Cum urbem vi cepissent cap-
 15 tamque diripuissent, Carthaginem inde petunt; atque omnem agrum circa depopulati, postremo tecta quoque injuncta muro portisque incenderunt. Inde jam praeda gravis ad Longunticam pervenit classis, ubi vis magna sparti erat ad rem nauticam congesta ab
 10 Hasdrubale. Quod satis in usum fuit sublato, ceterum omne incensum est. Nec continentis modo praelectast ora, set in Ebusum insulam transmissum. Ibi urbe, quae caput insulae est, biduum nequiquam summo labore oppugnata, ubi in spem inritam frustra 15 teri tempus animadversum est, ad populationem agri versi, direptis aliquot incensisque vicis, majore quam ex continenti praeda parta cum in naves se recepissent, ex Baliaribus insulis legati pacem petentes ad Scipionem venerunt. Inde flexa retro classis redi-
 20 tumque in citeriora provinciae, quo omnium populorum, qui Hiberum adcolunt, multorum et ultimae Hispaniae legati concurrerunt; sed qui vere dicionis imperiique Romani facti sint obsidibus datis, populi amplius fuerunt centum viginti. Igitur terrestribus 25 quoque copiis satis fidens Romanus usque ad saltum Castulonensem est progressus; Hasdrubal in Lusitaniam ac propius Oceanum concessit.

- XXI. Quietum inde fore videbatur reliquum aestatis tempus, fuissetque per Poenum hostem; sed 30 praeterquam quod ipsorum Hispanorum inquieta avidaque in novas res sunt ingenia, Mandonius Indibilisque, qui antea Ilergetum regulus fuerat, postquam Romani ab saltu recessere ad maritimam oram, concitis popularibus, in agrum pacatum sociorum
 35 Romanorum ad populandum venerunt. Adversus eos tribuni militum cum expeditis auxiliis a Scipione missi levi certamine, ut tumultuariam manum, fudere in omnis partis, occisis quibusdam captisque magnaue parte armis exuta. Hic tamen tumultus

cedentem ad Oceanum Hasdrubalem cis Hiberum ad socios tutandos retraxit. Castra Punica in agro Illegavonensium, castra Romana ad Novam Classem erant, cum fama repens alio avertit bellum. Celtiberi, qui principes regionis suae legatos miserant 5 obsidesque dederant Romanis, nuntio misso a Scipione exciti arma capiunt, provinciamque Carthaginensium valido exercitu invadunt. Tria oppida vi expugnant; inde cum ipso Hasdrubale duobus proeliis egregie pugnant; ad quindecim milia hostium 10 occiderunt, quattuor milia cum multis militaribus signis capiunt.

XXII. Hoc statu rerum in Hispania P. Scipio in provinciam venit, prorogato post consulatum imperio ab senatu missus, cum triginta longis navibus 15 et octo milibus militum, magnoque commeatu advecto. Ea classis ingens agmine onerariarum procul visa cum magna laetitia civium sociorumque portum Tarraconis ex alto tenuit. Ibi milite exposito, profectus Scipio fratri se conjungit; ac deinde communi 20 animo consilioque gerebant bellum. Occupatis igitur Carthaginensibus Celtiberico bello, haud cunctanter Hiberum transgrediuntur, nec ullo viso hoste, Saguntum pergunt ire, quod ibi obsides totius Hispaniae traditos ab Hannibale fama erat modico in 25 arce custodiri praesidio. Id unum pignus inclinatos ad Romanam societatem omnium Hispaniae populorum animos morabatur, ne sanguine liberum suorum culpa defectionis lueretur.

Eo vinculo Hispaniam vir unus sollerti magis 30 quam fideli consilio exsolvit. Abelux erat Sagunti nobilis Hispanus, fidus ante Poenis; tum, qualia plerumque sunt barbarorum ingenia, cum fortuna mutaverat fidem. Ceterum transfugam sine magnae rei proditione venientem ad hostis nihil aliud quam 35 unum vile atque infame corpus esse ratus, id agebat, ut quam maximum emolumentum novis sociis esset. Circumspectis igitur omnibus, quae fortuna potestatis ejus poterat facere, obsidibus potissimum tradendis animum adiecit, eam unam rem maxime ratus conciliaturam Romanis principum Hispaniae amicitiam. Sed cum injussu Bostaris praefecti satis sciret nihil obsidum custodes facturos esse, Bostarem ipsum arte

5 adgreditur. Castra extra urbem in ipso litore habebat Bostar, ut aditum ea parte intercluderet Romanis. Ibi eum in secretum abductum, velut ignorantem, monet, quo statu sit res: 'metum continuisse ad eam diem Hispanorum animos, quia procul Romani abes-
10 sent; nunc cis Hiberum castra Romana esse, arcem tutam perfugiumque novas volentibus res; itaque, quos metus non teneat, beneficio et gratia devinciendos esse.' Miranti Bostari percunctantique, quodnam id subitum tantae rei donum posset esse, "ob-
15 sides" inquit "in civitates remitte. Id et privatim parentibus, quorum maxumum momentum in civitatibus est suis, et publice populis gratum erit. Volt sibi quisque credi, et habita fides ipsam plerumque obligat fidem. Ministerium restituendorum domos
20 obsidum mihi met deposco ipse, ut opera quoque impensa consilium adjuvem meum, et rei suapte natura gratae quantam insuper gratiam possim adiciam." Homini non ad cetera Punica ingenia callido ut persuasit, nocte clam progressus ad hostium stationes, 25 conventis quibusdam auxiliaribus Hispanis et ab his ad Scipionem perductus, quid adferret, expromit, et, fide accepta dataque, ac loco et tempore constituto ad obsides tradendos, Saguntum redit. Diem insequentem absumpsit cum Bostare mandatis ad rem agendam accipiendis. Dimissus, cum se nocte iturum, ut
30 custodias hostium falleret, constituisset, ad compositam cum iis horam excitatis custodibus puerorum profectus, veluti ignarus in praeparatas sua fraude insidias ducit. In castra Romana perducti; cetera
35 omnia de reddendis obsidibus, sicut cum Bostare constitutum erat, acta per eundem ordinem, quo si Carthaginensium nomine sic ageretur. Major aliquanto Romanorum gratia fuit in re pari, quam quanta futura Carthaginensium fuerat. Illos enim gravis superbosque in rebus secundis expertos fortuna et timor mitigasse videri poterat; Romanus primo adventu, incognitus ante, ab re clementi liberalique initium fecerat; et Abelux, vir prudens, haud frustra videbatur socios mutasse. Itaque ingenti consensu defectionem omnes spectare; armaque extemplo mota forent, ni hiems, quae Romanos quoque et Carthaginienses concedere in tecta coegit, intervenisset. 5

XXIII. Haec in Hispania [quoque] secunda aestate Punici belli gesta, cum in Italia paulum intervalli cladibus Romanis sollers cunctatio Fabii fecisset; quae ut Hannibalem non mediocri sollicitum cura habebat, tandem eum militiae magistrum delegisse Romanos cernentem, qui bellum ratione, non fortuna gereret, ita contempta erat inter civis armatos pariter togatosque, utique postquam absente eo temeritate magistri equitum, laeto verius dixerim quam prospero eventu, pugnatum fuerat. Accesserant duae res ad augendam invidiam dictatoris, una fraude ac dolo Hannibalis, quod, cum a perfugis ei monstratus ager dictatoris esset, omnibus circa solo aequatis, ab uno eo ferrum ignemque et vim omnem hostium abstineri iussit, ut occulti alicujus pacti ea merces videri posset, altera ipsius facto, primo forsitan dubio, quia non expectata in eo senatus auctoritas est, ad extremum haud ambigue in maximam laudem verso. In permutandis captivis, quod sic primo Punico bello factum erat, convenerat inter duces Romanum Poenumque, ut, quae pars plus reciperet quam daret, argenti pondo bina et selibras in militem praestaret. Ducentis quadraginta septem cum plures Romanus quam Poenus recepisset, argentumque pro eis debitum, saepe jactata in senatu re, quoniam non consulisset patres, tardius erogaretur, inviolatum ab hoste agrum, misso Romam Quinto filio, vendidit, fidemque publicam impendio privato exsolvit. 25 30 35

liquerat tecta, in stativis erat. Inde frumentatum duas exercitus partes mittebat; cum tertia ipse expedita in statione erat, simul castris praesidio, et circumspectans necunde impetus in frumentatores 5 fieret.

XXIV. Romanus tunc exercitus in agro Lari-nati erat; praeerat Minucius magister equitum, pro-fecto, sicut ante dictum est, ad urbem dictatore.
Ceterum castra, quae in monte alto ac tuto loco 10 posita fuerant, jam in planum deferuntur; agitabanturque pro ingenio ducis consilia calidiora, ut impetus aut in frumentatores palatos aut in castra relicta cum levi praesidio fieret. Nec Hannibalem fefellit cum duce mutatam esse belli rationem, et 15 ferocius quam consultius rem hostes gesturos. Ipse autem, quod minime quis crederet, cum hostis propius esset, tertiam partem militum frumentatum, duabus in castris retentis, dimisit; dein castra ipsa propius hostem movit, duo ferme a Gereonio milia, in tumu-20 lum hosti conspectum, ut intentum sciret esse ad fru-mentatores, si qua vis fieret, tutandos. Propior inde ei atque ipsis imminens Romanorum castris tumulus apparuit; ad quem capiendum si luce palam iretur, quia haud dubie hostis breviora via praeventurus 25 erat, nocte clam missi Numidae ceperunt. Quos tenentis locum contempta paucitate Romani postero die cum deiecissent, ipsi eo transferunt castra. [Tum ut] itaque exiguum spatii vallum a vallo aberat, et id ipsum totum prope compleverat Romana acies.
30 Simul et per aversa a castris Hannibalis equitatus cum levi armatura emissus in frumentatores late caedem fugamque hostium palatorum fecit. Nec acie certare Hannibal ausus, quia tanta paucitate vix castra, si oppugnarentur, tutari poterat; jamque 35 artibus Fabii [pars exercitus aberat jam fame] sedendo et cunctando bellum gerebat, receperatque suos in priora castra, quae pro Gereoni moenibus erant.

Iusta quoque acie et conlatis signis dimicatum

quidam auctores sunt: primo concursu Poenum usque ad castra fustum; inde eruptione facta repente versum terrorem in Romanos; Numeri Decimi Samnitis deinde interventu proelium restitutum. Hunc principem genere ac divitiis non Boviani modo, unde 5 erat, sed toto Samnio, jussu dictatoris octo milia peditum et equites quingentos ducentem in castra, ab tergo cum apparuisset Hannibali, speciem parti utrique praeuisse novi praesidii cum Q. Fabio ab Roma venientis. Hannibalem, insidiarum quoque 10 aliquid timentem, recepisse suos; Romanum insectum adjuvante Samnite duo castella eo die expugnasse. Sex milia hostium caesa, quinque admodum Romanorum; tamen, in tam pari prope clade, famam egregiae victoriae cum vanioribus litteris 15 magistri equitum Romam perlatam.

XXV. De his rebus persuepe et in senatu et in contione actum est. Cum, laeta civitate, dictator unus nihil nec famae nec litteris crederet, et, ut vera omnia essent, secunda se magis quam adversa timere 20 diceret, tum M. Metilius tribunus plebis 'id enim vero ferendum esse' negat: 'non praesentem solum dictatorem obstitisse rei bene gerendae, sed absentem etiam gestae obstare, et in ducendo bello sedulo tempus terere, quo diutius in magistratu sit, solusque 25 et Romae et in exercitu imperium habeat. Quippe consulum alterum in acie cecidisse, alterum specie classis Punicae persequendae procul ab Italia ablegatum; duos praetores Sicilia atque Sardinia occupatos, quarum neutra hoc tempore provincia praetore 30 egeat; M. Minucium magistrum equitum, ne hostem videret, ne quid rei bellicae gereret, prope in custodia habitum. Itaque hercule non Samnium modo, quo jam tamquam trans Hiberum agro Poenis concessum sit, set Campanum Calenumque et Falernum agrum 35 pervastatos esse, sedente Casilini dictatore et legionibus populi Romani agrum suum tutante. Exercitum cupientem pugnare et magistrum equitum clausos prope intra vallum retentos; tamquam hostibus

- captivis arma adempta. Tandem, ut abscesserit inde dictator, ut obsidione liberatos, extra vallum egressos fudisse ac fugasse hostis. Quas ob res, si antiquus animus plebei Romanae esset, audaciter se laturum 5 fuisse de abrogando Q. Fabi imperio; nunc modicam rogationem promulgaturum de aequando magistri equitum et dictatoris jure. Nec tamen ne ita quidem prius mittendum ad exercitum Q. Fabium, quam consulem in locum C. Flamini suffecisset.'
- 10 Dictator contionibus se abstinuit in actione minime populari. Ne in senatu quidem satis aequis auribus audiebatur, cum hostem verbis extolleret biennique clades per temeritatem atque inscientiam ducum acceptas referret, [et] 'magistro equitum, quod contra 15 dictum suum pugnasset, rationem' diceret 'reddendam esse. Si penes se summa imperii consiliique sit, prope diem effecturum, ut sciant homines, bono imperatore haut magni fortunam momenti esse, mentem rationemque dominari, et in tempore et sine igno-
- 20 minia servasse exercitum, quam multa milia hostium occidisse, majorem gloriam esse.' Hujus generis orationibus frustra habitis, et consule creato M. Atilio Regulo, ne praesens de jure imperii dimicaret, pridie quam rogationis ferendae dies adesset, nocte ad exercitum abiit. Luce orta cum plebis concilium esset, 25 magis tacita invidia dictatoris favorque magistri equitum animos versabat, quam satis audebant homines ad suadendum quod vulgo placebat prodire, et, favore superante, auctoritas tamen rogationi deerat. Unus inventus est suasor legis C. Terentius 30 Varro, qui priore anno praetor fuerat, loco non humili solum, sed etiam sordido, ortus. Patrem lanium fuisse ferunt, ipsum institorem mercis, filioque hoc ipso in servilia ejus artis ministeria usum.
- 35 XXVI. Is juvenis, ut primum ex eo genere quæstus pecunia a patre relicta animos ad spem liberioris fortunae fecit, togaque et forum placuere, proclamando pro sordidis hominibus causisque adversus rem et famam bonorum, primum in notitiam populi, deinde ad honores pervenit; quaesturaque et duabus aedilitatibus, plebeia et curuli, postremo et praetura perfunctus, jam ad consulatus spem cum adtolleret animos, haud parum callide auram favoris popularis ex dictatoris invidia petiit, scitique plebis unus gratiam tulit. 5

Omnes eam rogationem, quique Romae quique in exercitu erant, aequi atque iniqui, praeter ipsum dictatorem, in contumeliam ejus latam acceperunt. Ipse, qua gravitate animi criminantes se ad multitudinem inimicos tulerat, eadem et populi in se saevientis injuriam tulit; acceptisque in ipso itinere litteris senatus de aequato imperio, satis fidens hautquaquam cum imperii jure artem imperandi aequatam, cum aequo invicto a civibus hostibusque animo, 15 ad exercitum rediit.

XXVII. Minucius vero, cum jam ante vix tolerabilis fuisset secundis rebus ac favore volgi, tum utique inmodice inmodesteque non Hannibale magis victo ab se quam Q. Fabio gloriari. 'Illum in rebus asperis unicum ducem ac parem quaesitum Hannibali, majorem minori, dictatorem magistro equitum, quod nulla memoria habeat annalium, jussu populi aequatum in eadem civitate, in qua magistri equitum virgas ac secures dictatoris tremere atque horrere soliti sint; tantum suam felicitatem virtutemque enituisse. Ergo secuturum se fortunam suam, si dictator in cunctatione ac segnitie, deorum hominumque judicio damnata, perstaret.' Itaque, quo die primum congressus est cum Q. Fabio, 'statuendum omnium primum' ait 'esse, quem ad modum imperio aequato utantur: se optimum ducere, aut diebus alternis, aut, si majora intervalla placerent, partitis temporibus, alterius summum jus imperiumque esse, ut par hosti non solum consilio, sed viribus etiam esset, si quam occasionem rei gerendae habuisset.' Q. Fabio haudquaquam id placere: 'omnia fortunam eam habitura, quamcumque temeritas conlegae habuisset; sibi communicatum cum illo, non ademptum, im-

- perium esse. Itaque se numquam volentem parte qua posset rerum consilio gerendarum cessurum; nec se tempora aut dies imperii cum eo, exercitum divisurum, suisque consiliis, quoniam omnia non liceret, 5 quae posset servaturum.' Ita optinuit ut legiones, sicut consulibus mos esset, inter se dividerent: prima et quarta Minucio, secunda et tertia Fabio evenerunt; item equites pari numero, sociumque et Latini nominis auxilia, diviserunt: castris quoque se separari 10 magister equitum voluit.
- XXVIII. Duplex inde Hannibali gaudium fuit (neque enim quicquam eorum, quae aput hostes agerentur, eum fallebat, et perfugis multa indicantibus et per suos explorantem): nam et liberam Minuci 15 temeritatem se suo modo captaturum, et sollertiae Fabii dimidium virium decessisse. Tumulus erat inter castra Minuci et Poenorum, quem qui occupasset, haud dubie iniquiorem erat hosti locum factururus. Eum non tam capere sine certamine volebat 20 Hannibal, quamquam id operae pretium erat, quam causam certaminis cum Minucio, quem procursum ad obsistendum satis sciebat, contrahere. Ager omnis medius erat prima specie inutilis insidiatori, quia non modo silvestre quicquam, sed ne vepribus quidem 25 vestitum habebat, re ipsa natus tegendis insidiis, eo magis quod in nuda valle nulla talis fraus timeri poterat; et erant in anfractibus cavae rupes, ut quaedam earum ducenos armatos possent capere. In has latebras, quot quemque locum apte insidere poterant, quinque milia conduntur peditum equitumque. 30 Necubi tamen aut motus alicujus temere egressi aut fulgor armorum fraudem in valle tam aperta detegeret, missis paucis prima luce ad capiendum quem ante diximus tumulum, avertit oculos hostium.
- 35 Primo statim conspectu contempta paucitas, ac sibi quisque deposcere pellendos inde hostis ac locum capiendum; dux ipse inter stolidissimos ferocissimosque ad arma vocat, et vanis minis increpat hostem. Principio levem armaturam [dimittit], deinde con-

ferto agmine mittit equites; postremo, cum hostibus quoque subsidia mitti videret, instructis legionibus procedit. Et Hannibal, laborantibus suis alia atque alia, crescente certamine, mittens auxilia peditum equitumque, jam justam expleverat aciem, ac totis 5 utrimque viribus certatur. Prima levis armatura Romanorum, praeoccupatum ex inferiore loco succedens tumulum, pulsa detrusaque terrorem in subsequentem intulit equitem et ad signa legionum refugit. Peditum acies inter percussos inpavida sola erat, 10 videbaturque, si justa ac directa pugna esset, hautquaquam impar futura; tantum animorum fecerat prospere ante paucos dies res gesta; set exorti repente insidiatores eum tumultum terroremque, in latera utrimque ab tergoque incursantes, fecerunt, ut neque 15 animus ad pugnam neque ad fugam spes cuiquam superesset.

XXIX. Tum Fabius, primo clamore paventium audito, dein conspecta procul turbata acie, "ita est," inquit, "non celerius quam timui, deprendit fortuna 20 temeritatem. Fabio aequatus imperio Hannibalem et virtute et fortuna superiorem videt. Sed aliud jurgandi suscensendique tempus erit: nunc signa extra vallum proferte; victoriam hosti extorqueamus, confessionem erroris civibus." Jam magna 25 ex parte caesis aliis, aliis circumspectantibus fugam, Fabiana se acies repente, velut caelo demissa ad auxilium, ostendit: itaque, priusquam ad conjectum teli veniret aut manum consereret, et suos a fuga effusa et ab nimis feroci pugna hostes continuit. 30 Qui solutis ordinibus vage dissipati erant, undique confugerunt ad integram aciem; qui plures simul terga dederant, conversi in hostem volventesque orbem, nunc sensim referre pedem, nunc conglobati restare: ac jam prope una acies facta erat victi atque 35 integri exercitus, inferebantque signa in hostem, cum Poenus receptui cecinit, palam ferente Hannibale, ab se Minucium, se ab Fabio victum.

Ita per variam fortunam diei maiore parte exacta,

- cum in castra reditum esset, Minucius, convocatis militibus, "saepe ego" inquit "audivi, milites, eum primum esse virum, qui ipse consulat quid in rem sit; secundum eum, qui bene monenti oboediat; qui 5 nec ipse consulere nec alteri parere sciat, eum extremi ingenii esse. Nobis quoniam prima animi ingeniique negata sors est, secundam ac mediam teneamus, et, dum imperare discimus, parere prudenti in animum inducamus. Castra cum Fabio jungamus.
 10 Ad praetorium ejus signa cum tulerimus, ubi ego eum 'parentem' appellavero, quod beneficio ejus erga nos ac majestate ejus dignum est, vos, milites, eos, quorum vos modo arma ac dexterarum texerunt, 'patronos' salutabitis, et, si nihil aliud, gratiarum 15 certe nobis animorum gloriam dies hic dederit."

- XXX. Signo dato, conclamatur inde, ut colligantur vasa. Profecti et agmine incedentes ad dictatoris castra in admirationem et ipsum et omnes qui circa erant converterunt. Ut constituta sunt 20 ante tribunal signa, progressus ante alios magister equitum, cum 'patrem' Fabium appellasset, circumfususque militum ejus totum agmen 'patronos' consalutasset, "parentibus" inquit "meis, dictator, quibus te modo nomine, quod fando possum, aequavi, 25 vitam tantum debeo, tibi cum meam salutem, tum omnium horum. Itaque plebei scitum, quo oneratus sum magis quam honoratus, primus antiquo abrogoque, ec (quod tibi mihi que [quod] exercitibusque his tuis, servato ac conservatori, sit felix!) sub imperium auspiciisque tuum redeo, et signa haec legionisque restituo. Tu, quaeso, placatus me magisterium equitum, hos ordines suos quemque tenere jubeas." Tum dextrae interjunctae, militesque, contione dimissa, ab notis ignotisque benigne atque hospitaliter invitati, laetusque dies ex admodum tristi paulo 30 ante ac prope execrabili factus.

Romae, ut est perlata fama rei gestae, dein litteris non magis ipsorum imperatorum quam vulgo militum ex utroque exercitu adfirmata, pro se quisque Maximum laudibus ad caelum ferre. Par gloria apud Hannibalem hostisque Poenos erat; ac tum demum sentire cum Romanis atque in Italia bellum esse; nam biennio ante adeo et duces Romanos et milites spreverant, ut vix cum eadem gente bellum esse 5 crederent, cujus terribilem famam a patribus accepissent. Hannibalem quoque ex acie redeuntem dixisse ferunt, tandem eam nubem, quae sedere in jugis montium solita sit, cum procella imbrem dedisse. 10

XXXI. Dum haec geruntur in Italia, Cn. Servilius Geminus consul, cum classe [centum viginti] navium circumvectus Sardiniae et Corsicae oram, et obsidibus utrimque acceptis, in Africam transmisit; et, priusquam in continentem escensionem faceret, 15 Menige insula vastata, et ab incolentibus Cercinam, ne et ipsorum ureretur diripereturque ager, decem talentis argenti acceptis, ad litora Africae accessit copiasque exposuit. Inde ad populandum agrum ducti milites, navalesque socii juxta effusi, ac si [in] 20 insulis cultorum egentibus praedarentur. Itaque in insidias temere inlati, cum a frequentibus palantes ac locorum ignari a gnaris circumvenirentur, cum multa caede ac foeda fuga retro ad naves compulsi sunt. Ad mille hominum, cum iis Sempronio Blaeso 25 quaestore amisso, classis, ab litoribus hostium plenis trepide soluta, in Siciliam cursum tenuit, traditaque Lilybaei T. Otacilio praetori, ut ab legato ejus P. Cincio Romam reduceretur. Ipse, per Siciliam pedibus profectus, freto in Italiam trajecit, litteris Q. 30 Fabii accitus et ipse et conlega ejus M. Atilius, ut exercitus ab se, exacto jam prope semestri imperio, acciperent.

Omnium prope annales Fabium dictatorem adversus Hannibalem rem gessisse tradunt; Coelius etiam 35 eum primum a populo creatum dictatorem scribit. Sed et Coelium et ceteros fugit, uni consuli Cn. Servilio, qui tum procul in Gallia provincia aberat, jus fuisse dicendi dictatoris; quam moram quia expectare territa jam clade civitas non poterat, eo decursum esse, ut a populo crearetur qui pro dictatore esset; res inde gestas gloriamque insignem ducis et augmentis titulum imaginis posteros, ut, qui pro dictatore fuisset, dictator crederetur, facile obtinuisse.

- XXXII. Consules, Atilius Fabiano Geminus Servilius Minuciano exercitu accepto, hibernaculis mature communitis, (medium autumnus erat,) Fabi artibus cum summa inter se concordia bellum gesserunt.
- 10 Frumentatum exeunti Hannibali diversis locis opportuni aderant, carpentes agmen palatosque excipientes; in casum universae dimicationis, quam omnibus artibus petebat hostis, non veniebant; eoque inopiae est redactus Hannibal, ut, nisi cum fugae
- 15 specie abeundum ei fuisset, Galliam repetiturus fuerit, nulla relicta spe alendi exercitus in eis locis, si insequentes consules eisdem artibus bellum gererent.

- Cum ad Gereonium jam hieme inpediente constisset bellum, Neapolitani legati Romam venerunt.
- 20 Ab iis quadraginta paterae aureae magni ponderis in curiam inlatae, atque ita verba facta, ut dicerent, 'scire sese populi Romani aerarium bello exhaustum; et, cum juxta pro urbibus agrisque sociorum
- 25 ac pro capite atque arce Italiae, urbe Romana atque imperio, geratur, aequum censuisse Neapolitanos, quod auri sibi cum ad templorum ornatum tum ad subsidium fortunae a majoribus relictum foret, eo juvare populum Romanum. Si quam opem in sese
- 30 crederent, eodem studio fuisse oblaturum. Gratum sibi patres Romanos populumque facturum, si omnes res Neapolitanorum suas duxissent, dignosque judicaverint, ab quibus donum, animo ac voluntate eorum qui libentes darent quam re majus ampliusque,
- 35 acciperent.' Legatis gratiae actae pro munificentia curaque; patera, quae ponderis minimi fuit, accepta.

XXXIII. Per eosdem dies speculator Carthaginiensis, qui per biennium fefellerat, Romae deprensus praecisisque manibus dimissus, et servi quin-que et viginti in crucem acti, quod in campo Martio conjurassent; indici data libertas et aeris gravis viginti milia. Legati et ad Philippum Macedonum regem missi ad deposcendum Demetrium Pharium, qui bello victus ad eum fugisset, et alii in Ligures ad 5 expostulandum, quod Poenum opibus auxiliisque suis juvissent, simul ad visendum ex propinquo, quae in Bois atque Insubribus gererentur. Ad Pineum quoque regem in Illyrios legati missi ad stipendium, cujus dies exierat, poscendum, aut, si diem proferri 10 vellet, obsides accipiendos. Adeo, etsi bellum ingens in cervicibus erat, nullius usquam terrarum rei cura Romanos, ne longinquae quidem, effugiebat. In religionem etiam venit, aedem Concordiae, quam per seditionem militarem biennio ante L. Manlius praetor 15 in Gallia vovisset, locatam ad id tempus non esse. Itaque duumviri ad eam rem creati a M. Aemilio praetore urbano, C. Pupius et Caeso Quinctius Flamininus, aedem in arce faciendam locaverunt.

Ab eodem praetore ex senatus consulto litterae ad 20 consules missae, ut, si iis videretur, alter eorum ad consules creandos Romam veniret; se in eam diem quam jussissent comitia edicturum. Ad haec a consulibus rescriptum, 'sine detrimento rei publicae abscedi non posse ab hoste; itaque per interregem 25 comitia habenda esse potius quam consul alter a bello advocaretur.' Patribus rectius visum est dictatorem a consule dici comitiorum habendorum causa. Dictus L. Veturius Philo M.' Pomponium Mathonem magistrum equitum dixit. Iis vitio creatis jussisque die 30 quarto decimo se magistratu abdicare, ad interregnum res rediit.

XXXIV. Consulibus prorogatum in annum imperium. Interreges proditi a patribus C. Claudius Appi filius Centho, inde P. Cornelius Asina. In 35 ejus interregno comitia habita magno certamine patrum ac plebis. C. Terentio Varroni, quem sui generis hominem, plebi insectatione principum popularibusque artibus conciliatum, ab Q. Fabi opibus et dictatorio imperio concusso aliena invidia splendentem, vulgus extrahere ad consulatum nitebatur, patres summa ope obstabant, ne se insectando sibi aequari adsuescerent homines. Q. Baebius Herennius tribunus plebis, cognatus C. Terenti, criminando non senatum modo, sed etiam augures, quod dictatorem prohibuissent comitia perficere, per invidiam eorum favorem candidato suo conciliabat: 'ab hominibus nobilibus, per multos annos bellum quaerentibus, Hannibalem in Italiam adductum; ab isdem, cum debellari possit, fraude bellum trahi. Cum quattuor legionibus universis pugnari posse apparuisset eo, quod M. Minucius absente Fabio prospere pugnasset, duas legiones hosti ad caedem objectas, deinde ex ipsa caede ereptas, ut pater patronusque appellaretur, qui prius vincere prohibuisset Romanos quam vinci. Consules deinde Fabianis artibus, cum debellare possent, bellum traxisse. Id foedus inter omnes nobilis ictum, nec finem ante belli habituros, quam consulem vere plebeium, id est hominem novum, fecissent; nam plebeios nobiles jam eisdem initiatos esse sacris et contemnere plebem, ex quo contemni a patribus desierint, coepisse. Cui non apparere, id actum et quaesitum esse, ut inter-

25 regnum iniretur, ut in patrum potestate comitia essent? Id consules ambos ad exercitum morando quaesisse; id postea, quia invitis iis dictator esset dictus comitiorum causa, expugnatum esse, ut vitiosus dictator per augures fieret. Habere igitur inter-

30 regnum eos; consulatum unum certe plebis Romanae esse; populum liberum habiturum ac daturum ei, qui mature vincere quam diu imperare malit.'

XXXV. Cum his orationibus accensa plebs esset, tribus patriciis petentibus, P. Cornelio Merenda, L. 35 Manlio Volsone, M. Aemilio Lepido, duobus nobilibus jam familiarum plebei, C. Atilio Serrano et Q. Aelio Paeto, quorum alter pontifex, alter augur erat, C. Terentius, consul unus creatur, ut in manu ejus essent comitia rogando conlegae. Tum experta-nobilitas, parum fuisse virium in competitoribus ejus, L. Aemilium Paulum, qui cum M. Livio consul fuerat et damnatione conlegae et sua prope ambustus evaserat, infestum plebei, diu ac multum recusantem ad petitionem compellit. Is proximo comitiali die, 5 concedentibus omnibus, qui cum Varrone certaverant, par magis in adversandum quam conlega datur consuli. Inde praetorum comitia habita. Creati M'. Pomponius Matho et P. Furius Philus; Philo Romae juri dicundo urbana sors, Pomponio inter 10 civis Romanos et peregrinos evenit; additi duo praetores, M. Claudius Marcellus in Siciliam, L. Postumius Albinus in Galliam. Omnes absentes creati sunt, nec cuiquam eorum, praeter Terentium consulem, mandatus honos quem non jam antea gessisset, 15 praeteritis aliquot fortibus ac strenuis viris, quia in tali tempore nulli novus magistratus videbatur mandandus.

XXXVI. Exercitus quoque multiplicati sunt; quantae autem copiae peditum equitumque additae 20 sint, adeo et numero et genere copiarum variant auctores, ut vix quicquam satis certum adfirmare ausus sim. Decem milia novorum militum alii scripta in supplementum, alii novas quattuor legiones, ut octo legionibus rem gererent; numero quoque peditum 25 equitumque legiones auctas, milibus peditum et centenis equitibus in singulas adjectis, ut quina milia peditum, treceni equites essent, socii duplicem numerum equitum darent, peditis aequarent, septem et octoginta milia armatorum et ducentos in castris Ro- 30 manis fuisse, cum pugnatum ad Cannas est, quidam auctores sunt. Illud haudquaquam discrepat, majore conatu atque impetu rem actam quam prioribus annis, quia spem posse vinci hostem dictator prae- buerat. 35

Ceterum priusquam signa ab urbe novae legiones moverent, decemviri libros adire atque inspicere jussi propter territatos volgo homines novis prodigiis. Nam et Romae in Aventino et Ariciae nuntiatum erat sub

idem tempus lapidibus pluvisse, et multo cruore signa in Sabinis [sudasse, et] aquas fonte calido [gelida]s manasse; (id quidem etiam, quod saepius acciderat, magis terrebat;) et in via Fornicata, quae ad Campum erat, aliquot homines de caelo tacti exanimatique fuerant. Ea prodigia ex libris procurata. Legati a Paesto pateras aureas Romam adtulerunt. Iis, sicut Neapolitanis, gratiae actae, aurum non acceptum.

- 10 XXXVII. Per eosdem dies ab Hierone classis Ostia cum magno commeatu accessit. Legati in senatum introducti nuntiarunt 'caedem C. Flamini consulis exercitusque adlatam adeo aegre tulisse regem Hieronem, ut nulla sua propria regnique sui 15 clade moveri magis potuerit. Itaque, quamquam probe sciat magnitudinem populi Romani admirabiliorem prope adversis rebus quam secundis esse, tamen se omnia, quibus a bonis fidelibusque sociis bella juvari soleant, misisse; quae ne accipere ab
20 nuant, magno opere se patres conscriptos orare. Jam omnium primum ominis causa Victoriam auream pondo ducentum ac viginti adferre sese: acciperent eam tenerentque et haberent propriam et perpetuam. Advexisse etiam trecenta milia modium tritici, du 25 centa hordei, ne commeatus deessent, et quantum praeterea opus esset, quo jussissent, subvecturos. Milite atque equite scire nisi Romano Latinique nominis non uti populum Romanum; levium armorum auxilia etiam externa vidisse in castris Romanis:
30 itaque misisse mille sagittariorum ac funditorum, aptam manum adversus Baliares ac Mauros pugnaesque alias missili telo gentes.' Ad ea dona consilium quoque addebant, ut 'praetor, cui provincia Sicilia evenisset, classem in Africam traiceret, ut et 35 hostes in terra sua bellum haberent, minusque laxamenti daretur iis ad auxilia Hannibali submittenda.'

Ab senatu ita responsum regi est, 'virum bonum egregiumque socium Hieronem esse, atque uno tenore, ex quo in amicitiam populi Romani venerit, fidem

coluisse, ac rem Romanam omni tempore ac loco munifice adjuvisse. Id perinde ac deberet gratum populo Romano esse. Aurum et a civitatibus quibusdam adlatum, gratia rei accepta, non accepisse populum Romanum; Victoriā omenque accipere, 5 sedemque ei se divae dare dicare Capitolium, templum Jovis optimi maximi. In ea arce urbis Romanae sacratam volentem propitiamque, firmam ac stabilem fore populo Romano.'

Funditores sagittariiue et frumentum traditum 10 consulibus. Quinqueremes ad [centum viginti] navium classem, quae cum T. Otacilio propraetore in Sicilia erat, quinque et viginti additae, permissumque est, ut, si e re publica censeret esse, in Africam traiceret. 15

XXXVIII. Dilectu perfecto consules paucos morati dies, dum socii ab nomine Latino venirent. Tum, quod numquam antea factum erat, jure jurando ab tribunis militum adacti milites; nam ad eam diem nihil praeter sacramentum fuerat, 'jussu consulum 20 conventuros neque injussu abituros,' et ubi ad decuriandum aut centuriandum convenissent, sua voluntate ipsi inter sese decuriati equites, centuriati pedites conjurabant, 'sese fugae atque formidinis ergo non abituros, neque ex ordine recessuros nisi teli 25 sumendi aut [re]petendi [et] aut hostis feriendi aut civis servandi causa.' Id ex voluntario inter ipsos foedere ad tribunos ac legitimam juris jurandi adactionem translatum.

Contiones, priusquam ab urbe signa moverentur, 30 consulis Varronis multae ac feroces fuere, denuntiantis, 'bellum arcessitum in Italiam ab nobilibus mansurumque in visceribus rei publicae, si plures Fabios imperatores haberet, se, quo die hostem vidisset, perfecturum.' Conlegae ejus Pauli una, pridie 35 quam ab urbe proficisceretur, contio fuit, verior quam gratior populo, qua nihil inclementer in Varronem dictum nisi id modo, 'mirari se, quod denique dux, priusquam aut suum aut hostium exercitum, locorum situm, naturam regionis, nosset, jam nunc togatus in urbe sciret, quae sibi agenda armato forent, et diem quoque praedicere posset, qua cum hoste signis conlatis esset dimicaturus: se, quae consilia magis res dent hominibus quam homines rebus, ea ante tempus immatura non praecepturum; optare, ut, quae caute ac consulte gesta essent, satis prospere evenirent; temeritatem, praeterquam quod stulta sit, infelicem etiam ad id locorum fuisse.' Et sua sponte 10 apparebat tuta celeribus consiliis praepositurum, et, quo id constantius perseveraret, Q. Fabius Maximus sic eum proficiscentem adlocutus fertur:

XXXIX. "Si aut conlegam, id quod mallet, tui similem, L. Aemili, haberes, aut tu collegae tui esses 15 similis, supervacanea esset oratio mea; nam et duo boni consules, etiam me indicente, omnia e re publica fideque vestra faceretis, et mali nec mea verba auribus vestris nec consilia animis acciperetis. Nunc et conlegam tuum et te talem virum intuenti mihi
20 tecum omnis oratio est, quem video nequiquam et virum bonum et civem fore, si, altera parte claudente re publica, malis consiliis idem ac bonis juris et potestatis erit. Erras enim, L. Paule, si tibi minus certaminis cum C. Terentio quam cum Hannibale
25 futurum censes; nescio an infestior hic adversarius quam ille hostis maneant te. Cum illo in acie tantum, cum hoc omnibus locis ac temporibus certaturus es; adversus Hannibalem legionesque ejus tuis equitibus ac peditibus pugnandum tibi erit, Varro dux tuis
30 militibus te est oppugnaturus. Ominis etiam tibi causa absit C. Flamini memoria. Tamen ille consul demum et in provincia et ad exercitum coepit furere; hic, priusquam peteret consulatum, deinde in petendo [consulatu], nunc quoque consul, priusquam castra 35 videat aut hostem, insanit. Et qui tantas jam nunc procellas proelia atque acies jactando inter togatos ciet, quid inter armatam juventutem censes facturum et ubi extemplo res verba sequitur? Atqui si hic, quod facturum se denuntiat, extemplo pugnaverit, aut ego rem militarem, belli hoc genus, hostem hunc ignoro, aut nobilior alius Trasumeno locus nostris cladibus erit. Nec gloriandi tempus adversus unum est, et ego contemnendo potius quam adpetendo gloriam modum excesserim; sed ita res se habet: una ratio belli gerendi adversus Hannibalem est, qua ego gessi. Nec eventus modo hoc docet (stultorum iste magister est), sed eadem ratio, quae fuit futuraque, donec res eadem manebunt, immutabilis est. In Italia bellum gerimus, in sede ac solo nostro; omnia circa plena civium ac sociorum sunt; armis, viris, equis, commeatibus juvant juvabuntque: id jam fidei documentum in adversis rebus nostris dederunt: meliores, prudentiores, constantiores nos tempus diesque facit. Hannibal contra in aliena, in hostili est terra, inter omnia inimica infestaque, procul ab domo, ab patria; neque illi terra neque mari est pax; nullae eum urbes accipiunt, nulla moenia; nihil usquam sui videt; in diem rapto vivit; partem vix tertiam exercitus ejus habet, quem Hiberum amnem trajecit; plures fame quam ferro absumpti; nec his paucis jam victus suppeditat. Dubitas ergo, quin sedendo superaturi simus eum, qui senescat in dies, non commeatus, non supplementum, non pecuniam habeat? Quam diu pro Gereonii, castelli Apuliae inopis, tamquam pro Carthaginis moenibus sedet! Sed ne adversus te quidem de me gloriabor. Cn. Servilius atque Atilius, proximi consules, vide, quem ad modum eum ludificati sint. Haec una salutis est via, L. Paule, quam difficilem infestamque cives tibi magis quam hostes facient. Idem enim tui quod hostium milites volent; idem Varro consul Romanus quod Hannibal Poenus imperator cupiet. Duobus ducibus unus resistas oportet. Resistes autem, si adversus famam rumoresque hominum satis firmus steteris, si te neque collegae vana gloria neque tua falsa infamia moverit. Veritatem laborare nimis saepe aiunt, extinguere numquam. Gloriam qui spreverit, veram habebit. Sine, timidum pro cauto, tardum pro considerato, inbellem pro perito belli vocent. Malo te sapiens hostis metuat, quam stulti cives laudent. Omnia audentem contemnet Hannibal, nihil temere agentem metuet. Nec ego, ut nihil agatur, 5 suadeo, sed ut agentem te ratio ducat, non fortuna; tuae potestatis semper tu tuaque omnia sint; armatus intentusque sis; neque occasione tuae desis, neque suam occasionem hosti des. Omnia non properanti clara certaue erunt; festinatio inprovida est et 10 caeca."

XL. Adversus ea oratio consulis haud sane laeta fuit, magis fatentis ea quae diceret vera quam facilia factu esse. 'Dictatori magistrum equitum intolerabilem fuisse; quid consuli adversus conlegam seditionis ac temerarium virium atque auctoritatis fore? 15 Se populare incendium priore consulatu semustum effugisse; optare, ut omnia prospere evenirent; set si quid adversi caderet, hostium se telis potius quam suffragiis iratorum civium caput objecturum.'

Ut in castra venerunt, permixto novo exercitu ac 25 vetere, castris bifariam factis, ut nova minora essent propius Hannibalem, in veteribus major pars et omne robur virium esset, consulum anni prioris M. Atilium, aetatem excusantem, Romam miserunt, Geminum Servilium in minoribus castris legioni Romanae et 30 socium peditum equitumque duobus milibus praeficiunt.

Hannibal quamquam parte dimidia auctas hostium copias cernebat, tamen adventu consulum mire gaudere. Non solum enim nihil ex raptis in diem com- 35 meatibus superabat, sed ne unde raperet quidem quicquam reliqui erat, omni undique frumento, postquam ager parum tutus erat, in urbes munitas convecto, ut vix decem dierum, quod conpertum postea est, frumentum superesset, Hispanorumque ob inopiam transitio parata fuerit, si maturitas temporum expectata foret.

XLI. Ceterum temeritati consulis ac praepropero ingenio materiam etiam fortuna dedit, quod in prohibendis praedatoribus tumultuario proelio ac pro- 5 cursu magis militum quam ex praeparato aut jussu imperatorum orto haudquaquam par Poenis dimicatio fuit. Ad mille et septingenti caesi, non plus centum Romanorum sociorumque occisis. Ceterum victoribus, effuse sequentibus metu insidiarum, ob- 10 stitit Paulus consul, cujus eo die (nam alternis imperitabant) imperium erat, Varrone indignante ac vociferante, 'emissum hostem e manibus debellarique, ni cessatum foret, potuisse.' Hannibal id damnum haud aegerrime pati; quin potius credere velut in- 15 escatam temeritatem ferocioris consulis ac novorum maxime militum esse. Et omnia ei hostium haud secus quam sua nota'erant: dissimiles discordesque imperitare, duas prope partes tironum militum in exercitu esse. Itaque locum et tempus insidiis aptum 20 se habere ratus, nocte proxima, nihil praeter arma ferente secum milite, castra plena omnis fortunae publicae privataeque relinquit, transque proximos montis laeva pedites instructos condit, dextra equites, impedimenta per convallem mediam traducit, ut diri- 25 piendis velut desertis fuga dominorum castris occupatum ineditumque hostem opprimeret. Crebri relictis in castris ignes, ut fides fieret, dum ipse longius spatium fuga praeciperet, falsa imagine castrorum, sicut Fabium priore anno frustratus esset, tenere in 30 locis consules voluisse.

XLII. Ubi inluxit, subductae primo stationes, deinde propius adeuntibus insolitum silentium admirationem fecit. Jam satis conperta solitudine in castris, concursus fit ad praetoria consulum nuntiantium 35 fugam hostium adeo trepidam, ut tabernaculis stantibus castra reliquerint, quoque fuga obscurior esset, crebros etiam relictos ignis. Clamor inde ortus, ut signa proferri juberent ducerentque ad persequendos hostis ac protinus castra diripienda. Et consul alter velut unus turbæ militaris erat; Paulus etiam atque etiam dicere, providendum præcavendumque esse; postremo, cum aliter neque seditionem neque ducem

 5 seditionis sustinere posset, Marium Statilium præfectum cum turma Lucana exploratum mittit. Qui ubi adequitavit portis, subsistere extra munimenta ceteris jussis, ipse cum duobus equitibus vallum intravit, speculatusque omnia cum cura renuntiat, in-
 10 sidias profecto esse; ignes in parte castrorum, quæ vergat ad hostem, relictos; tabernacula aperta et omnia cara in promptu relicta; argentum quibusdam locis temere per vias velut objectum ad prædam vidisse. Quæ ad deterrendos a cupiditate animos
 15 nuntiata erant, ea accenderunt, et clamore orto a militibus, ni signum detur, sine ducibus ituros, haudquaquam dux defuit; nam extemplo Varro signum dedit proficiscendi. Paulus, cum ei sua sponte cunctanti pulli quoque auspicio non addixissent, nuntiar
 20 jam efferenti porta signa conlegae jussit. Quod quamquam Varro aegre est passus, Flamini tamen recens casus Claudique consulis primo Punico bello memorata navalis clades religionem animo incussit. Di prope ipsi eo die magis distulere quam prohibuere
 25 imminentem pestem Romanis; nam forte ita evenit, ut, cum referri signa in castra jubenti consuli milites non parerent, servi duo, Formiani unus, alter Sidicini equitis, qui Servilio atque Atilio consulibus inter pabulatores excepti a Numidis fuerant, profugerent
 30 eo die ad dominos; deductique ad consules nuntiant, omnem exercitum Hannibalis trans proximos montes sedere in insidiis. Horum opportunus adventus consules imperi potentes fecit, cum ambitio alterius suam primum apud eos prava indulgentia majes-35 tatem solvisset.

XLIII. Hannibal postquam motos magis inconsulte Romanos quam ad ultimum temere evectos vidit, nequiquam detecta fraude in castra rediit. Ibi plures dies propter inopiam frumenti manere nequit, novaque consilia in dies, non apud milites solum mixtos ex conluvione omnium gentium, sed etiam apud ducem ipsum, oriebantur. Nam cum initio fremitus, deinde aperta vociferatio fuisset exposcentium stipendium debitum querentiumque annonam 5 primo, postremo famem, et mercennarios milites, maxime Hispani generis, de transitione cepisse consilium fama esset, ipse etiam interdum Hannibal de fuga in Galliam dicitur agitasse, ita ut relicto pediatu omni cum equitibus se proriperet. Cum haec 10 consilia atque hic habitus animorum esset in castris, movere inde statuit in calidiora atque eo maturiora messibus Apuliae loca, simul ut, quo longius ab hoste recessisset, transfugia inpeditoria levibus ingeniis essent. Profectus est nocte, ignibus similiter 15 factis tabernaculisque paucis in speciem relictis, ut insidiarum par priori metus contineret Romanos. Sed per eundem Lucanum Statilium omnibus ultra castra transque montis exploratis, cum relatum esset, visum procul hostium agmen, tum de insequendo eo 20 consilia agitari coepta.

Cum utriusque consulis eadem quae ante semper fuisset sententia, ceterum Varroni fere omnes, Paulo nemo praeter Servilium, prioris anni consulem, adsentiretur, majoris partis sententia ad nobilitandas 25 clade Romana Cannas urgente fato profecti sunt. Prope eum vicum Hannibal castra posuerat aversa a Volturmo vento, qui campis torridis siccitate nubes pulveris vehit. Id cum ipsis castris percommodum fuit, tum salutare praecepit futurum erat, cum aciem 30 dirigerent, ipsi aversi, terga tantum adflante vento, in occaecatum pulvere offuso hostem pugnaturi.

XLIV. Consules, satis exploratis itineribus, sequentis Poenum, ut ventum ad Cannas est et in conspectu Poenum habebant, bina castra communiunt, 35 eodem ferme intervallo quo ad Gereonium, sicut ante, copiis divisis. Aufidus amnis, utrisque castris adfluens, aditum aquatoribus ex sua cujusque opportunitate haud sine certamine dabat; ex minoribus tamen castris, quae posita trans Aufidum erant, liberius aquabantur Romani, quia ripa ulterior nullum habebat hostium praesidium. Hannibal spem nanctus, locis natis ad equestrem pugnam, qua parte

5 virium invictus erat, facturos copiam pugnandi consules, derigit aciem lacessitque Numidarum procurratione hostis. Inde rursus sollicitari seditione militari ac discordia consulum Romana castra, cum Paulus Semproniique et Flamini temeritatem Var-
10 roni, Varro speciosum timidis ac segnibus ducibus exemplum Fabium obiceret, testareturque deos hominesque hic, 'nullam penes se culpam esse, quod Hannibal jam velut usu cepisset Italiam; se constrictum a conlega teneri; ferrum atque arma iratis et pugnare
15 cupientibus adimi militibus;' ille, 'si quid projectis ac proditis ad inconsultam atque improvidam pugnam legionibus accideret, se omnis culpae exsortem, omnis eventus participem fore,' diceret; 'videret ut, quibus lingua tam prompta ac temeraria, aequae in pugna
20 vigerent manus.'

XLV. Dum altercationibus magis quam consiliis tempus teritur, Hannibal ex acie, quam ad multum diei tenuerat instructam, cum in castra ceteras reciperet copias, Numidas ad invadendos ex minoribus 25 castris Romanorum aquatores trans flumen mittit. Quam inconditam turbam cum vixdum in ripam egressi clamore ac tumultu fugassent, in stationem quoque pro vallo locatam atque ipsas prope portas evecti sunt. Id vero indignum visum, ab tumultuario auxilio jam etiam castra Romana terri, ut
30 ea modo una causa, ne extemplo transirent flumen derigerentque aciem, tenuerit Romanos, quod summa imperii eo die penes Paulum fuerit. Itaque postero die Varro, cui sors ejus diei imperii erat, nihil con-
35 sulto conlega signum proposuit instructasque copias flumen traduxit, sequente Paulo, quia magis non probare quam non adjuvare consilium poterat. Transgressi flumen eas quoque, quas in castris minoribus habuerant, copias suis adjungunt atque ita instruunt aciem : in dextro cornu (id erat flumini propius) Romanos equites locant, deinde pedites ; laevum cornu extremi equites sociorum, intra pedites, ad medium juncti legionibus Romanis, tenuerunt ; jaculatores cum ceteris levium armorum auxiliis prima acies 5 facta. Consules cornua tenuerunt, Terentius laevum, Aemilius dextrum, Geminio Servilio media pugna tuenda data.

XLVI. Hannibal luce prima, Baliaribus levique alia armatura praemissa, transgressus flumen, ut 10 quosque traduxerat, ita in acie locabat, Gallos Hispanosque equites prope ripam laevo in cornu adversus Romanum equitatum ; dextrum cornu Numidis equitibus datum, media acie peditibus firmata, ita ut Afrorum utraque cornua essent, interponerentur his 15 medii Galli atque Hispani. Afros Romanam magna ex parte crederes aciem ; ita armati erant, armis et ad Trebiam ceterum magna ex parte ad Trasumenum captis. Gallis Hispanisque scuta ejusdem formae fere erant, dispaes ac dissimiles gladii, Gallis prae- 20 longi ac sine mucronibus, Hispano, punctim magis quam caesim adsueto petere hostem, brevitate habiles et cum mucronibus. Ante alios habitus gentium harum cum magnitudine corporum tum specie terribilis erat : Galli super umbilicum erant nudi ; 25 Hispani linteis praetextis purpura tunicis, candore miro fulgentibus, constiterant. Numerus omnium peditum, qui tum steterunt in acie, milium fuit quadraginta, decem equitum. Duces cornibus praeerant : sinistro Hasdrubal, dextro Maharbal ; mediam aciem 30 Hannibal ipse cum fratre Magone tenuit. Sol, seu de industria ita locatis, seu quod forte ita stetere, peropportune utrique parti obliquus erat, Romanis in meridiem, Poenis in septentrionem versis ; ventus (Voluturnum regionis incolae vocant) adversus Ro- 35 manis coortus multo pulvere in ipsa ora volvendo prospectum ademit.

equitum Gallorum Hispanorumque laevum cornu cum dextro Romano concurret, minime equestri more pugnae; frontibus enim adversis concurrendum erat, quia, nullo circa ad evagandum relicto spatio, 5 hinc amnis, hinc peditum acies claudebant. In directum utrimque nitentes, stantibus ac confertis postremo turba equis, vir virum amplexus detrahebat equo. Pedestre magna jam ex parte certamen factum erat; acrius tamen quam diutius pugnatum 10 est, pulsique Romani equites terga vertunt. Sub equestri finem certaminis coorta est peditum pugna, primo et viribus et animis par, dum constabant ordines Gallis Hispanisque; tandem Romani, diu ac saepe conisi, obliqua fronte acieque densa inpulere 15 hostium cuneum nimis tenuem eoque parum validum, a cetera prominentem acie. Impulsis deinde ac trepide referentibus pedem institere, ac tenore uno per praeceps pavore fugientium agmen in mediam primum aciem inlati, postremo nullo resistente ad 20 subsidia Afrorum pervenerunt, qui utrimque reductis alis constiterant, media, qua Galli Hispanique steterant, aliquantum prominente acie. Qui cuneus ut pulsus aequavit frontem primum, dein cedendo etiam sinum in medio dedit, Afri circa jam cornua fecerant, 25 inruentibusque incaute in medium Romanis circumdedere alas; mox cornua extendendo clausere et ab tergo hostis. Hinc Romani, defuncti nequiquam proelio uno, omissis Gallis Hispanisque, quorum terga ceciderant, adversus Afros integram pugnam 30 ineunt, non tantum eo iniquam, quod inclusi adversus circumfusos, sed etiam quod fessi cum recentibus ac vegetis pugnabant.

XLVIII. Jam et sinistro cornu Romano, ubi sociorum equites adversus Numidas steterant, conser- 35 tum proelium erat, segne primo et a Punica coeptum fraude. Quingenti ferme Numidae, praeter solita arma telaque gladios occultos sub loricis habentes, specie transfugarum cum ab suis parmas post terga habentes adequitassent, repente ex equis desiliunt, parmisque et jaculis ante pedes hostium projectis, in mediam aciem accepti ductique ad ultimos considerare ab tergo jubentur. Ac dum proelium ab omni parte conseritur, quieti manserunt; postquam omnium animos oculosque occupaverat certamen, tum arreptis 5. scutis, quae passim inter acervos caesorum corporum strata erant, aversam adoriuntur Romanam aciem, tergaque ferientes ac poplites caedentes stragem ingentem ac maiorem aliquanto pavorem ac tumultum fecerunt. Cum alibi terror ac fuga, alibi pertinax in 10 mala jam spe proelium esset, Hasdrubal, qui ea parte praeerat, subductos ex media acie Numidas, quia segnis eorum cum adversis pugna erat, ad persequendos passim fugientis mittit, Hispanos et Gallos equites Afris prope jam fessis caede magis quam pugna 15 adjungit.

XLIX. Parte altera pugnae Paulus, quamquam primo statim proelio funda graviter ictus fuerat, tamen et occurrit saepe cum confertis Hannibali et aliquot locis proelium restituit, protegentibus eum 20 equitibus Romanis, omissis postremo equis, quia consulem et ad regendum equum vires deficiebant. Tum renuntianti cuidam, jussisse consulem ad pedes descendere equites, dixisse Hannibalem ferunt "quam mallem, vinctos mihi traderet!" Equitum pedestre 25 proelium, quale jam haud dubia hostium victoria, fuit, cum victi mori in vestigio mallent quam fugere, victores, morantibus victoriam irati, trucidarent quos pellere non poterant. Pepulerunt tamen jam paucos superantis et labore ac vulneribus fessos. Inde dis- 30 sipati omnes sunt, equosque ad fugam qui poterant repetebant. Cn. Lentulus tribunus militum cum praetervehens equo sedentem in saxo cruore oppletum consulem vidisset, "L. Aemili," inquit, "quem unum insontem culpae cladis hodiernae dei respicere 35 debent, cape hunc equum! dum et tibi virium aliquid superest, et comes ego te tollere possum ac protegere. Ne funestam hanc pugnam morte consulis feceris; etiam sine hoc lacrimarum satis luctusque

- est." Ad ea consul: "tu quidem, Cn. Corneli, macta virtute esto! sed cave frustra miserando exiguum tempus e manibus hostium evadendi absumas. Abi, nuntia publice patribus, urbem Romanam muniant, 5 ac, priusquam hostis victor advenit, praesidiis firmement; privatim Q. Fabio, L. Aemilium praeceptorum ejus memorem et vixisse adhuc et mori. Me in hac strage militum meorum patere expirare, ne aut reus iterum e consulatu sim aut accusator con-
- 10 legae existam, ut alieno crimine innocentiam meam protegam." Haec eos agentis prius turba fugientium civium, deinde hostes oppressere; consulem, ignorantes quis esset, obruerunt telis, Lentulum inter tumultum abripuit equus.
- 15 Tum undique effuse fugiunt. Septem milia hominum in minora castra, decem in majora, duo ferme in vicum ipsum Cannas perfugerunt, qui extemplo a Carthalone atque equitibus, nullo munimento tegente vicum, circumventi sunt. Consul alter, seu forte seu
- 20 consilio, nulli fugientium insertus agmini, cum quinquaginta fere equitibus Venusiam perfugit. Quadraginta quinque milia quingenti pedites, duo milia septingenti equites, et tanta prope civium quanta sociorum pars, caesi dicuntur; in his ambo consulum
- 25 quaestores, L. Atilius et L. Furius Bibaculus, et undetriginta tribuni militum, consulares quidam praetorique et aedilicii (inter eos Cn. Servilium Geminum et M. Minucium numerant, qui magister equitum priore anno, aliquot annis ante consul
- 30 fuerat), octoginta praeterea aut senatores aut qui eos magistratus gessissent unde in senatum legi deberent, cum sua voluntate milites in legionibus facti essent. Capta eo proelio tria milia peditum et equites mille et quingenti dicuntur.
- 35 L. Haec est pugna Cannensis, Aliensi cladi nobilitate par, ceterum ut illis, quae post pugnam accidere, levior, quia ab hoste est cessatum, sic strage exercitus gravior foediorque. Fuga namque ad Aliam sicut urbem prodidit, ita exercitum servavit;

ad Cannas fugientem consulem vix quinquaginta secuti sunt, alterius morientis prope totus exercitus fuit.

Binis in castris cum multitudo semiermis sine ducibus esset, nuntium qui in majoribus erant mittunt, 'dum proelio, deinde ex laetitia epulis fatigatos quies nocturna hostes premeret, ut ad se transirent: uno agmine Canusium abituros esse.' Eam sententiam alii totam aspernari: 'cur enim illos, qui se arcessant, ipsos non venire, cum aequae conjungi possent? quia videlicet plena hostium omnia in medio essent, et aliorum quam sua corpora tanto periculo mallent obicere.' Aliis non tam sententia displicere quam animus deesse.

P. Sempronius Tuditanus tribunus militum "capi ergo mavultis" inquit "ab avarissimo et crudelissimo hoste, aestimarique capita vestra et exquiri pretia ab interrogantibus, Romanus civis sis an Latinus socius, ut ex tua contumelia et miseria alteri honos quaeratur? Non tu, si quidem L. Aemili consulis, qui se bene mori quam turpiter vivere maluit, et tot fortissimorum virorum, qui circa eum cumulati jacent, cives estis. Sed antequam opprimit lux majoraque hostium agmina obsaepiunt iter, per hos, qui inordinati atque inconpositi obstrepunt portis, erumpamus. Ferro atque audacia via fit quamvis per confertos hostis. Cuneo quidem hoc laxum atque solutum agmen, ut si nihil obstet, disicias. Itaque ite mecum, qui et vosmet ipsos et rem publicam salvam vultis."

Haec ubi dicta dedit, stringit gladium, cuneoque facto per medios vadit hostis; et cum in latus dextrum, quod patebat, Numidae jacularentur, translatis in dextrum scutis, in majora castra ad sexcentos evaserunt, atque inde protinus, alio magno agmine adjuncto, Canusium incolumes perveniunt. Haec apud victos magis impetu animorum, quem ingenium suum cuique aut fors dabat, quam ex consilio ipsorum aut imperio cujusquam agebantur,

- LI. Hannibali victori cum ceteri circumfusi gratularentur suaderentque, ut, tanto perfunctus bello, diei quod relicum esset noctisque insequentis quietem et ipse sibi sumeret et fessis daret militibus,
- 5 Maharbal, praefectus equitum, minime cessandum ratus, "immo, ut, quid hac pugna sit actum, scias, die quinto" inquit "victor in Capitolio epulaberis. Sequere; cum equite, ut prius venisse quam venturum sciant, praecedam." Hannibali nimis laeta
- 10 res est visa majorque quam ut eam statim capere animo posset. Itaque voluntatem se laudare Maharbalis ait; ad consilium pensandum temporis opus esse. Tum Maharbal: "non omnia nimirum eidem dii dedere. Vincere scis, Hannibal; victoria uti
- 15 nescis." Mora ejus diei satis creditur saluti fuisse urbi atque imperio.

- Postero die, ubi primum inluxit, ad spolia legenda foedamque etiam hostibus spectandam stragem exeunt. Jacobant tot Romanorum milia, pedites pas-
- 20 sim equitesque, ut quem cuique fors aut pugna junxerat aut fuga; adsurgentis quidam ex strage media cruenti, quos stricta matutino frigore excitaverant vulnera, ab hoste oppressi sunt; quosdam et jacentis vivos succisis feminibus poplitibusque in-
- 25 venerunt, nudantis cervicem jugulumque et reliquum sanguinem jubentes haurire; inventi quidam sunt mersis in effossam terram capitibus, quos sibi ipsos fecisse foveas obruentisque ora superjecta humo interclusisse spiritum apparebat. Praecipue convertit
- 30 omnes subtractus Numida mortuo superincubanti Romano vivus, naso auribusque laceratis, cum, manibus ad capiendum telum inutilibus, in rabiem ira versa, laniando dentibus hostem expirasset.

- LII. Spoliis ad multum diei lectis, Hannibal ad
- 35 minora ducit castra oppugnanda, et omnium primum brachio objecto flumine eos excludit; ceterum ab omnibus labore, vigiliis, vulneribus etiam fessis maturior ipsius spe deditio est facta. Pacti ut arma atque equos traderent, in capita Romana trecentis nummis quadrigatis, in socios ducenis, in servos centenis, et ut eo pretio persoluto cum singulis abirent vestimentis, in castra hostis acceperunt; traditique in custodiam omnes sunt, seorsum cives sociique. Dum ibi tempus teritur, interea cum ex majoribus 5 castris, quibus satis virium et animi fuit, ad quattuor milia hominum et ducenti equites, alii agmine, alii palati passim per agros, quod haud minus tutum erat, Canusium perfugissent, castra ipsa ab sauciis timidisque eadem condicione qua altera tradita hosti. 10 Praeda ingens parta est; et praeter equos virosque et si quid argenti (quod plurimum in phaleris equorum erat; nam ad vescendum facto perexiguo, utique militantes, utebantur) omnis cetera praeda diripienda data est. Tum sepeliendi causa conferri in unum 15 corpora suorum jussit; ad octo milia fuisse dicuntur fortissimorum virorum. Consulem quoque Romanum conquisitum sepultumque quidam auctores sunt.

Eos, qui Canusium perfugerant, mulier Apula nomine Busa, genere clara ac divitiis, moenibus tantum tectisque a Canusinis acceptos, frumento, veste, viatico etiam jovit; pro qua ei munificentia postea, bello perfecto, ab senatu honores habiti sunt.

LIII. Ceterum cum ibi tribuni militum quattuor 25 essent, Fabius Maximus de legione prima, cujus pater priore anno dictator fuerat, et de legione secunda L. Publicius Bibulus et P. Cornelius Scipio, et de legione tertia Ap. Claudius Pulcher, qui proxime aedilis fuerat, omnium consensu ad P. Scipionem admodum 30 adulescentem et ad Ap. Claudium summa imperi delata est.

Quibus consultantibus inter paucos de summa rerum nuntiat P. Furius Philus, consularis viri filius, 'nequiquam eos perditam spem fovere; desperatam 35 conploratamque rem esse publicam: nobiles juvenes quosdam, quorum principem L. Caecilium Metellum, mare ac naves spectare, ut deserta Italia ad regum aliquem transfugiant.' Quod malum, praeterquam

- atrox, super tot clades etiam novum, cum stupore ac miraculo torpidos defixisset qui aderant, et consilium advocandum de eo censerent, negat consili rem esse Scipio juvenis, fatalis dux hujusce belli. 'Audendum atque agendum, non consultandum' ait 'in tanto malo esse. Irent secum extemplo armati, qui rem publicam salvam vellent; nulla verius, quam ubi ea cogitentur, hostium castra esse.' Pergit ire sequentibus paucis in hospitium Metelli, et, cum consilium ibi juvenum, de quibus adlatum erat, invenisset, stricto super capita consultantium gladio, "ex mei animi sententia" inquit "ut ego rem publicam populi Romani non deseram, neque alium civem Romanum deserere patiar; si sciens fallo, tum me Jupiter optime maxime, domum, familiam, remque meam pessimo leto adficias. In haec verba, L. Caecili, jures postulo, ceterique qui adestis. Qui non juraverit, in se hunc gladium strictum esse sciat." Haud secus pavidi, quam si victorem Hannibalem cernerent, jurant omnes, custodiendosque semet ipsos Scipioni tradunt.

- LIV. Eo tempore quo haec Canusii agebantur, Venusiam ad consulem ad quattuor milia et quingenti pedites equitesque, qui sparsi fuga per agros fuerant, pervenere. Eos omnes Venusini per familias benigne accipiendos curandosque cum divisissent, in singulos equites togas et tunicas et quadrigatos nummos quinos vicanos, et pediti denos, et arma, quibus deerant, dederunt, ceteraque publice ac privatim hospitaliter facta, certatumque, ne a muliere Canusina populus Venusinus officiis vinceretur. Sed gravius onus Busae multitudo faciebat; et jam ad decem milia hominum erant, Appiusque et Scipio, postquam incolumem esse alterum consulem acceperunt, nuntium extemplo mittunt, quantae secum peditum equitumque copiae essent, sciscitatumque simul, utrum Venusiam adduci exercitum an manere juberet Canusi. Varro ipse Canusium copias traduxit; et jam aliqua species consularis exercitus erat, moenibusque se certe, si non armis, ab hoste videbantur defensuri.

Romam ne has quidem reliquias superesse civium sociorumque, sed occidione occisum cum duobus consulibus exercitum deletasque omnes copias adlatum fuerat. Numquam salva urbe tantum pavoris tumultusque intra moenia Romana fuit. Itaque succumbam oneri, neque adgrediar narrare quae edisserendo minora vero faciam. Consule exercituque ad Trasumenum priore anno amisso, non vulnus super vulnus, sed multiplex clades, cum duobus consulibus duo consulares exercitus amissi nuntiabantur, nec ulla jam castra Romana nec ducem nec militem esse; Hannibalis Apuliam, Samnium, ac jam prope totam Italiam factam. Nulla profecto alia gens tanta mole cladis non obruta esset. Compares cladem ad Aegatis insulas Carthaginensium proelio navali acceptam, qua fracti Sicilia ac Sardinia cessere et vectigalis ac stipendiarios fieri se passi sunt, aut pugnam adversam in Africa, cui postea hic ipse Hannibal succubuit: nulla ex parte comparandae sunt, nisi quod minore animo latae sunt.

LV. P. Furius Philus et M. Pomponius praetores senatum in curiam Hostiliam vocaverunt, ut de urbis custodia consulerent; neque enim dubitabant, deletis exercitibus, hostem ad oppugnandam Romam, quod unum opus belli restaret, venturum. Cum in malis sicuti ingentibus, ita ignotis, ne consilium quidem satis expedirent, obstreperetque clamor lamentantium mulierum, et, nondum palam facto, vivi mortuique per omnes paene domos promiscue conplorarentur, tum Q. Fabius Maximus censuit 'equites expeditos et Appia et Latina via mittendos, qui obvios percunctando (aliquos profecto ex fuga passim dissipatos fore) referant, quae fortuna consulum atque exercituum sit, et, si quid dii immortales, miseriti imperi, reliquum Romani nominis fecerint, ubi eae copiae sint; quo se Hannibal post proelium contulerit, quid paret, quid agat acturusque sit. Haec exploranda noscendaque per inpigros juvenes esse; illud per patrea ipsos agendum, quoniam magistratum parum sit, ut tumultum ac trepidationem in urbe tollant, matronas publico arceant continerique intra suum

 5 quamque limen cogant, conploratus familiarum coerceant, silentium per urbem faciant, nuntios rerum omnium ad praetores deducendos curent, suae quisque fortunae domi auctorem expectent, custodesque praeterea ad portas ponant, qui prohibeant
 10 quemquam egredi urbem, cogantque homines nullam nisi urbe ac moenibus salvis salutem sperare. Ubi conticuerit tumultus, tum in curiam patres revocandos consulendumque de urbis custodia esse.'

LVI. Cum in hanc sententiam pedibus omnes
 15 issent, summotaque foro per magistratus turba, patres diversi ad sedandos tumultus discessissent, tum demum litterae a C. Terentio consule allatae sunt: 'L. Aemilium consulem exercitumque caesum; sese Canusii esse, reliquias tantae cladis velut ex
 20 naufragio colligentem; ad decem milia militum ferme esse inconpositorum inordinatorumque; Poenum sedere ad Cannas, in captivorum pretiis praedaque alia nec victoris animo nec magni ducis more nundinantem.' Tum privatae quoque per domos
 25 clades vulgatae sunt, adeoque totam urbem oplevit luctus, ut sacrum anniversarium Cereris intermissum sit, quia nec lugentibus id facere est fas nec ulla in illa tempestate matrona expers luctus fuerat. Itaque ne ob eandem causam alia quoque sacra publica aut 30 privata desererentur, senatus consulto diebus triginta luctus est finitus.

Ceterum cum, sedato urbis tumultu, revocati in curiam patres essent, aliae insuper ex Sicilia litterae adlatae sunt ab T. Otacilio propraetore, 'regnum
 35 Hieronis classe Punica vastari; cui cum opem imploranti ferre vellet, nuntiatum sibi esse aliam classem ad Aegatis insulas stare paratam instructamque, ut, ubi se versum ad tuendam Syracusanam oram Poeni sensissent, Lilybaeum extemplo provinciamque aliam

Romanam adgrederentur; itaque classe opus esse, si regem socium Siciliamque tueri vellent.'

LVII. Litteris consulis praetorisque lectis, censuerunt praetorem M. Claudium, qui classi ad Ostiam stanti praeesset, Canusium ad exercitum mittendum, scribendumque consuli, ut, cum praetori exercitum tradidisset, primo quoque tempore, quantum per commodum rei publicae fieri posset, Romam veniret. Territi etiam super tantas clades cum ceteris prodigiis, tum quod duae Vestales eo anno, 10 Opimia atque Flornia, stupri conperta, et altera sub terra, uti mos est, ad portam Collinam necata fuerat, altera sibimet ipsa mortem consciverat; L. Cantilius scriba pontificius, quos nunc minores pontifices adpellant, qui cum Flornia stuprum fecerat, a 15 pontifice maximo eo usque virgis in comitio caesus erat, ut inter verbera expiraret. Hoc nefas cum inter tot, ut fit, clades in prodigium versum esset, decemviri libros adire jussi sunt, et Q. Fabius Pictor Delphos ad oraculum missus est sciscitatum, quibus 20 precibus supplicisque deos possent placare, et quanam futura finis tantis cladibus foret. Interim ex fatalibus libris sacrificia aliquot extraordinaria facta; inter quae Gallus et Galla, Graecus et Graeca in foro bovario sub terram vivi demissi sunt in locum saxo 25 consaeptum, jam ante hostiis humanis, minime Romano sacro, inbutum.

Placatis satis, ut rebantur, deis, M. Claudius Marcellus ab Ostia mille et quingentos milites, quos in classem scriptos habebat, Romam, ut urbi praesidio 30 essent, mittit; ipse, legione classica (ea legio tertia erat) cum tribunis militum Teanum Sidicinum praemissa, classe tradita P. Furio Philo conlegae, paucos post dies Canusium magnis itineribus contendit.

Inde dictator ex auctoritate patrum dictus M. 35 Junius et Ti. Sempronius magister equitum, dilectu edicto, junioris ab annis septemdecim et quosdam praetextatos scribunt; quattuor ex his legiones et mille equites effecti. Item ad socios Latinumque

- nomen ad milites ex formula accipiendos mittunt. Arma, tela, alia parari jubent et vetera spolia hostium detrahunt templis porticibusque. Et aliam formam novi dilectus inopia liberorum capitum ac 5 necessitas dedit; octo milia juvenum validorum ex servitiis prius sciscitantes singulos, vellente militare, empta publice armaverunt. Hic miles magis placuit, cum pretio minore redimendi captivos copia fieret.
- 10 LVIII. Namque Hannibal secundum tam prosperam ad Cannas pugnam victoris magis quam bellum gerentis intentus curis, cum, captivis productis segregatisque, socios, sicut ante ad Trebiam Trasumenumque lacum, benigne adlocutus sine pretio dimis-15 sisset, Romanos quoque vocatos, quod numquam alias antea, satis miti sermone adloquitur: 'non internecivum sibi esse cum Romanis bellum; de dignitate atque imperio certare. Et patres virtuti Romanae cessisse et se id adniti, ut suae in vicem simul felici-
 20 tati et virtuti cedatur. Itaque redimendi se captivis copiam facere; pretium fore in capita equiti quingenos quadrigatos nummos, trecenos pediti, servo centenos.' Quamquam aliquantum adiciebatur equitibus ad id pretium, quo pepigerant dedentes se, laeti
 25 tamen quamcumque condicionem paciscendi acceperunt. Placuit suffragio ipsorum decem deligi, qui Romam ad senatum irent, nec pignus aliud fidei quam ut jurarent se redituros acceptum. Missus cum his Carthalo, nobilis Carthaginien-
 30 sis, forte ad pacem inclinaret animus, condiciones ferret. Cum egressi castris essent, unus ex iis, minime Romani ingeni homo, veluti aliquid oblitus, juris jurandi solvendi causa cum in castra redisset, ante noctem comites adsequitur. Ubi Romam venire eos nuntiatum est, Carthali obvi-
 35 am lictor missus, qui dictatoris verbis nuntiaret, ut ante noctem excederet finibus Romanis.

LIX. Legatis captivorum senatus ab dictatore datus est, quorum princeps M. Junius "patres conscripti," inquit, "nemo nostrum ignorat, nulli umquam civitati viliores fuisse captivos quam nostrae; ceterum, nisi nobis plus justo nostra placet causa, non alii umquam minus neglegendi vobis quam nos in hostium potestatem venerunt. Non enim in acie per timorem arma tradidimus, sed, cum prope ad noctem superstantes cumulis caesorum corporum proelium extraxissemus, in castra recepimus nos; diei reliquum ac noctem insequentem, fessi labore ac vulneribus, vallum sumus tutati; postero die, cum circumsessi ab exercitu victore aqua arceremur, nec ulla jam per confertos hostis erumpendi spes esset, nec esse nefas duceremus, quinquaginta milibus hominum ex acie nostra trucidatis, aliquem ex Cannensi pugna Romanum militem restare, tunc demum pacti sumus pretium quo redempti dimitteremur, arma, in quibus nihil jam auxili erat, hosti tradidimus. Majores quoque acceperamus se a Gallis auro redemisse, et patres vestros, asperrimos illos ad condiciones pacis, legatos tamen captivorum redimendorum gratia Tarentum misisse. Atqui et ad Aliam cum Gallis et ad Heracleam cum Pyrrho utraque non tam clade infamis quam pavore et fuga pugna fuit. Cannensis campos acervi Romanorum corporum tegunt, nec supersumus pugnae nisi in quibus trucidandis et ferum et vires hostem defecerunt. Sunt etiam de nostris quidam, qui ne in acie quidem fuerunt, sed praesidio castris relictis, cum castra traderentur, in potestatem hostium venerunt. Haud equidem ullius civis et commilitonis fortunae aut condicioni invideo, nec premendo alium me extulisse velim: ne illi quidem, nisi pernicitatis pedum et cursus aliquod praemium est, qui plerique inermes ex acie fugientes non prius quam Venusiae aut Canusi constiterunt, se nobis merito praetulerint gloriatique sint, in se plus quam in nobismet praesidii rei publicae esse. Sed et illis bonis ac fortibus militibus utemini et nobis etiam promptioribus pro patria, quod beneficio vestro redempti atque in patriam restituti fuerimus. Dilec-

- tum ex omni aetate et fortuna habetis; octo milia servorum audio armari. Non minor numerus noster est, nec maiore pretio redimi possumus quam ii emuntur; nam si conferam nos cum illis, injuriam nomini
 5 Romano faciam. Illud etiam in tali consilio animadvertendum vobis censeam, patres conscripti, si jam duriores esse velitis, quod nullo nostro merito faciatis, cui nos hosti relicturi sitis. Pyrrho videlicet, qui hospitum numero captivos habuit? An
 10 barbaro ac Poeno, qui utrum avarior an crudelior sit, vix existimari potest? Si videatis catenas, squalorem, deformitatem civium vestrorum, non minus profecto vos ea species moveat, quam si ex altera parte cernatis stratas Cannensibus campis legiones
 15 vestras. Intueri potestis sollicitudinem et lacrimas in vestibulo curiae stantium cognatorum nostrorum exspectantiumque responsum vestrum. Cum ii pro nobis proque iis qui absunt ita suspensi ac solliciti sint, quem censetis animum ipsorum esse, quorum in 20 discrimine vita libertasque est? Si, me dius fidius, ipse in nos mitis Hannibal contra naturam suam esse velit, nihil tamen nobis vita opus esse censeamus, cum indigni ut redimeremur [a] vobis visi simus. Rediere Romam quondam remissi a Pyrrho sine
 25 pretio capti; sed rediere cum legatis, primoribus civitatis, ad redimendos sese missis. Redeam ego in patriam trecentis nummis non aestimatus civis? Suum quisque habet animum, patres conscripti. Scio in discrimine esse vitam. corpusque meum;
 30 magis me famae periculum movet, ne a vobis damnati ac repulsi abeamus; neque enim vos pretio pepercisse homines credent."

- LX. Ubi is finem fecit, extemplo ab ea turba, quae in comitio erat, clamor flebilis est sublatus, 35 manusque ad curiam tendebant orantes, ut sibi liberos, fratres, cognatos redderent. Feminas quoque metus ac necessitas in foro turbae virorum immiscuebat. Senatus submotis arbitris consuli coeptus. Ibi cum sententiis variaretur, et alii redimendos de pu-blico, alii nullam publice inpensam faciendam nec prohibendos ex privato redimi; si quibus argentum in praesentia deesset, dandam ex aerario pecuniam mutuam praedibusque ac praediis cavendum populo censerent, tum T. Manlius Torquatus, priscae ac nimis durae, ut plerisque videbatur, severitatis, interrogatus sententiam ita locutus fertur:

“Si tantummodo postulassent legati pro iis, qui in hostium potestate sunt, ut redimerentur, sine ullius insectatione eorum brevi sententiam peregissem; quid enim aliud quam admonendi essetis, ut morem traditum a patribus necessario ad rem militarem exemplo servaretis? Nunc autem, cum prope gloriati sint, quod se hostibus dediderint, praeferrique non captis modo in acie ab hostibus, sed etiam iis, qui Venusiam Canusiumque pervenerunt, atque ipsi C. Terentio consuli aecum censuerint, nihil vos eorum, patres conscripti, quae illic acta sunt, ignorare patiar. Atque utinam haec, quae aput vos acturus sum, Canusi aput ipsum exercitum agerem, optimum testem ignaviae cujusque et virtutis, aut unus hic saltem adesset P. Sempronius, quem si isti ducem secuti essent, milites hodie in castris Romanis, non captivi in hostium potestate essent. Set cum, fessis pugnando hostibus, tum victoria laetis et ipsis ple- risque regressis in castra sua, noctem ad erumpendum liberam habuissent, et septem milia armatorum hominum erumpere etiam per confertos hostes pos- sent, neque per se ipsi id facere conati sunt neque alium sequi voluerunt. Nocte prope tota P. Sem- pronius Tuditanus non destitit monere, adhortari eos, dum paucitas hostium circa castra, dum quies ac silentium esset, dum nox inceptum tegere posset, se ducem sequerentur: ante lucem pervenire in tuta loca, in sociorum urbes posse. Si, ut avorum me- moria P. Decius tribunus militum in Samnio, si, ut nobis adolescentibus priore Punico bello Calpurnius Flamma trecentis voluntariis, cum ad tumulum eos capiendum situm inter medios duceret hostis, dixit “moriatur, milites, et morte nostra eripiamus ex

- obsidione circumventas legiones," si hoc P. Sempronius diceret, nec viros quisquam nec Romanos vos duceret, si nemo tantae virtutis extitisset comes. Viam non ad gloriam magis quam ad salutem ferentem demonstrat; reduces in patriam, ad parentis, ad conjuges ac liberos facit. Ut servemini, deest vobis animus: quid, si moriendum pro patria esset, faceretis? Quinquaginta milia civium sociorumque circa vos eo ipso die caesa jacent. Si tot exempla virtutis non movent, nihil umquam movebit; si tanta clades vilem vitam non fecit, nulla faciet. Liberi atque incolumes desiderate patriam! immo desiderate, dum patria est, dum cives ejus estis! sero nunc desideratis, deminuti capite, abalienato jure civium, servi Carthaginiensium facti. Pretio redituri estis eo, unde ignavia ac nequitia abistis? P. Sempronium civem vestrum non audistis arma capere ac sequi se jubentem; Hannibalem post paulo audistis castra prodi et arma tradi jubentem. Quamquam ego ignaviam istorum accuso, cum scelus possim accusare. Non modo enim sequi recusarunt bene monentem, sed obsistere ac retinere conati sunt, ni strictis gladiis viri fortissimi inertis submovissent. Prius, inquam, P. Sempronio per civium agmen quam per hostium fuit erumpendum. Hos cives patria desideret? quorum si ceteri similes fuissent, neminem hodie ex iis qui ad Cannas pugnaverunt civem haberet. Ex milibus septem armatorum sescenti extiterunt, qui erumpere auderent, qui in patriam liberi atque armati redirent, neque his sescentis hostes obstitere; quam tutum iter duarum prope legionum agmini futurum censetis fuisse? Haberetis hodie viginti milia armatorum Canusi fortia, fidelia, patres conscripti. Nunc autem quem ad modum hi boni fidelesque (nam "fortes" ne ipsi quidem dixerint) cives esse possunt? Nisi quis credere potest, aut favisse erumpentibus, qui, ne erumperent, obsistere conati sunt, aut non invidere eos cum incolumitati tum gloriae illorum per virtutem partae, cum sibi timorem.
- 10 ignaviamque servitutis ignominiosae causam esse sciunt. Maluerunt in tentoriis latentes simul lucem atque hostem expectare, cum silentio noctis erumpendi occasio esset. At ad erumpendum e castris defuit animus, ad tutanda fortiter castra animum habuerunt; dies noctesque aliquot obsessi vallum armis, se ipsi tutati vallo sunt; tandem ultima ausi passique, cum omnia subsidia vitae deessent adfectisque fame viribus arma jam sustinere nequirent, necessitatibus magis humanis quam armis victi sunt. Orto sole hostis ad vallum accessit; ante secundam horam, nullam fortunam certaminis experti, tradiderunt arma ac se ipsos. Haec vobis istorum per biduum militia fuit. Cum in acie stare ac pugnare decuerat, tum in castra refugerunt; cum pro vallo pugnandum erat, castra tradiderunt, neque in acie neque in castris utiles. Et vos redimam? Cum erumpere e castris oportet, cunctamini ac manetis; cum manere et castra tutari armis necesse est, et castra et arma et vos ipsos traditis hosti. Ego non magis istos redimendos, patres conscripti, censeo, quam illos dedendos Hannibali, qui per medios hostis e castris eruperunt ac per summam virtutem se patriae restituerunt."

LXI. Postquam Manlius dixit, quamquam patrum quoque plerosque captivi cognatione attingebant, praeter exemplum civitatis minime in captivos jam inde antiquitus indulgentis, pecuniae quoque summa homines movit, quia nec aerarium exhaurire, magna jam summa erogata in servos ad militiam emendos armandosque, nec Hannibalem, maxime hujusce rei (ut fama erat) egentem, locupletari volebant. Cum triste responsum, 'non redimi captivos,' redditum esset, novusque super veterem luctus tot jactura civium adjectus esset, cum magnis fletibus questibusque legatos ad portam persecuti sunt. Unus ex iis domum abiit, quod fallaci reditu in castra jure jurando se exsolvisset. Quod ubi innotuit relatumque ad senatum est, omnes censuerunt comprehendendum et custodibus publice datis deducendum ad Hannibalem esse.

Est et alia de captivis fama : decem primos venisse ; de eis cum dubitatum in senatu esset, admitterentur in urbem necne, ita admissos esse, ne tamen iis senatus daretur ; morantibus deinde longius omnium spe,
5 alios tris insuper legatos venisse, L. Scribonium et C. Calpurnium et L. Manlium ; tum demum ab cognato Scribonii tribuno plebis de redimendis captivis relatum esse, nec censuisse redimendos senatum ; et novos legatos tris ad Hannibalem revertisse, decem
10 veteres remansisse, quod per causam recognoscendi nomina captivorum ad Hannibalem ex itinere regressi religione sese exsolvisset ; de iis dedendis magna contentione actum in senatu esse, victosque paucis sententiis qui dedendos censuerint ; ceterum
15 proxumis censoribus adeo omnibus notis ignominisque confectos esse, ut quidam eorum mortem sibi ipsi extemplo consciverint, ceteri non foro solum omni deinde vita, sed prope luce ac publico caruerint. Mirari magis adeo discrepare inter auctores, quam 20 quid veri sit discernere, queas.

Quanto autem major ea clades superioribus cladibus fuerit, vel ea res indicio est, quod fides sociorum, quae ad eam diem firma steterat, tum labare coepit, nulla profecto alia de re quam quod desperaverant
25 de imperio. Defecere autem ad Poenos hi populi : Atellani, Calatini, Hirpini, Apulorum pars, Samnites praeter Pentros, Bruttii omnes, Lucani ; praeter hos Uzentini, et Graecorum omnis ferme ora, Tarentini, Metapontini, Crotonienses Locrique, et Cisalpini omnes Galli. Nec tamen eae clades defectionesque
30 sociorum moverunt, ut pacis usquam mentio apud Romanos fieret, neque ante consulis Romam adventum nec postquam is rediit renovavitque memoriam acceptae cladis ; quo in tempore ipso adeo magno
35 animo civitas fuit, ut consuli ex tanta clade, cujus ipse causa maxima fuisset, redeunti et obviam itum frequenter ab omnibus ordinibus sit et gratiae actae, quod de re publica non desperasset ; qui si Carthaginiensium ductor fuisset, nihil recusandum supplicii 40 foret.

IX, 17-19.—ALEXANDRI MAGNI ET ROMANORVM CONLATIO.

XVII. NIHIL minus quaesitum a principio hujus operis videri potest, quam ut plus justo ab rerum ordine declinarem, varietatibusque distinguendo opere et legentibus velut deverticula amoena et requiem animo meo quaererem; tamen tanti regis ac ducis 5 mentio, quibus saepe tacitis cogitationibus volutavi animum, eas evocat in medium, ut quaerere libeat, quinam eventus Romanis rebus, si cum Alexandro foret bellatum, futurus fuerit. Plurimum in bello pollere videntur militum copia et virtus, ingenia 10 imperatorum, fortuna, per omnia humana, maxime in res bellicas potens; ea et singula intuenti et universa, sicut ab aliis regibus gentibusque, ita ab hoc quoque facile praestant invictum Romanum imperium. Jam primum, ut ordiar ab ducibus comparandis, haud 15 equidem abnuo, egregium ducem fuisse Alexandrum; sed clariorem tamen eum facit, quod unus fuit, quod adulescens in incremento rerum, nondum alteram fortunam expertus, decessit. Ut alios reges claros ducesque omittam, magna exempla casuum humano- 20 rum, Cyrum, quem maxime Graeci laudibus celebrant, quid nisi longa vita, sicut Magnum modo Pompeium, vertenti praebeuit fortunae? Recenseam duces Romanos, nec omnes omnium aetatum, sed ipsos eos, cum quibus consulibus aut dictatoribus Alexandro fuit bellandum, M. Valerium Corvum, C. Marcium

5 Rutilum, C. Sulpicium, T. Manlium Torquatum, Q. Publilium Philonem, L. Papirium Cursorem, Q. Fabium Maximum, duos Decios, L. Volumnium, M'. Curium? Deinceps ingentes secuntur viri, si Punicum Romano praevertisset bellum seniorque in Italia
10 liam trajecisset. Horum in quolibet cum indoles eadem, quae in Alexandro, erat animi ingenique, tum disciplina militaris, jam inde ab initiis urbis tradita per manus, in artis perpetuis praeceptis ordinatae modum venerat. Ita reges gesserant bella, ita
15 deinde exactores regum Junii Valeriique, ita deinceps Fabii, Quinctii, Cornelii, ita Furius Camillus, quem juvenes ii, quibus cum Alexandro dimicandum erat, senem viderant. Militaria opera pugnando obeunti Alexandro (nam ea quoque haud minus clarum eum 20 faciunt) cessisset videlicet in acie oblatus par Manlius Torquatus aut Valerius Corvus, insignes ante milites quam duces, cessissent Decii, devotis corporibus in hostem ruentes, cessisset Papirius Cursor illo corporis robore, illo animi! victus esset consiliis juvenis
25 unius, ne singulos nominem, senatus ille, quem qui ex regibus constare dixit unus veram speciem Romani senatus cepit! Id vero erat periculum, ne sollertius quam quilibet unus ex his, quos nominavi, castris locum caperet, commeatus expediret, ab insidiis
30 praecaveret, tempus pugnae deligeret, aciem instrueret, subsidiis firmaret. Non cum Dareo rem esse dixisset, quem mulierum ac spadonum agmen trahentem, inter purpuram atque aurum, oneratum fortunae apparatus suae, praedam verius quam hostem, 35 nihil aliud quam bene ausus vana contemnere, incruentus devicit. Longe alius Italiae quam Indiae, per quam temulento agmine comisabundus incessit, visus illi habitus esset, saltus Apuliae ac montes Lucanos cernenti et vestigia recentia domesticae cladis, ubi avunculus ejus nuper, Epiri rex Alexander, absumptus erat.

XVIII. Et loquimur de Alexandro nondum merso secundis rebus, quarum nemo intolerantior fuit. Qui si ex habitu novae fortunae novique, ut ita dicam, ingenii, quod sibi victor induerat, spectetur, Dareo magis similis quam Alexandro in Italiam venisset, et exercitum Macedoniae oblitum degenerantemque jam in Persarum mores adduxisset. Referre in tanto rege piget superbam mutationem vestis, et desideratas humi jacentium adulationes, etiam victis Macedonibus graves, nedum victoribus, et foeda supplicia, et inter vinum et epulas caedes amicorum, et vanitatem ementiendae stirpis. Quid si vini amor in dies fieret acrior? quid si trux ac praefervida ira? (nec quicquam dubium inter scriptores refero) nullane haec damna imperatoriis virtutibus ducimus? Id vero periculum erat, quod levissimi ex Graecis, qui Parthorum quoque contra nomen Romanum gloriae favent, dictitare solent, ne majestatem nominis Alexandri, quem ne fama quidem illis notum arbitror fuisse, sustinere non potuerit populus Romanus, et, adversus quem Athenis, in civitate fracta Macedonum armis, cernentes tum maxime prope fumantes Thebarum ruinas, contionari libere ausi sint homines, id quod ex monumentis orationum patet, adversus eum nemo ex tot proceribus Romanis vocem liberam missurus fuerit? Quantalibet magnitudo hominis concipiatur animo; unius tamen ea magnitudo hominis erit, collecta paulo plus decem annorum felicitate; quam qui eo extollunt, quod populus Romanus, etsi nullo bello, multis tamen proeliis victus sit, Alexandro nullius pugnae non secunda fortuna fuerit, non intellegunt, se hominis res gestas, et ejus juvenis, cum populi jam octingentesimum bellantis annum rebus conferre. Miremur, si, cum ex hac parte saecula plura numerentur quam ex illa anni, plus in tam longo spatio quam in aetate tredecim annorum fortuna variaverit? Quin tu hominis cum homine et ducis cum duce fortunam [cum fortuna] confers? Quot Romanos duces nominem, quibus numquam adversa fortuna pugnae fuit! Paginas in annalibus magistratuum fastisque percurrere licet consulum dictatorumque, quorum nec virtutis nec fortunae ullo die populum Romanum paenituit. Et quo sint mirabiliores quam Alexander aut quisquam rex, denos vicanosque dies quidam dictaturam, nemo plus quam annum consulatum gessit; ab tribunis plebis dilectus inpediti sunt; post tempus ad bella ierunt, ante tempus comitiorum causa revocati sunt; in ipso conatu rerum circumegit se annus; collegae nunc temeritas, nunc pravitas inpedimento aut damno fuit; male gestis rebus alterius successum est; tiro-nem aut mala disciplina institutum exercitum acceperunt. At hercule reges non liberi solum inpedimentis omnibus, sed domini rerum temporumque trahunt consiliis cuncta, non secuntur. Invictus ergo Alexander cum invictis ducibus bella gessisset, et eadem fortunae pignera in discrimen detulisset; immo etiam eo plus periculi subisset, quod Macedones unum Alexandrum habuissent, multis casibus non solum obnoxium, sed etiam offerentem se, Romani multi fuissent Alexandro vel gloria vel rerum magnitudine pares, quorum suo quisque fato, sine publico discrimine, viveret morereturque.

XIX. Restat, ut copiae copiis comparentur vel numero vel militum genere vel multitudine auxiliorum. Censebantur ejus aetatis lustris ducena quinquagena milia capitum. Itaque in omni defectione sociorum Latini nominis urbano prope dilectu decem scribebantur legiones; quaterni quinque exercitus saepe per eos annos in Etruria, in Umbria, Gallis hostibus adjunctis, in Samnio, in Lucanis gerebant bellum: Latium deinde omne cum Sabinis et Volscis et Aequis et omni Campania et parte Umbriae Etruriaque et Picentibus et Marsis Paelignisque ac Vestinis atque Apulis, adjuncta omni ora Graecorum inferi maris a Thuriis Neapolin et Cumas et inde Antio atque Ostiis tenus, aut socios validos Romanis aut fractos bello invenisset hostes. Ipse trajecisset mare cum veteranis Macedonibus, non plus triginta milibus hominum, et quattuor milibus equitum, maxime Thessalorum; hoc enim roboris erat. Persas, Indos, aliasque si adjunxisset gentes, impedimentum majus quam auxilium traheret. Adde, quod Romanis ad manum domi supplementum esset, Alexandro, quod postea Hannibali accidit, alieno in agro bellanti exercitus consenuisset. Arma, clupei sarisaeque illis; Romano scutum, majus corpori tegumentum, et pilum, haud paulo quam hasta vehementius ictu missuque telum. Statarius uterque miles, ordines servans; sed illa phalanx immobilis et unius generis, Romana acies distinctior, ex pluribus partibus constans, facilis partienti, quacumque opus esset, facilis jungenti. Jam in opere quis par Romano miles? quis ad tolerandum laborem melior? Uno proelio victus Alexander bello victus esset; Romanum, quem Caudium, quem Cannae non fregerunt, quae fregisset acies? Ne ille saepe, etiam si prima prospere evenissent, Persas et Indos et inbellem Asiam quaesisset, et cum feminis sibi bellum fuisse dixisset, quod Epiri regem Alexandrum, mortifero vulnere ictum, dixisse ferunt, sortem bellorum in Asia gestorum ab hoc ipso juvene cum sua conferentem. Equidem, cum per annos quattuor et viginti primo Punico bello classibus certatum cum Poenis recorder, vix aetatem Alexandri suffecturam fuisse reor ad unum bellum. Et forsitan, cum et foederibus vetustis juncta res Punica Romanae esset, et timor par adversus communem hostem duas potentissimas armis virisque urbes armaret, simul Punico Romanoque obrutus bello esset. Non quidem Alexandro duce nec integris Macedonum rebus, sed experti tamen sunt Romani Macedonem hostem adversus Antiochum, Philippum, Persen, non modo cum clade ulla, sed ne cum periculo quidem suo. Absit invidia verbo et civilia bella sileant; [numquam ab equite hoste,] numquam a pedite, numquam aperta acie, numquam aequis, utique numquam nostris locis laboravimus; equitem, sagittas, saltus inpeditos, avia commeatibus loca gravis armis miles timere potest. Mille acies graviores quam Macedonum atque Alexandri avertit avertetque, modo sit perpetuus hujus, qua vivimus, pacis amor et civilis cura concordiae.

XXVI, 18-19. — DE P. CORNELIO SCIPIONE AFRICANO.

XVIII. INTER haec Hispaniae populi nec qui post cladem acceptam defecerant redibant ad Romanos, nec ulli novi deficiebant; et Romae senatui populoque post receptam Capuam non Italiae jam major quam Hispaniae cura erat. Et exercitum augeri et imperatorem mitti placebat; nec tam, quem mitterent, satis constabat, quam illud, ubi duo summi imperatores intra dies triginta cecidissent, qui in locum duorum succederet, extraordinaria cura deligendum esse. Cum alii alium nominarent, postremum eo decursum est, ut proconsuli creando in Hispaniam comitia haberentur; diemque comitis consules edixerunt. Primo expectaverant, ut qui se tanto imperio dignos crederent nomina profiterentur; quae ut destituta expectatio est, redintegratus luctus acceptae cladis desideriumque imperatorum amissorum. Maesta itaque civitas, prope inops consilii, comitiorum die tamen in campum descendit; atque in magistratus versi circumspectant ora principum aliorum alios intuentium, fremuntque, adeo perditas res desperatumque de re publica esse, ut nemo audeat in Hispaniam imperium accipere, cum subito P. Cornelius, P. Cornelii, qui in Hispania ceciderat, filius, quattuor et viginti ferme annos natus, professus se petere, in superiore, unde conspici posset, loco constitit. In quem postquam omnium ora conversa sunt, clamore ac favore ominati extemplo sunt felix faustumque imperium. Jussi deinde inire suffragium ad unum omnes non centuriae modo, sed etiam homines P. Scipioni imperium esse in Hispania jusserunt. Ceterum post rem actam, ut jam resederat impetus 5 animorum ardorque, silentium subito ortum et tacita cogitatio, quidnam egissent? Nonne favor plus valisset quam ratio? Aetatis maxime paenitebat; quidam fortunam etiam domus horrebant nomenque ex funestis duabus familiis in eas provincias, ubi inter 10 sepulcra patris patruique res gerendae essent, proficiscentis.

XIX. Quam ubi ab re tanto impetu acta sollicitudinem curamque hominum animadvertit, advocata contione, ita de aetate sua imperioque mandato et 15 bello, quod gerendum esset, magno elatoque animo disseruit, ut ardorem eum, qui resederat, excitaret rursus novaretque, et impleret homines certioris spei, quam quantam fides promissi humani aut ratio ex fiducia rerum subicere solet. Fuit enim Scipio non 20 veris tantum virtutibus mirabilis, sed arte quoque quadam ab juvena in ostentationem earum compositus, pleraque aput multitudinem aut ut per nocturnas visa species aut velut divinitus mente monita agens, sive et ipse capti quadam superstitione animi, sive ut 25 imperia consiliaque velut sorte oraculi missa sine cunctatione exsequerentur. Ad hoc jam inde ab initio praeparans animos, ex quo togam virilem sumpsit, nullo die prius ullam publicam privatamque rem egit quam in Capitolium iret ingressusque aedem conside- 30 ret et plerumque solus in secreto ibi tempus tereret. Hic mos, per omnem vitam servatus, seu consulto seu temere vulgatae opinioni fidem aput quosdam fecit, stirpis eum divinae virum esse, rettulitque famam in Alexandro magno prius vulgatam, et vani- 35 tate et fabula parem, anguis immanis concubitu conceptum, et in cubiculo matris ejus visam persaepe prodigii ejus speciem interventuque hominum evolutam repente atque ex oculis elapsam. Hujus miraculi numquam ab ipso elusa fides est, quin potius aucta arte quadam nec abnuendi tale quicquam nec palam adfirmandi. Multa alia ejusdem generis, alia vera, alia adsimulata, admirationis humanae in eo juvene 5 excesserant modum; quibus freta tunc civitas aetati haudquaquam maturae tantam rerum molem tantumque imperium permisit.

XXXV, 14. — CONLOQVIVM SCIPIONIS CVM HANNIBALE.

XIV. CLAUDIUS, secutus Graecos Acilianos libros, P. Africanum in ea fuisse legatione tradit, eum-
 10 que Ephesi conlocutum cum Hannibale; et sermonem unum etiam refert, quo quaerenti Africano 'quem fuisse maximum imperatorem Hannibal crederet?' respondisse, 'Alexandrum Macedonum regem, quod parva manu innumerabiles exercitus fudisset, [et]
 15 quod ultimas oras, quas visere supra spem humanam esset, peragrasset.' Quaerenti deinde, 'quem secundum poneret?' 'Pyrrhum' dixisse: 'castra metari primum docuisse; ad hoc neminem elegantius loca cepisse, praesidia disposuisse; artem etiam conciliandi sibi homines eam habuisse, ut Italicae gentes
 20 regis externi quam populi Romani tam diu principis in ea terra imperium esse mallent.' Exequenti, 'quem tertium duceret?' haud dubie 'semet ipsum' dixisse. Tum risum obortum Scipioni, et subjecisse "quidnam 25 tu diceres, si me vicisses?" "Tum vero me" inquit "et ante Alexandrum et ante Pyrrhum et ante alios omnis imperatores esse." Et perplexum Punico astu responsum et inprovisum adsentationis genus Scipionem movisse, quod e grege se imperatorum velut 30 inaestimabilem secrevisset.

XXXVIII, 50-53, 56, 57.—P. SCIPIO AFRICANVS
ACCVSATVR. EIVS ORATIO AD POPVLVM, MORS, LAVDES.

L. OBPRESSIT deinde mentionem memoriamque omnem contentionis hujus majus et cum majore et clariore viro certamen ortum. P. Scipioni Africano, ut Valerius Antias auctor est, duo Q. Petillii diem dixerunt. Id, prout cujusque ingenium erat, interpretabantur. Alii non tribunos plebis, sed universam civitatem, quae id pati posset, incusabant: ‘duas maximas orbis terrarum urbes ingratas uno prope tempore in principes inventas, Romam ingratiorem, si quidem victa Carthago victum Hannibalem in exsilium expulisset, Roma victrix victorem Africanum expellat.’ Alii, ‘neminem unum civem tantum eminere debere, ut legibus interrogari non possit; nihil tam aequandae libertatis esse, quam potentissimum quemque posse dicere causam. Quid autem tuto cuiquam, nedum summam rem publicam, permitti, si ratio non sit reddenda? Qui jus aequum pati non possit, in eum vim haud injustam esse.’ Haec agitata sermonibus, donec dies causae dicendae venit. Nec alius antea quisquam nec ille ipse Scipio consul censorve majore omnis generis hominum frequentia quam reus illo die in forum est deductus. Jussus dicere causam, sine ulla criminum mentione orationem adeo magnificam de rebus ab se gestis est exorsus, ut satis constaret, neminem unquam neque melius neque verius laudatum esse. Dicebantur enim ab [eo] eodem animo ingenioque, quo gesta erant; et aurium fastidium aberat, quia pro periculo, non in gloriam referebantur.

LI. Tribuni vetera luxuriae crimina Syracusanorum hibernorum et Locris Pleminianum tumultum cum ad fidem praesentium criminum rettulissent, suspicionibus magis quam argumentis pecuniae cap-

- tae reum accusarunt: filium captum sine pretio redditum, omnibusque aliis rebus Scipionem, tamquam in ejus unius manu pax Romana bellumque esset, ab Antiocho cultum; dictatorem eum consuli, 5 non legatum in provincia fuisse; nec ad aliam rem eo profectum quam ut, id quod Hispaniae, Galliae, Siciliae, Africae jam pridem persuasum esset, hoc Graeciae Asiaeque et omnibus ad orientem versis regibus gentibusque adpareret, unum hominem caput 10 columenque imperii Romani esse, sub umbra Scipionis civitatem dominam orbis terrarum latere, nutum ejus pro decretis patrum, pro populi jussis esse. Infamia intactum invidia, qua possunt, urgent. Orationibus in noctem perductis, prodicta dies est. Ubi 15 ea venit, tribuni in rostris prima luce consederunt. Citatus reus magno agmine amicorum clientiumque per mediam contionem ad rostra subiit, silentioque facto, "hoc" inquit "die, tribuni plebis vosque Quirites, cum Hannibale et Carthaginiensibus signis con- 20 latis in Africa bene ac feliciter pugnavi. Itaque cum hodie litibus et jurgiis supersederi aequum sit, ego hinc extemplo in Capitolium ad Jovem optimum maximum, Junonemque et Minervam ceterosque deos, qui Capitolio atque arcu praesident, salutandos 25 ibo, iisque gratias agam, quod mihi et hoc ipso die et saepe alias egregie gerendae rei publicae mentem facultatemque dederunt. Vestrum quoque quibus commodum est, Quirites, ite mecum, et orate deos, ut mei similes principes habeatis, ita, si ab annis 30 septemdecim ad senectutem semper vos aetatem meam honoribus vestris anteistis, ego vestros honores rebus gerendis praecessi." Ab rostris in Capitolium escendit. Simul se universa contio avertit et secuta Scipionem est, adeo ut postremo scribae viatoresque 35 tribunos relinquerent, nec cum iis praeter servilem comitatum et praeconem, qui reum ex rostris citabat, quisquam esset. Scipio non in Capitolio modo, sed per totam urbem omnia templa deum cum populo Romano circumiit. Celebratior is prope dies favore hominum et aestimatione verae magnitudinis ejus fuit, quam quo triumphans de Syphace rege et Carthaginiensibus urbem est investus.

LII. Hic speciosus ultimus dies P. Scipioni inluxit; post quem cum invidiam et certamina cum tribunis prospiceret, die longiore predicta, in Literninum concessit certo consilio, ne ad causam dicendam adesset. Major animus et natura erat ac majori fortunae adsuetus, quam ut reus esse sciret et submittere se in humilitatem causam dicentium. Ubi dies venit citarique absens est coeptus, L. Scipio morbum causae esse, cur abesset, excusabat. Quam excusationem cum tribuni, qui diem dixerant, non acciperent, et ab eadem superbia non venire ad causam dicendam arguerent, qua iudicium et tribunos plebis et contionem reliquisset, et, quibus jus sententiae de se dicendae et libertatem ademisset, his comitatus, velut captos trahens, triumphum de populo Romano egisset, secessionemque eo die in Capitolium a tribunis plebis fecisset — “habetis ergo temeritatis illius mercedem. Quo duce et auctore nos reliquistis, ab eo ipsi relictis estis, et tantum animorum in dies nobis decrescit, ut, ad quem ante annos septemdecim, exercitum et classem habentem, tribunos plebis aedilemque mittere in Siciliam ausi sumus, qui prenderent eum et Romam reducerent, ad eum privatum ex villa sua extrahendum ad causam dicendam mittere non audeamus” —, tribuni plebis adpellati ab L. Scipione ita decreverunt, si morbi causa excusaretur, sibi placere accipere eam causam diemque ab collegis prodici. Tribunus plebis eo tempore Ti. Sempronius Gracchus erat, cui inimicitiae cum P. Scipione intercedebant. Is cum vetuisset nomen suum decreto collegarum adscribi, tristioremq; omnes sententiam exspectarent, ita decrevit, cum L. Scipio excusasset morbum esse causae fratri, satis id sibi videri: se P. Scipionem, priusquam Romam redisset, accusari non passurum; tum quoque, si se adpellet, auxilio ei futurum, ne causam dicat; ad id fastigium rebus gestis, honoribus populi Romani

P. Scipionem deorum hominumque consensu pervenisse, ut sub rostris reum stare et praebere aures adolescentium conviciis populo Romano magis deforme quam ipsi sit.

- 5 LIII. Adjecit decreto indignationem. "Sub pedibus vestris stabit, tribuni, domitor ille Africae Scipio? Ideo quattuor nobilissimos duces Poenorum in Hispania, quattuor exercitus fudit fugavitque; ideo Syphacem cepit, Hannibalem devicit, Carthagi-
- 10 nem vectigalem nobis fecit, Antiochum (recepit enim fratrem consortem hujus gloriae L. Scipio) ultra juga Tauri emovit, ut duobus Petilliis subcumberet? Vos de P. Africano palmam peti feretis? Nullisne meritis suis, nullis vestris honoribus umquam in arcem
- 15 tutam et velut sanctam clari viri pervenient, ubi, si non venerabilis, inviolata saltem senectus eorum considat?" Movit et decretum et adjecta oratio non ceteros modo, sed ipsos etiam accusatores, et deliberaturos se, quid sui juris et officii esset, dixerunt. Se-
- 20 natus deinde, concilio plebis dimisso, haberi est coeptus. Ibi gratiae ingentes ab universo ordine, praecipue a consularibus senioribusque, Ti. Graccho actae sunt, quod rem publicam privatis simultatibus potiore habuisset; et Petillii vexati sunt probris,
- 25 quod splendere aliena invidia voluissent et spolia ex Africani triumpho peterent. Silentium deinde de Africano fuit. Vitam Literni egit sine desiderio urbis. Morientem rure eo ipso loco sepeliri se jussisse ferunt monumentumque ibi aedificari, ne funus
- 30 sibi in ingrata patria fieret. Vir memorabilis; bellicis tamen quam pacis artibus memorabilior, et industrius prima pars vitae quam postrema fuit, quia in juvenia bella adsidue gesta, cum senecta res quoque defloruere nec praebita est materia ingenio. Quid
- 35 ad primum consulatum secundus, etiam si censuram adicias? quid Asiatica legatio, et valetudine adversa inutilis et filii casu deformata et post redditum necessitate aut subeundi iudicii aut simul cum patria deserendi? Punici tamen belli perpetrati, quo nullum neque majus neque periculosius Romani gessere, unus praecipuam gloriam tulit.

LVI. Multa alia in Scipionis exitu maxime vitae dieque dicta, morte, funere, sepulcro, in diversum trahunt, ut, cui famae, quibus scriptis adsentiar, non habeam. Non de accusatore convenit (alii M. Naevium, alii Petillios diem dixisse scribunt), non de tempore, quo dicta dies sit, non de anno, quo mortuus sit, non ubi mortuus aut elatus sit; alii Romae, alii Literni et mortuum et sepultum. Utrobique monumenta ostenduntur et statuae; nam et Literni monumentum monumentoque statua superinposita fuit, quam tempestate dejectam nuper vidimus ipsi, et Romae extra portam Capenam in Scipionum monumento tres statuae sunt, quarum duae P. et L. Scipionum dicuntur esse, tertia poetae Q. Ennii. Nec inter scriptores rerum discrepat solum, sed orationes quoque, si modo ipsorum sunt, quae feruntur, P. Scipionis et Ti. Gracchi, abhorrent inter se. Index orationis P. Scipionis nomen M. Naevii tribuni plebis habet, ipsa oratio sine nomine est accusatoris; modo nebulonem, modo nugatorem adpellat. Ne Gracchi quidem oratio aut Petilliorum accusatorum Africani aut diei dictae Africano ullam mentionem habet. Alia tota serenda fabula est Gracchi orationi conveniens, et illi auctores sequendi sunt, qui, cum L. Scipio et accusatus et damnatus sit pecuniae captae ab rege, legatum in Etruria fuisse Africanum tradunt, quo post famam de casu fratris adlatam, relicta legatione, cucurrisset eum Romam, et, cum a porta recta ad forum se contulisset, quod in vincula duci fratrem dictum erat, repulisse a corpore ejus viatorem et tribunis retinentibus magis pie quam civiliter vim fecisse. Hinc enim ipse Ti. Gracchus queritur, dissolutam esse a privato tribuniciam potestatem, et ad postremum, cum auxilium L. Scipioni pollicetur, adicit, tolerabilioris exempli esse a tribuno plebis potius quam a privato victam videri et tribuniciam potestatem et rem publicam esse. Sed ita hanc unam inpo-tentem ejus injuriam invidia onerat, ut increpando quod degenerarit tantum a se ipse, cumulas ei veteres laudes moderationis et temperantiae pro reprehensione praesenti reddat; castigatum enim quondam

 5 ab eo populum ait, quod eum perpetuum consulem et dictatorem vellet facere; prohibuisse statuas sibi in comitio, in rostris, in curia, in Capitolio, in cella Jovis poni; prohibuisse, ne decerneretur, ut imago sua triumphali ornata e templo Jovis optimi maximi 10 exiret.

LVII. Haec vel in laudatione posita ingentem magnitudinem animi moderantis ad civilem habitum honoribus significarent, quae exprobrando inimicus fatetur. Huic Graccho minorem ex duabus filiis 15 (nam major P. Cornelio Nasicae haud dubie a patre conlocata erat) nuptam fuisse convenit; illud parum constat, utrum post mortem patris et desponsa sit et nupserit, an verae illae opiniones sint, Gracchum, cum L. Scipio in vincula duceretur nec quisquam
 20 collegarum auxilio esset, jurasse, sibi inimicitias cum Scipionibus, quae fuissent, manere, nec se gratiae quaerendae causa quicquam facere, sed, in quem carcerem reges et imperatores hostium ducentem vidisset P. Africanum, in eum se fratrem ejus duci
 25 non passurum: senatum eo die forte in Capitolio cenantem consurrexisse et petisse, ut inter epulas Graccho filiam Africanus desponderet: quibus ita inter publicum sollemne sponsalibus rite factis, cum se domum recepisset, Scipionem Aemiliae uxori
 30 dixisse filiam se minorem despondisse: cum illa muliebriter indignabunda nihil de communi filia secum consultatum, adjecisset, non, si Ti. Graccho daret, expertem consilii debuisse matrem esse, laetum Scipionem tam concordi judicio ei ipsi desponsam 35 respondisse. Haec de tanto viro, quamquam et opinionibus et monumentis litterarum variarent, proponenda erant.

XXXIX, 40. — M. PORCI CATONIS VIGENS ET VERSATILE INGENIVM.

XL. CENSURAM summa contentione petebant L. Valerius Flaccus, P. et L. Scipiones, Cn. Manlius Volso, L. Furius Purpurio patricii, plebei autem M. Porcius Cato, M. Fulvius Nobilior, Ti. et M. Sempromii, Longus et Tuditanus; sed omnes patricos plebei- 5
osque nobilissimarum familiarum M. Porcius longe anteibat. In hoc viro tanta vis animi ingenique fuit, ut, quocumque loco natus esset, fortunam sibi ipse facturus fuisse videretur. Nulla ars neque privatae neque publicae rei gerendae ei defuit. Urbanas 10 rusticasque res pariter callebat. Ad summos honores alios scientia juris, alios eloquentia, alios gloria militaris provexit; huic versatile ingenium sic pariter ad omnia fuit, ut natum ad id unum diceres quodcumque ageret. In bello manu fortissimus mul- 15
tisque insignibus clarus pugnans; idem, postquam ad magnos honores pervenit, summus imperator; idem in pace, si jus consuleres, peritissimus, si causa oranda esset, eloquentissimus; nec is tantum cujus lingua vivo eo vigerit, monumentum eloquentiae nullum 20 exstet, — vivit immo vigetque eloquentia ejus sacrata scriptis omnis generis. Orationes et pro se multae et pro aliis et in alios; nam non solum accusando, sed etiam causam dicendo fatigavit inimicos. Simultates nimio plures et exercuerunt eum et ipse exercuit eas; 25 nec facile dixeris, utrum magis presserit eum nobilitas an ille agitaverit nobilitatem. Asperi procul dubio animi et linguae acerbae et immodice liberae fuit, sed invicti a cupiditatibus animi, rigidae innocentiae, contemptor gratiae [et] divitiarum. In parsimonia, 30 in patientia laboris periculique, ferrei prope corporis animique, quem ne senectus quidem, quae solvit omnia, fregerit; qui sextum et octogesimum annum agens causam [dixerit,] ipse pro se oraverit scripseritque, nonagesimo anno Ser. Galbam ad populi adduxerit 35 judicium.

XLV, 7-9. — PERSEA VICTVM BENIGNE EXCIPIIT
L. AEMILIVS PAVLVS.

VII. SECUNDAM eam Paulus, sicut erat, victoriam ratus, victimas cecidit eo nuntio; et, consilio advocato, [litteras] praetoris cum recitasset, Q. Aelium Tuberonem obviam regi misit, ceteros manere in 5 praetoria frequentis iussit. Non alias ad ullum spectaculum tanta multitudo occurrit. Patrum aetate Syphax rex captus in castra Romana adductus erat; praeterquam quod nec sua nec gentis fama comparandus, tunc accessio Punici belli fuerat, sicut
10 Gentius Macedonici. Perseus caput belli erat; nec ipsius tantum, patris avique [ceterorumque], quos sanguine ac genere continebat, fama conspectum eum efficiebat, sed effulgebant Philippus ac Magnus Alexander, qui summum imperium in orbe terrarum
15 Macedonum fecerant. Pullo amictu [cum] filio Perseus ingressus est castra, nullo suorum alio comite, [quam] qui socius calamitatis miserabiliorem eum faceret. Progredi prae turba occurrentium ad spectaculum non poterat, donec a consule lictores missi 20 sunt, qui summoto iter ad praetorium facerent. Consurrexit consul, et, iussis sedere aliis progressusque paulum, introeunti regi dextram porrexit, submittentemque se ad pedes sustulit, nec attingere genua passus, introductum in tabernaculum adversus advo-
25 catos in consilium considerare iussit.

VIII. Prima percontatio fuit, qua subactus injuria contra populum Romanum bellum tam infesto animo suscepisset, quo se regnumque suum ad ultimum discrimen adduceret? Cum, responsum expectantibus cunctis, terram intuens diu tacitus fleret, 30 rursus consul: "si juvenis regnum accepisses, minus equidem mirarer, ignorasse te, quam gravis aut amicus aut inimicus esset populus Romanus; nunc vero, cum et bello patris tui, quod nobiscum gessit, inter-35 fuisses, et pacis postea, quam cum summa fide ad-versus eum coluimus, meminisses, [quod fuit] consilium, quorum et vim [in] bello et fidem in pace expertus esses, cum is tibi bellum esse quam pacem malle?" Nec interrogatus nec accusatus cum responderet: "utcumque tamen haec, sive errore humano seu casu seu necessitate, inciderunt, bonum 5 animum habe; multorum regum [et] populorum casibus cognita populi Romani clementia non modo spem tibi, sed prope certam fiduciam salutis praebet." Haec Graeco sermone Persei; Latine deinde suis 10

 "exemplum insigne cernitis" inquit "mutationis rerum humanarum. Vobis hoc praecipue dico, juvenes. Ideo in secundis rebus nihil in quemquam superbe ac violenter consulere decet, nec praesenti credere fortunae, cum, quid vesper ferat, incertum sit. Is demum 15 vir erit, cujus animum neque prospera flatu suo effe-rent nec adversa infringent." Consilio dimisso tuendi cura regis Q. Aelio mandatur. Eo die et invitatus ad consulem Perseus, et alius omnis ei honos habitus est, qui haberi in tali fortuna poterat. 20

IX. Hic finis belli, cum quadriennium continuum bellatum esset, inter Romanos ac Persea fuit, idemque finis inclyti per Europae plerumque atque Asiam omnem regni. Vicensimum ab Carano, qui primus regnabat, Persea numerabant. Perseus Q. Fulvio, 25
 [L.] Manlio consulibus regnum accepit; a senatu rex est appellatus M. Junio, A. Manlio consulibus; regnavit undecim annos. Macedonum [gens] obscura admodum fama usque ad Philippum Amyntae filium fuit; inde ac per eum crescere cum coepisset, Europae 30 se tamen finibus continuit; Graeciam omnem et partem Threciae adque Illyrici amplexa. Superfudit deinde se in Asiam, et tredecim annis, quibus Alexander regnavit, primum omnia, qua Persarum prope immenso spatio imperium fuerat, suae dicionis fecit. 35 Arabas hinc Indiamque, qua terrarum ultimos finis Rubrum mare amplectitur, peragravit. Tum maximum in terris Macedonum regnum nomenque; inde morte Alexandri distractum [in] multa regna, dum ad se quisque opes rapiunt, laceratis viribus; a summo culmine fortunae ad ultimum finem centum quinquaginta annos stetit.

XLV, 40—42.—L. AEMILI PAULI DE REBUS GESTIS ET CALAMITATE SUA CONTIO.

SED non Perseus tantum per illos dies documentum
 5 humanorum casum fuit, in catenis ante currum victoris ducis per urbem hostium ductus, sed etiam victor Paulus, auro purpuraque fulgens. Nam duobus e filiis, quos, duobus datis in adoptionem, solos nominis, sacrorum familiaeque heredes retinuerat domi, minor,
 10 ferme [duodecim] annos natus, quinque diebus ante triumphum, major, quattuordecim annorum, triduo post triumphum decessit; quos praetextatos curru vehi cum patre, sibi ipsos similis praedestinantis triumphos, oportuerat. Paucis post diebus, data a M.
 15 Antonio tribuno plebis contione, cum de suis rebus gestis more ceterorum imperatorum dissereret, memorabilis ejus oratio et digna Romano principe fuit.

XLI. "Quamquam, et qua felicitate rem publicam administraverim, et [quae] duo fulmina domum
 20 meam per hos dies perculerint, non ignorare vos, Quirites, arbitror, cum spectaculo vobis nunc triumphus meus, nunc funera liberorum meorum fuerint, tamen paucis, quaeso, sinatis me cum publica felicitate comparare eo, quo debeo, animo privatam
 25 meam fortunam. Profectus ex Italia classem a Brundisio sole orto solvi; nona diei hora cum omnibus meis navibus Coreyram tenui. Inde quinto die Delphis Apollini pro me exercitibusque et classibus vestris sacrificavi. A Delphis quinto die
 30 in castra perveni; ubi exercitu accepto, mutatis quibusdam, quae magna impedimenta victoriae erant, progressus, quia inexpugnabilia [castra] hostium

erant, neque cogi pugnare poterat rex, inter praesidia ejus saltum ad Petram evasi et ad Pydnam regem acie vici, Macedoniam in potestatem populi Romani redegei, et, quod bellum per quadriennium quattuor ante me consules ita gesserunt, ut semper 5 successori traderent gravius, id ego quindecim diebus perfeci. Aliarum deinde secundarum rerum velut proventus secutus. Divitates omnes Macedoniae se dediderunt; gaza regia in potestatem venit; rex ipse, tradentibus prope ipsis dñs, in templo Samothracum 10 cum liberis est captus. Mihi quoque ipsi nimia jam fortuna videri eoque suspecta esse. Maris pericula timere coepi in tanta pecunia regia in Italiam traicienda et victore exercitu transportando. Postquam omnia secundo navium cursu in Italiam pervenerunt, 15 neque erat quod ultra precarer, illud optavi, ut, cum ex summo retro volvi fortuna consuesset, mutationem ejus domus mea potius quam res publica sentiret. Itaque defunctam esse fortunam publicam mea tam insigni calamitate spero, quod triumphus meus, velut 20 ad ludibrium casuum humanorum, duobus funeribus liberorum meorum est interpositus. Et cum ego et Perseus nunc nobilia maxime sortis mortalium exempla spectemur, ille, qui ante se, captivos ipse, duci liberos vidit, incolumes tamen eos habet; ego, qui de 25 illo triumphavi, ab alterius funere filii curru in [Capitolium vectus sum, ad alterum] ex Capitolio prope jam expirantem veni; neque ex tanta stirpe liberum superest, qui L. Aemilii Pauli nomen ferat. Duos enim, tamquam ex magna progenie liberorum, in 30 adoptionem datos Cornelia et Fabia gens habent; Paulus in domo praeter me nemo superest. Sed hanc cladem domus meae vestra felicitas et secunda fortuna publica consolatur." XLII. Haec tanto dicta animo magis confudere audientium animos, quam si 35 miserabiliter orbitatem suam deflendo locutus esset.

THE HISTORIES OF LIVY.

BOOKS I, XXI, XXII.

PRELIMINARY NOTE ON ORTHOGRAPHY.—The orthography of the best manuscripts and editions of Livy differs in some respects from that of the later Roman grammarians which prevails in our dictionaries and grammars. Although these differences are not likely to present to students any serious difficulty, a statement of the most important of them is subjoined for the benefit of those who may not have become familiar with them in their previous reading.

1. The final consonant of prepositions in compound words is generally retained, and not assimilated to the following consonant; thus adfero, rather than affero; adlatum, not allatum; adlicio, not allicio; adpendicibus, not appendicibus; adsentio, not assentio; so also con, in, ob, sub, often remain unchanged, as conlatum (collatum), comprehensio (comprehensio), inlatum (illatum), imminens (imminens), impune (impune), irritus (irritus), oppressit (oppressit), subcedo (succedo), etc. — 2. The accusative plural of the third declension ends often in is instead of es, and sometimes (though rarely) the nominative plural; thus omnis (omnes), finis (fines). — 3. The superlative termination umus is found for imus; as optumus (optimus), maxumus (maximus). — 4. The letter j is omitted before i; as deicio (dejicio), reicio (rejicio), traicio (trajicio). — 5. Vo is found instead of vu; as volt (vult), voltus (vultus). — 6. The letters d and t are sometimes interchanged; thus haut (haud), set (sed), adque (atque), aput (apud). — 7. O in place of qu before u; as ecus (equus). — A few other peculiarities are noticed as they occur.

PREFACE.

ARGUMENT.—Whether the success of my work will justify my labor in its preparation, I know not; but it is a pleasing task to seek to perpetuate the fame of the foremost people in the world, and if I am outshone by other writers, I shall console myself by the brilliancy of their renown. It is a difficult undertaking to trace back the annals of our city for more than seven hundred years, and most readers will turn more readily from the story of those early days to the exciting incidents of our recent civil strife. For me, however, the withdrawal of my thoughts from our present evils is a part of my reward.

The mythical stories with which the origin of Rome has been invested, I neither accept nor deny. If any people be allowed to claim the god of war as their founder, it should be the Romans. But I would call attention to the ways of life, the men, the manners, and the institutions, by which our empire was built up; and to the sad effects of declining discipline and increasing luxury, until we have come to times when we can neither bear our vices nor their remedies. This is the important lesson of history, teaching us by examples what we should pursue, and what we should avoid. If I am not mistaken, no state was ever richer than ours in good examples, nor ever retained longer the frugality and the purity of its best days. Though luxury of late has made fearful inroads, I would begin without ill-omened lamentation, and with prayers for a successful issue of my work.

- 13 1. Facturusne . . sim, Whether I shall do anything worth the while. A dependent interrogative clause ("indirect question"), following scio. The first four words can be scanned as the beginning of a dactylic hexameter verse, — an arrangement generally avoided in prose. But Tacitus begins his Annals with a complete hexameter: Urbem Romam a principio reges habuere. — 1, 2. Si perscripserim, if I shall write, or, in the ordinary English idiom, If I write. Perfect subjunctive, in a subordinate proposition, representing a subjunctive future-perfect. M. 379. — 2. Res, the history. — 3. Nec, si sciam, dicere ausim, nor, if I were to know, should I venture to tell. Notice, both in the protasis and the apodosis, the lively use of primary tenses of the subjunctive, where we might have expected the imperfect, as the condition is contrary to the fact just stated (nec scio). With rhetorical vivacity (and Livy was nothing if not a lively rhetorician), this knowledge is spoken of as something that may still be gained: almost as if we were to say (in English) nor if I shall know, shall I venture, etc. See M. 347, b, and Obs. 1; H. 504, 1; A. & S. 261, 2, Rem. 3; B. 1265, 1266; A. 59, IV. 1; G. 381, 382. — Quippe qui videam, certainly [not]. for I see. Quippe adds emphasis to the assigning of the reason of the principal proposition by the relative clause. — 3, 4. Cum — tum, both — and. — 4. Rem, i. e. this expectation (of doing something worth one's pains). — Dum, inasmuch as. The idea of contemporaneous time (while), which dum conveys, passes into that of cause. — 5. In rebus, in the facts, in the matter (stated). — 7. Ut cumque erit, however it shall be, i. e. whatever my success. — Juvabit, so. me (ipsum consuluisse). The omission of me, however, leaves the statement general. — 8. Memoriae, dative after consuluisse. — Pro virili parte, i. e. what in me lies. — 10, 11. Sit, consoler. Translate these present subjunctives with shall; — shall be, I shall console myself. — Nobilitate, with the renown. — 11. Res, my subject. "In this sentence there is a sort of confusion between the history" (quae — repetatur) "and the subject of the history, i. e. the Roman Empire" (quae — creverit, etc.). S. — Est with the genitive (inmensi operis), demande. — 12. Et, both. The corresponding and follows at the beginning of line 15. — Ut quae, as one which. Ut strengthens the relative clause with the subjunctive assigning the reason. — Septingentensimum annum from the founding of the city. Livy wrote this Preface sometime in the years 27–25 B. C. The traditional date of the founding of Rome is B. C. 753. — 14. Jam laboret, begins to be overburdened. S. — 17. Nova, so. tempora. The time of the civil wars. Hæc is properly used here of times present or near to the historian. — Quibus, in which. — 17, 18. "Jam pridem. To be taken with conflouunt. He considers the whole period of the civil war, that is, from the passage of the Rubicon (B. C. 49) to the battle of Actium (B. C. 31), together." S. — 19. Contra, here adverb, not preposition. — 21. Illa tota, Hæc, following the MSS., reads tota illa; but Mg., as had the older editors generally, sees that the sense requires the reverse order.

2. Posset. Mg. reads possit. I follow the MSS. instead of his 14 emendation, considering posset as the apodosis of an implied supposition contrary to fact, such as si intercederet. That the implied supposition is contrary to the fact, is shown by the words omnis expers curæ. — 3. Ante conditam condendamve urbem, before the city was founded or intended to be founded; or, before the founding of the city or the design of its founding. The translation given in Madvig's Grammar (414, b, Qbæ.), and adopted by

- 14 Seeley, "before the city was built or in building," seems inadequate. See Nägelsbach, Stilistik, § 31. — 4. Decora, suited for, followed by the datives fabulis and monumentis. — 5. Adfirmare = affirmare. — 8. Cui, any. Indefinite pronoun. — 9. Ad deos referre auctores, to trace it (their early history, origines suas) back to the gods as their founders. Auctores is appositive to deos. — 10. Potissimum, in preference to all others. — 14. Hæc et his similia, these and similar stories. Z. — 15. Haut = laud. Construed with magno. — 16. Ad illa, to this other point. S. — Mihi, ethical dative, showing the interest the author feels in the advice he is about to give. — Intendat, subjunctive of exhortation, advice. — 17. Vita, mores, sc. Romanorum. — 19. Disciplina, the tone of morality. S. — 20. Desidentis = desidentes. Accusative plural. H. 88, III. 1; A. & S. 85, Exc. 1; B. 114; A. 11, 2; G. p. 22, Obs. 1. — 19-22. Labente — præcipites, then let him follow in his mind the public-morals (mores), as the tone-of-morality by degrees declines, at first so-to-say wavering, next how they more and more gave way (or inclined to their fall), then began to tumble headlong. Ut — præcipites is an objective-clause, following sequatur animo. — 23. Remedia, etc. Probably, as S. suggests, an allusion to the opposition offered to the reforming measures of Augustus, particularly to his laws discouraging celibacy. See Merivale, Hist. vol. iv., pp. 36 sqq., Am. ed. — 24. Hoc illud est, this is that (which is) præcipue salubre, etc. — 25, 26. Omnis — intueri, that you should behold instructive instances (documenta) of every "way-of-acting" (S.) placed in a conspicuous memorial (or record). Monumentum is anything that preserves the remembrance of a person or thing; here history. Te "with the infinitive to denote an indefinite and assumed individual subject," like our indefinite-pronoun one. So tibi and tuae. M. 370, Obs. 2. — 27. Capias. Potential subjunctive; or, if one prefer so to take it, subjunctive of permission. Its connection both with quod imitere and with quod vites is an instance of zeugma; with the first it means to choose or adopt, with the second to understand, to learn. — 27, 28. Imitere, vites. Subjunctive of propriety, fitness, duty.
- 15 2. Major, greater (than Rome). — 3. Nec in quam civitatem = Nec civitas (ulla umquam fuit) in quam. Attraction of the antecedent into the relative clause. — 4. Seras. Livy often uses adjectives where earlier writers use adverbs. — 4, 6. Inmigra- verint, fuerit. Subjunctives in relative clauses after the general negative assertion, that there is no (other) state to which the assertions in these relative clauses apply. M. 365. — 5. What is the difference of meaning between paupertas and parsimonia, and the English words poverty and parsimony? — 6. Adco, so true is it that. — Quanto, tanto, ablatives of the measure of the difference. — Nuper. Livy (Book xxxix. 6,) speaks of the army of Cn. Manlius Volso returning from Asia, B. C. 187, as first introducing foreign luxury into Rome; but adds vix tamen illa, quae tum conspiciebantur, semina erant futurae luxuriae. Sallust (Cat. 11, 12,) places the beginning of the greatest corruption and luxury at the time of Sulla. Fr. — 8. Luxum. "Luxuria (4) is the disposition to excessive indulgence; luxus, the excessive indulgence itself." — 8, 9. Desiderium pereundi, the eager desire of ruining themselves. An oxymoron, expressing emphatically the eager pursuit of pleasures which they know will inevitably destroy them. — 10. Forsitan, limiting simply the adjective necessariae, has no influence on the mood of the verb. — 11. Initio ordiendae. A pleonasm common in Livy with verbs of beginning. — 12. Potius contrasts bonis ominibus with querellae (querelae) which are of ill omen. — Que et connect votis and precationibus closely together as appositives in common to bonis ominibus. — 13. Poetis. The ancient epic poets, as is well known, begin with invocations to the gods or muses. — Nobis, i. e. historians. — 14. Tantum is the reading of the best MSS., adopted by Mg. and Hz. — Weissenborn, after other MSS., reads tanti, thus making orsis a noun instead of a participle, as in our reading.

BOOK FIRST.

I.-III. INTRODUCTION. — I. After the taking of Troy (Mythical date, B. C. 1184), two Trojans, Antenor and Aeneas, come into Italy. Founding of Lavinium. II. Wars of the Latins with the Butulians and Etruscans. III. Ascanius founds Alba Longa, (Mythical date, B. C. 1053). Reign of the Silvii.

I. 1, 2. Troja — Trojanos, that, on the taking of Troy, the rest of the Trojans were massacred. Saevitum esse, a passive impersonal; literally, rage was vented, cruelty was used, (in) upon the

- 17 rest, etc. — Duobus, dative of advantage, in favor of two. This dative is more elegant than the simple ablative of separation would have been. Livy also uses abstinere sometimes with an accusative and ablative without a preposition, sometimes with an accusative and ablative with a. — 3. Jure, ablative of cause. — Vetusti hospitii. Antenor entertained Ulysses and Menelaus when they came on an embassy to Troy to demand the restoration of Helen. (Iliad iii. 207.) Antenor advised the return of Helen, (Iliad vii. 350 sq.). “Nothing of the kind,” (says Seeley,) “is said about Aeneas in Homer, but in Il. ii. 822 he is very closely connected with Antenor.” Wsb. cites Il. xx. 298 and xiii. 460; and remarks that Livy’s birthplace, Patavium, is connected with Troy by the legends of Antenor (Tac. Ann. 16, 21), as is Rome, the city of his nationality, by those of Aeneas. — 4. Fuerunt. So the best MSS., and Wsb., Hs., Fr. — Cr., D.-Kr., Z., Mg., S. read fuerant. The perfect is aoristic, and states the fact simply, without reference to the time of abstinuisse. — 4, 5. Omne — abstinuisse, refrained from the exercise of any of the rights of war. The jus belli authorized the murder, mutilation, or sale into slavery, of all captives. — Casibus deinde variis, their fortunes diverging from this point. S. — 6. Antenorem, subject-accusative of venisse, the acc. and inf. following constat. — Enetum = Enetorum. — 7. Pylæmenes, king of the Enēti, a people of Paphlagonia, fought on the side of the Trojans, and was slain by Menelaus. Iliad v. 576 sqq. — 8, 9. Venisse, etc. Cf. Verg. Aen. i. 242–249. — 11. Et, and in fact. Frey gives another example of this corroborative force of et from Livy vi. 11, 9. Madvig substitutes here ei; but there is a certain want of ease in the reading thus changed, nor is there need of an emendation. — In quem locum = locus, in quem. Attraction of the antecedent into the relative clause. — 12. Trojano. Predicate, attracted into the case of pago, according to the common usage with names. The name of a district is Trojan. — 13. Gens appellati. Livy, unlike Cicero, frequently connects collective nouns in the singular with a predicate in the plural. — Ab, in consequence of, after. — 13–15. Aeneam venisse. This accusative-and-infinitive, also, depends on constat (line 1). Vergil was writing his Aenēid at the same time as Livy was writing his first decade (B. C. 27–29). 14. Ad majora rerum initia. An hypallage (of which Livy is fond) for ad majorum rerum initia, to the founding of a greater state. J. F. G.

emends: majorum;—but unnecessarily. Cf. c. ix.: violati hospitii foedus. — 15, 16. In Macedoniam . . . in Siciliam. That is, first to Aenea, on the bay of Salonicchi, then to Eryx (possibly) and to Segesta. — 16. Delatum (esse). — 17. Tenuisse, sc. cursum. It would have been a more common construction to have said Laurentem agrum tenuisse without the preposition. — Troja. The unusualness of the nominative case, as well as the position of the word, makes Troja emphatic. Madvig unnecessarily changes the case and reads Trojae. — 18–20. Ut quibus — superesset, inas- much as nothing was left them, etc. This relative clause, expressing the reason of the fact stated in the proposition Cum Trojani, ibi egressi, praedam ex agris agerent, is strengthened by ut. H. 519; 519, 3, 1; A. & S. 264, 8, (1.) and (2.); B. 1253; A. 63, II.; G. 427. — 19. Immenso prope errore. “Immensus is literally infinite, not, like the English ‘immense,’ merely ‘very large;’ it therefore requires prope. Cf. Milton’s ‘Of amplitude almost immense.’” (An excellent note of Seeley’s). — 21. Tum. Still more anciently, the Sicūli were said to have inhabited the country. — 21, 22. Ad arcendam vim. Ad with the accusative of the gerundive denoting the purpose. — 24. Inde, from that point. — Alii, etc. This first story is the one which Vergil follows.

1. Alii. sc. tradunt. — 4, 10. Percunctatum and admiratum 18 are participles, (not perfect-infinitives,) and agree with eum understood, the subject of sanxissē (line 12). — 4. Qui mortales essent, etc. Cf. Verg. Aen. i. 369 sq.:

Sed vos qui tandem, quibus aut venistis ab oris, Quove tenetis iter?

5, 6. Unde — exissent. Three questions are compressed into this clause: unde (venissent), quo casu profecti (essent) domo, and quid quaerentes in agrum Laurentem exissent. As in the passage from Vergil above cited, the disjunctives aut and ve are used, where we should use the copulative conjunction and. — Essent, exissent. Subjunctives in dependent (or indirect) questions. — 6. Postquam audierit. Subjunctive in a subordinate clause in oratio obliqua, where in direct discourse the indicative would have been used. The perfect tense is used after postquam where we should expect the pluperfect. — 8. Cremata patria. Ablative absolute of both time and cause. — 9. Condendae urbis locum. P and Mg. read urbi. The genitive expresses more close, intimate, and definite relations than

- 18 the dative. Our reading means the site for the city which (according to the decrees of the fates) was to be built; 'condendae urbi locus' would mean a site for building a city. Aeneas and his followers had several times already sought the destined site in other lands. — 10, 11. Vel bello vel paci, whether for peace or war. Vel — vel ('please you,' from volo), in distinctions, imply indifference as to which is chosen: equally for peace and war. — 11. Dextra data, by giving his right hand. — 12, 13. Ictum (esse), factam (esse). The accusatives-and-infinitives in lines 12–15 depend upon tradunt supplied with alii in line 1. — 12. What is the origin of the expressions, icere foedus, ferire foedus? (See Lexicons under ferio and ico). — 14. Penates deos. The Penates were the good guardian deities of the house. The hearth was sacred to them, as the centre of the house and family. — 15. Publico, sc. foederi. — Aeneas, dative. — 17. Affirmat = affirmat. — Spem finiendi erroris. — 18. Lavinium was the seat of the Lares and the religious centre of the Latin confederation. For, like the family, every state and every city had its Lares and Penates. Even in later times, the Roman consuls and praetors were obliged to sacrifice to Vesta and the Penates at Lavinium on their entrance to office and on their abdication. Frey. — 19. Brevi, in a short time. — Stirps. M, P, E, B, all have stirpis; which form of the nominative was probably used by Livy in this passage and in xxvi. 13. — 20. Ascanium, accusative in apposition to nomen.

II. 23. Turnus, "a Latin form of the Greek word Τυρρηνός, an Etruscan." The legendary war of Turnus and the Latins may represent the successful rising of the Latins against the Etruscans, who in prehistoric times had extended their dominion from Etruria southward as far as Vesuvius. — 28. Rebus, their own strength; their prospects, their cause. — Florentes, renowned, brilliant, celebrated. See Näg. p. 361. — 29. Caere, locative ablative. From the omission of the preposition in before opulento oppido, and from the fact that imperitans naturally takes a dative, Seeley infers that Caere is here the dative, although he grants that this form does not occur elsewhere in that case. But there are other instances in good authors of the omission of the preposition before oppido after such locatives; and such omissions are among Livy's characteristic deviations from ordinary rules. — 31. Nimio, ablative of measure with the comparative plus, very much more. Literally, more by too much: a free colloquial expression. — 35. Nec = et ne; with the subjunctive, denoting a negative purpose. — 36. 18 Etiam (sub eodem) nomina. — 37. Nec. Corroborative, (like et on page 17 line 11); and in fact . . . not. — Deinde, from that time forth.

 — 38. Studio ac fide. Ablative of specification or respect in which. — 39. Que (after fretus) may be translated And so then or
And so; ("the result was that."). — In dies, every day.

1. Opibus. Abl. of the respect in which. — 4. Cum, although. — 19
 5. Moenibus. Instrumental ablative. — 6. Secundum, favorable.
 — 7. Hic situs est, is a common inscription on Roman gravestones.
 — 8. In religious ceremonies, the priests were accustomed to add, after calling the name of the god, sive quo alio nomine fas est
appellare. Cf. Horace's Matutine pater seu Jane libentius audis.
 Here, moreover, there is an evident impropriety in applying the human name Aeneas to the tutelary deity. — Super, on; on the banks of. — Notice the quantity, Numicus. — 9. Jovem Indi-getem. Jupiter is here used, not as the sovereign of the Olympians, but as Divus Pater. According to Dionysius (i. 64), the inscription on the herōum of Aeneas was Πατρὶς Θεοῦ Ἰδίου καὶ πατρὸς Νομίου ἱεῖμα δίκτυ, in which the first three words are equivalent to Divi Patris Indigetes. Indiges is derived from indu (= in) and the root gen. The Indigetes were the legendary heroes, who, after their death, were regarded as the tutelary genii or patron deities of their native land. "The only well-known cultus of the kind is that of the Pater or Deus Indiges, called also Juppiter Indiges on the Numicius (or Numicus), who was subsequently identified with Aeneas."

III. 12. Tutela muliebri, by the protection (or under the guardianship) of a woman. — 16. Quis adfirmet (affirmet). Subjunctive of possibility or propriety, in a question of appeal. — Certo. An adjective in the neuter gender used substantively, — as often in Livy after prepositions. — 15-18. Hicine — eundem, whether it was this Ascanius, or an elder (major sc. natu) than he, born of Creusa as his mother when Troy was unharmed, and the companion of his father's flight (thence, i. e.) from that city, whom
(as called) also Iulus the Julian gens, etc. Eundem, M. 488; Z.
 127, 697; H. 451, 3; A. & S. 207, Rem. 27 (a); B. 1034; G. 97. — While Livy does not answer the question, his narrative assumes that the founder of Alba Longa was Lavinia's son. — 21. Lavini (Lavinii), locative genitive. — Multitudine. The regular Latin for population. S. — 24, 25. Longa Alba. The regular order of the two words is inverted to make longa emphatic.

Page

- 19 26. Lavinium, sc. conditum, (the founding of) Lavinium. — Albam Longam. Terminal accusative. — 28. Opes, sc. Latino-rum. — Morte, on the death. Ablative of date. "Some words which do not in themselves denote time, but an event, are used in the ablative without a preposition to intimate the time when a thing takes place;" e. g. adventu Caesaris, occasu solis. M. 276, Obs. 2. — 29. Inter, during. — 29, 30. Muliebrem, puerilis. Adjectives are often used where, in accordance with our English idiom, we should expect the genitive of the corresponding noun: mulieris, pueri. — 31, 32. Ausi sint. Subjunctive of result with ut, following Tantum creverant. The perfect subjunctive here (as distinguished from the imperfect, which is ordinarily found when the leading proposition belongs to past time,) makes the statement emphatically and distinctly, as not confined to the immediate time of the principal verb: they dared on no one single occasion. See M. 332, Obs. 1, (Obs. 3, Am. ed.); G. 304; Haase's Reisig's Vorlesungen, § 480, pp. 550 sq.; Fabri on Livy xxi. 2, 6. — 35. sqq. This list of the Alban kings is undoubtedly mythical. The older traditions represented Romulus as the grandson of Aeneas; but later investigators saw that the supposed time of the destruction of Troy was separated from that of the building of Rome by 432 years, (according to Cato and Dionysius: Vergil (Aen. i. 265-274) and Livy make it 3 + 30 + 300 to the birth of Romulus and Remus): these kings were inserted to fill the gap. The names of Ascanius and Capys are taken from the Trojan legends; other names are eponyms of the great Roman houses or gentes, and some are geographical eponyms. — 38. Silviis cognomen, the name Silvius. Silviis is dative by attraction to omnibus. Cognomen here = nomen; for Silvius was the gentile name, and not the "cognomen" in its proper sense.
- 20 3. Ad posteros, down to posterity. Z. The preposition denotes tendency, direction. — 6. Sepultus, "in other words, worshipped, as above" (page 19 line 7 sq.). — 7. Romanae is emphatic, because Aventinus is king of Alba, not of Rome. S. — 8. Livy prefers the Latin form Proca to the Greek Procas. — 10. Maximus (natu), eldest. — 12. Verecundia aetatis, respect for (superior) age. — 14. Filiae, a dative of reference, in the special form of disadvantage, with spem — adimit: more delicate and significant than the simple ablative of separation, — like which, however, we are sometimes obliged to translate it. — Reae Silviae. Silvia is her gentile name. Rea = voti rea (Cf. Verg. Aen. v. 237), i. e. the consecrated, the Vestal. (Preller.)

IV.-VII., § 3. The Founding of Rome. IV. The daughter of Numitor becomes the mother of Romulus and Remus. Exposure of the twins by order of Amulius; their deliverance and education. V. Murder of Amulius. VI.-VII., § 3. Founding of Rome (Mythical date, B. C. 753). Strife of the Brothers.

IV. 17. Debeatur, etc. "The world had to thank the fates for" tantae origo urbis, etc. Z.—18. Secundum, after, next after. — 23. Regia = regis. Cf. muliebrem, puerilis, chap. iii. — 25. Jubet, sc. rex, implied in regia. — 26. Forte quadam divinitus, by some providential chance, ἴσθι τι τοῦ θεοῦ. The adverb divinitus, as Seeley remarks, is used in Livy's manner with the noun, as "nullo publice emolumento," vi. 39. "It is the opposite of 'forte temere,' 'by mere haphazard.'" Gruter's and Merula's defence of their conjecture, an divinitus, was well answered by J. F. Gronovius, and Madvig's argument for the same conjecture by Seeley. — 26-29. Tiberis — dabat. There is a little confusion here of two subjects: Tiberis as subject of neq. adiri poterat, and Tiberis effusus as subject of spem dabat: the Tiber, having overflowed its banks, was not accessible at its regular channel: and the overflow of the Tiber gave hope that the outlying water was deep enough for the purpose required. Effusus, with the first verb, is simply a circumstantial participle denoting the cause; with dabat it forms an actual part of the subject, being used like a verbal noun. Yet its closer connection with the noun in the second clause than in the first is easier in the Latin than in English translation, and the carelessness of construction is not unnatural. — Lenibus stagnis. Ablative of mode or way. — Nec — et, while not...yet. — Amnis, genitive. — Justi cursum amnis. Hypallage for justum cursum amnis. — 30. In proxima eluvie, "at the nearest point of the overflow." — Ficus Ruminalis. The Ruminal fig-tree stood on the west slope of the Palatine near the Lupercal grotto. It was probably sacred to Rumina, the goddess of suckling, whose name is derived from ruma, the breast. The derivation of the name from Romulus is a false conjecture of later antiquarians. — 32. Vastae, wild. — His locis, i. e. the region between the Palatine, Capitoline, and Aventine. — 33. Quo. Instrumental ablative; although in Eng-

20 lish we say in which. See Gildersleeve's excellent rule, § 186. —

37. Lambentem, sc. eam. — 38. Faustulo. Dative by attraction to the case of the pronoun ei understood, which limits nemen fuisse. "Faustulus, who takes the children from the wolf, is none other than Faunus himself, whose name appears as Faunus, Faustus, or Faustulus." S. The word is derived from fav-eo and the root tul in te-tul-i, as in opi-tul-ari, and means the help-bringer, the bringer of blessings, the rescuer. (Wsb.)

21 1. (Eos) datos (esse). — 1, 2. Qui putent. A relative clause defining or characterizing the indefinite general subject of the verb sunt. — Vulgato corpore. Ablative absolute of the cause. This rationalizing interpretation of the myth proceeds on an entire misunderstanding of its origin. Larentia is the legendary Acca Larentia, which means the mother of the Lares, who, under the name of Lupercal or Lupa, nursed Pious and Faunus, the guardian Lares of the Roman state considered as a family. (Wsb.) The same legend was applied to Romulus and Remus, themselves the Lares or "original ancestors and divine guardians" of the Roman state. — 5. Nec segnes, etc., while not slack to work, they delighted especially in hunting. See Näg. § 84, 2. — 6-10. Peragraré, subsistere, facere, celebrare. Historical infinitive. This infinitive "takes the place of the imperfect, and gives the outline of the thought and not the details." Gildersleeve, 438, Rem. — Jam subsistere. Jam marks the beginning of an action. 'They began not to confine themselves to lying in wait for wild beasts.' S. Subsistere is here transitive. — Sed (after non tantum) = sed etiam. — 10. Seria, i. e. conflicts with robbers, and the like; jocos, sports, like those described in the next chapter.

V. 11. In bracketing monte, I follow Madvig, who says that the words Palatium mons are not found united as appositives, and that monte was brought up here from Palatium montem (line 13). — Lupercal. This is the name, first, of a cave (near the Ruminal fig-tree), which was the sanctuary of Lupercus, a name of Faunus as keeping the wolves from the flock (lupus, arceo), then (as here) of the Lupercalia, a shepherd's festival held on the 15th of February. — Hoc, the present, of our day, this our festival. Hic denotes that which is near in place, time, or thought. — 14. Ex eo genere, sc. oriundus: sprung from that tribe of Arcadians who dwelt at Pallantium. — 15. Tempestatibus, ages. Tem-

pestas is an archaic word for tempus, and appropriately used 21 here of those old prehistoric ages. — Tenuerit. Subjunctive in a subordinate relative clause in oratio obliqua. — 16, 17. The substantive clause ut currerent is appositive to sollemne. — Quem, i. e. Pana. — 20 sq. Construction: Latrones, ... insidiosos (its) huic ludicro deditis, ... Remum cepisse. — 22. Ultrō, impudently. From its original local meaning ultrō derives the signification "beyond what one might have expected," and is hence used of any gratuitous or extravagant action. — 23. Impetum. Frey suggests that perhaps we ought to have the reading impetus. — 29. Quo ... sustulisset. This relative clause, defining the subject of the sentence tempus ... congruere, which has its verb in the infinitive, is an essential, constituent part of the proposition, and accordingly has its verb in the subjunctive, the mood of such conjoined clauses. The principle is the same as in Oratio Obliqua. H. 527, 3; A. & S. 266; B. 1291, 1292; A. 66, I.; G. 424. — 30. Ad id ipsum congruere, corresponded exactly with that (time); i. e. with the time when the children were exposed. — 33. Et, also. — Numitori. This is a frequent and elegant use of the dative, limiting not a single word alone (as animum), but the whole sentence, — all that follows being referred to Numitor, as of interest to him. The translation in Numitor's case or in Numitor's turn expresses the idea in part; but it is almost impossible to do full justice to the delicate construction in English. Translate animum, (his) mind. This dative is a dative of reference, with the collateral idea of interest, and often of advantage or disadvantage. See my notes on Vergil's Aeneid i. 92 and 102. — 37. Eodem, to the same point, to the same result (as Faustulus). — Haut = haud. — Esset is impersonal.

1. Juvenes is often used for warriors, soldiers, from its denoting 22 persons of military age. Yet we should generally retain the lively translation youths or young men, understanding however that the term includes what we call middle-aged men as well as youths. — 2. Aliis pastoribus alio itinere, some by one way, some by another. — 3. Ad regem. So ad hostem ire or ducere; incursu ad navem; Prisc. 14, 21: ad illum mihi pugna est. But in is more usual. Wsb. — 4. Construction: comparata a domo.

VI. 6-13. Numitor — ostendit. An admirable example of a skilfully constructed periodic sentence. The position of the subject and the leading verb at the beginning and the end, the

22 variety of verb-constructions referred to the subject (dictitans | cum avocasset | postquam vidit | advocato consilio | ostendit) and with a subordinate subject (perpetrata caede | pergere | gratulantes), and the recurrence of similar successions of words (cum pubem Albanam . . . obtinendam avocasset | postquam juvenes . . . gratulantes vidit | scelus . . . fratris | originem nepotum | ut. | ut. | ut. . .), are noteworthy. — 6. Hostis. Accusative plural. — 8. In arcem obtinendam, into the citadel, to hold it, etc. On the pretence that the palace is already attacked, Numitor calls the troops away (avocasset) from the palace to the citadel as the most important point to be defended. Ad arcem obtinendam would have been used if the meaning had been simply to hold the citadel. — Præsidie armisque = præsidio armato. Hendiadys. — 11-12. Ut is here interrogative, and hence takes the subjunctive of indirect question. — 14. Agmine. Ablative of mode. — 19. Et, and (in fact); as in chap. i. Et in quem, etc. — Supererat, was excessive, was too great for their towns. — 20. Pastores. Cf. Cic. Orat. i. 9, 37: Romulus pastores et convenas congregavit. Liv. ii. 1, 4: illa pastorum convenarumque plebs. — 21. Qui, (with the subjunctive facere denoting the result,) so that they. — Omnes, all (together). — 26, 27. Essent and posset give the reason as conceived by the twins themselves: hence the subjunctive. — 27. Tutelæ. This possessive genitive in the predicate after essent, may be translated under whose protection. — 28. Qui = uter. So chap. 24: cujus populi. There is a careless ease in saying who instead of saying, precisely, which of the two. — Daret, should give, was to give. The subjunctive in this indirect question corresponds to the future indicative in direct discourse. "In dependent questions" (says Madvig, 356, Obs. 2), "about a thing which is to happen" [pres. subj., or was to happen, imperf. subj.], "the notion is to" [or was to] "is frequently not expressed by a separate word," but is implied (he might have added) in the mood itself. The idea is not that of futurity simply, but of propriety as well: who was the one to give. — 30. See Lexicon for the meaning of templum in the language of augury.

VII. 34. Tempore præcepto, from the precedence in time. — 35. Trahebant, so. ad se, claimed. — 36. Certamine irarum, in their passionate contest. The force of this genitive is best given by an adjective. The plural of abstract nouns occurs in Latin much more frequently than in English. M. 50, Obs. 3; G. 3, Rem. 5. — Ibi, thereupon.

1. Sic deinde, so. pereat, or, more generally, so may he fare. 23
The sanctity of city walls was strenuously asserted in the Roman law. That kinship was no bar to the infliction of penalty, Frey illustrates by the cases of Brutus and Manlius Torquatus. — 3, 4. Conditā — appellata. So the myth; but in truth the name Romulus is probably derived from Roma, in accordance with the ancient fashion of devising eponymous heroes.

VII. § 3 — XVI. Romulus, first King. (Mythical date of his reign B. C. 753-717.) VII. Religious Institutions. Episode of Hercules and Evander. VIII. Political Institutions. Formation of the Senate. IX.-XIII. Rape of the Sabine women. Union of the Romans and Sabines. Division of the people into curiae. XIV.-XV. § 5. Death of T. Tatius. War with Fidenæ and Veii. XV. § 5-XVI. End of the life of Romulus (B. C. 717), and his Deification.

5. The fortification of the Palatine, Schwegler remarks, was easy on account of its isolated situation, and might well consist chiefly in cutting off perpendicularly the sides of the hill. — 6. Aliis here like ceteris, the other. — Graeco. The ritual in the worship of Hercules was Greek throughout. Graeco ritu sacrifices were offered with the priest's head bare, Romano ritu with the head covered. Cf. Verg. Aen. iii. 405 sqq. — 8. Hercules came from Hesperia (Spain) with the cattle of the giant Geryon, who reigned at Erythea near Gades (the modern Cadiz). — Mira specie. The well-known ablative of quality, characteristic, or description. H. 428; A. & S. 211, Rem. 6; B. 888; A. 54, II.; G. 198. — 11. Laetiores, richer, more abundant; yet with the original idea of glad, here actively, making glad. This reading is adopted by Hertz, from the fragmentum Havercampianum (Drak.), a MS. of good authority; the Medicean reads laetiores efficeret. Editors generally laeto. — 13. Sopor (as distinguished from "somnus"), a deep, heavy sleep. — 13-19. Notice the periodic structure: pastor — traxit. — 14. The robber Cacus lived in a cave on the Aventine over the Tiber. "Cacus is 'Caecus,' and represents a power of darkness." — Ferox viribus, confiding in his strength. S. Viribus is abl. of cause. — 15. Eam praedam, them as booty. The pronoun attracted to the following explanatory substantive. Fr. — 17. Deductura erant. Although in the apodosis of a past condition not fulfilled (si — compulisset), we have the indicative erat with the future active participle to denote what must have happened, was actually ready to happen, if the condition had happened.

- 23 See M. 348, a. — Aversos, backwards. Perhaps Madvig's suggestion should be adopted, and the text emended so as to read: aversas boves, eximiam quamque. Cf. relictarum, line 27. — Eximium — pulehritudine, all those conspicuous for their beauty. Quisque with the adjective limits and particularizes the unlimited whole (boves) to which it is appositive. — 23. Foras. The accusative form of this adverb denotes direction, tendency, answering the question whither. The ablative foris denotes the place where. — 25. Animi. M. (296, b, Obs. 3) regards this as a locative genitive, in mind. It is more generally taken as a genitive of specification, or of the respect in which, after adjectives denoting an affection of the mind. — 26. Ut fit, as is natural, as usually happens in such cases. — 30. Fidem, the protection. — 32. Evander. Faunus (the favorable or propitious deity) was worshipped at the cave called the Lupercal, "the original germ of Rome." When the Romans began to resolve their gods into heroes, the name of Faunus "had to be explained as meaning the good or benevolent man. Hence, perhaps, the name of Evander," (εὖ ἀνὴρ,) as that of the original settler on the Palatine. S. and Pr. — 34. Litterarum, i. e. written characters. Having once acquired a Greek wanderer settled in Rome, the Romans might naturally refer to him anything in their institutions which appeared borrowed from the Greeks. The alphabet actually did come to the Latins from Greece. S. — 35. Carmenta, (from canere (canere), whence also, Carmentae, Camenae, carmen,) a nymph of song and of prophecy, — the helpful mother and fate-singing companion of Evander (the historic Faunus), and a goddess of birth. Some even made her the wife (and not the mother) of Evander, placing her by him exactly as Fauna by Faunus. — 36. Sibyllae. The Cumæan Sibyl. — 38. Trepidantium, hurrying in alarm. This verb implies agitated motion, as in chapters xii. and xiv.: trepidante equo, trepidante equitatu.
- 24 1. Habitum, the bearing. — 2. Aliquantum. This adverbial accusative, instead of the ablative aliquanto, is found in poets and later prose writers. — 3. Rogitat. Frequentatives occur very often in Livy's first decad, more seldom afterwards. Fr. — Qui. Notice the interrogative adjective pronoun. — 4. Jove nato. Rule for the ablative? What part of speech is nato? — 5. Interpres deūm, one speaking for or in the name of the gods. It answers to προφήτης and ἐπιφήτης. Seeley. — Deūm. Livy often uses the contracted form of the genitive plural in the second declension. — 6. Cecinit, foretold. — 8. Vocet, colat. The future meaning, so often characteristic of the subjunctive, appears in these verbs. — Tuo ritu. Either "in accordance with the ritual established by thee," i. e. the Greek rite (Fr.); or "with a rite peculiar to thee" (S.). — 9. Accipere omen. Pliny (xxviii. 2, 4) says: "Omens and potens are in the power of men, and have power according as they are in each instance received." It was believed that one was able omina improbare as well as accipere. An important principle: "for man is man, and master of his fate." — Fata (from furi), the predictions, the prophecy. — 10. Ara — dicata, by building and dedicating the altar. — Ibi, on this occasion. — 16. Ceteram dapem, the rest of the feast, i. e. the sacrificial banquet, to which the eating the exta by the priests and attendants was preliminary. — 17. The name Pinarius is connected with this prohibition to eat of the sacrifice. Hercules is said to have pronounced the sentence βυτίς δὲ πινάεσσιν. (Servius ad Aen. v. 269.) Seeley. — 22. Peregrina, i. e. not derived from Alba.

VIII. 28, 29. Ita — si, (only) in this way, — if. The two words may be translated together, in the second clause, only on the condition that. "Only" is frequently not expressed in Latin, especially with ita and sic. — 31. Alii, some, is here followed by eorum (and not aliorum), as a definite pronoun is needed. — 33. Secutum (esse), etc., that (he) adopted that number from the number of the birds, etc. — 33, 35. Me — esse, I am content (or I am not disinclined) to be of the opinion of those, etc. — Hoc genus = hujus generis. Accusative of specification. M. 238. I adopt, with Madvig, the emendation of James Gronovius (son of the great John Frederic) in omitting et before these words, and Hermann's emendation in inserting et before numerus in line 36. — Etruscis. It is probable that Roman antiquarians attached too great importance to the influence of Etruria upon Rome in her first years: "it can be shown that many institutions which they derive from Etruria were common to all the Italians." — 37. Ductum (esse). Predicate verb of appariteres as well as numerus. — 38. Communiter creato rege. Ablative absolute of time: when a king was appointed in common. Each of the twelve states of Etruria had its own king or Lucumo, but in times of danger, a supreme king was chosen to unite the forces of the country for war. If there had been only one king always, we should have 24 had here the dative regi instead of rege. — 39. Dederint. Subjunctive in indirect narration.

25 2. Adpetendo = appetendo. — In spem, with reference to their hope. — 3. Ad id — erat, in accordance with that number of inhabitants which they then had. — 5. Adliciendae (alliciendae). Thus edited by Madvig, after the Ascensian edition of 1513. The MSS. generally have adiciendae; Palat. pr., adlicendae. — 8, 9. Qui — est, which is now enclosed, as you go down (i. e. from the citadel, one of the peaks of the Capitoline hill) to “Between the Two Groves ;” (as one might say in Berlin, “Let us go to Under the Lindens.”) The depression between the two peaks of the Capitoline was called Inter Duos Lucos, although the original groves had disappeared in later times. Descendentibus, ‘for those descending,’ is a dative of reference. M. 241, Obs. 6. — 9. Asylum, (as) an asylum. Those who took refuge here, after gaining the sacred protection of the asylum, were supposed to find homes in the city. — 10. Omnis, of every description; a promiscuous crowd. — 11, 12. Idque — fuit, and this was the first strength proportioned to the magnitude of the undertaking. — 13. Poeniteret, sc. eum. Frey, however, thinks that the omission of the pronoun implies a general subject. — 15, 16. Soli qui possent. Qui (after soli) = tales ut. — 16. Livy’s explanation of the patrician order as originating with the descendants of senators is rejected by the best modern scholars. On the contrary, “a body of nobility existed before the senate was instituted, and from this the senate was appointed” (W. F. Allen). These nobles are the patricians; their name only being possibly derived from the senators. In Seeley’s opinion, “probably the senators were first called ‘patres’ either as being predominantly heads of families, or as being elderly men (senatus, cf. γερουσία, δημωγέροντες), and afterwards the patrician body took their name from the assembly which best represented them.” But it is not impossible that ‘patres’ was in the earliest times the general appellation of the heads of patrician houses, and that the senators were originally ‘patres’ only as belonging to a wider class who possessed that title.

IX. 20. Hominis aetatem. In translation, supply only. — 21, 22. Quippe quibus essent, inasmuch as they had. The relative clause expressing a reason is strengthened by quippe. — 21. Domi. Locative case. — 22. Conubia = connubia. — 23, 24. Qui — peterent. A relative clause of purpose. 24–29. Urbes—

miscere. A good example of Oratio Obliqua: accusative and infinitive in principal clauses, subjunctive in inserted relative clause, and subjunctive (ne gravarentur) where the imperative would be used in direct discourse. — 27. Eae (urbes), antecedent of quas (25), may be understood as the subject of facere. — 27. Satis scire, sc. se, that they knew well. — Romanae. Adjective where we should use the noun: of Rome. — 28. Proinde introduces the conclusion finally drawn from a number of arguments. In Greek, καὶ; ῥαδρα. S. — 29. Homines, as men, as human beings. — 34. Id demum, lit. that at last, = nothing short of that. — 35. Pubes. Cicero and Caesar would say juventus or juvenes. — 37. Cui refers to vim. — 39. Sellemnis, accusative plural. — The god of the sea, in his contest with Athene, made the first horse; hence Equester. — The Consualia were games celebrated on the 21st of August, in honor of the god Consus, whose worship was among the oldest in Rome. He was a god of the Under World, who granted and denied fertility. His altar was in the Circus Maximus, in which the Romans supposed the rape of the Sabines to have taken place. He has no connection with Neptunus; "but the Greeks honored their Poseidon with horse-races, and in the Circus Flaminius there was an altar of Neptunus, as there was an altar of Consus in the Circus Maximus."

2, 3. Concelebrat (he makes preparation for the festival), 28 faceret. Emendations of Madvig. The MSS.: concelebrant, facerent. — 6. Etiam. Mg. and Hx., after Scheibius. Yet the reading of the MSS. jam (in the sense of moreover) may be defended. — 11. Eo, to it. — Composite. Participle used substantively. — 13, 14. Magna pars raptae (sunt). A construction to the sense: collective noun with plural verb. — Forte, without choice, just as it happened. — 18. Globo, the band, servants or clients. — 20. Supply eam twice: as the object of violaret, and as the subject of ferri. "The omission of the subject-accusative te, se, eum, eos is frequent in Livy." — 21. Hanc, this our; this of our day. When a Roman bride was conducted from her father's house to her husband's, her companions kept shouting "Ta-lassio!" The origin of this word is uncertain. (See Preller, 584.) The story of the seizure of the Sabine maidens was probably invented in part to account for the marriage ceremonies of the Romans. — 22, 23. Violati hospitii foedus = violatum hospitii foedus. — 24. Per fas ac fidem decepti, betrayed (by their 26 confidence in) sacred right (i. e. the rights of hospitality) and plighted faith. A pledge of good faith on the part of their entertainers was implied when they were invitati hospitaliter per domos. — Venissent. The subjunctive means 'they had come, as they said.' — 27-36. Patrum — desiderium. Oratio Obliqua. See note on lines 24-29 of page 25. — Patrum, of (their) fathers. — 30. Humano generi, to human nature. S. — 31. Liberum = liberorum. Contracted genitive plural. — 33, 34. Esque — quod, and that they would find their husbands so much the kinder, because. — 35. Cum — sit, when he had done his duty in his own place (i. e. as a husband). Suam vicem. Accusative of specification: adverbial accusative.

27 X. 2. Sordida veste. In token of mourning. — 13. Nomen, tribe. S. — 16. Vanam sine viribus iram. The end of an hexameter verse (into which a maxim or the expression of a general truth easily falls), but modified by the following esse. Fr. — 17. Regem. Propertius (5. 10, 7), calls this king Acon. S. — 24. Quercum. Trees were held in great veneration among the ancient Italians (as well as among many other pagans in the East, in Greece, and in Northern Europe), but the oak above all others: especially the old oak on the Capitoline, sacred to Jupiter. — Pastoribus sacram, to the shepherds a sacred object: where we should say, held sacred by the shepherds. — 25. Finis. Accusative plural. — 26. The name Feretrius is derived from feretrum, a frame built of trunks of trees, upon which the pieces of armor taken as spoils from the enemy were borne and set up. Cf. Verg. Aen. xi. 83, Prel. p. 177. — 27. Romulus rex regia. Alliteration is especially frequent in solemn formulas. — 27, 28. His regionibus, within these bounds. — 29. Opima spolia, the spoils of honor, were gained by the king or general who slew the general of the enemy. — 35. Doni, honor: but with reference to the gift of the spoils to the god. — Bina is used instead of due because spolia has no singular. The two occasions were B. C. 437, when A. Cornelius Cossus slew Tolumnius, king of Veii, and B. C. 222, when M. Claudius Marcellus killed Viridomarus, a king of the Gaesatae, a Gallic tribe. — 36, 37. Ejus fortuna decoris, the good fortune to gain this distinction. Z.

XI. 38. Ibi, ea parte, in this direction, i. e. with the Caeninienses. — 39. Solitudinem explains occasionem. (Hendiadys.) As the Romans had gone out to war; their fields were unoccupied.

1. Et, also. — Ad, against. — 2. Legio, army. "This seems the original meaning of the word. Cf. Verg. Aen. vii. 68." S. — Wsb. says "the later designation is transferred to the earliest times; the legion was said to have consisted of 3,000 men, 1,000 from each tribe, therefore mil it-es." — 3. Clamore, battle-cry. — 4. Ovantem, exulting. — Hersilia, the wife of Romulus, was the only married woman carried off by the Romans in the rape of the Sabine maidens. After her death she was deified as Hora Quirini, — the name probably of some older deity of love and marriage, and applied to her after Romulus had been identified with Quirinus. — Conjux. Livy generally makes this word end in -nx. — 7. Rom coalescere posse, the state could grow strong (or stable). Oratio Obliqua. — 9. Profectus (est Romulus). — 11. Utroque: i. e. both to Antemnae and Crustumeria. — 13. Crustumium. Livy often uses the neuter singular of adjectives derived from the names of towns or nations, as substantives. — In Crustumium nomina darent, gave in their names (as colonists) for Crustumeria. — Et, and also. — 14. Frequenter, in large numbers.

16. Ab Sabinis. Ab with the ablative of source. — 17. Per iram, in a passionate way. — 19. Consilio, to deliberation. — 20. The citadel proper was on the northern peak of the Capitoline, (if we may believe the German antiquarians; the Italians place it on the southern;) but arx is used here for the whole hill (Wsb.). Tarpeius was the old name of the Capitoline. — 22, 23. English order: Forte ea tum ierat extra moenia petitum aquam sacris (for the sacred rites). Tarpeia, the daughter of Sp. Tarpeius, as Vestal virgin, brought water from the fountain of the Camenae near the porta Capena. — 23. Accepti obrutam armis necavere, having been admitted, they overwhelmed her with their shields and slew her; (or, killed her by overwhelming her with their shields. S.) Arma are defensive weapons in general; here shields. — 25. Ne quid fidum esset, that no faith should be kept. — 26. Fabula. Mg., after Glareanus. The MSS. fabulae. — Quod, inasmuch as, because. — 28, 29. Anulos = annulos. — Habuerint, haberent. Subjunctive in oratio obliqua. — Pepigisse eam, that she bargained for. — Eo, therefore. Ablative of cause. — Illi. Dative of disadvantage. — 31. Derecto, outright. — 32. Fraude visam agere, being suspected of acting treacherously. — There is still a popular belief in Rome that Tarpeia sits enchanted in the heart of the hill; decked with gold and jewels. Wsb.

- 28 XII. 34 Tamen, however; at any rate; whichever story be true. — 35, 36. Quod campi est, i. e. the whole plain. This was afterwards the site of the Roman Forum. — 39. In adversum subiere, marched straight up the hill (in front of them). — Principes — ciebant. Their champions on both sides urged on the battle. So Wsb. — Fr. and S. translate 'principes' at the head, advancing before the rest, and make Mettius Curtius and Hostius Hostilius subjects of the verb, instead of appositives to principes.
- 29 1. Ab, on the side of. — 2. Hostius Hostilius was the grandfather of king Tullus Hostilius. — 5. The punctuation is Madvig's. Most editors read: fusaque est ad veterem portam Palatii. — Ad, at. — The ancient gate is the porta Mugionis, one of the three gates of the old town on the Palatine hill, and still standing in Livy's time. — 6. Actus, used as a present participle, "in the act of being hurried along." See Næg, pp. 259 sqq. — 10. Huc, hither, i. e. to the Palatine, whither the Romans had been driven. — Media, the intervening. The Sabines had crossed the valley between the Capitoline and the Palatine. — 12. Romanis. Dative of advantage, instead of using the ablative of separation. — 13. Statori Jovi. The inversion of the usual order of the words emphasizes stator (the stayer of flight, from sistere), as being here the prominent notion. The temple of Juppiter Stator (which however was not built till 294 B. C.), was in the immediate neighborhood of the Porta Mugionis. — Quod sit, to be. — Monumento. Mg. after P. The other reading is monumentum. — 15. Auditas, sc. esse. — 17. Resistere, to halt, to stand your ground. — 20. Princeps, advancing before the rest, at the head. — 26. Trepidante denotes agitated motion caused by fright. — 31. Averterat, sc. a pugna. Seeley thinks the pluperfect should here be translated 'diverted for a moment.' — 32. Periculo. Ablative of cause, occasion. — 33, 34. Addito animo, new courage being given him.
- XIII. 37. Quarum. Objective genitive. — 39. Ausae, venturing.
- 30 1, 2. Dirimere, (1) to part, (2) to break off. Historical infinitive. — Iras where we might expect iratos. "The circumstances or condition of a person often stand for the person himself." — 4. Parricidium is used generally for the murder of a relation.

5. Nepotum, liberam. Defining or explanatory genitive, appositive to the generic word progeniem: their offspring (consisting) of grandchildren, etc. — 6. Conubii = connubii. — 8. Melius peribimus, (better shall we perish,) better were it that we be slain, than live, etc. — Sine alteris vestrum, 'without one or the other of you.' (S.) We might have expected another sine alteris, in place of aut. — 9. Orbae, here fatherless. — 10, 11. Silentium is the silence of attention, 'they paused to listen' (S.), quies is the rest or cessation from any labor or occupation, — here from fighting. The meaning of the last word Seeley hardly understands aright. — 13. Imperium, the supreme power. — 14. Romam. Terminal accusative. — 15. Tamen aliquid. Something at least. Besides this derivation of Quirites as equivalent to Curites (Curenses), even in antiquity what is more probably the correct etymology was given, from quiris, in the Sabine language a lance or spear, "the lancemen," "the warriors." — 16. Appellati (sunt eives). All the citizens of the united state received this name. — Monumentum, (as) a memorial. — Ubi, (the place) where. — 17. In vado, on firm ground; "quo vadere poterat." — 18. Curtium lacum. In the valley at the foot of the Palatine, there was for a long time a bog known as the lacus Curtius, which was afterwards filled up. Two stories were devised to account for this name; both of which Livy gives: the first is told here; the second (Book vii. 6) recounts the devotion of M. Curtius, who, mounting his horse, leaped into the gulf which had opened in the forum, because the gods had declared that it could not be closed up until that which Rome held most valuable ("And what more valuable," said he, "than arms and valor?") were thrown in. There was perhaps a puteal on the site in Livy's time. — 21. The curiae were composed of associated gentes, with common sacrifices, rites, and privileges. (Lange, i. 199, 245.) In each, its peculiar sacred rites were presided over by a priest called curio. The number Livy gives would involve the previous threefold division into the three Romulian tribes. — 22. Few of the names of the thirty curiae are known to us. The occurrence among them of Rapta, and their feminine terminations, may have led to their attempted identification with the names of the Sabine women. Some of them are evidently of topographical origin. — 23. Hoc, than this (number of the curiae). — 24. Dignitatibus, etc., by the distinction (such as birth, social position, etc.) of themselves or their

30 husbands. — 25. Leetae sint. Indirect question. — 26. Centuriae = centumviriae, the troops of a hundred men. There were one hundred from each tribe, ten from each curia. — 27, 28. The names of the tribes were Ramnes, Tities, and Luceres. Ramnenses is the adjective of Ramnes, as is Titenses of Tities: equites Ramnenses, equites Titenses. So the third century consisted of the equites Lucerenses, for which Livy uses here the substantive Luceres. Fr. — "This threefold division is the ultimate fact of Roman history, and no explanation of the names of the tribes has been given that has any probability." S.

XIV. 32. The Laurentes were the people of the district of which Lavinium was the capital. — Pulsant, maltreat, beat. Plutarch (Rom. 23) says "killed." — 32, 33. Jure gentium agerent, demanded satisfaction in accordance with the Law of Nations (which in all ages has declared the sacredness of the persons of ambassadors). Agere is a legal term, of entering a complaint. — 34. Igitur, the result was that. — 35. Lavini (Lavinii). Locative case. "The Romans always performed an annual sacrifice at Lavinium," the city of the Penates of Latium. See A. W. Zumpt De Lavinio. — 38. Ob infidam societatem regni, from the want-of-good-faith which belongs to partnerships in kingly power. The principal idea lies in the adjective, which we must translate as a noun. — Haut = haud.

31 7, 8. Quantum futurum apparebat, as was manifestly about to arise. — Occupant. For the peculiar meaning of this word (like that of the Greek φάσκω), see Lexicon. — 17, 18. Locis — obscuris, in dark places here and there about the thick overgrown brushwood. With Madvig, I follow the reading of the MSS. in this difficult passage. Weissenborn substitutes (e coniectura) inter for obsita; Hertz reads locis circa densis obsitis virgultis obscuris; Frey adopts Htz.'s reading, but brackets obscuris. Gronovius emends: partem militum locis circa denso obsitis virgulto obscuram. — 24. Trepidante, wavering; (almost in the original sense of that English word, moving back and forth like a wave.) — 26. Inpulsa Romana acie, breaking the Roman line. S. — 30. Praesidio, the camp. — 31, 32. Quique cum eo visi erant. E, adopted by Mg. and S. Wsb. (Teubner) quique cum eo equites erant; (Weidmann) quique cum eo abire visi erant (which Frey adopts, changing the order of the last three words to visi erant abire); Koch conjectures quique cum eo fugere visi erant. The

MSS. differ and their readings are confused. P, B, adopted by 31 Hertz, quique cum eo equis ierant. With our reading visi erant = had been seen. — 33. Vera fuga. Ablative. — 34. Simulantes (sc. fugam). Accusative. — 35. Haerens in tergo, clinging to their rear. — 38. Romanus. The singular of a national name instead of the plural is frequent in Livy. — Obicerentur = objicerentur. — 37. Inrumpit (irrupit). Fidenae became a colony, to which Romulus sent 1500 citizens. Plutarch, Rom. 23, 12.

XV. 38. Inritati (irritati), sc. sunt. — 39 sqq. Et (both) con- 32 sanguinitate, et quod, etc. The first reason is expressed by an ablative of cause, the second by a clause introduced by the causal conjunction quod. — 4. Justi, regular. — 5. How does expectare differ in meaning from the English word expect? — 8. Dimicationi — intentusque, prepared and eager for a decisive (ultima) battle. Although dimicationi shows the purpose of instructus, yet the latter word is not construed with the dative; intentus, however, takes this case, and helps the double reference. — 11. De, for. — 13. Arte, stratagem. — Veterani robore exercitus. A phrase, as Seeley says, "more applicable to the standing armies of Livy's own time than to the ancient militia." Livy is constantly carrying the terms and usages of his own day into the early annals of Rome. — 18. Oratores, ambassadors. Derived from what verb? — 21. Haec ferme, etc. These are the principal transactions in the reign of Romulus, etc. — 23. Valuit, sc. urbs. — In quadraginta annos, i. e. during the reign of Numa. — 27. Multitudini. Livy thinks of the plebs of a later date. — 30. Celeres, from cel-er, cel-lo, κελος. This, the most ancient name of the three hundred cavalry (c. xiii.), is wrongly applied by Livy to the body-guard of the king. When tradition began to assimilate Romulus to a Greek τέρας, it gave him also a body-guard or δομῆφοροι.

XVI. 32. Inmortalibus. Immortal, in the sense of worthy of immortality. Crevier proposes the reading mortalibus. — 33. Campo, sc. Martio. — 34. The site of the Gout's Marsh is now unknown. The Circus Flaminius is supposed to have been built near it. — 37-4. Romana — obtinnit. On this periodic sentence, see A. & S. 281, 5. — 33. Ex, after.

1. Proximi = proximi. — 2. Raptum, sc. esse Romulum. — 33 4-6. Salvere — jubent, etc., they all (hail, or) invoke Romulus as a god, etc.; i. e. they all cry, "Salve Romule, deus deo nate, rex

- 33 parensque urbis Romanae! — 6. Pacem, his favor. — 6, 7. Notice the alliteration, common in solemn and formal expressions. — Volens propitius. Often used together as here without a conjunction. — 8, 9. The accusation in these lines does not belong to the oldest traditions, but arose probably in later times from the hatred against the patricians. — 13. Fides, cause of belief, confirmation. — 14. Gravis, weighty, trustworthy. — 15. Auctor, authority. — 18. Horrore, with awe. — 19. Adstitissem, stood rapt. S. — Ut esset. An object-clause. — Contra, i. e. face to face. — 24, 25. Mirum, so. est. — Fidei, genitive with quantum. So Mg. after E. The ordinary reading is fides.

XVII. The Interregnum. (Mythical date 716 B. C.) On the death of the king, the supreme power falls to the Senate.

29. Ad singulos. A conjecture of Gr., adopted by Mg., Ha., Fr., S. The MSS. and Wsb., a singulis. Ad singulos pervenerat. The striving for the government had not yet gone so far as to single persons. — 31. Ordines, i. e. the two tribes, Ramnes and Tities. — 34 sq. Volebant, aspernabantur. "It is somewhat difficult to render the delicacy of these imperfects. Translate, 'It was the wish of the Sabine families . . . while the Romans could ill brook a foreign king.' Aspernari expresses 'rejection,' not necessarily 'contempt.'" S. — 35. Romani, i. e. the Ramnes. — 36. Voluntatibus, political views. S., (who refers to Cic. pro Sext. 45-47.) — Regnari. Used impersonally: that there should be a king. "All were for monarchy." — 37. Experta. Used as passive. — 39. Circa civitatum, surrounding states. — Inritatis animis, in the excited feeling. Ablative absolute of attendant circumstances.

- 34 2. Alteri, to another, to any other. — 3. Inducebat, etc., 'could make up his mind.' S. — 4. Rem, the regency. — Centum patres. Livy forgets the added 100 Sabine senators. — 5. Singulisque creatis, and one being chosen for each decuria. — 6-10. Imperitabant — fuit. The imperfects denote the uniform practice during an interregnum, the perfect the length of the particular interregnum in question. S. — 9. In orbem, in a circle. In Latin the accusative of the effect is used: so as to make a circle. — 10. Quod — nomen, a name which even now (continues, or) is in use. During the republic an interrex was sometimes named by the senate, when by any chance there was no ordinary curule magistrate in the state; when, e. g., the elections were obstructed, and the time of one magistrate expired before a successor was appointed. Such an interrex held office for five days. Z. — 12. Fremere. Historical infinitive. — 14. Et, and (moreover). — 12, 17. Plebs, populo. Seeley calls attention here to "Liv'y's entire ignorance of the distinction which Niebuhr tried to establish between populus and plebs." — 16, 17. Ita modifies permissa. — 19. Auctores fierent, should ratify (or confirm) the appointment. — 21. Vi adempta, its force (or efficacy) being taken away. The ratification by the senate has become a mere form, being given before the enactment of a law or the election of a magistrate. (Lex Publilia, (Liv. viii. 12, 15,) and Lex Maenia.) — 22. In, like old English against, in anticipation of. — 24. Contione. — "Public meetings at Rome could only be called by a magistrate. They were either 'comitia,' where there was voting, or 'contiones,' where there was only speaking. Here, the interrex summons a contio as introductory to the comitia. (Contio is derived from conventio. Varro, L. L. 6, 88.)" S. — 24, 25. Quod — sit. The subjunctive here is of wish and prayer. An introductory formula, like those in our own language, with which wills and some other legal documents used to begin. — 27. Qui numeretur. Relative clause after dignus. H. 501, iii.; A. & S. 264, 9; B. 1226; A. 65, iv. 1; G. 348. — 29. Scisco is used strictly of the decisions of the comitia tributa, jubeo of those of the comitia centuriata. Cic. pro Flacco 7. 15: quae scisceret plebes aut quae populus juberet.

XVIII.-XXI. Numa Pompilius, second king of Rome (Mythical date 715-672 B. C.). XVIII. Numa's Election and Inauguration. XIX.-XXI. Numa cultivates peace, and builds the Janus. Divides the year into twelve months. Appoints priests, and founds religious institutions.

XVIII. 31. Religio, piety. — 32. The name Numa is thought to be connected with vōus, num-erus. — 33. Ut, as far as. — 35. Extat = exstat. — 37. Centum amplius, etc., more than a hundred years afterwards. On the use of amplius without quam, see H. 417, 3; A. & S. 256, Rem. 6; B. 900; A. 54, V.; G. 111, Rem. 4. — 39. Aemulantium — habuisse, formed clubs of youths who eagerly pursued his studies.

1. Aetatis. Pythagoras is said to have been born in 608 or 570 B. C. — Quae fama in Sabinos, so. pervenisset. So the MSS. Sigonius, followed by Mg., Z., S., qua fama in Sabinos (by

- 35 what Sabine reputation), aut, etc. — 3. Excoivisset. English subject it (i. e. fama), not he. — 4, 5. Unus pervenisset, could a man (referring to Numa) have made his way alone, through, etc. — 5. Ingenio, inborn qualities, natural disposition. — 8. Quo genere, thun which stock, or, as Seeley says, type. — 10. Patres Romani, the senate as a body. — 14. Ad unum omnes, all to a man, all without exception. — 16. Augurato urbe condenda, by founding the city after consulting the auguries (or in accordance with the auguries). Augurato is a perfect passive participle standing by itself in the ablative absolute. — 18. Honoris ergo = honoris causā. — 19. Deductus, conducted solemnly. — 20. In lapide. This stone is the auguraculum; on the arx, whether that were, as the German students of Roman topography generally contend, the north-eastern point of the Capitoline hill, or the south-western, as the Italians argue. — Versus. Participle. — 25. Dextras, etc. As the augur had his face turned to the east, when he drew the line on the heavens over his head from east to west, the south side of the sky was on his right, the north on his left. The left side was, with the Romans, the lucky one, and therefore sinistrum, as an augural term, was equivalent to faustum. On this account the Latin etymologists derived sinister from the verb sistere, because an omen on the left hand 'permitted' (sineret) something to be done. Zumpt. — 26, 27. Signum contra animo finivit, he fixed in his mind a signal (some object on the earth, as, for example, a tree, to mark the boundary between the northern and southern hemispheres) directly in front of him. — 30. Fas, i. e. thy will. — 31, 32. Uti adclarassis, do thou show forth. Adclarassis = adclaraveris. Subjunctive of prayer, after uti (= ut). Certa, sure, unerring. — 33. Peregit verbis, he specified in words. — 34. Declaratus rex, manifested to be king.

XIX. 36. Eam, referring to urbem, is "merely introduced for clearness," and to emphasize the distinction between war and the institutions of peace. — 37 sq. Adsuescere posse. A general subject-accusative may be supplied: that men could not adapt themselves: or we may consider the subject as implied in ferocem populum. — 39. Mitigandum, sc. esse.

- 36 1. The Janus of Numa was a covered arched gateway, with two doors. A statue of Janus bifrons stood within it in a niche. The Argiletum was a district northeast of the Forum, between the southern point of the Quirinal and the Capitoline. — 4.

Clausus fuit, it has been in a closed state. S. — 5. T. Manlio cos. 36 235 B. C., six years after the close of the first Punic war. — 7. The battle of Actium was fought B. C. 31; the temple of Janus was closed B. C. 29. This first book of Livy, it is evident, cannot have been published before that date. — 15. Iniciendum = iniciendum. — Qui refers to metum. — 17. Egeria. A fountain-nymph and one of the Camenae. The gods of streams and fountains could give inspiration, and also produce insanity. — 20. Ad, in accordance with. — 23. Solido, full. — Solstitiali orbe, through the solar orbit. "Ablative of the way along which. M. 274." — 25. Vicesimo anno, i. e. at the end of the cycle of nineteen years. — Metam — solis, the same position of the sun. — 27. Nefastos dies fastosque, "holidays and business days." L. For the derivation and exact meaning of the words, see Lexicon.

XX. 31. A flamen was the peculiar priest of a single deity. — 32. Romuli, Numae. Grammarians still continue to convey the wrong impression that similis must take the genitive when it denotes internal resemblance, and the dative of external resemblance. The genitive being a case expressing closer and more intimate relations than the dative, was preferred by the older writers when (as in this passage) resemblance of internal qualities was implied; but sometimes the genitive, even in the names of living beings, was used to denote merely external resemblance: e. g. Cic. Tusc. I. xxxiii. 81: facie vel patrie, vita omnium perditorum ita similis, etc.: where, although the two kinds of resemblance are contrasted, the adjective is construed with the same case in both instances. In Cic. de Nat. Deor. ii. 59, 149, we find it followed by the two cases in the same sentence, although the same kind of resemblance is meant. I cited both of these passages in 1851, in my note on Cicero's Tusc. Disp. I. xv. 34, q. v. — 35. Adsiduum sacerdotem, as a perpetual-and-resident priest. The flamen Dialis was forbidden to spend a night outside of the city. — Insigni veste. I. e. the toga praetexta (Div. xxvii. 8, 8), and the apex or peaked cap. (Liv. vi. 41, 9.) "But Servius ad Aen. iv. 262 says that the dress was a double toga called laena." — 39. Conditoris. Rea Silvia, the mother of Romulus, was a Vestal. Adsiduae. The Vestals were obliged to be in constant attendance on the goddess, and to watch and maintain the sacred fire.

1. Stipendium de publico. The Vestals received the revenues 37 from a part of the ager publicus, and from lands from time to time 17 — Livy.

37 bequeathed to them as a corporation. — 2. Caerimoniis, sacred distinctions. — 4, 5. Tunicae pictae. Genitive of definition, appositive to insigne. — 6. Caelestia arma. It was said, that in the reign of Numa, a shield fell from heaven, and a voice proclaimed that it would be a pledge of the future greatness of Rome. To prevent its being stolen, eleven others were made exactly like it. The twelve were borne by the Salii on the feast of Mars. The name ancile is from their shape, as they were cut in on both sides (am(b), cidere), so that they were wider at the top and bottom than in the middle. — 7. Carmina. These hymns were considered as the oldest monuments of the Latin language, and were in later times unintelligible even to the priests. — 9. Numa Marcius was a son-in-law of Numa, and father of the fourth king of Rome. — 10. Ex patribus. Until A. U. C. 454, the pontifices could be chosen only from the patricians. — 15. Consultum, to ask advice. — 15 sqq. Ne quid divini juris turbaretur, neglegendo (= negligendo) patrios ritus adsciscendoque peregrinos (ritus). — 17. Caelestes, relating to the gods of heaven as distinguished from the Manes. — 20. Susciperentur atque curarentur, should be accepted (as manifestations of the divine will or anger) and attended to (with the proper religious ceremonies: expiated).

XXI. 29, 30. Proximo — metu, the fear of laws and penalties standing next, i. e. being secondary. In a worse state of society, the fear of laws and penalties stands first as the guarantee of order; and no human society is so perfect that this fear is without value as re-enforcing higher motives. The expression is not above criticism, but there seems to be no necessity of departing from the reading of the MSS. Seeley properly objects to the citation of tu secundo Caesare regnes as justifying this reading; but it does justify the ablative absolute, which is Weissenborn's purpose in citing it. I suggest that another passage in Horace, nec viget quicquam simile aut secundum: proximos illi tamen occupavit Pallas honores, proves that proximas may be applied to things which, while nearest, are inferior and stand on a lower plane. Madvig substitutes e coniectura "pro obnoxio," taking obnoxius in its sense of slavish. Other conjectures are pro summo; pro timore; procul. — 30. Cum, while. — Ipsi homines, i. e. Romani. — 37. Quem medium, the midst of which. — Ex, (flowing) from. — 39. Deae, i. e. Egeriae. — Camēnae or Casmenae were nymphs of brooks and fountains. The best known are Juturna and Egeria.

1, 2. Quod essent. Subjunctive because the proposition is given as the statement of Numa. — Soli, alone, by herself. This word is regarded by many editors as a false reading, or as betraying a lacuna. Seeley very ingeniously suggests solus, founding himself upon the parallel passage in Dionysius 2, 75: πῶρος ἀνδρῶν ἐπὶ ἰδρύσαστο Πίστωρ δημοσίας κ.τ.λ. — 3. Id sacrarium, the chapel (on the Capitoline) for this worship. — Curru arcuato, a carriage arched overhead, with a cloth covering; used also by the Vestal virgins. — 4. Manu involuta. The band with which the hand was wrapped was white, "the color of light and of pure truth." Fides herself was represented in a white robe. (Hor. Od. i. 35, 21.) — 5. Tutandam, should be carefully guarded. — 6. Sedemque, etc., and that her seat also in (men's) right hands was sacred (i. e. should be kept pure and holy). — 8. Argeos. There were twenty-seven chapels called Argei, distributed in different parts of the city, (six in each of the four regions and three additional,) perhaps marking ancient districts which were afterwards superseded by the city tribes. The origin of the name is unknown.

XXII.-XXXI. Tullus Hostilius, third king (Mythical date 672-640 B. C.). XXII.-XXV. War with Alba. The combat of the Horatii and the Curiatii. XXVI. Horatius slays his sister. His trial and acquittal. XXVII, XXVIII. Faithlessness and punishment of Mettius Fufetius. XXIX, XXX. Destruction of Alba. The Albans are incorporated with the Roman state. War with the Sabines. XXXI. Prodigies. Death of Tullus.

XXII. 16. Morte. Ablative of date, as on page 19, line 28. — 17. Hostili. See chapter xii. — 19. Jussit = creavit. — 20. Regi. See note on Romuli, page 36, line 32. — 25. Agrestes, peasants. — 28. Ad res repetendas, to demand satisfaction. The expression is capable also of the special meaning, to demand back their property. — 29. Mandata = ea quae mandata essent, the business on which they were sent. — 33. Tantisper, meanwhile. — 38. Omnium, of all things. The genitive, dative, and ablative of omnia are often used in Livy. — 39. Purgando (in making the excuse) governs the object-clause in the oratio obliqua se invitos — jussos.

6. Ut in eum expetent, sc. dii, that they (i. e. the gods) may visit upon him omnes clades, etc. This seems better than to take expetant as intransitive (may fall) with clades as its subject.

39 XXIII. 8. Domum. Terminal accusative. — 11. Utramque, each of them. — 15. Tectis dirutis. See chapter xxix. — Duo, the two. — 16. Ingenti exercitu. The modal ablative (of a noun and adjective) is often used for the force with which anything is done in war. So infesto exercitu (27). — 23. Ducit (sc. Mettius). Used absolutely, like dysw. — 31. Satis scire, sc. se, that he was confident. — 34. Adferri rebatur. Tanaquil Faber, Madvig. — Codd., adferrebantur. Wsb. e conl. I. H. Vossii, tamen, si vana adferantur. — 36. Instructi. Mg. — Codd. structi. — 38 sqq. Et ego regem n. C. audisse videor (dicentem) injurias et n. r. r. ex f. q. r. s. causam hujusce esse belli, nec dubito, etc.

40 4. Recte, sc. id fiat. — 5. Fuerit, may have been, was perhaps. — 7. Illud monitum, advised of this. — Velim. The subjunctive softens the expression. — 8, 9. Quo, hoc. Ablatives of measure of the difference implied in the comparative degree. — Tuscis, Stroth's correction. Codd. Vlscis. — 10. Esto. Notice that this future imperative stands with cum dabis. — Jam cum, when once. — 11. Spectaculo fore, sc. Etruscis. — 12. Adgrediantur, sc. Etrusci. — 19. Quaerentibus. The so-called dative of the agent. — 20. Materiam, the opportunity, the means.

XXIV. 25. Error, a confusion, a discrepancy. — 30. Ibi, with that people. — 33. Legibus, conditions, terms. — 39. Pater patratus seems to mean 'one who is made father.' The pater patratus seems not a president of the College of Fetials, but a president of a particular deputation from it elected for the occasion, (hence 'patratus.') Some passages suggest that the title is connected with the doctrine of 'patria potestas.' S., Fr.

41 1. Sagmina, a tuft of grass plucked from the summit of the Capitoline. (Plin. H. N. 22, 2, 5.) — 2. Puram, sc. herbam. The word is bracketed by Ussing and Frey. "Perhaps we should have pura." — 5, 6. Vasa and comites are (like me) governed by facis, and regios (or regia) populi Romani Quiritium is to be supplied as a factitive-object. Regium, royal, i. e. authorized to represent the king. Among the vasa are the sagmina and silex (line 22). — 6, 7. Quod fiat, so far as it can be done. Quod with the subjunctive in a restrictive clause. — Fraude mea, etc., injury (or prejudice) to me and to the Roman people, etc. Populi is objective genitive. — 10, 11. A suggestion of Madvig, who reads however ille dies, as the MSS. except M, in which Iup is crossed out and ille altered to illo. Wsb. ille Diespiter. Seeley, illo die, Diespiter: in itself an admirable reading.—20. Porcum. A pig was the usual offering at the ratification of a treaty.—22. Silice. This flint was kept in the temple of Juppiter Feretrius, and seems to have been a symbol of Jove himself. It is conjectured that a meteoric stone was taken, as the symbol of the power of the Thunderer. Cf. Verg. Aen. xii. 200. Cf. also the expression Jovem lapidem jurare. S.

XXV. 30. Feroces—pleni, ardent both from their natural disposition and as inspired by, etc. S.—34. Quippe, for.—36. Suspensi, nervous. S.—37. Intenduntur. S.—Eorum, with them.—21, 22. Sequentes . . . unum abesse. The accusative with the infinitive states a fact with more special emphasis and greater particularity than the participle.—26. Fa-ventium. Livy refers to the applause given at gladiatorial shows (for instance) when a combatant who had seemed overborne again gains the upper hand.—28. Nec, indeed not.—34. Ante se, before his eyes.—35. Obicitur = objicitur.—Nec, also not.—Not a praelium, but a trucidatio.—36, 37. Fratrum manibus, to (appease) the shades of my brothers.—38. Arma, i. e. shield.

- 43 XXVI. 15, 16. The porta Capena, which was a gate in the wall of Servius Tullius, was not then in existence. Livy uses the word to designate the site. — Umeros = humeros. — 19. Feroci juveni, the triumphant soldier. Seeley. On the dative, see note on Numitori, page 21, line 33. Our English idiom almost compels us here to translate this dative as genitive, to the loss of the delicate meaning of the Latin case. — 22. Inmaturo, unseasonable. — 24. Sic eat, so may she fare. — 26. Meritum, service. — Fasto obstabat, shielded his deed, “was a set-off against the deed.” — 27. Ad regem, to the king (as the supreme judge). — 28. Translate by the English infinitive. — Perduellio, properly used of treason, here a crime against the state. We should expect parricidium; but the murder could be called perduellio, as a usurpation of the power of the state to punish the guilty. — 32. Carminis, strain, formula. — 33. Provocarit, sc. reus. — 34. Vincent, sc. duumviri. — Obnubito (and the two following verbs), sc. lictor. — 34, 35. Infelici arbori, on a barren tree. A true locative, like domi, humi, Carthagini, Corinthi, etc. It is not strange that we should meet this old case in an ancient formula. — Infelici. “Unfruitfulness, and darkness of color, were qualities of things dedicated to the infernal gods.” — 37. Non — ne quidem. ‘Ne quidem’ can follow a general negative without destroying the negation.
- 44 1. Iniciebat (= injiciebat). Imperfect of an action merely begun or attempted. — 2. Anstore Tullo, by the permission of Tullus. — 3. Ita-que, and thus. T. Faber, Mg. Upon it, according to Dionysius, had been fixed the armor taken by the surviving Horatius from the vanquished Curiatii. The word pila may mean either the column or the weapons themselves; the Latin writers seem to understand it as referring to the weapons,” thus line 20 inter illa pila, “while Dionysius translates it by συνέλις.” Burn, p. 104. — 12. Modo, just now. — 13. Decoratum ovantemque victoria, with the ornaments and in the exultation of victory. — 15, 16. Spectaculum tam deforme quod (= ut id) vix Albanorum oculi ferre possent. — 19. Arbore. 44

Here we have the ablative (and not the antiquated locative of the formula on page 43) as the ordinary mode of expression. — 20, 21. Modo, if only, provided it be. — Pila, the lances on which the spoils hung. — 27. Admiratiōe. Ablative of cause. — Jure. The ablative means in accordance with. — 31. Deinde, thenceforward. — 33. Publice, at the public expense. — Semper, from time to time. The Sister's Beam is mentioned as still in existence in the fourth century of the Christian era. It was a plank or beam laid from one house to another in a lane which led from the Carinae to the Vicus Cyprius. Near it was an altar of Juno Sororia, at which sacrifices were offered by the gens Horatia, and an altar of Janus Curvatus was also in the neighborhood. The legend may have been invented to account for these names.

XXVII. 37. Nec, but not. — 39. Vanum ingenium, the weak character. S.

5. Ex edicto, with a formal declaration. — 7. Livy spoke of 45

Pacto — Albanorum, by the assurance that the Albans would desert (to their party). — 11. Ab Alba. In the names of towns in reply to the question, whither? Livy uses almost always the preposition a with the ablative, not the ablative alone; with the names of countries the preposition ex. We might have had quo — eo. — Rem, i. e. the victory. — 23, 24. Increpans. Used absolutely, and not governing equitem. — 31. Item. Wsb., Mg.-Codd. idem, Gronovius eidem. — 32. Id factum, the doing of this, i. e. the carrying out of this command. — 34. Id, so, esse, that was going on which had been heard from the king: i. e. that the apparent desertion of the Albans was a movement to attack the Fidenates in the rear. — 37. Ut qui with the subjunctive, inasmuch as they. — Coloni, etc. A Roman colony having been sent to Fidenae, the former Etruscan inhabitants were 45 allowed to join with them. Cf. Liv. viii. 14, 8: Antium nova colonia missa cum eo, ut Antiatibus permitteretur, si et ipsi adscribi coloni vellent.

46 1. Oppido, i. e. Fidenae.

XXVIII. 12. Quod bene vertat, with a prayer that it would turn out well. Vertat for verteret, attracted to the formal time of the historical present jubet. — 16. Ab extremo orsi, etc. "As the heralds began at the further part of the camp, where the Albans were, the Albans were summoned first. They stood nearest both for this reason and also (etiam) from curiosity to hear a Roman king harangue." — 18, (15). Contionantem, contio. Sometimes wrongly written with c for t. — 19. Ex composito (composito), by agreement. — 23. Fuit, quod, there was reason, that. — 30. Consilium, a stratagem. — Nec, both not; followed by et in line 32. — 31. Vos deserere. Acc. with inf. — 33. Ex uno, etc. Refers to Romulus's having founded Rome from Alba. — 7. Res, state. — 12. Disciplina, instruction. — 14. At, yet or at least. Z. 756. — 21. Concitati, sc. sunt. — Qua, as. — 24. XXIX. The student will hardly need to have his attention called to the vividness and brilliancy with which the scene in this chapter is described. Among the various beauties of construction and expression, observe the skilful use of the imperfect and pluperfect tenses. — 30. S. takes ille to mean "What followed was not indeed tumult and panic, such as," etc. W. translates, "There arose not indeed that tumult and panic, which is wont," etc. — 31. Captarum urbium, in captured cities. — 35. Defixit, petrified. S. — 38, 39. Ultimum illud, then for the last time. So hoc primum means now for the first time.

48 1, 2. Jam instabat, began to press. — 5. Quibus — elatis. Attraction for iis, quae quisque efferre poterat, elatis. — 13. Urbem. Livy construes egredior both with the accusative, as here, and with the ablative, as xxi. 12, 5, (page 93, line 35.) — 14. Quadringentorum. According to this reckoning, Alba was founded 300 years before Rome.

XXX. 21. Habitavit. The preceding historical presents give a lively narration of events; this perfect states a result of them. —

22. In patres. Livy means, into the senate, as appears from tem-plumque ordini below; but the authors who are his "sources" must have meant patricians.—23. Tullios. Instead of this clau, Dionysius puts Julii in the list; and Tacitus makes the emperor Claudius say that the Julii came from Alba. But Livy introduces the Julii earlier (chapter xvi.).—24. Templum, etc., he built the Curia as a temple, etc.; templum meaning generally any consecrated place, where, with the approval of the gods (auspicato), religious or state business might be transacted. Thus, the stone platform called the rostra was a templum (Livy viii. 14 and 35).—25, 26. The Curia Hostilia (which stood on the north side of the forum) was burned with the corpse of P. Clodius A. U. C. 702. Augustus afterwards caused a new senate-house to be built in the neighborhood, called Curia Julia.—27. Adiceretur = adjiceretur.—28. Turmas. Each turma contained thirty men.—29. Eodem. I. e. from the Albans.—30. Hac fiducia virium, through his confidence in this strength. Attraction for harum, etc. S. translates, 'impelled by the confidence in his strength which these measures inspired.' M. 255, (256, Am. ed.)—33. Feronia was a goddess of flowers. This market, near her temple, was at Trebula Mutuesca, according to Preller. Others have placed it at the lucus Feroniæ, at the foot of Soracte.—35. Servos suos, Mg. The MSS. suos.—36. Lucum. This is supposed to refer to the asylum opened by Romulus, although its Latin name was "inter duos lucos."—38. Haut parum (not too little) = entis.

1, 2. Circumspicere. Historical infinitive.—3. Proximi, sc. 49 Sabinis.—Residuas—iras, the hatred left behind from their wars (chapters xv. and xxvii.).—4. Defectionem, a breach of the peace; not here 'revolt.'—10, 11. Verti in eo, to hinge upon this point, utri prius, etc.—13, 14. Et quidem . . . ceterum is nearly equivalent to cum . . . tum præcipue.

XXXI. 23. Missis. Ablative absolute with a noun understood.—24. Crevier gives the rational explanation that these stones were hail.—25. Caelo. We should find de caelo in the purest prose of the golden age; but Livy is fond of poetical usages.—25. Visi = sibi visi sunt, they thought also that they heard.—26. Vocem, etc., (monentem) ut.—27 sq. Velut with the ablative absolute, as if their gods had been abandoned, etc.—31. Ab, in consequence of.—32. 49 37. Ita, very; as we say colloquially, not so very. — 38. Oreretur.

In the imperfect subjunctive orior has the forms both of the fourth and of the third conjugations. — 39. Salubriora, more healthy.

50 1. We have again juvenes, as men of military age, used in the sense of soldiers rather than youths. — 6. Superstitionibus, "religious terrors." — 7. Degeret, sc. vitam. "Agere vitam" is more commonly found in prose. — Religionibus, "religious ceremonies." — 14. Operatum iis sacris, busied with these observances. Operari takes a dative of the services or beings to which the mind is directed. — 16. Ira. Ablative of cause. — 17. Fulmine. Ablative of instrument. — Conflagrasse, sc. eum (supplied from ei). — 18. Magna gloria. Modal ablative.

XXXII.-XXXIV. Ancus Marcius, fourth king. (Mythical date 640-616. B. C.) XXXII. Choice and character of the king. He revives the institutions of Numa, and completes the institution of the jus fetiale. XXXIII. Conquest of the Latins, and their incorporation into the Roman state. The Aventine assigned to them. Building of a wooden bridge across the Tiber, and addition of the Janiculum to the city. Foundation of Ostia. XXXIV. Lucumo, a son of the Corinthian Demaratus, migrates to Rome from Tarquinius. He wins the friendship of Ancus, assumes the name of Tarquinius Priscus, and is appointed guardian of the king's sons.

XXXII. 26. Cetera. Accusative of specification. — 28. Longe. Gron., Mg. (Codd. longeque.) — Antiquissimum, the most important, most desirable (thing to be done). — 30. Pontificem, sc. maximum. — 31. Album, a whitened tablet that was set up in a public place. — 37. Desidem belongs in the predicate.

51 1. Et — memor, 'with a touch of Romulus as well as of Numa.' The emphasis is all on Romuli. S. — 5. Otium sine injuria. Mg.'s punctuation. The common reading places a comma after otium and none after injuria. — 6. Temptari = tentari. — 11. Aequiculis. "The treatise on names attributed to Valerius Maximus, by going too far, betrays the imposture. He says that the original inventor of the fetial law was a king of the Aequiculi named Sertor Resius. It is evident that this name is nothing but a disguised form of 'asserter rerum,' the function of the fetial being 'res repetere' or 'asserere;' and following this clue we discover that the Aequicoli are only the people 'qui aequom colunt.'" Seeley. — 13. Legatus, i. e. the pater patratus. —

 around the priest's cap. — 16. Audiat fas, let divine justice hear. — 17. What is the distinction between juste and pie? — 20. Dedier.
 An antique form of dedi, the present infinitive passive. — 21.
Siris contracted from siveris. Subjunctive as imperative or in imprecation. — 24. Conciptendique juris jurandi, and in the ex- pression of the oath. — 26. Sollemnes, usual. — 28. Janus is called Quirinus (from quiris, a spear), with reference to his function as index belli. Macrob. 1, 9, 16. — 33. His, sc. verbis. — 34.
Rex patres consulebat, etc. "Here we have a picture of the monarchical senate, consisting of the majores natu, thence called patres, and consulted, man by man, in a fixed order by the king, as under the republic by the consul." S. — 35. Quarum — cau- sarum. The genitive in this old legal formula is a genitive of reference, for which we should have de with the ablative in classical style. Madvig unnecessarily substitutes causa for cau- sarum, omitting the comma after litium. Quarum rerum for earum rerum, etc., quarum; of which the antecedent is constructed with quid censes (page 52), and the relative with con- dixit. Rerum refers to the stolen property, litium to the points in dispute, causarum to the legal questions and claims arising from them. — Condixit, has made a claim; with the dative of the persons (patri patrato, hominibusque Priscis Latinis) upon whom the claim is made. — 38, 39. Nec — fecerunt, they have neither given back nor made indemnity for nor attended to.

2. Puro (a scelere). — 3. Itaque = et ita. — 7. Aut sangui- 52 neam praeustam, or one with a burnt point dipped in blood. I see no necessity of bracketing sanguineam with Madvig. Seeley, who follows Madvig, himself cites Amm. Marc. 19, 2, 6, hastam infectam sanguine ritu patrio, and Dio Cassius 71, 33. — 9. Quod, whereas. — 17. Ubi dixisset. Subjunctive because ubi is here general, not particular, and means whenever, as often as. The imperfect indicative, he would hurl, properly follows in the principal clause.

XXXIII. 21. Demandata cura. (For the time of his absence.)
 — 26. Multitudinem omnem, the whole population. — 27. Circa.
Here, on two sides of. — 29. Aventinum. Mons Aventinus is the more common name. — 33. Vacuum. The adjective gives the reason: (because it was) uninhabited. — 35. Receptaculum, refuge.

53 2. Conisus = connisus. — 3. After vincit we should expect deinde urbem capit et diruit, but Livy passes directly to the result of the conquest, ingenti praeda potens, powerful through his vast plunder. — 6. Murciae, sc. aram. There was an altar of Venus Murcia between the Aventine and Palatine near the lower end of the Circus Maximus. Preller suggests that the Latins to whom homes were given in this neighborhood may have brought her worship with them. He considers her name as connected with mulcere, to soften, whence also Mulciber. Subsequently, it was generally written Myrtea, whence perhaps the myrtle was regarded as sacred to Venus. — 8. Ea arx, such a strong position. S. — 9. Sublucio, made with wooden piles. From the place where the walls of the Janiculum came down to the river, a wooden bridge was built, connecting the Janiculum with the Aventine. It was a religious law that this bridge was not to be of stone, nay, that not even iron nails or fastenings were to be used in its construction. — 12. A — locis, on the side of (those) places (or that region of the city) which were (more level and therefore) more easy of access. — 14. Recte an perperam facti = utrum quid recte an perperam factum esset. — 15. Carcer. The Mamertine prison. — 19. Silva Messia adempta. Ablative absolute. Hertz adopts Messia from the best MSS. of Pliny and a few of Livy. Other readings Mesia, Mucina. — 22. Aedis = aedes.

XXXIV. 23. Lucumo is the title of the city kings of Etruria, but Livy takes it as a proper name. — 24. Divitiis. Ablative of means. — 27 sqq. The genealogy according to Livy is as follows:

28. Ob seditiones. Demaratus belonged to the noble house of the Bacchiadae, who were expelled by Kypselos when he made himself tyrant (657 B. C.). — 32. Uxore relicta, leaving his wife, etc. Relicta is a present participle in meaning. Næg. pp. 259 53 sq. — 36. Egerio. Dative by attraction to puero after nomen in- ditum. — Lucumoni. On the dative, see note on Numitori, page 21, line 33. — 38. Auxit, sc. animos. — Ducta — Tanaquil, his taking Tanaquil in marriage, (a woman) born summo loco, etc.

 Perfect passive participles are often to be translated like verbal nouns. — 39. Quae, one who; taking the subjunctive in the sense of talis ut. Iis, the position.

1. Quo = in quae, into which. — 4. Virum, her husband. — 6. 54
Ad id (sc. exsequendum), for this purpose. — Potissima. So Gronovius and Madvig, instead of potissimum, the usual reading.
 Translate most desirable, most feasible, best adapted. — 8. Sit, Subjunctive of Tanaquil's thought. Futurum, sc. esse. — 10. Et, even. — 11. Una imagine. Ancus's only claim to nobility was as the grandson (on his mother's side) of Numa; and Numa's was the only ancestral imago in his hall. The imagines were figures, with painted masks of wax resembling the person represented, kept in the atrium. The right of having imagines was a distinction of the nobles. In after-times a plebeian who, first of his name, held a curule office, gained nobility for his family, and his image was set up in the atrium as first of his line. Persuadet, sc. viro. — 12, 13. Cui esset. Relative and subjunctive of the reason. — 15.
Carpento. It is more usual in the best prose to say in carpento.
 "Carpentum is a covered cart. The word is used because the travellers have all their property with them." — 16. Demissa.
 Middle; letting itself down, descending. — Pilleum = pileum. — 17.
Clangore, cry. — 18. Ministerio. Dative of the purpose. — 21.
Excelsa, majestic things. S. — 22, 23. Eam, ea, ejus. The demonstrative here is emphatic: that very, that particular, just that, that and no other. — 23. Ejus dei, i. e. Jovis. — 24. Humano.
 To answer better to divinitus, S. proposes humane, Wex humana mannu. — 25. The antiquarians traced the name Lucius to Lucumo, as Tarquinius to Tarquinius. — 31. The ablatives (of means) in this line are construed with conciliando. — 34. Dextre, adroitly. — 36. Bello. We should have expected belli or in bello. — 37. Ex- pertus. Used passively.

XXXV.-XL. Tarquinius Priscus, fifth king. (Mythical date 616-578 B. C.) XXXV.-XXXVI. His election. He creates a hundred new senators, subdues the Latins, marks out the Circus Maximus, and celebrates the "Roman games." He

- 55 XXXV. 5. Sub, a little before. — Tempus, the (appointed) time. — 6. Petisse ambizioso = canvassed. Petisse (for petiisse) is a poetical form. — 7. Plebis. Livy thinks of the plebs as having a share in the election, although the vote must have been in the comitia curiata. — 8. Cum, etc. Supply diceret, suggested both by orationem habuisse above and by memorantem below. — 9. Non primus, etc., was not the first foreigner, . . . but the third, to aspire to the kingdom, etc. — Quod, a thing which. — Quispiam, Mg.'s reading. The MSS. quisquam. Madvig also corrects posset to possit. — 13. Ex quo "has almost become a particle in Livy," meaning from the time when, ever since, or as soon as. — Sui potens, his own master. — 15. Qua, in which. — 26. Centum — legit. "Livy does not say that Tarquin created new patrician gentes, which were then represented in the senate, but that he created new senators, whose families in consequence became patrician." Seeley. — 26. 27. Minorum gentium, of the younger houses (or clans). — 30, 31. Majore — fuerat, greater booty than accorded with what had been the report of the war. — 31. Revecta, brought back (in vehicles). S. — 32. The Circus Maximus was between the Palatine and the Aventine. — 34. Ubi. A relative adverb with the subjunctive of purpose. — Spectacula, stands, platforms whence they could see the games. — 35. Fori, benches. S. — 35, 36. Order = furcis sustinentibus spectacula duodenos pedes alta ab terra. — The wooden props (furcae) were shaped like the letter Y. — Furcis sustinentibus. Ablative absolute of attendant circumstances. — Duodenos. Why is the distributive numeral used?
- 56 1. Aedificanda loca, lots for building on. S. XXXVI. 12. Ramnis. Accusative plural. — 15. Inaugurato. Ablative absolute of the neuter perfect passive participle standing by itself; as augurato (chap. 18); and auspicato (line 31). — Negare (historical infinitive) is followed by neque, neque, without destroying the negative. — 17. Addixissent. Addicere (as an augural term) = assentiri. — 18. Eludens, laughing to scorn. — 19. Divine = vates, seer, reader of the Divine will. Said ironically, as is aves tuæ below. — 21. Futuram, sc. rem esse. — 22. 56

Atqui, and yet, but. — 23. Hæc, i. e. novaculam et cotem. — 26.
 The comitium was the northwestern part of the Forum, where the comitia curiata were held. — In gradibus ipsis, on the very steps to the left of the Curia. (The steps led up from the comitium to the senate-house.) — 28. Sitam, buried. — 32. Exercitus vo- cati, i. e. the comitia centuriata, which assembly was called exer- citus urbanus or simply exercitus, inasmuch as the people, who assembled in their centuries, were armed. — 32, 33. Summa rerum, matters of the highest importance. — 35. Alterum tantum (both neuter), another equal amount. He doubled the number of knights in each of the three centuries. — 36 sqq. Qui additi erant
posteriores modo appellati sunt (were simply called secondary) sub isdem nominibus (under the same names, i. e. under the original names of the centuries, Ramnes, Titius, and Luceres).
 The old knights were called priores or primi, the new knights posteriores or secundi.

XXXVII. 3. Ex occulto, in secret. These words are unneces- 57
 sary. — 4. Missis, sc. is, or some general word meaning men, soldiers, agents. — 5. Conicerent = conjicerent. Qui conicerent, relative with subjunctive, denoting purpose, may be translated by the infinitive in English. — 6, 7. Et — haererent, and when most of them, being on rafts, drove against the piles and stuck there (lit.
 having been driven, stuck, etc.). I am almost inclined to adopt Gronovius's conjecture, pleraque ratibus inpecta sublicisque, especially as his supposition that the bridge was partly of boats, partly supported on piles, is (as Seeley has noticed) expressly confirmed by Dionysius. As for the question, what bridge is meant here, "Dionysius tells us that the Sabines and Etruscans were in alliance, and that they pitched two camps with the river between them. The bridge was built to connect them, and Tar-quin burnt it to divide them." S. — 8. Ea quoque, this incident also, i. e. as well as the great force of the Romans, referring back to "praeterquam quod viribus," etc. S. — 9. Fusis. Dative. — 11. Fluitantia, borne down by the current. — 12. Insignem, palpable (S.); easily known by this mark. — 19, 20. Petebant, tenuere.
 Notice the difference of tense. — 23. The less important booty, which was burnt on the battle-field, was offered to Vulcan. — 26. Ges- turos, sc. se esse. — 28. Tumultuario milite, with soldiers hastily drawn together, as distinguished from regular troops. Z.

57 XXXVIII. 31. Egerius. See chap. xxxiv. — Fratris — regis, he was nephew to the king. — 32 sq. Deditos. Used in the sense of the middle voice: (that the people of Collatia) surrendered. — 37. In sua potestate, i. e. independent.

58 5. Priscis Latinis. Dative. — Ubi, in which. — 6. Universae rei dimicationem, i. e. a single decisive battle. — 10. Aut qui = aut de iis qui. — 12, 13. Majore animo quam quanta mole, with spirit greater than the energy with which, etc. — 19. Fastigio, along a regular slope, at an angle. It is a modal ablative. Seeley observes that "this passage is wrongly explained in Andrews's Dictionary." The mistake (which is copied from Freund) is in accepting Drakenborch's reading, e fastigio. Crevier, while he did not remove the preposition from his text, saw that it should be omitted, as is done by recent editors generally. — 20. Aream ad, the site for.

XXXIX. 23, 24. Visu — mirabile, marvellous in the appearance and in the event. — 27. Reges, the king and queen. — 28. Familiarium = servorum. — 29. Eam. Most of the MSS. have jam; but eam is rightly adopted by J. F. G., Mg., Wsb., Fr., S. — Viden' = videant. — 33. Cultu, style, mode of life. — 35. Regiae, our royal house, (i. e. line, family.) — 38. Liberum. Genitive plural. — Coeptum, sc. esse ferunt. — 39 sq. Magnae fortunae cultum, the mode of life (or the culture and demeanor) which high rank requires. So commentators generally. Seeley says cultum seems to mean pursuit, but cites no instances of the use of the word in that meaning elsewhere.

59 1. Evēnit. Present tense. — Est. A good emendation of Madvig's for esset. — 8 sqq. The older tradition represented Servius as the son of the Lar familiaris of the royal house (Faunus), or of Vulcan. Another story assigns him an Etruscan origin. — 11. Cognita, known for what she was, recognized (as the wife of the prince). — Prohibitam servitio, being preserved from slavery. — 13. Domo. The simple ablative of place without a preposition is sometimes found in prose writers who imitate the usage of poets. It is true that the simple ablative is often used in designations of place because they "may be regarded in the light of cause, manner, or instrument," (G. 186,) but there are cases in which it denotes place alone. That which first meant a, then a + b, at last means simply b. The locative domi would have been regular, and Madvig is inclined to read it; but it strikes me as very natural that Livy should have avoided the repetition of the same sound, Prisci Tarquini domi. In line 15 the preposition could hardly have been omitted, in domo meaning not at the house, but in the house, in the family. — 14. Mulieres. I. e. the queen and the mother of Servius. — 16, 17. Capta patria. Ablative absolute.

XL. 21. Maximo honore. Ablative of quality or description. In a similar predicate after the verb esse in lines 15, 16, there being no adjective with the noun, the preposition in is necessarily expressed: in caritate, etc. — 24, 25. Non modo = I do not say. Wsb. — 26. Indignitas, indignation. — 28. Servitia = servos. Abstract for concrete. — 29, 30. Id regnum, quod Romulus . . . tenuerit. — 30. Servus. So Madvig, for Servius. If the old reading is retained, it should be translated "a Servius." — 33. Set = sed. — 37. Gronovius and Madvig would omit quia.

3, 4. (Iis) ferramentis, quibus consueti erant. — 5. Quam potuere strengthen the superlative. — Tumultuosissimae. Madvig's emendation for tumultuosissime. — 12. Dum. Weissenborn well remarks that "the use of the subjunctive was gradually extended after the analogy of constructions already prevalent," and thus dum imitates cum. — 13. Dejecit, brought heavily down. — 14. Eiciunt = ejiciunt.

XLI.-XLVIII. Servius Tullius, sixth king (Mythical date 578-534 B. C.). XLI. Servius gains the throne through the artful aid of Tanaquil. XLII.-XLIII. He routs the Volentes and Etruscans. He appoints a census, and divides the people into classes and centuries. XLIV. He adds the Quirinal, Viminal, and Esquiline hills to the city, which is fortified by a wall, a mound, and a ditch. The pomerium is extended. XLV. The Temple of Diana is built on the Aventine as a federal sanctuary of the Romans and Latins. XLVI.-XLVIII. Conspiracy of Lucius Tarquinius and Tullia, and murder of Servius.

XLI. 17. Clamor, sc. oritur; or, as Wsb., clamor is a nominative absolute, directing our attention to the object or fact named. — Mirantium. Plural to correspond to the collective idea in populi. — 19. Eicit. The MSS. ieicit, which however should be taken as present, the two forms eicio and ieicio being used. — 27. Hoc. We should have expected istud, as the demonstrative of the second person. — 30. Qui, what sort of a man: the interrogative 18—Livy.

60 adjective pronoun, = qualis. — 32. Torpent, are palsied. — 34. The Nova via, beginning at the porta Mugionis, stretched along the north and west sides of the Palatine. — 35. Ad Jovis Statoris, near (the temple) of Jupiter Stator. So near St. Peter's. — 37. Sopitum, stunned. — 39. Confidere, sc. se; she trusted.

61 2. Jubere, sc. regem. — 4. Trabea. The royal trabea was a white toga ornamented with purple horizontal stripes. — 7, 8. Alienae . . viciis, of performing another man's duty. — 9. Palam factum est exspirasse Tarquinium. — Conploratione. The conclamatio, or calling upon the departed by name, followed by wailing or a dirge. — 10. Voluntate, "passive acquiescence." S.

XLII. 16, 18. Liberum. Genitive plural. — 20. Quin with the subjunctive follows nec rupit . . necessitatem, inasmuch as that phrase contains the idea of hindering or preventing: (fate's necessity that envy of the royal power should make everything faithless and hostile even among members of the same family.) — 23. Ad with the accusative has here nearly the signification which would be denoted by adding conservandam to quietem. A people engaged in war have no leisure for criticising the home government. — 28. Que, and so, and accordingly. The conjunction, as Seeley remarks, seems "to mark the intimate connection between Servius' undertaking a great reform, which is stated in this sentence, and his feeling secure in the sovereignty which is stated in the last." — 31. Ordinumque, and ranks. The allusion is not simply to the distinction between the senators and the knights, but to the whole classification of the people according to their service, privileges, position, age, etc. — 31, 32. Quibus aliquid interlucescit, by which some clear distinction is drawn. — 33. Censum. Notice (in your Lexicon) the fuller meaning of this word than that ordinarily implied by the English word census. — 35. Habitu, the scale, the proportion. Wsb. But Forc. considers it as meaning in this passage one's having, one's possessions (in respect of money). — 36. Classis. Accusative plural. — Hunc, the following. — 37. Ordinem, distribution (of them). — 37. Decorum, as in the Preface, means suited, adapted.

XLIII. 39. Aeris, sc. assium. — The division of the people described in this chapter appears more clearly in a tabular form:

I. Horsemen or Knights.

II. Foot.

1st Class, 80 Centuries (40 of Seniors, 40 of Juniors), Census, 100,000 asses.
2d " 20 " (10 " 10 " ) " 75,000 "
3d " 20 " (10 " 10 " ) " 50,000 "
4th " 20 " (10 " 10 " ) " 25,000 "
5th " 30 " (15 " 15 " ) " 11,000 "
1 century of proletarii						Census under 11,000		"
5 cent. of accensi, musicians, and workmen						"		none

Thus Livy makes 194 centuries, while Dionysius gives 193. But "neither of these figures is of any importance for historical times; we are utterly ignorant how many centuries there were at the time when the Centuriat Comitia were the most important legislative body in the world." (N. A. Rev., vol. 114, p. 421.)

2. Why quadragenas and not quadraginta? — Seniorum as 62 juniorum. Juniores from 17 to the end of their 45th year; seniores from that period to the age of 60. — Primæ classis. Those who belonged to the first class were called classis par excellence; the other classes were called infra classem. This is the origin of the terms classics, classical, as denoting works and authors of the first class. — 4, 6. What is the difference between arma and tela? — 5. The word imperata is used, because each had to provide his own arms. — The clipeum (more often clipeus) was a round shield of bronze, protecting especially the abdomen, and requiring the lorica for the protection of the breast. — 7. This gladius was probably a short dagger-like weapon. — 8. Fabrūm. I. e. the fabri tignarii, carpenters, and the fabri aerarii et ferrarii, smiths. — 9. Machinas ferre denotes perhaps both transporting and serving the engines of war. Wsb. — 13. The scutum being a long oblong shield and protecting the whole body, the lorica was no longer necessary. — 14, 15. In is probably a false reading, and should be omitted in translation. English order: Voluit censum tertiae classis esse quinquaginta milium (assium). — 18. Census, sc. fuit. — 19. Arma is here used in its widest sense, comprehending tela. — 22. In his accensi, with these (i. e. attached to the fifth class) were the reserves. — 23. Tres. Sigonius' conjecture, duas, is approved by Lange and G. C. Lewis, as making Livy's number of the centuries correspond with that given by Dionysius. Bekker and Wsb. suggest that as the accensi formed no separate centuria in the comitia, Livy, too, makes only 193 voting centuries. — 24. Hoc. Ablative. — 26. Militia. Ablative.

- 62 29, 30. Sex — fecit, in the same way he made six other centuries, although (only) three had been formed by Romulus, under the same names under which they were inaugurated. Tribus institutis, ablative absolute used adversatively. Isdem nominibus, i. e. Ramnes, Titenses, and Luceres, primi (or priores), and secundi (or posteriores) respectively. As the names were given inaugurato, they were unalterable. According to Mommsen, the sex suffragia (at least in the last century of the republic) were open to the plebeians, and were lower in rank than the other centuries of knights. — 31. Ad equos emendos. This money was called the aes equestre. — 32. The antecedent of quibus (with which, in order that with it) is bina milia aeris. This is the aes hordearium, and was paid annually, while the aes equestre was paid once for all. — Viduae attributae, single women were designated. Unmarried heiresses and widows made contributions, out of which 2,000 asses were given to each knight yearly for the keep of his horse. Bina milia, 2,000 to each (knight), not 'from each lady.' — 35. Honos, privileges, as contrasted with onera (34), burdens.
- 63 1. The knights were summoned first to give their vote. — 2, 3. The words primum peditum vocabantur are probably not genuine, and should be omitted in translation. Some take primum as a contracted genitive plural. Zumpt pronounces the words not faulty, and translates "(the centuries of the first class) were called first of the infantry." — 3. Ibi si variaret, if there was a difference (in vote) among them. — Ut depends on the general sense, it was so arranged that. — 4. Secundae classis (genitive), sc. centuriae. — 5. Descenderent. Understand a general subject, they, i. e. the Romans, the magistrates, or "the superintendents of the election." The passive impersonal might have been used, descenderetur. — It will be seen that while the principle of universal suffrage was to some extent recognized, a great advantage was given to the aristocracy of birth and wealth. The vote was by centuries, not by heads, each century counting one. Whenever the centuries of the knights and of the first class or wealthiest of the foot were unanimously in favor of any measure, their vote was already a majority of the whole, and the lower classes were not called to vote. Age, also, had the advantage over youth, inasmuch as there was an equal number of centuries of seniors and of juniors, although the number of persons must have been much greater in the latter than in the former. —

6. Hunc ordinem, the present arrangement, the arrangement existing in Livy's time. — 7. The number thirty-five was made up 241 B. C., when the Velina and Quirina were added to the tribes previously existing. — 7, 8. Duplicato — seniorumque, their number (i. e. the number of the tribes) being doubled by the centuries of juniors and seniors. In the new arrangement, each of the thirty-five tribes furnished two centuries (one of seniors and one of juniors) to each of the five classes, so that each class had seventy centuries and each tribe ten centuries. — 9. Summam, the total. — 10, 11. Regionibus collibusque qui habitabantur, according to the districts and hills which were (then) inhabited (S.) The ablatives specify the principle of the classification, or "that in accordance with which" anything is done. — The names of the four city tribes were Palatina, Collina, Suburana, Esquilina. — 12. The tributum was a war-tax, paid not yearly, but when (and in such amount as) the occasion required. — Aequaliter, at an equal rate. — 13-15. Neque, etc. The tribes of Servius had nothing to do with the distribution and number of the centuries, as did the tribes in the reformed constitution as above described, hunc ordinem qui nunc est, etc.

XLIV. 16. Maturaverat, etc., he had quickly completed, through the fear inspired by the lex de incensis, or the law threatening imprisonment and death to those who did not give in a census of their fortune. — 19. In campo Martio. They met outside the city proper, inasmuch as the people appeared in their centuries in the form of an army, and as such could not enter the city. In the time of the kings there was already an altar to Mars in the Campus Martius. — 21. Conditum, completed. — 23. Adiecit = adjecit. — 24. Fabius Pictor, the oldest Roman historian, lived about the time of the second Punic war, and was sent as ambassador to the oracle at Delphi after the battle at Cannae. His Annals, which were written in Greek, treated of the history of Rome from the founding of the city to his own times. — 26. Ad, to accord with. — 28. Auget Esquilias, he enlarges the Esquiliae. 'Esquiliae' or 'exquiliae' is explained, by comparison with inquilinus, as the seat of the outside dwellers, or a suburb. The southwestern part, the Carinae, already belonged to the city; Servius added further points of the range of hills called the Esquiline, and thus auget Esquilias. Gron. followed by Mg., Esquilis. — 31. Vim, i. e. the etymology. — Postmoerium, on the

- 63 further side of the wall. — 32. Circamoerium. Circa, on both sides. So in line 34. — 36. Continuarentur, should be brought up to the city walls. Conjungunt, a stronger expression, (they even unite,) implies that they even used the city-wall as the back or side wall of their houses. "Dionysius, too, remarks of this wall of Servius, that in later times it was entirely built in, so as to be traced with difficulty." — 37 sq. Aliquid soli puri ab humano cultu. — 39. Quod, because. So in the next line.
- 64 XLV. 6. Omnibus. Neuter. — 9. The temple of Artemis (Diana) at Ephesus, one of the wonders of the world, was the federal sanctuary of the twelve Ionian cities of Asia Minor. — 20. Fors, an opportunity. — 22. Patri familiae. I. e. a man of property. Livy always uses the form familiae in this expression, although familias had been more usual. — 34. Quin (qui non), why not? It is used often where we should say, without a question, Go and (as here, bathe before (the sacrifice), etc.). — Vivo, i. e. running, (as opposed to stagnant.) Cf. Verg. Aen. ii. 719. — 35. Infima, at the bottom of. — 36. Religione, religious fear, a religious scruple. — Qui — cuperet, inasmuch as he desired, "desiring as he did."
- 65 XLVI. 1. Usu, prescription, possession. — 4, 5. Agro . . . diviso, by dividing the land conquered from the enemy (the "ager publicus") among the citizens man by man. — 5. Ferre, sc. legem or rogationem. — 6. Vellent juberentae. The formula of proposing a law in the Comitia Curiata began with the words "Velitis jubeatis" and ended with the words "ita vos Quirites rogo." The two words expressing one idea, (the first in the internal sphere, the second in the outward manifestation,) the interrogative particle is placed after the second, as if they formed one compound word. The subjunctive is that of indirect question, after the idea of asking the people's decision implied in ferre ad populum. — 8. Affectandi, of making his way to. S. — 11. In curia, i. e. with the senators. — 14. Et, also; as well as those of Thebes and Mycenae. — Sceleris tragici, tragic guilt, or rather (with a stronger meaning than we usually give to "tragic" in English,) such guilt as formed the argument of many of the great Greek tragedies, guilt of tragic horror. — 15 sq. (Id)que regnum esset ultimum, quod, etc. — 18, 19. Pluribus — ediderim, after (or with) the larger number of authorities, I should say he was the son. Pluribus auctoribus, ablative absolute. — 22, 23. Forte ita inciderat, no. As we have ne and not ut non, the meaning seems to be: Fate had so ordained, (i. e. that the women themselves should be of different characters,) in order that the two violent natures should not be united, etc., so that Servius's reign should last the longer, etc. — 26. Ferox Tullia. As a rule, proper names in Latin do not take epithets, but the adjective is attached to some appositive noun, as vir or mulier. Here, however, the adjective distinguishes which of the two Tulliae is meant — the high-spirited Tullia, as opposed to the Tullia mitis ingenii. — 27. Cupiditatem, ambition, ambitious enterprise. — 28. Mirari. Historical infinitive. — Virum, really a man. — 29. Regio, truly royal. — 30. Virum. Again used in a full emphatic sense. — Muliebri cessaret audacia, she was wanting in the daring which became her as a woman. — 31, 32. Ut — aptissimum, as generally one evil fits close in to another. — 34, 35. Viro, (her) husband, fratrem, (his) brother; sorore (her) sister, virum, (her sister's) husband. — Viduam, unmarried. — 37. Jungi. The present implies, to live united. Ut — esset. The best MSS. esse. Madvig boldly emends: jungi; nunc elanguescendum aliena ignavia esse.

1. Videat. Livy often introduces a present in the oratio obliqua, in connection with historical tenses, for variety and vivacity. — 2. Implet, inflects. S. It takes a genitive, after the analogy of plenus. — 2. Ita Lucius, etc. So Wsb. The MSS. Arruns, which Mg. edits, although he says it is an undoubted slip on Livy's part, and that the reading Lucius is required by the facts. If one is morally certain that a writer has accidentally said one thing when he meant to say another, ought he not to print what he is sure the author would print himself, if he could revise the proofs? of course informing the reader of the discrepancy of the MS. At the same time, the MSS. ought not to be departed from too easily. Following them, and placing no comma after minor, we may make Arruns T. et T. m. the subject of fecissent, and supply L. Tarquinius et Tullia major as the subject of junguntur. This is harsh, but perhaps possible. Another difficulty, however, remains, which Seeley thus states and meets. "Dionysius tells us expressly that the wicked Tullia was the younger. We have to suppose, therefore, either that Livy differs from Dionysius, which is nothing new, or that he has made a slip, not in writing 'Arruns Tarquinius,' but in writing 'Tullia minor.'" Altogether, this is a locus lubricus.

XLVII. 6, 7. Infestior, infestius, more insecure, more subject

Ab Corintho, ab Tarquiniiis. I. e. as a Corinthian or a Tarquinian.—18. Peregrina regna, a foreign throne.—19. Moliri, to gain with difficulty, to build laboriously.—20. Imago, the bust with a waxen mask, in the atrium.—21. Tarquinium. An adjective. Translate, of Tarquin.—22. Frustraris civitatem, excite false hopes in the state, raise hopes destined to be disappointed.—23. Regium juvenem, a prince.—27. Cum, while. The subjunctive here follows cum in a clause contrasting a case referred to with the case in hand. See M. 358, Obs. 3.—Tantum moliri, to accomplish so great a task.—30. Momentum, influence, power.—32. Muliebribus furiis, madness (or blind passion) of his wife.—33. Why did he solicit the minorum gentium patres especially? Because they owed their admission to the senate to his father.—36. Regis. Objective genitive.—Omnibus locis, among all ranks. S.—Crescere. I. e. he gained adherents.—39. Pro curia, in the senate-house, in a position prominently forward. "Pro significat in, ut pro rostris, pro aede, pro tribunali." Festus.

67 4. Fraudis (sibi), injurious to themselves.—4, 5. De Servio actum (esse), that Servius had had his day; familiarly, that it was all over with Servius.—6. Ab stirpe ultima orsus, beginning as far back as his birth.—12. Alienae honestatis, of the noble birth (or rank) of others.—13. Ereptum primoribus agrum, i. e. practically taken from the nobles, because they would otherwise have enjoyed it alone. S.

XLVIII. 19. The vestibule is the πρῶτος, or space between the door of the temple and the columns in front of the building.—25. Per licentiam eludentem, "playing his insolent game." Per licentiam, in a wanton (or insolent) manner. This use of the preposition per is not infrequent. Eludentem is used absolutely.—26. Dominis, masters of slaves. An insulting allusion (as serrum, in line 24) to Servius's alleged servile origin.—27, 28. (Eum) qui vicisset regnaturum (esse).—29. Mg. omits etiam, thinking it to have come from a repetition of the jam. But Wsb. (while he retains the MSS. reading) makes the still better suggestion that the syllable iam alone may have arisen from repetition, and that we should read jam et ipse.—31. In inferiorem partem, to the bottom, that is, to the comitium below. — Deicit. The MSS. reading here of this present tense is deiecit. In this verb, as well as in cicio, two forms were used: deicin, deiecio, cicio, ecieio. — 32. In curiam defines redit. — 36. Admonitu, at the suggestion.

2. Summum — vicum, the highest point of the Cyprian street. 68 According to Varro, "cyprus" in the Sabine language meant good. The vicus Cyprius ran along under the Carinae, probably ascending as it went, and from its highest point the Urbins (or Orbins) clivus led up the Esquiline. — 3. Flectenti, sc. Tulliae. Another dative of reference depending upon the whole clause restitit — agebat. Literally, "to her as she turned her chariot to the right hand into the Urbian street, the driver (is qui iumenta agebat) stopped," etc. — 7. Inde, literally, from that point. We should say, here, or hereupon. — 8. They call it the street of Crime. — 9. Furiis, the avenging furies. — 13. Quibus iratis, so that through their anger. — 14. Prope diem, soon. The intervening time was twenty-five years. — 22. Liberandae, sc. from royal rule.

XLIX.-LX. L. Tarquinius Superbus, seventh king. (Mythical date 534-510 B. C.) XLIX. Tarquin puts to death the leading men of the state, surrounds himself with a body-guard, and forms connections with the Latins. L. He calls an assembly of Latins at the grove of Ferentina. Turnus Herdonius inveighs against him. LI. Tarquinius makes a false accusation against Turnus and procures his death. LII. The league with the Latins is renewed. LIII, LIV. War with the Volscians and with Gabii, which is taken by treachery. LV, LVI. Building of the Temple of Jupiter on the Capitoline, and other public works. Prodigies. Embassy to Delphi. Response of the oracle. LVII. War with the Rutulians. The lust of Sextus Tarquinius. LVIII. The outrage on Lucretia. Her suicide. LIX, LX. Under the leadership of Brutus, royal government is overthrown and the Tarquini expelled. The republic is established 510 B. C.

XLIX. 25. Superbo, ὑπερφανος (Dion. 4, 41), haughty, tyrannical. — 27. Primores patrum. I. e. the patres majorem gentium. — 31. (Neque) ad jus regni quicquam, nothing towards a claim to royalty, nothing by way of a right to the throne. S. — 32. Ut qui, inasmuch as he, or, inasmuch as he was one who. — 34. Reponenti, sc. Tarquinio. — 36. Sine consiliis, without associate-judges, "without hearing the opinions of wise men." — 37. Per eam causam, under this pretence. — 39. Unde = a quibus.

- 69 2. Quo = ut eo, in order that thus. — 5. Domesticis, private; of his nearest friends and adherents. — 15. Ab is used with oriundus of remote origin. — Circa. The Latin termination a instead of the Greek (Circe). — 16. Nuptum. Supine.

L. 19. The use of in is unusual. We should expect either diem, or an accusative like concilium in place of the object-clause ut . . . convenient. — 20. The fountain and grove of Ferentina, in the valley of Marino, north of the Alban lake, was the place of assembly of the representatives of the Latin Confederacy. — 23. The assembly, like the meetings of the Roman senate, was closed at sunset. — 24. Toto die. The ablative to express duration of time is rare in the best writers. M. 235, Obs. 3. — 25. Ab Aricia = Aricinus. — 27. Inditum, sc. ei (of which there are some indications in MSS.). Hs. reads ei inditum cognomen. — 29. An quicquam esse. Rhetorical questions of this kind, not asked for an answer, take the accusative and infinitive in oratio obliqua. — Superbus, more the act of a tyrant. S. — 33. Obnoxios premit, he may oppress them (i. e. the Latins) as his subjects. — 34. Quod, sc. imperium. — 35. Bene, with good results: if they had done well to entrust, etc. — Crediderint, sc. ei (Tarquinio). — Aut, or rather, or still more. — 37. Ne sic quidem, not even in this case, not even if this were so.

- 70 6. His artibus. Explained by the preceding adjectives, seditionis facinorosusque. — Opes domi nactus. Livy is thinking of a tribune of later times. Wsb. — Cum maxime, at the very moment when. — 8. Orationi. Dative, not genitive, because is refers to something which did not belong to the speech itself. Wsb. — 9. Silentio facto, i. e. by the lictor. — 10. Id temporis = eo tempore. Id, adverbial accusative. — 14. Ne — tacitum, i. e. that here also he did not come off without a comment from Turnus. Literally, he did not carry even this away (tacitum, passive participle) passed over in silence by Turnus. — 15. Dixisse, sc. Turnum. — 17. (Filium), ni pareat patri, habiturum infortunium esse, will have the worst of it: it will go hard with him: i. e. he will have a good beating. The Latin expression is a colloquial and somewhat inelegant one: "he will get into a scrape." Through the patria potestas the father could compel unconditional obedience.

LI. 23. Pro imperio, by virtue of his official power: the power he possessed at Rome, but not yet over the Latins. — 24. Crimine, accusation.—25. Adversae factionis. I. e. those won over by Tarquinius to advocate the union with Rome.—23. Ut in, etc. Ut is not found in the MSS., but is required by the sense.—32. Ab Turno is taken with parari.—34. Adgressurum fuisse, that he had intended to execute his plot.

8. Caedis = caedes. Nominative case.

LII. 22. Qui, because they.—25. In should probably be omitted.—26. Ab Tullo, from the time of Tullus.—38. Documentum, warning.

5. Secretum, separate.—6, 7. Ut—singulis. Each Latin and each Roman maniple was divided by Tarquinius into two halves (binos faceret ex singulis), then two of those halves (one Roman and one Latin) were united to form a new maniple, until they were all thus combined, (ex binis singulos faceret). Livy's order of statement is the reverse of the order in fact.—8. Centuriones. Livy assumes that this was the beginning of the arrangement by which each maniple consisted of two centuries with two centurions, but a single standard.

LIII. 11. Degeneratum, his degeneracy. The neuter of a perfect passive participle used as a noun.—12. Is primus, he (it was that) first.—In, etc., (that should last) for more than two hundred years, etc. Of course there were interruptions in this long period of warfare.—15. Dividendenda. So Mg. from P, which reads dividenda. Others, divendita.—21. Lentius spe, "diuturnius quam speraverat."—22. Nequiquam = nequicquam.—23. Pulso, sc. ei.—25. Posito, laid aside.—26. Jaciendis. So Mg. in place of faciendis.—27. Minimus, sc. natu. The two elder brothers were Titus and Arruns.—30. Vertisse, sc. eum, i. e. patrem.—33. Quam, quem, any. Indefinite pronoun.—36. Manere iis, was kept in store for them, awaited them.

7. Si nihil morarentur, sc. eum, if they should not detain him, i. e. if they should dismiss him. At the dismissal of the senate, the presiding magistrate said, Nihil amplius vos moramur.—10. Esset, sc. Tarquinius.—10, 11. In se ipsum saeviturum, he would vent his rage upon himself.—12. Ejus, i. e. Sexti Tarquinii.—Futurumque credere (sc. se) brevi, and they believed it would soon come to pass.

LIV. 18. Esse. Historical infinitive. Alsohefski's emendation. The MSS. esset.—19, 20. Nosset with an accusative, but sciret with an object-clause, which nosse cannot take after it. Seeley

73 compares the French connaître and savoir. — 20. Profecto is here equivalent to a fortiori. S. — 22. Ad rebellandum, to renew the war. — 32. "Vero conveys that his popularity with the soldiers was far greater than with the people. 'The people thought him a heaven-sent general: but as for the soldiers!'" S. — 33. Pariter, equally (with them), i. e. with the soldiers.

74 1. Unus Gabiis. So Mg. After unus M has p̄ Gabiis, and P has p. Gabinis. Wsb. reads [prae]. Various conjectures have been made as to the meaning of this "p," as praetor, praeter (Gabinos), praecipue, publice, ipsis; to which I will add pro, in the sense of in behalf of, as the representative of, — perhaps better followed by Gabinis than by Gabiis. This meaning of the preposition is similar to that in pro consule. With Mg.'s reading, Gabiis is locative ablative. — 4. Sequenti. Ablative case; although it is the general rule that in ablatives absolute the present participle singular ends in e. — 6. Baculo decussisse. A similar story is told of Thrasybulus in Herodotus 5, 92. — 11, 12. Tacitis ambagibus, by his silent indirect emblem (or way of indicating his meaning). — 13. Alios — opportunos, others as thrown in his way by the odium which they themselves had incurred (i. e. among the people, by their deeds). — 17. Juxta atque = aequae ac. — 18. Divisui. This dative of destination, end, or result, is used like the dative in odio, usui, derisui esse. — 20. Orba consilio. Inasmuch as the primores had been put out of the way.

LV. 28. Tarpeius is the old name of the Capitoline hill. — 29. Esset tota with the genitive, might belong wholly to. — 30. Exaugurare, to deprive of their sanctity, to unhallow, to annul the consecration of. — 34-36. Movisse numen deos, that the gods exhibited (lit. set in motion) their Divine power.

75 1, 2. Non motam — finibus, that the immovability of Terminus, and the fact that he alone of the gods could not be called out of his consecrated bounds, portended, etc. Dionysius, and Livy himself in another passage (V. 54, 7), state that the altar of Juventas also could not be exaugurated, — a promise of eternal youth to the city and state. — 5. Caput humanum. This attempt to explain the word Capitolium was afterwards improved by the addition that the head was that of a King Olus (caput Oli regis Serv. ad Aen. viii. 347). S. — 7. Eam, that it, i. e. the temple. Attracted to the gender of arcem, the first noun of the predicate. — 9. Quisque, quosque. — Que . . . — que, both . . . and. Que . . . que belongs specially to double relative clauses. M. 435, Obs. 1; Z. 338.—10. Ad 75

Capuan, Sabellus, Samnite. Mg.—The manubiae (according to Pseudo-Asconius ad Cic. Verr. p. 199) is the general's portion of the plunder from a captured city.—14. Crediderim, I am inclined to trust Fabius when he says, etc. H. 486, III. 3 and 6; A. & S.
260, Rem. 4; B. 1178, 1179; A. 60, 2; G. 54.—15. Pisoni. L.
Calpurnius Piso Frugi, consul 133 B. C., censor 120 B. C., and hence Censorius, wrote Annales treating of the history of Rome from its beginning to his own times. The political constitution, the manners and customs of the people, and their religious observances, received his attention.—18. Pondo. This indeclinable noun is here used as accusative plural.—19, 20. Et nullius— exsuperaturam, and which would be more than sufficient for the foundations of any even of our present buildings.—19. Horum, of these (works) of our day.—Magnificentiae. We make better sense by omitting this word, with Ussing. "The word seems to have come hither from 56, 2," (p. 75, line 31). F. V. Reiz proposes nullorum ne hujus quidem magnificantine operum; but here, says Ussing, he would more correctly say, nullius and operis.—
20. Exsuperaturam. "On this hypothetical and adjectival use of the future participle, unknown, except in the case of futurus, to Cicero, Caesar, and Sallust, see M. 425, Obs. 5;" Z. 639, note;
A. & S. 274, Rem. 6 (b); B. 1355; G. 79.

LVI. 23. Quam. Bekker. The MSS. quae.—23. Tarquinius Priscus had already caused or allowed fori to be built (chap. 35);
they appear now, says Weissenborn, to be built in a more permanent form, and at the public expense.—The cloaca maxima is called the receptaculum omnium purgamentorum urbis inasmuch as the other sewers all emptied into it. Its first purpose was to drain the valley between the Aventine, Capitoline, and Palatine. This admirable structure is still in existence, almost uninjured by time.—29. Terra.
P, Mg.—others, terram.—32, 33. Urbi oneri esse. M. 249; H.
390, I.; A. & S. 227; B. 848, 849 ad finem; A. 51, VII.; G. 148.
—37. Anguis. A snake is the symbol of the Genius of the household god. Cf. Liv. xxvi. 19, 7, (infra p. 213, line 36.)

11. Altus ingenii. Genitive of quality. Madvig's emendation, for alins ingenio.—11, 12. Quam—induerat, from (that) of which he had put on the assumed appearance.—13. In quibus = et

- 76 MSS. interfectum.—17. Ex industria factus, having intentionally formed himself. Fio in a reflexive sense.—19. Bruti. The story evidently arises from the meaning dull, lumpyish, stupid, "the Dullard," which belongs to the word Brutus.—20. Ille animus liberator populi Romani. Liberator is here used nearly in the sense of the future participle liberaturus (populum, etc.). The noun is very properly used to denote the ever-memorable character in which Brutus afterwards appeared.—23. Corneo, of cornel-wood.—Ad id, for that purpose.—24, 25. Per ambages effigiem, a symbolical representation. S.—31, 32. Tarquinii, ut Sextus. So Madvig. The MSS. Tarquinius Sextus, q. R. r. f., ut ignarus, etc.
- 77 LVII. 3, 4. Ea regione. The country is (at least at present) swampy and sandy. Ardea, however, had a seaport near the modern St. Anastasio, and derived wealth from commerce. Wsb. In ea aetate. Cicero would have used the ablative without a preposition. Z. 475, note ad fin.; H. 426, 2, 1); A. & S. 253, note 1; B. 953; A. 55, I. 1; G. 192.—10. Temptata = tentata.—12. Coepti, sc. sunt.—15. Regii juvenes, the young princes.—16. Comisationibus = comissationibus.—Inter se, at each other's quarters.—18. L. Tarquinius Collatinus had his cognomen from Collatia, where he dwelt. See the genealogical table, in the notes on chap. 34, (p. 268.)—22 sq. Quin conscendimus equos? why do we not mount our horses? Such questions are equivalent to exhortations (Z. 542): Come, let us mount our horses.—25. Præ-sentes, in person.—25 sq. Id cuique spectatissimum sit, let that be the best test of each, i. e. of each of our wives. This translation I gave to my classes at Harvard twenty years ago, as I find by my old manuscript notes. It is substantially the same as Seeley has just proposed.—33. In medio aedium, i. e. in the atrium. In earlier prose we should have in mediis aedibus.—34. Muliebris. This adjective is used like an objective genitive 'mulierum,' in regard to the women.
- 78 LVIII. Circa, i. e. omnia circa. The adjective is supplied from omnes.—14. Versare, he worked upon.—In omnes partes, in every direction; by all possible means.—17. Servum, the slave; (comite uno, p. 78, line 4.)—(Se) positurum (esse).—18. Sordido = cum sordido homine (a slave) commissio.—19. Quo = cujus rei.—19. Velut victrix. The lust was not really the conqueror, but only apparently. Z. The reading, however, is probably false. Mg. substitutes vel vi. Other conjectures have been made, but none is satisfactory. Seeley suggests violatrix in place of the two words.—23. Cum singulis, each with one (or a).—24. Facto. Ablative of the perfect passive participle, after opus est. H. 419, V. 3, 1); A. & S. 243, Rem. 1; B. 926; A. 54, VII.; G. 190; 3, Rem. 2.—26. Sp. Lucretius Tricipitinus was the father of Lucretia.—Publius Valerius was afterwards called Publicola.—31. Satin = satisne.—Salve, sc. agis, or res se habent.

1. Animi. A locative case; sick at heart. M. 296, b, Obs. 3. 79 Less subtly, it may be considered as a genitive of specification.—4. Vos videritis, do you see. Subjunct. of permission.—9. Conclamat. Referring to the custom of calling a person loudly by name just after death.

LIX. 11. Volnere = vulnere.—16. Denique. So Madvig. The MSS. dehinc.—Exactorum. Wsb., Mg., Hz. The MSS. exsecutorum.—19. In Bruti pectore. "This of course sounded more forcible to a Roman than it can to us, to whom Brutus is a mere proper name. 'In the breast of the dullard.'" S.—20. Ingenium, sc. esset.—22. Secuntur = sequuntur.—28. Auctor, i. e. who exhorted them, called upon them (to take up arms).—Quod deceret, as became. A thing which, as he said, was becoming to: hence the subjunctive.—29. Adversus hostilia ausos. I. e. against those who had dared to do what usually only an enemy in open war attempts. Z.—31. Parte. Mg., Wsb.—M pari, P paris, whence J. F. G. pars praesidio relictæ.—Praesidio. Dative.—Praesidium seems to be used here in the sense of guards, not garrison, unless, with Heerwagen, we change the order of words, and read parte praesidio relictæ Collatiae custodibusque datis ad portas.—36. Primores. I. e. Collatinus and Brutus.

3. Tribunum Celerum. The commander of the Celeres (chap. 80 xv.) was next in command in the whole army to the king. Seeley remarks, on "the supposed improbability that Brutus, being a dullard, should have held this magistracy," that "Tarquin is represented as devoted to family government, and of such governments the appointment of notoriously unfit men to office is the most characteristic fault." The improbable story is that Brutus was a dullard.—14. Caedis = caedes. Nominative singular.—16, 17. Rerum indignitas, indignation at the facts. Indignitas, the sense of the indignum.—Rerum, objective genitive.—18. Subicit (=subjoicit), suggests (to the speaker).—24. The prae-

NOTES.

fectus urbis (Livy. More commonly urbi) was, according to Tacitus (Ann. 6, 11), an officer appointed in the absence of the king, and afterwards of the magistrates, to administer justice and attend to any unexpected business which might arise. — 27. Furias, the avenging furies. — 29. Pergeret, proceeded. — 30. Flexit viam, changed his road. — 36. The name of the town, Caere, stands in the terminal accusative without a preposition; but with the name of the people, Etruscos, (as with the name of a country,) the preposition is used. Cf. Ardeam in castra est profectus, lines 22, 23.

- 81 4. Regnatum (est), kings ruled; royal government continued. — 6. Consules. This name was introduced at a later period. The original name of the chief magistrates was praetor. — 6. A praefecto Urbis. "According to Dion. 4, 84, Lucretius was named interrex by Brutus to conduct the elections. The question has been much discussed whether the tribunus celerum and the praefectus urbis had the powers which they are here described as exercising. But these proceedings were avowedly revolutionary." Seeley. — 7. Ex commentariis Servi Tulli. To be taken with comitiis centuriatis as well as with consules creati; it being alleged that Servius Tullius had drawn up a constitution prescribing the divisions of centuries and classes, as well as the manner of electing consuls.

- 83 I. 1. Parte, a portion, division, section. — 2. Summae totius, of the whole connected-work. — Professi sunt, etc. Thus Thucydides declares, at the beginning of his history, that the Peloponnesian war was more worthy of account than any that had preceded it. — 3. Rerum, of history. — 4. Quae gesta sint. Attracted subjunctive in a relative clause which is connected as a constituent part to a clause itself subordinate (having its subject in the accusative and its verb in the infinitive). H. 527, 3; A. & S. 266, 1; B. 1291; G. 424. The relative clause which follows, quod — gessere, takes the indicative, as being an added statement of a particular fact, (namely, that which,) and not incorporated as an essential part with the preceding dependent general proposition. — 6. Gessere. The occasional use of the termination -re instead of -runt, in the third person plural of the perfect, is one of the points in which Livy differs from Cicero and the older prose writers. — 5. Livy says which the Carthaginians (not simply Hannibal) waged, to bring out the fact that the war was fought with the consent of Carthage; although, after its unfortunate issue, all the blame was thrown on Hannibal. — 6. Opibus, in (their) resources. Ablative of specification, defining the application of validiores. H. 429, 1; A. & S. 250; B. 889; G. 194; A. 54, I. — Inter se, with each other. — 8. Tantum virium, so large forces. — Roboris, (so great) strength, vigor. — 9. Inter sese, says Weissenborn, is better referred to the subject of conserebant, (so as to mean together, with each other,) than to hand ignotas (not unknown to each other). I should rather say the contrary. But, while for English translation it must be taken with one or the other, it may really modify both. Such double constructions are frequent in Horace. — Expertas. Passive. — 10. Conserebant is used with belli artes after the analogy of manus, pugnam conserere. It has a fuller meaning than haud ignotis artibus bellum gerebant, and is a more striking expression. The imperfect indicates the beginning and the continuance of the struggle, on which the reader's attention is to linger. — 11. The adverb propius, like prope and proxime, is regularly construed with the accusative in Livy; the adjective more commonly with the dative, but also with the accusative. Wsb. — The first Punic war began B. C. 264, and ended B. C. 241, with the defeat of the Carthaginians in the naval battle off the Aegates islands. — 12. Qui vicerunt. This relative clause is certainly an essential definition of the subject of the subjunctive fuertint, and yet the indicative is used for emphasis and vividness. Wsb. translates, who remained victorious, who were left victors. Cf. Sil. Ital. i. 13-14: propiusque fuere periculo Quis superare datum. Certarunt = certaverunt. — 14, 15. Quod inferrent, quod crederent. The subjunctive is used after the causal conjunction because the reason is stated according to the views of the parties referred to (the Romans and Carthaginians). — Imperitatum esse. A passive impersonal. The Romans showed their haughtiness and greed, when Carthage was occupied in subduing the insurrection of the mercenaries and Libyans, by taking Altaria, the high altar in the inner part of a temple, is commonly used as a plurale tantum, because such an altar is a compound object, consisting of several constituent parts. — 19, 20. Tactis sacris. “Those who took oaths used to lay their hands upon the victims, or on the altar, or some other sacred thing, as if by so doing they brought before them the deity by whom the oath was sworn, and made him witness of the ceremony.” Dict. Antiqq. p. 660. — 22. Spiritus. Genitive. — Sicilia Sardiniaque amissae, the loss of Sicily and Sardinia. M. 426; H. 580; A. & S. 274, Rem. 5; B. 1357; A. 72, 2. — 23. Rerum, of their cause. — 23, 25. Siciliam concessam (esse), Sardiniam interceptam (esse). So. putabat, or querebatur. — 25. Stipendio, a war contribution. See note on line 15.

84 II. Hamilcar founds a Carthaginian kingdom in Spain by his generalship (B. C. 236-228), which is confirmed by the adroit statesmanship of his son-in-law Hasdrubal (B. C. 227-220). The Romans make an agreement with Hasdrubal that the Ebro shall be the boundary of the two empires, and that the independence of Saguntum shall be respected by both parties.

II. 1. Africo bello. The war with the Libyans and mercenaries. — Quinque annos. According to Polybius (1, 88), only three years and four months (B. C. 241-238), and Hamilcar did not take the command till 239; but Livy takes in the whole time which Hamilcar spent in Africa after the peace with Rome (241 B. C.) till he went to Spain. Wsb. — 6. Inlaturos (illaturos) fuisse. The apodosis being dependent upon appareret takes this periphrastic infinitive. In an independent sentence we should have had the pluperfect subjunctive. — 7. Quae. So Mg., after the Basel edition of 1535; the MSS. and Wsb. qui; Hx. (conj. Hwg.)

cui. — 8. Mors Hamilcaris. Hamilcar fell in battle in Spain 84 B. C. 228 (Mommsen). — 10. Obtinuit, held. — 11, 12. Having been at first recommended to Hamilcar, as they say, by his youthful beauty, and afterwards received as his son-in-law in consequence, certainly, of the lofty character of his mind. It is hard to decide between the readings altam and aliam. 'Altam' is adopted by Sig., J. F. G., J. G., Cr., Dr., ed. Bipont., Kr., Bkr., Hx., and many others; 'aliam' has the best MS. authority, and is read by Alsch., Mg., Wsb. With it, ob aliam i. p. animi is translated, on account of another native-quality, certainly, (I mean or that is) of the mind. This reading would be easier if we could take profecto to mean 'that is,' 'to wit,' instead of having to supply that meaning after it. With either reading, the conjecture of Lipsius, profecto annis, is unnecessary.

13. The Barcine party, which seems to have derived its name from the cognomen of Hamilcar, favored a renewal of the war against Rome, and was supported by the army and the common people. The aristocratic party, led by Hanno, was in favor of peace. — Opibus, by the influence. — 15. Principum. I. e. the oligarchical leaders of the conservative party. — Imperio, the supreme command. — 19. Nihilo. Ablative of measure of difference, with the comparative tutior. — 20. Interfecti — domini, at the slaying of his master by him (i. e. by Hasdrubal). Objective genitive, defining iram. — 22, 23. Haud alio vultu, and eo habitu. Descriptive ablative. M. 272; H. 428; A. & S. 211, Rem. 6; B. 888; G. 198; A. 54, II. — 27. Ut, (with the additional stipulation) that. — Utriusque imperii. But the Romans at that time possessed nothing in Spain. Polybius (3, 27) says, more accurately than Livy, "with the stipulation that the Carthaginians should not cross the river Iberus to make war."

III, IV. Hannibal is chosen commander (B. C. 220, Mommsen). His character.

III. 32. Praerogativa, the vote, the choice. As the vote of the centuria praerogativa was considered to some extent as betokening the will of the gods, and was generally followed by the other centuries, praerogativa came to mean "vote" in general, "choice." — Some predicate for this subject-nominative, like eum praetorem crearet, has probably fallen out, and should be supplied where the asterisks are placed in the 34th line. This is the reading of the best MSS., except that M and C have quam instead of qua. —

84 35. Favor plebis (of the commons) sequebatur. At this time it was the custom for the army (or rather the Carthaginians in the army, and especially the officers) to choose the general, and this choice was ratified by the commons in a popular assembly summoned by the senate. — 36. Accersierat = arcessierat. — 37. Senatu. The Council of the Elders, composed of the two kings and the twenty-eight senators. — Barcinis. See note on line 13. — 39. Opes, power, influence, command. — Hanno, called the Great, was the leader of the conservative party.

85 3. Omnis. Accusative plural. H. 88, III. 1; A. & S. 85, Exc. 1; B. 114; A. 11, 2; G. p. 22, Obs. 1. — 4-6. Florem — censet, Hasdrubal thinks that that bloom of youth, which he himself offered to the service of the father of Hannibal, is justly demanded in turn from the son. — 7. Pro militari rudimento, instead of learning the art of war. Z. — 9. Hamilearis filius, the son of a Hamilear. Wsb. — Inmodica. "The Barcidae had founded in Spain an almost independent empire, and regarded the army, while they held it, as their own." "Cato the Elder, who, a generation after Hamilear's death, beheld in Spain the still fresh traces of his working, exclaimed, notwithstanding all his hatred of the Carthaginians, that no king was worthy to be named by the side of Hamilear Barca:"—a testimony to his ability no less than to his power. — 10. Speciem, the splendor, the kingly state and show. — 12. Istum juvenem, that young man of yours: speaking to the Barcine party, contemptuously.

IV. 21. Credere. Historical infinitive. — 23. Pater in eo, his father in him, i. e. the resemblance he had to his father, the thoughts of his father he called up. — Minimum momentum, etc., the least efficient influence in gaining affection (or popularity). — 26. Haut = haud. — Discerneres. M. 350 a, 370; H. 486, III. 4; A. & S. 260, Rem. 2; B. 1278; A. 60, 1; G. 54. — 28, 30. Malle, confidere, audere. Historical infinitive. — 29. Quid. Indefinite pronoun. — Ubi esset. Imperfect subjunctive of frequent general cases: whenever, so often as. — 34 sq. Modus cibi potitionisque finitus (est), etc. — 37. Id quod gerendis rebus (dative case) superesset, that which was left after transacting business. — 38. Accersita = arcessita. — 39. Opertum, sc. enim.

86 1. Custodias, guards, (sentries, etc.) — Stationes, (larger bodies of men than custodiae,) outposts. — 3. Conspiciebantur, were what distinguished him; were conspicuous for their beauty;

attracted notice.—Idem, at the same time. M. 488; Z. 127; H. 451, 86
 3; A. & S. 207, Rem. 27, (a); B. 1034; A. 20 in fine; G. 97.—4.
Princeps, foremost, at the head of his troops.—6 sqq. These charges against Hannibal are most unjust; the first is the only one that can be said to have any foundation; but it may be doubted whether even that is applicable, if he be judged by the standard of the times and the examples of Roman commanders. An army that is soundly beaten generally thinks the victorious enemy cruel.
 “Though anger and envy and meanness,” says Mommsen (Book iii. chap. iii.), “have written Hannibal’s history, they have not been able to mar the pure and noble image which it presents.”—7. A Carthaginian had probably as good a right to talk of perfidia Romana as a Roman of perfidia Punica.—8. Nihil veri. The neuter adjective used substantively, in the genitive after nihil: no truth, i. e. no sense of truth.—Nihil sancti, no sense of holiness, no purity and blamelessness of life.—9. Nulla religio, “no feeling of dependence on the gods.” But see chap. 21, and book
 xlv. chap. 8, for proof of the contrary.—Videnda. He strove to learn to see and know everything with his own eyes. Z.—12.
Futuro, one destined to be, or purposing to be.

V, VI. Aiming at Saguntum, Hannibal makes war upon some Spanish tribes (B. C. 220). The Romans send ambassadors to him.

V. 14. Provincia, as his province (in the Roman sense: explained by bellumque Romanum mandatum esset).—19 Movebantur, were (we should say would be) set in motion, aroused. The indicative expresses the certainty with which Hannibal felt that this result would follow.—21. Parte, the territory, the district assigned to the Carthaginians.—23. Jungendo, and by annexing them. The use of jungere without an object is rare. Wsb. cites Plin. Ep. 3, 19, 2: praedium agris meis vicina venalia sunt: in his me multa soli- citant; sollicitat ipsa pulchritudo jungendi.—26. Quo metu = cujus
rei metu.—Stipendio, a war contribution.—29. Stipendio, the soldiers’ pay (for the past campaign).—31. In Vaccaeos. The preposition, which would be used with the name of the country, is used with the name of the people standing for that of their country.—37. Haut = haud.

1. Ab, on the part of.—2. Ita, to such an extent: only so far 87 towards the river.—5. Impeditum. Heerwagen’s emendation in place of peditum.—7. Adpendicibus = appendicibus.—8, 9. In-

87 victa = quae vinci non potuit. — 10, 12. The causal conjunction quod, because, takes the indicative (credebant) of a fact stated by the historian himself, the subjunctive (interesset) of a fact stated as a part of the thought of the Carpetani. — 14. Ex parte altera, i. e. from Hannibal's side of the river. — 15. Inmissa, sc. est. — 16. Concursum, sc. est. — 16-20. Quippe ubi (inasmuch as there) — posset — gereret. A relative clause (after the relative adverb ubi), with the subjunctive denoting a reason, strengthened by quippe. The contest was uneven, because the infantry of the Spaniards could be thrown down even by unarmed horsemen, but the Carthaginian horsemen could make free use of their weapons. — 17. Vix vado fidens, hardly trusting to the ford; "hardly stepping surely even in shallow places, hence instabilis. The opposite to vada is gurgites (19) and verticoso amni (21)." — 18. Corpore armisque. Ablative of specification or respect, with liber. — 19. Etymology of comminus and eminus? — 20. Rem gereret, waged the fight. — 21. In hostis (accusative plural), to the enemy drawn up on the opposite bank. — 25. Agmine quadrato, here in close array, in complete battle order.

VI. 31, 32. Certamina serebantur, quarrels were excited, between the Saguntines and their neighbors, by Hannibal's means. — 32 sq. Hannibal, who had himself stirred up the strife, assisted the Turdetani and advocated their cause. — 33. Juris, in regard to right. Genitive of respect. — 35. Missi, sc. sunt. — Haut = haud. — 36. Orantes. Notice this use of the present participle. — 38. Qui cum, and when they. — 39. De re publica retulissent, had laid before that body (i. e. the senate) a proposition in regard to this matter of public interest.

88 2. Quibus si videretur, etc., et denuntiarent, etc., who, if the occasion seemed to them to demand it, should both give warning to Hannibal, etc. The relative pronoun, instead of being made the subject of denuntiarent, is placed in the protasis, where we should use the demonstrative. — 4, 5. Traicerent = trajicerent. — 7. Spe, expectation. — 10. Censebant, gave their vote. — 11. Intendebant. So Mg. and old editors. The MSS. intenderant. — 12. Movendam, set in motion, undertaken.

VII.-XV. SAGUNTUM. VII, VIII. Hannibal begins the siege of Saguntum, (spring of 219 B. C.) IX.-XI. § 3. The Roman ambassadors, refused an audience by Hannibal, proceed to Carthage. Speech of Hanno in the Carthaginian senate. Answer of the Carthaginian senate to the Romans. XI. § 3-XV. Siege of 88

 morals, their tone of morality. — Qua, in consequence of which. —
Socialem, with their allies. — 28. Finis. Accusative plural. — 31.
Circa = quæ circa erant. — Vineæ were portable shelters for soldiers engaged in besieging operations, named from their resemblance to a grape-arbor. The roof was protected with wickerwork and raw hides. Several of them were frequently joined together. When the vineæ had been carried close to the walls, the soldiers under their shelter undermined the walls or drove the battering-ram against them. — 32. Per quas = ut per eas. A relative clause of purpose with the subjunctive. The aries or battering-ram was a large beam to one end of which was fastened a mass of bronze or iron which resembled in its form the head of a ram. It was sometimes suspended by ropes or chains, so that the soldiers could with ease give it a rapid and forcible motion backwards and forwards. It was used to shake, perforate, and batter down the walls of besieged cities. Dict. Antiqq. — 33, 34.
Ut... ita, although... still. — 35. Effectum operis, the execution (or carrying out) of the work. — Coeptis succedebat = coepta
succedebant. The verb is impersonal, with the dative. — 37.
Emunitus erat, had been built up.

Ferre, generally, as a rule. — 7, 8. Adversum, in the front, in the part turned towards the enemy. — Femur. Accusative of specification after ictus. — Tragula, a spear with a barbed head, used also by the Gauls and Helvetians. It was hurled by the aid of an amentum or leathern thong tied to the middle of the shaft. — 10.
Opera, military engines, as catapultæ and ballistæ (chap. xi).

VIII. 12. Dum with the subjunctive, in order that meanwhile. —
13. Ut... ita, although (or while)... yet. — 21. Non sufficiebant

Accusative of specification. — Tereti, round, cylindrical. — 3. Id, i. e. the end (extremum). — 5. Habebat, sc. phalarica. — 6. Armīs, the shield. So line 10. (He said) he had warned them, he had told them beforehand. — 37. Quietura Romana foedera, would the treaty with Rome be left in peace: "nicht unangefochten bleibe." Näg. p. 288. — 37 sqq. Juvenem, etc. Livy passes from the oratio obliqua to the oratio recta.

91 6. Sunt ulti, sc. Romani. — 9. Bonus. Of course ironical. — 11. Res — repetuntur, satisfaction is demanded, in accordance with the treaty. — 15. Aegatis = Aegates. Hanno refers to the defeat of the Carthaginian fleet by the Romans near the Ægatian islands in March B. C. 241, which caused Hamilcar, in obedience to the commands of the home government, to leave Eryx, the stronghold on Mount Eryx from which it had been impossible to dislodge him, and make peace: thus ending the first Punic war, which began B. C. 264. — 18. Alter, a second. — Ut isti volunt, as these men (the Barcine party) will have it, represent, assert. — 19. Tarento. At the end of the war between the Romans and King Pyrrhus, when the Romans were besieging Tarentum after the departure of the king, a Carthaginian fleet entered the harbor, and offered assistance to the Tarentines. The citizens were on the point of giving up the city to the Carthaginians, when Milo handed over the citadel to the Romans. Polybius (3, 26) expressly denies the statement of Phalinus, (which statement accords with Livy's view,) that the Carthaginians had bound themselves to keep away from Italy. — 21. Vicerunt, etc. I. e. in the first Punic war. — 23. Unde jus stabat, on whose side the right was.

—24. Turres. Movable towers, generally made of beams and planks and covered (at least on the three exposed sides) with iron, were used in storming a fortified place. They were also covered with raw hides and quilts, moistened. They were divided into stories (tabulata), and overtopped the fortifications of the besieged place. In the lowest story was a battering-ram; in the other stories, tormenta or engines which hurled missiles (as catapultae and ballistae). Slingers and archers were stationed in the different stories, and on the top. Dict. Antiqq. — 30. In eo, in his (i. e. 1. Patentia ruinis, the opening made by the fall. Patentia is the neuter participle used substantively; or we may supply loca. — 9. Omnium. The genitive, dative, and ablative of omnia are often used substantively in Livy. — 12. Adfectos (affectos) animos, their weakened courage. Z.

XII. 19. Cives, his fellow-citizens: the Carthaginian army. — 26. Temptata = tentata. — 28. Aliquid moturum, sc. se, that he would effect something. Wsb. says that aliquid is adverbial, and that moturum is used absolutely without an object. — 29 sq. Postquam often takes the imperfect, especially when the action of the verb or verbs it introduces continues or is still in progress when the action described in the principal clause begins. — 30. Condiciones. Perhaps spelled conditiones in the Lexicons. — 31. Oratore, an envoy. — 32. Sub condicionibus iis. The use of the preposition is exceptional. Veni; sed. So Madvig admirably, in place of venissem. —14 sq. Vestra —referentibus, by your fault, if those who tell the truth incur danger with you. Z. —19. Vel ea fides sit, let this, for example, be proof; be my credential. —21. Postquam = ex quo, since. Z. —25. Cujus, sc. pacis. —Ita, on this condition. —25-28. Si —habitura estis, if in the same way as Hannibal offers it as conqueror, you will so receive it as conquered, and will not consider that which is given up as lost, (since all things belong to the conqueror,) but will regard whatever is left you as a gift. Habitura estis, more strictly, are not inclined to consider. —34. Inviolata. "I. e. they shall neither be slain nor sold as slaves." —Binis. Wsb. says this is probably an error of the copyist, since we have singulis in chap. xii. Döring attempts to reconcile the two statements by supposing that Hannibal meant to allow each person to take one suit in addition to the one which he wore. —38. Cum, when, denotes here both time and condition. —Omnium. Neuter. —39. Remissurum (esse), sc. eum.

- 95 XIV. 8. Conicientes = conicientes. —16. Signo, an order, a short watch-word. Z. —18. Crudele, sc. fuit. —20. Super se ipsos, "over their heads."

XV. 27. Aliquantum, a considerable sum. —28. Pretiosam qualifies vestem as well as supellectilem. —29. Vestem. Not only robes, but also spreads, tapestry, etc. —30. Quam = postquam. —Coeptum, sc. sit. (Oratio Obliqua.) —Captum, sc. esse. —35. Fuerint, and not essent, follows ut here, because the meaning is not esse non potuerunt, but fuisse non possunt. Wsb. —39. Breviora, shorter (than thirteen months).

- 96 5. Arimini. Locative genitive. —6. Creatos. The president at the comitia in which a consul is elected is said creare consulem. —The chronological difficulty raised in this chapter is removed by correcting Livy's statement in chap. vi., that the embassy was sent from Saguntum to Rome in the consulship of Scipio and Sempronius. The true date is B. C. 219, in the consulship of M. Livius Salinator and L. Æmilius Paulus.

XVI.-XX. ROME PREPARES FOR WAR. XVI, XVII. Alarm at

Rome. Troops raised, and other arrangements made. XVIII.—96

XX. Roman ambassadors go to Carthage. War formally declared (B. C. 218). The Roman ambassadors attempt to gain the alliance of the tribes in Spain and Gaul, or alienate them from the Carthaginians, but with little success.

XVI. 14, 15. Non lati auxilli, of not having given aid.—15, 16. Summa rerum. I. e. the safety (and indeed the very existence) of their state.—18-31. Hostem congressum (esse), etc. Oratio obliqua.—21-23. All the wars are mentioned (except the Ligurian) which the Romans waged between the first and second Punic wars.—23. Tumultuatum (est). Impersonal passive. The wars with the Gauls on the Po were called tumultus, “to indicate the suddenness of the attacks made by these warlike tribes, and the constant state of watchfulness in which the Romans had to be.”—24. Twenty-three years is the period between the first and second Punic wars (241-218). The war in Spain had not occupied the whole of that time.

XVII. 32, 33. The senate had already determined what countries should be assigned to the two consuls as their provinciae, or spheres of action, without deciding which district should be given to each. The division was now made by lot.—35. Socium = sociorum.—36. Videretur, sc. consulibus.

2. Vellent juberent. See note on i. 46, (page 65, line 6.)—5. 97 Eveniret. Either the whole clause quod — jussisset is the subject of this verb, or the subject bellum has been attracted into the subordinate relative clause.—8. The pronoun ea takes here the gender of the predicate milia instead of that of its antecedent legiones.—10. Naves longae. Ships of war; quinqueremes (p. 97, line 1).—19. Ea parte belli, with that kind of warfare (i. e. naval war).—20. Justo equitatu, regular cavalry (three hundred each).—24. Gallia. The province recently conquered between the Po and the Alps.—24, 25. Eodem — bellum, turned in the same direction (i. e. as Scipio) towards the Punic war. Versa agrees with the preceding accusatives in the sentence, which are of three different genders.

XVIII. 27. Q. Fabius (Maximus, Cunctator).—37. Præceps. 98 The predicate is made emphatic by being stated first.—Et, also.

1. Adhuc, as yet, so far as you have yet spoken. Z.—6. Censeam. The subjunctive softens the assertion here for sarcasm rather than from modesty.—9. Una, the only.—12. The logical

The omission of it (as is generally the case in what is called ellipsis) increases the energy of the sentence, and is a beauty, not a defect. — Foedus — ictum. At the end of the first Punic war, 241 B. C. — 13. Caveretur utrorumque sociis, the safety of the allies of both parties was provided for (or guaranteed). H. 385, 3; A. & S. 223, Rem. 2. (c); B. 836; 841; A. 51, III., IV.; G. 145; 143, 3. — 14 sq. Nihil cantum est, no provision was made. — 15. At introduces a supposed answer or objection: but, you will say. — Enim, (that is of no consequence,) for. Wsb. Enim, like yap, often suggests something not expressed. If a single word is desired for its translation here, we may say nevertheless. 'But nevertheless, you say.' — 18-20. Nequiquam = nequiquam or nequidquam.

XX. 37. Iis, i. e. Gallis; the name of the people is implied, as (vadum, quo vadere poterant) failed each one, (though) fearing the deep water, hurrying (them) to the other bank. Destitueret is a subjunctive implying the occurrence of the same fact in each single case. Livy generally uses this subjunctive after particles of time (cum, ubi, ut, etc.), or indefinite relative words (quicumque, etc.), where the older writers, as Cicero, Caesar, and Sallust, commonly use the indicative. Cf. chap. 42: ubi dimicarent; i. 32: id ubi dixisset.—19. Trajectos, sc. esse elephantos.—Ut, as.—23. Secunda aqua, i. e. down the stream.—28. Tum. Mg., in place of ut cum.—Aoti per stabilem ratem.—31. As Polybius describes the journey, and as modern investigators generally believe, the Little St. Bernard. — 7, 8. Temere — iter, the rash entrance of valleys when they were guessing the way. — 13. Vergiliae is the Latin name of the Pleiades. Pliny places the setting of Vergiliae at III. Idus Novembres, the 26th of October in our present calendar. But occidente jam may imply only that this time was near. Polybius brings Hannibal to the Little St. Bernard about the end of September. — 15. Pigritia, disaffection. — 17. Promunturio (promontorio), a projecting height. — 22. Summum, at most. — 25. Furta, stealthy attacks. — 27. Ab Italia, on the Italian side. — 30, 31. Nec — suo, nor could those who had staggered a little, when thrown down, hold fast in their tracks. — 32. Succiderent (Mg.), they fell down (the precipice).

116 4. Maxime, in the main; in general. — 6. Quinto decimo die. So Polybius. But Livy himself represents the ascent as taking nine days (c. 35); then follow two days of rest; then a day's march through the snow; then four days at the cliff (c. 37); and three days for the descent. — 10. Qui minimum. As Polybius (3, 56, 4). — 11. L. Cincius Alimentus was praetor 211 B. C., then propraetor in Sicily till 208; after which time he was a prisoner of Hannibal. He wrote a history of his own time in Greek, with a short introduction upon the more ancient Roman history. — 12. Me. Mg. after Drak. — 13. Nisi — additis, did he not make the number confused by counting in the Gauls and Ligurians. sacrificed in the conflicts, the marches, and the passages of the rivers. Hannibal now, according to his own statement, numbered not more than 20,000 infantry (of whom 12,000 were Libyans and 8,000 were Spaniards) and 6,000 cavalry, part of whom were dismounted." Mommsen, after Polybius iii. 35 and 56. — 19, 20. Taurini Semigalli. Em. Mg. M, taurinisnegalli. Wsb. Hannibali). — 22. Quanam, at what point. — Vulgo credere, that people (especially historians) generally believe. Livy rejects both the general belief (as he says) of his day, that Hannibal crossed the Alpis Poenina or Great St. Bernard, and the opinion now generally entertained that he crossed per Cremonis jugum or over the Little St. Bernard. — 23. Inde, i. e. from the passage of the Poeni. — 24. C. Coelius Antipater lived at the end of the 6th and the beginning of the 7th century of the city, and wrote a history of the Punic war, which Livy uses especially (yet with caution) for this period. Wsb. — 28. Utique, at all events; certainly; at least. — 32, 33. Sed — appellant, "but from him whom, under the name of Poeninus, the mountaineers worship on the top;" i. e. from a local divinity who is called Poeninus. Z. — Sacratum, having a sanctuary or shrine.

Scipio takes up a stronger position on the west bank of the Trebia, on the hills which form the last spurs of the Apennines running northward towards the Po. To Hannibal, who pitches his camp opposite, Clastidium is betrayed.

XXXIX. 34. Ad principia rerum. I. e. for the first operations (in Italy). — Taurinis. The so-called dative of the agent. — 38. Ex, after. — 39. Cultus, care of their bodies, comfort.

Nominative case, with the historical infinitive. — 23. Ut ne quid, that nothing (faceret, etc.). — 23-25. (Iis)que missis per omnem oram, qui, etc. — 26. Missis. So Mg. The MSS. simili; Heerw. dimissi; Wsb. missi. — 29. Sublatis armamentis, with their sails up. Armamenta here means sails and sail-yards, but it often includes cables, anchors, and all the rigging and tackling of a ship. — 33. Erant, were quickly, were at once. The tense implies the rapidity with which the command was obeyed. — 35. Demendis armamentis, in taking down their sails. — 36. Ad pugnam, for action.

128 1. The allusion is to the naval battle off the Aegatian islands. L. 5. Eludere, avoided the enemy by various manœuvres. A gladiatorial term. The historical (descriptive) infinitive is very well suited, as Zumpt says, for depicting a state which continued for some time. — 8. Habebant, sc. Poeni, understood from the collective singular Poenus. — Sicubi, "wherever," "if in any place," takes the subjunctive. — 12. Illis. I. e. Carthaginiensibus. — 13 sq. As of these 1700 some 350 (see p. 127, lines 1 and 2) were milites or marines, only 1350 are left for nautae, — 193 for each vessel; whereas, generally from 300 to 375 rowers and more than 40 sailors were found on each quinquereme (Polyb. 1, 26, 7). We must suppose some loss in the naval engagement; but not enough to make the number of seamen seem otherwise than scanty. — 16. Perforata. In consequence of the Roman superiority in numbers, the Carthaginians tried to avoid being boarded, and endeavored to disable and sink the hostile vessels by piercing through them with their beaks. — 19. Gnaris. Ablative absolute with is understood, the antecedent of qui. — Ejus refers to pugnam. — 20. Armatam. Alsch., to fill the lacuna indicated by the -que after ornatam. — 22. Regia, sc. nave. — 30 sq. Quibusdam volentibus novas res fore, to some a revolution would be agreeable (lit. would be to them wishing it; like the Greek βουλομένη μοι ἔσσι). M. 246, Obs. 3; Z. 420, note; H. 387, 3; A. & S. 226, Rem. 3; B. 823; G. 152.

129 LI. 2. Traditur. Passive as middle. — 5. Sub corona veniunt. Veneo is used as the passive of vendo. Prisoners of war were brought to the market crowned with garlands, and were

Polybius (3, 61) states that the soldiers of Sempronius proceeded all the way to Cisalpine Gaul by land, the consul leaving each one free to find his way as best he could, and only binding them by oath to sleep at Ariminum at an appointed date. We may partially reconcile the statements of Polybius and Livy by assuming, with Ihne (ii. 185), that "the consul's ships did not suffice to carry all the men, and a portion of them were obliged to march on foot through the whole length of Italy."

LII.-LVII. § 4. THE BATTLE ON THE TREBIA (December, 218 B. C.). LII. Sempronius eager to fight, Scipio counsels delay. LII. 26-28. Oppositum belongs both to consules and to quidquid virum, but is attracted in number to quidquid as the most important. The same is true of the verb declarabat. The statement (quidquid Romanarum virum erat, spem nullam aliam) is exaggerated, for there was an army in Spain, and more troops could easily be raised. (Wsb.)—29. Admonitus. A suggestion of Madvig's, which I do not hesitate to adopt. P, et minutus.—33-35. Per-spectantes, with wavering favor undoubtedly aiming at gaining the friendship of the victorious party. In English, a relative construction is more usual: spectantes, who aimed at.—35. Modo ne quid moverent, provided only that they (i. e. the Gauls) made no insurrection. Quid is accusative of the indefinite pronoun.—Aequo, satisfied, contented.

Gronov. P, C, M, primosque qui coissent. — 13. Mille belongs to jaculatoribus, and is limited by ferme (ὡς χιλιός, Polyb. 3, 69, 8). Peditum = ex peditibus. — 15. Sparsos. Z. — 27–37. Oratio obliqua. — 27. Militibus. The dative is more lively than the genitive would have been, and marks the soldiers more emphatically as the logical subjects of whom the increased spirit is predicated, and to whose advantage it exists. — 30. Memoria. Ablative of cause. — 32. Tempus is the subject of differri as well as of teri. — 36. Set = sed. — 38. How would our fathers groan, if they saw. Supply in thought an adversative conjunction. — 24. Facere, to bring one about; to make a battle himself. — Si cessaretur (a Romanis). — 25. Quae vellet, sc. explorari. — 27. Insidiis. Dative of the end in view.

LIV. 29. In medio. I. e. between the Trebia and the Carthaginian camp. — Rivus. Perhaps the Trebiola (now Rifiato). — 32. Equites tegendo, for concealing cavalry. The gerundive construction, equitibus tegendis, is much more common. Mg.

knows "no undoubted instance in prose where the dative of the gerund governs the accusative;" and is inclined to read equiti tegendo. — 35. Centenos, one hundred from each class of soldiers, foot and horse. — 37. Praetorium missum, the council was dismissed: i. e. the informal council of his staff-officers who accompanied him when he chose the place for an ambush. — 39. Uti = ut. 131

2. Turmae are the troops of cavalry; manipuli, the companies of foot. — 4. Magoni must be taken as a dative of advantage: to aid Mago; for Mago to put in ambush. Wsb. cum Magone. Mg. suggests, ita cum mille eq. Magone, mille peditibus dimisso. — Mago is described by Polyb. (iii. 71) as a young man full of dash, and well instructed from childhood in the military art. — 8. Injecto certamine, having brought about a battle. — 15. A destinato. Mg. em., in place of ad destinatum. — 22. Quidquid — adpropinquabant, with every step that they drew nearer the air of the river (Näg., p. 109). Quidquid is the accusative of a neuter pronoun after an intransitive verb, agreeing with the substantive idea which that verb contains: whatever approach they made. Aurae, "der Atmosphäre" (Näg.). — 23. Refugientes. Accusative agreeing with Numidas. — 26, 27. Ut — essent, that they were scarcely able to hold their arms. Wsb. esset. 132

LV. 30, 31. "Hannibal gave his soldiers warm and plentiful food, and made them rub their bodies with oil at the fires, so that they became quite brisk and warm." Nieb. Lect. II. 96. — 34. Levem. We should read levemque (Sig.) or ac levem (Glar., Heus.), as it is not to be supposed that the Balears amounted to 8,000 men (Polyb. 3, 72, τοὺς λογχοφόρους καὶ Βαλιάρεις).

2. Circumdedit peditibus, placed them on the flanks of the infantry. L. "Locavit a dextra laevaque peditum." Crev. — 2, 3. Eighteen thousand Romans (infantry); lit. eighteen Roman thousands (Polyb. 3, 72, sixteen thousand): twenty thousand allies. Besides these, and the Cenomanian auxiliaries, there were 4,000 horse (line 10). — Socium nominis Latini, allies of the class of Latins. Scipio crosses the Trebia in the night, with those who had been left in the camp when Sempronius marched out; and those who had gained it in flight. The raging storm, and the fatigue of the victors, prevent his being observed or (at least) molested. — 16. Relicum = reliquum. — 17. Sanciorum. Mg. and Wsb. follow Heerw. in inserting this word. — 18. Traicerent = traficerent. — Sensere, sc. Poeni. — 23. Pado trajectus, having crossed the Po. Pado is ablative of the route. (See note on acie, p. 133, l. 38.) The more common construction is Pado trajecto. — Peter and Ihne are probably right in contending, against Mommsen, that the battle was fought on the right or eastern bank of the Trebia, on which side of the river Placentia also lay. The Roman camp was on the left side of the Trebia.

LVII.—LIX. WINTER OF 218–217 B. C. Cn. Cervilius and C. Flaminius are elected consuls. Hannibal makes an unsuccessful attempt upon the river-port of Placentia. He storms Victumviae, and treats its defenders with all the severity admitted by the laws of war. Attempting to cross the Apennines (217 B. C.), he is thwarted by a hurricane and by the severe cold. Skirmish between Hannibal and Sempronius. The Ligurians join Hannibal.

 the enemy had retired from the camp. Passive impersonal.
 — 11. Dextra laevaque. Through the porta principalis dextra and the porta principalis sinistra. The camp is to be thought of as having four gates through its ramparts, one on each side, like the Roman camps. — 15. Accensum, hotly begun; lit. kindled, set on fire. — 19. Dimidium ejus, the half of that number; ejus being the genitive of id used substantively. Z. — 21. Praefecti soci- orum had the same functions among the allies as tribuni militum in the Roman legions. — 27. Ferre, mostly.

LX, LXI. CN. SCIPIO IN SPAIN (218 B. C.). LX. Cneius
Scipio gains most of the tribes between the Pyrenees and the Ebro as allies of Rome, and defeats Hanno and takes him prisoner. LXI. Hasdrubal lays waste the fields of the allies of Rome, but retires behind the Ebro before Scipio. Scipio subjects the Ilergetes, marches against the Ausitani, lies in wait for and routs the Lacetani coming to their aid, and receives the surrender of the Ausitani. He takes up his winter-quarters at Tarraco.

137 LX. 30. Cn. Cornelius Scipio. The brother of the consul. His affability and kindness attracted the Spaniards to him. — 33 sqq. Polybius (iii. 76), whose story is more probable, says that Scipio, coasting along from Emporiae, made landings from point to point, and subdued the different tribes on the sea-shore, or received their allegiance; afterwards, leaving garrisons at these points on the coast, he marched into the interior. — 36. Dicionis fecit. See note (p. 261) on l. 25 (p. 43, l. 5). — 37, 39. Ad = apud, among, with.

138 2. Auxiliorum. Auxiliary troops other than those furnished by the Italian socii. — 5. Obviam eundum, that he ought to meet (the foe). — 8. Quippe qui sciret. H. 519; 519, 3, 1; A. & S. 264, 8, (1) and (2); B. 1253; A. 63, II.; G. 427. — 11. Magni certaminis. Genitive of quality. — 14. Dux cum aliquot principibus capiuntur. The same construction after cum and the ablative as we should have had after et and the nominative (et principes). The singular (capitur) is also frequent. — Principibus. Probably Carthaginian Gerousiasts who accompanied the general. Wsh. — 16. Rerum fuit, consisted of articles. — 16, 17. Supellex is appositive to praeda, and mancipiorum is, so to speak, an appositive genitive, or, more strictly, a constituent genitive = consisting of slaves. — 18. Modo, only. — 21. Citra. I. e. on the Spanish side. The word is to be taken as it would be used by the Roman army in Spain.

LXI. 27, 28. Classicos = socios, marines and seamen, from the Roman fleet. Tarraco was held by the Romans. — 29. Negligentiam = negligentiam. — 34. Paucos, a few. — Praefectos, captains.

139 4. Cum, when. — 10. Urbe. Ausa, their capital. — 17. Plutei were semicircular roofs of hurdle-wood covered with raw hide, and moved on wheels, for the protection of soldiers assailing walls or working under them. — 18. Sola, i. e. of itself, by itself alone. — 21. Talentis. The ablative of the sum agreed upon as a war-contribution, like the ablative of price.

LXII, LXIII. PATRICIAN HATRED OF THE NEW CONSUL FLAMINIUS. LXII. Prodigies at Rome. LXIII. Flaminius enters upon his consulship (217 B. C.) at Ariminum, in order to avoid the chicanery of his aristocratic opponents. The senate sends in vain an embassy to insist on his return. Signs of warning meet him even in the camp.

LXII. 26. Quis = quibus. — 27. Holitorio = olitorio. The forum olitorium, or vegetable market, was S. W. of the Capitoline, between that hill and the Tiber; the forum boarium, or cattle market, was near the Tiber and W. of the Palatine. — Triumphum, etc., i. e. shouted "Io Triumpho!" — 32. Hastam, sc. Junonis. The lance, in the worship of Juno, as well as in that of Mars and Quirinus, like the Jupiter Lapis, points back to a time in ancient Italy when the gods were represented only by such symbols. When these lances moved of themselves, it was a most portentous prodigy. See Preller, pp. 103, 300. — 33. Pulvinari. Lov. 3, Mg. em. Others, pulvinario. "Pulvinar or pulvinarium is a couch provided with carpets and cushions placed beside the image of a divinity. On this the consecrated image was laid at solemn feasts, the feast itself being spread on a small table before it. The solemn festivity itself was called lectisternium, because the lecti (sofas for reclining on) were spread or covered (sternebantur) with cushions and cloths." — 35. Visos, (beings) in human form were seen, etc. From religious awe, Livy does not express the subject of visos (esse). — 37. Sortes extenuatas, that the lots shrunk. The lots were little tablets of oak-wood, inscribed with prophetic signs, letters, or words. Lots were also made of bronze. Their shrinking was an omen of public misfortune. — 39. Libros, sc. Sibyllinos.

2. Subinde, from time to time. — Alis procurandis, in attending 140 to (i. e. properly expiating) other (prodigies). Dative. — 4. Lustrata est. Sc. by sacrifices, and solemn processions around the city. — Majores, as distinguished from lactantes. — Quibus editum est, to whom it is appointed (by the prophetic books, etc.), that they should be offered. — 5. Pondo. Properly an ablative of pondus or pondum, meaning in weight; but used as an indeclinable plural, (here in the ablative,) pounds. Forty pounds in gold = about $3,100. Of course, the current value of this amount of gold was very much greater in those days than now. — 6. Junoni. Mg. after old editors. MSS. et Junoni. — 7. In Aventino. I. e. to Juno Regina, who had a temple on the Aventine containing her statue brought from Veii (Liv. 5, 23). — 10. Lectisternium. See note on pulvinari, p. 139, l. 33. — Juventuti. Mg. after newer MSS. The other reading is Juventati. — 12. Genio, to the Genius (of the Roman people). As every man was supposed to have his own peculiar guardian-deity or genius, so the whole land and people.

140 LXIII. 20. Consulem. I. e. Sempronium. — 21. Martis = Martius. — 22. Hic. I. e. at Ariminum. — 23. Memori, sc. ei. — Certaminum, etc. "Flaminius in his tribuneship, 228 B. C., had, contrary to the will of the senate, carried a law, by a vote of the comitia tributa, for the division of the ager Gallicus and Picenus among the Roman citizens. In his first consulship, 223 B. C., he was commanded by the senate to return instantly, and without fighting, from the war against the Insubrian Gauls, because the auspices at his election had been unfavorable; but he disobeyed the order, and the senate attempted, although without success, to withhold from him the honor of a triumph." Z. — 26. Novam. I. e. introducing a new rule. — 27. Adverso senatu. Gronov. MSS. adversus senatum. — Uno patrum, alone among the senators. — 30. The tonnage of a Roman ship was estimated in amphorae. An amphora was a cubic foot; a ton in the measurement of a ship is forty cubic feet. — 31. Quaestus; traffic for the sake of gain; "speculation." — 35. Auspiciis ementiendis. Flaminius had reason to fear that bad omens would be falsely alleged by the nobles to compel him to resign. When, in one of the years succeeding his triumph, he was made master of the horse by the dictator Minucius, "he was obliged to resign this command because at his nomination a mouse had been heard to squeak. The nobility marshalled heavenly signs and auspices on their side, and carried on against this champion of the people a sort of holy war." Ihne. — 36. The Latin festival was an ancient solemnity commemorative of the league between Rome and the nomen Latinum. It was annually celebrated on the Alban Mount near the temple of Jupiter Latiaris, and (at this period) lasted several day. The consul was not to start for his province before the end of this festival. See also note on p. 141, ll. 5 sqq. — Consularibus. I. e. that could be employed against (or in the case of) consuls. — 38. Privatus, as a private citizen: without formally entering upon his office at Rome.

141 3. Ante. See note on certaminum, p. 140, l. 23. — 5 sqq. It was customary that the newly-elected consul, on the day of entering on his office, should dress himself in his house in his official robe (the prætexta or purple-bordered toga), ascend the Capitol in solemn procession, to perform a sacrifice and make solemn vows for the state in the temple of Jupiter, and then hold a session of the senate, in which (among other business) the time was fixed for holding the feriae Latinae. — 10. Monte, sc. Albano. — 10-12. Auspicate—iret. Before his departure for his province, it was the custom for the consul to go again, accompanied by a solemn procession, to the Capitol, after taking the auspices, and to make a vow to Jupiter Capitolinus, promising, if success were granted to his arms, to consecrate to the god certain gifts which he mentioned (vota, quae nuncupantur). Then, wearing the paludamentum, or purple war-cloak of a commander, he marched out of the city with all military pomp. Wsb., Z. — 13. Furtim, like a thief. — 15. Videlicet, forsooth; to be sure. Here ironical. — 17. Aput, before the altar of. — 27. Procul, at a distance, i. e. among those standing at a distance. — 29. In. Bracketed by Gronov. — 32. Per — tramites, by cross and by-roads over the Apennines. Perhaps by Sarsina, or by Pisaurum, Urbinum, and Tifernum, to Arretium. Inne reconciles Polybius (iii. 77) with Livy by suggesting that it was the two new legions which had been directed to march into northern Etruria from Rome.

BOOK TWENTY-SECOND.

I, II. HANNIBAL CROSSES THE APENNINES (217 B. C.). I. 143
Hannibal leaves his winter-quarters. Servilius enters on his consulship at Rome. Prodiges are reported, to keep Flaminius from taking the field. II. Hannibal sets out for Etruria, and, during fatiguing marches through a flooded country, loses one of his eyes by inflammation.

I. 1. Ex hibernis. From his winter-quarters in the valley of the Po, whither he seems to have returned from his expedition into Liguria (xxi. 59). — 2. Et, both. — Nequiquam = nequicquam. — Conatus. Participle. — 5, 6. Pro — agerentque, instead of seizing plunder and driving away booty themselves, from the lands of others. Literally, instead of this, (namely,) that they should themselves seize, etc. — 7, 8. English order: premiq[ue] hibernis exeroitu[m] utriusque partis (side, party). — 9. Viderunt. C, m. 2, Mg. em. Common reading, viderent. — 9. Principum, sc. Gal-lorum. — 10. Ipsorum inter se fraude, by their own treachery to each other. — 12. Tegumenta capitis. Polybius (3, 78) says that Hannibal wore false hair, having prepared wigs differing from each other, and suited to different periods of life. Inne suggests

- 143 that his object in wearing disguises was rather to act as his own spy than to secure his personal safety. — Errore etiam, by their very uncertainty, i. e. by the uncertainty of the Gauls in regard to his personal identity. Cf. i. 24. — 16. Martis = Martis. — De re publica retulisset, he had laid proposals before the senate relating to the commonwealth (or to the interest of the state). — 18, 19. Quod. The interrogative adjective pronoun. — Magistratus, that (only) magistrates. Contrasted with privatum, line 22. — 20 sqq. See notes on p. 141, lines 5 sqq. and 10–12. — 20. Id refers to auspicium, the right of taking the auspices. — A domo, etc. It was the rule that the consul should take the first auspices (to place his magistracy under the protection of the gods) in Rome itself, before daybreak on the day of his entrance upon office, and also that he should take the auspices at his own house before offering his vows at the Capitol on the day of his departure for his province. Neglecting these ceremonies at home, he could not take valid auspices on other soil. — 21. Monte, sc. Albano.
- 144 1. Militibus, sc. Romanis. — 5. Solis, etc. A partial eclipse. — 6. Ardentes lapides. I. e. meteors. — 9. The baths at Caere were much frequented. — 10. The very fountain of Hercules, in or near Caere. — 11. Antlati, sc. agro. — Metentibus, reapers. From mētō. — 14. Sortes adtenuatas. See note on xxi. 62, (p. 139, l. 37.) — Excidisse. I. e. fell from the row of others with which it was strung and hung up. — 15. Telum eoncutit. See note on xxi. 62, (p. 139, l. 32.) — 16 sq. This statue of Mars was probably the one in the temple about a mile from the Porta Capena and just outside the present Porta S. Sebastiano, which stood between two images of wolves. — 19. Minoribus dictu, too trifling even to be mentioned. — 22. Expositis. Sc. by the consul, after the temporal business. — 25. Uti = ut. — 27. Libros. Sc. Sibyllinos. — 28. E. Inserted by Periz., Mg., Wsb. — Profarentur (Gr., Mg. — The MSS. praefarentur), they (i. e. the decemviri) should declare, report. — 34. Quantum, sc. pecuniae. — 36. Lectisternium. See note on xxi. 62, (p. 139, l. 33.) — Et ipsae, themselves also, i. e. as well as the matrons. — 37. Feronia, in addition to her other attributes, was a patron deity of freedmen. Preller, p. 377.
- 145 II. 2. Gronov. and Mg. would omit et. — 8. Dilectu. Dative. — 21. Qua — duces, by any path, if only the guides led the way. — 22. Fluvi = fluvii. — 25. Nec. Periz., Mg., Wsb. — 27. Ubi meaning whenever, takes the subjunctive. — Animis, their spirits, their courage. — 33. Aut. Inserted by Walch., Mg., Wsb. — 34 sq. 145

Tantum — quaerentibus, seeking only something that stood out of the water. Tantum quod, just so much as would.

1. Umore = humore. — 2. Altero oculo capitur, loses the sight 146 of one eye; (it was his right eye.)

III.-VII. BATTLE ON THE TRASIMENE LAKE (April, 217 B. C.).
 III. Flaminius, contrary to the advice of his officers, and with bad omens, commences the march against Hannibal. IV.-VI.
 The battle "in the defiles fatal to Roman rashness." VII. The effect at Rome of the announcement of the defeat.

III. 10, 11. In rem erat, it was expedient, desirable, useful. —
 13. Faesulas inter = inter Faesulas, etc. An anastrophe more common in Tacitus than in Livy. — 15. Ferox, confident, sanguine.
 — Non modo, followed by sed ne . . . quidem, where both classes have a common predicate (as here satis metuens), = not only not.
 We might expect non modo non; but the logical ground on which non can be omitted is that by the coalescing of ne — quidem with satis metuens the predicate itself becomes negative, and the negative ne belongs conjointly to both clauses. — 17. Metuens, being used here rather as an adjective than as a participle, governs the genitive. —
 18. Allusion is made to the success of Flaminius as tribune in effecting the allotment of the land in Picenum to Roman settlers against the opposition of the nobility (232 B. C.), and to his victory over the Insubrians (223 B. C.). — 20. Ferociter, with self-will; arrogantly. — 23. Ferri agique, ῥῆσιν καὶ ἀγῶν. The former term refers to the carrying off of valuables, furniture, and the like; the latter to the driving away of cattle. Z. — 30.
Nulla. Rightly used. "From nemo let me never see Nemini or nemine." — 31. Consilio, the council of war. — 36, 37. The signal for breaking camp was given by the trumpet; the signal for battle by a purple flag set up on the general's tent. — Propo- suisset. So Mg. fills the lacuna. Mg. dedisset. — Immo, Nay, (let us not do so — that were too brave — but rather) let us go back, and sit down before the walls of Arretium, etc.

6. Ecum = equum. — 10. Num litteras, etc. An allusion 147 to the sealed letter sent by the senate in the former consulship of Flaminius, ordering him to lay down his office and return to Rome, which he left unopened until he had gained his victory over the Insubrians. — 13. Obtorpuerunt. Mg. Other readings, obtorpnerit, obtorpuerint. — 16. In vulgus, generally, for the most part.

147 IV. 21. Pervenerant, sc. Hannibal and his army. — Loca nata insidiis. On the northern side of the lake (now Lago di Perugia), where it is skirted by the road from Cortona to Perugia, a steep range of hills approaches near to the water's edge, so that the road passes through a defile, formed by the lake on the right and the mountains on the left. In one spot only the hills recede to some distance, and leave a small expanse of level ground, bordered on the south by the lake, and everywhere else by steep heights. On these heights Hannibal drew up his army. With the best portion of his infantry, the Libyans and Spaniards, he occupied a hill jutting out into the middle of the plain. On his left or eastern side he placed the slingers and other light troops; on his right he drew up the Gauls, and beyond them his cavalry, on the gentle slopes as far as the point where the defile begins and where he expected the advance of the Romans. Probably the ground near the lake was marshy, and consequently the road wound along the foot of the hills, where they receded from the water. — Ikne, after Nissen. — 35. Ex adverso, in front of him. — 36. Decepere, (= sefellere), escaped his notice. So Horat. Sat. i. 3, 39. The reading is uncertain. The MSS. deceptae. Mg. suggests acceptae or receptae.

148 5. Pariter, at the same time, simultaneously.

V. 11. Ut, so far as it was possible. — 21. Signa indicate the maniple, ordines the century, locum each man's particular place in the ranks. — 22. Vix competeret animus, i. e. they had scarcely the presence of mind; vix animus sui compos erat, Crev. "They had scarcely their wits about them sufficiently to," etc. Z. — 25. Vulnerum, i. e. ob vulnera. A free use of the genitive. — 29. In pugnam, in order to fight. — 30. Omnis partis. Accusative plural. — 31. Capti, sc. sunt. — 36. In that age the hastati fought in the first line, the principes in the second. Both however might stand before the signa, and thus principes hastatique may be spoken of as one body (antesignani).

149 1-6. "And such the storm of battle on this day,
And such the frenzy, whose convulsion blinds
To all save carnage, that, beneath the fray,
An earthquake reeled unheededly away." — Childe Harold.

VI. 7. Tris = tres. — 13. Ducario. Dative by attraction to ei understood. — 17. Manibus, to the shades. — 27. Umeris =

Aumeris. — 31. Animis, their strength or breath. — 34. Primi agminis, in the head of the line of march. — 35. Hostis. Accusative plural. — 36. Ex saltu, out of the defile near Passignano, where the Balears were thinly posted (Pol. 3, 83).

VII. 14. Inter paucos = especially, like few. — Memorata, 150 (often) mentioned, memorable. Z. 328 middle. — 16. Aversis itineribus, by by-roads. — 19. Multiplex, many times greater. — 20. Auctum. Walch., Mg. — P, B, austum. Vulgo haustum. — 21. Fabium. Fabius Pictor. See note on i. 44. Livy alludes here not to his Annals, but to his Greek work, Ἀπομνημονεύματα, an account of the memorable events in his own lifetime. Z. — 28. Non invenit. "A hostile fate, which exposed Flaminius to the reviling tongue of his political opponents and blackened his memory, deprived him also of the respect which a generous enemy was ready to bestow." Ihne, ii. 209. "Flaminius died bravely, sword in hand, having committed no greater military error than many an impetuous soldier whose death in his country's cause has been felt to throw a veil over his rashness, and whose memory is pitied and honored. The party feelings which have so colored the language of the ancient writers respecting him need not be shared by a modern historian." Arnold, Hist. of Rome, iii. 110. — 38. Domos, home. Lit., to their houses; the plural being used because referring to a number of persons who had separate homes.

11. Utique, particularly. — 14, 15. Gratulantis, consolantis. 151 Accusative plural. — 19. Fili = fili.

VIII. Four thousand men taken by the Carthaginians in Umbria. — Q. Fabius Maximus elected prodicator, and M. Minucius Rufus master of the horse.

VIII. 31-34. Pars ducere, pars aestimare. Historical infinitive. — 34. Sed. Supply putare, but thought, to govern aestimandum esse (39). — 35. I do not hesitate to insert in, after Drakenborch. — 37. Incideret. Madvig's emendation for inciderit. — 39. Jam diu, etc. "Thirty-two years had passed since, in the darkest period of the first Punic war, after the great defeat at Drepana, a dictator [rei gerendae causa, i. e. to act as supreme military leader] had been chosen."

6. Prodictatorem. The MSS., Mg., Wsb., dictatorem. But 152 see chap. xxxi. — 7. Populus creavit. Probably in the comitia centuriata. — 11. Fluminum, e. g. the Tiber, Liris, Nar.

IX.-XI. HANNIBAL IN LOWER ITALY. IX. The Sibylline

152 books consulted. X. A ver sacrum decreed. XI. Two new legions are raised. The people in the districts threatened by the Punic army are enjoined to take refuge in the nearest fortresses, to set fire to their farm-houses and villages, and lay waste their fields. The Carthaginians capture a fleet of Roman transports on the Etrurian coast. Freedmen enrolled.

Iterum. Fabius had been named dictator four years before, in order to hold the consular comitia, the consuls having resigned on the discovery of an informality in their election. — 38. Inscitia, inexperience.

153 1. Peruiciti, prevailed, carried his proposition. — 5 sq. Quod — factum, that that vow which had been made to Mars on account of this war, not having been rightly performed, etc. — Erucinae. The older orthography of Erycinae. Venus Erycina was an Assyrio-Greek goddess, named from the promontory of Eryx in Sicily, where she had a splendid temple whose foundation was attributed to Aeneas. Verg. Aen., V. 759 sq. Wsb. — 8. "To the goddess Mens, the personification of intelligent reflection, there was certainly good reason to commend the Roman state." — 9. Lectisternium. See note on xxi. 62 (pulvinari).

X. 19. Velitis jubeatisne. See note on i. 46, (p. 278.) — 21 sq. Sicut — erit. Mg.'s reading. — 22. The ancient antique word duellum is used in old formulae. — 25. Tum. Mg. admirably in place of datum. — Dut = det. Present subjunctive: let the Roman people of the Quirites offer as a gift, etc. — 25-27. (Id) quod — fieri, that whatever the spring shall have brought forth, etc., "at least what thereof is unconsecrated" (quaeque profana erunt) shall be sacrificed to Jupiter. The clause is in apposition to donum. So Zumpt; and I see no objection to this construction in an ancient formula. — 28. Faciet, shall make an offering, shall sacrifice. — 29. Faxit = fecerit. Future perfect. — 30, 31. Profanum esto, it shall be considered as not consecrated, and the failure to offer it shall not be a sin. While the proclamation of a ver sacrum was calculated to impress the minds of the people deeply, wise provision was made to relieve them from superstitious distress in case of accidental irregularities or unavoidable losses. — 31. Bumpet, shall wound, mar. “Rupisse eum utique accipiemus, qui vulneraverit, vel virgis vel loris vel pugnibus ceciderit, vel telo vel quo alio, ut scinderet alicui corpus, vel tumorem fecerit.” Digest. ix. 2, 27, 17. — 32. Clepsit = clepserit. Future perfect. — 33. Cui. Dative of disadvantage, loss. — Atro die. “Atri dies were days marked with black in the Roman calendar, on account of some disastrous event in Roman annals, or for religious reasons. On such days it was improper to offer a sacrifice.” — 35. Antidea = antea. — 36. Ac = quam, as after aeque, juxta, etc. — Faxitur, passive of faxit, = factum erit. — 38. Aeris, sc. assium. The ablative that follows denotes the expense of the games, (means, price). — 39. Jovi, sc. fieri votum est.

155 wintering, but escapes by a stratagem. XVIII. Fabius follows Hannibal about the country, always keeping near him, but never engaging with him. He is recalled to Rome to perform some religious duties, and leaves Minucius in command, conjuring him to continue the cautious mode of operation. Z.

XII. 14. "The via Latina leads from Rome, southwards by Ferentinum, Frusino, and Fregellae, to Campania."—22. I do not hesitate to omit the quos of the MSS. between tandem and Martios, as making no sense. Various emendations have been proposed, as aliquando, suos, illos.—Increpans, etc., with the taunting words, indeed, that the martial spirit of the Romans was at last subdued, and that the war was brought to an end, and they had publicly renounced their claim to valor and glory.—Martios, strictly, of Mars: such as befitted his descendants.—28. Novi. Gr., Mg., in place of non vim.—34. Subsistebat, lay in wait. Haupt., Wsb., Mg.—Punicum os. It is supposed that Hannibal pronounced the s in Casilinum thick, like a Phoenician shin (sh), w. But the whole story, says Ihne, "looks like a camp anecdote, and is in every respect improbable."

157 3. Circumspexisset, he had seen around himself, i. e. he found that he had come into.—13. Socios, the allies (of Rome).

result, like the future perfect: I fear it will prove that our ancestors have so often preserved Rome, only that it should fall into the hands of the Phoenicians (Poeni). — 14. Vir, (that true) man; deserving the name of man. I. e. Camillus. — 17. Ubi — ut ibi.

position and plans. — 13. (Hannibalem) rediturum (esse). — 15.

The Celtiberi invade the Carthaginian province, and defeat Hasdrubal in two battles. XXII. The orae (hawsers) passed from the sterns to the fastening-places on the shore or in the harbor; while the prow was fastened to the anchors by ancoralia or cables. When the ropes were untied which fastened the vessels to the shore, the ships swung out to sea, and were held only by their anchors. — 26. Adversi. I. e. with its current running against the ship, with its opposing current. — 28, 29. Vadis, litore. An absurd law is passed conferring the dictatorship on Minucius equally with Fabius. XXVI. The rise of C. Terentius Varro. Fabius bears with dignity the slight put upon him. XXVII. The exultation of Minucius. Fabius and he divide the legions and occupy separate camps. XXVIII. XXIX. Minucius makes a hasty attack on the Carthaginians, on a field which Haunibal himself had chosen, and where five thousand Carthaginian troops were concealed in ambush. He is worsted, and is saved from annihilation only by the interposition of Fabius. XXX. Minucius returns thanks to Fabius, and voluntarily resumes his subordinate station. XXXI. Cn. Servilius, the consul, not being able to find the Carthaginian fleet in pursuit of which he had been sent from Ostia (chap. xi.), sails to Africa. He plunders the island of Meninx, and exacts ten silver talents as a war-contribution from the island of Gercina. Venturing to land in Africa, he is repulsed with great loss. He returns to Italy, in order to assume the command of the army with his colleague at the expiration of the dictatorship of Fabius.

167 XXIII. 9. Quoque probably found its way here into the MSS. from the second line above. — 12, 15. Ut, while or although; ita, yet. — 13. Eum = talem. — 23 sq. Ut ea — posset, that this might appear the reward. — 25. Dubio, variously judged. — In eo, in the matter; therein. — Non expectata, etc. A dictator was not allowed to expend any of the public moneys without a special authorisation of the senate. — 30. tius, with more daring (or self-confidence) than prudence. — 22.
Tumulus. Probably Monte Secco. — 26. Tenentis. Accusative reads tum utique instead of tum ut itaque of the MSS. — 28. Ex- iguum — aberat, (the) rampart (of one camp) was (but) a little way distant from (the) rampart (of the other camp). — 30. Supply loca before aversa. — 33. Paucitate. So many soldiers had been sent out by Hannibal to forage that he had few in camp. — 35.

Mg. can satisfy himself with no emendation of this passage.

plains paucitate (Wsb.). Crevier changes the position of the words, placing pars exercitus aberat after paucitate. — 39. Conlatis signis = in full line of battle; for the signa were carried in the main body of the army, not in the advanced guard nor among the light skirmishers.

ing the value of the victory. — 27. Consulem alterum, Flaminium;

- 170 XXVI. 35. Quæstus. Genitive. — 36 sq. Animos fecit, raised his spirits, gave him courage. — Ad, for. — Toga et forum. The toga distinguished men of leisure or public distinction; the lower class of people wore only the tunic. The forum was the centre of political life, where the assemblies and courts were held. — 37, 38. Proclamando is used contemptuously. Dicendo would be the respectful expression. — Bonorum. In an aristocratic sense.
- 171 1. Honores. The quæstorship was the first step to the curule honors. Wsb. thinks that Varro must have begun his career with the minor offices, as those of the tresviri capitales, tresviri monetales, and the decemviri litibus judicandis. — 5. Dictatoris (objective genitive). Mg. after recent MSS. Vulgo, dictatoria. — 13. Senatus. Mg., with some MSS. authority. A vastly better reading than the vulgate senatus consulti or even Gronov's senatusque consulto. — 15. Cum æque. The best MSS. cumque; many editors simply cum. I adopt gladly a suggestion of Bauer. Perhaps æque alone would be still better, as the preposition is unnecessary.
- XXVII. 20. Illum. Sc. Fabium. — 23. Decorum, (who gave the victory to Minucius;) hominum, (who associated Minucius with him in power.)
- 172 1, 2. Se-cessurum, that he would never agree to retire from the function, in which it was in his power to refuse to yield, of carrying on the war by wise deliberation. Parte = munere. — Qua posset, sc. non cedere; (others, consilio res gerere.) — 3. (Sed) exercitum. — 4. Non liceret, sc. servare. — 5. Optinuit = obtinuit. — 6. Esset. The subjunctive represents this as a statement of Fabius, appealing to the example of consuls. Z.
- XXVIII. 12. Quæ agerentur, which happened to be doing. — 14. Nam, sc. cogitabat. — 15. Sollertiae. Dative. — 17. Quem qui occupasset, and whoever should take (lit. with the strict accuracy of the Latin idiom, should have taken) possession of it first. — 23, 24. Non modo silvestre quicquam, not only no ground that was wooded. On non modo before ne quidem, see note on chap. iii. (p. 146, l. 15.) — 39. Dimittit. Bracketed by Gr. and Mg.
- 173 4. Most editors ut crescente. Mg., after some recent MSS., omits ut. — 7, 8. Præoccupatum — tumulum, advancing, from lower ground, up the hill already occupied (by the enemy). Mg.

inserts the ex. — 11. Iusta ac directa pugna, a regular and straightforward battle. Directa. Mg.'s emendation of si recta. 173

XXIX. 21. Imperio. Ablative specifying the respect in which. — 22. Videt, sc. Minucius. — 27 sq. Ad auxilium defines demissa. — 29. Suos, their comrades; (Minucius's army.) — 33. Volventes orbem, forming a circle. — 35 sq. Acies victi atque integri exercitus (genitive case) facta erat prope una. — 39. Variam, changing.

3. Primum, the best:

οἷος μὲν πανάριστος, ὅς ἀντὶ πάντα νοήσῃ (Hes. "Epy. 293).

In rem, useful, advantageous, expedient. — 8. Dum imperare discimus, so long as we are only learning how to command. This noble self-denial of Minucius more than balances his former presumption. Z.—13. Ac. Inserted by Mg.—14. Patronos, as patrons.

XXX. 16. Ut colligantur vasa, to pack up. — 17. Ad. Wsb., Mg., from old editors. — 24. Modo, just now. — Qued fando possum, (all) that I can do in speech. Qued, J. H. Voss, Mg. Vulgo, quo. — 26, 27. Oneratus, honoratus. A good play upon words; "beschwert... geehrt." Sum (a necessary addition), Wsb., Mg. — Antiquo abrogoque. "Two public formulae of throwing out a bill; antiquo being used in the rejection of a new law that had been proposed, and meaning 'I stand by the old way;' and abrogo being 'I support the repeal of an existing law.'" — 28. The quod in brackets is better omitted. — 32. Ordines suos. I. é. as centurions or as milites gregarii, hastati, principes, or triarii. — 36. Volgo = vulgo. — 39. Maximus. The people, in praising the dictator, would naturally make use of this cognomen (or family name) rather than either the praenomen, Quintus, or the nomen (or gentile name), Fabius: "Greatest is he truly, and worthy of his name."

3. Sentire, sc. Poenos. Historical infinitive. — Bellum esse cum Romanis. 175

Ep. x. 29, 38 sqq.) — 2, 3. Aeris milia. About $830. (It should always be remembered that gold and silver were worth much more in ancient times than now.) — 4. Demetrius, born in Pharos or Pharia, an island on the Illyrian coast, received from the Romans a great part of the dominions of Queen Teuta on the islands and coasts of Dalmatia, in return for aiding them against her. Venturing afterwards upon acts of piratical hostility, the Romans sent the consul L. Aemilius Paulus against him, who took his strongholds (219 B. C.), and obliged him to fly for refuge to the king of Macedonia. — 5. Ligures. Cf. xxi. 59. — 8. Pineum. Pineus, stepson and ward of Queen Teuta, inherited from her the obligation to pay tribute to Rome. — 13, 14. In religionem venit, it came upon, or it came home to their consciences (or their sense of religious obligation). — Per, on occasion of; during. — 15. Praetor. 218 B. Aemilius Paulus is elected. XXXVI. New troops are levied. Religious excitement at Rome. Ambassadors from Paestum, offering gifts, are thanked, but their gold is not received. XXXVII. King Hiero of Syracuse sends to Rome a golden image of Victory, three hundred thousand modii of wheat, two hundred thousand of barley, and one thousand archers and slingers. The Victory is accepted as a good omen, and placed in the temple of the Capitoline Jupiter; the grain and the troops are delivered to the consuls. XXXVIII. Varro boasts that he will finish the war on the day that he shall first meet the enemy; Paulus is less sanguine. XXXIX. Q. Fabius Maximus, addressing Paulus, cautions him against the rashness of his colleague, and counsels prudence and deliberation. XL. The consuls proceed to the seat of war. Hannibal is delighted at their approach. XLI, XLII. A successful skirmish among the outposts has the effect, perhaps intended by Hannibal, of raising the courage of

He has no images of his ancestors; but his own imago is set up in the atrium after he is dead, and his descendants are plebei nobiles. — 23. A. Inserted by Mg., after recent MSS. — Patribus, the patricians. — 24. Actum, aimed at. — 25. The interreges were always chosen from the patricians. — 26. Ambos — morando, by remaining both of them with the army. — 28. Vitiosus, chosen against the (or with faulty) auspices; his election, consequently, being null and void. — 29. Fieret, should be declared. — 30 sq. Plebis — esse, belonged to the Roman plebs. — 31. Populum — habiturum, that the people would dispose of it freely (i. e. in accordance with their own will).

XXXV. 35, 36. Duobus — plebei, two already noble, belonging to families of the plebs.

- 179 2, 3. Æmilius Paulus and Livius were engaged, as consuls, in the Illyrian war, 219 B. C. "They were afterwards accused of fraud in the division of the booty. Livius was condemned, and Paulus with great difficulty obtained an acquittal; coming off ambustus or semustus, "scorched," "half-burnt." — 7. Par — adversandum, more as an equal to oppose him. — 10. Juri dicundo (dicendo). Dative defining eors.

XXXVI. 26. Milibus. For the distributive numeral, which is not in use. — 29. Peditis, sc. numerum. — 31. Fuisse. Added by Mg. after Perizon. — 32-35. Although Livy afterwards endeavors to throw all the blame of the defeat at Cannae upon the rashness of the plebeian Varro, this sentence (so far as it goes) accords rather with the statement of Polybius (3, 107, 108), that the senate, placing great hopes in the skill and experience of Æmilius, gave the new consuls positive orders to offer a battle. In preparing this great force, (larger than any that Rome had ever sent against an enemy,) their object was to make victory certain. — 37. Libros. Sc. Sibyllinos. 179

1. Signa, statues of the gods. — 2. I follow a suggestion of Mg. in the emendation of this line. — Gelidas, icy-cold. — 4. The Via Fornicata or Via Tecta, a colonnade closed in on both sides, led from the city to the Campus Martius, not far from the subsequent site of the Mausoleum of Augustus. 180

XXXVII. 13. Adlatam, the tidings of. — 14. Ut, so that (he could not have been more moved by any, etc.). — 18. Se refers to Hiero, whose ambassadors speak as though he himself were speaking. They use the plural, however, (subvecturos (esse), so. se, line 26,) when they speak of an action in which they themselves are to be agents. — 26. Quo, etc. I. e. to the Roman magazines. — 27. Scire, sc. se, as in l. 18. — 30. Mille as a substantive, as in chap. xxxi.

4. Gratia rei accepta, while taking in good part the kind feeling of the offer. — 11-13. Quinque et viginti quinquereemes additæ (sunt) ad classem, etc. 181

XXXVIII. 16. Paucos, but a few; few days only. — 18 sqq. "The general military oath, sacramentum, contained only a promise of implicit obedience. Besides taking it, however, the soldiers had been in the habit of swearing among themselves not to leave their ranks in face of an enemy, etc. This latter oath was now, by the agency of the staff-officers (tribuni militum), made a public one, and administered more formally than before." — 21, 22. The cavalry were divided into decuriæ, of which three made a turma, while ten turmae formed an ala. The infantry were divided into centuriæ, of which two made a manipulus, while three maniples formed a cohort, and ten cohorts a legion. — Decuriandum aut centuriandum. Mg.'s emendation of decuriatum aut centuriatum. — 26. Repetendi. Crevier's emendation of petendi. — 28. Ac. Wsb., Mg., Hz. The MSS. generally ad. — 36, 37. Verior quam gratior. A well-known Latin idiom. In English, the second adjective would be in the positive degree. — 38. Quod denique. Mg.'s conjecture. P, quod ne qui.

182 5. Res, occasions, circumstances.—9. Ad id locorum, up to this time.—Et. A good conjecture of Gronov, in place of id.—11. Id. Perseverare generally takes the infinitive, or in with the ablative. But intransitive verbs often take a neuter pronoun in the accusative, denoting the thing in reference to which the action is performed.

XXXIX. 15-17. Et duo boni . . . et mali. Hypothetical. For if both of you were good consuls . . . and if bad.—16. Indicente = non dicente.—E, in accordance with.—Re, interests, advantage.—17. Fideque. Que added by Perizon, Wsb., Mg.—21, 22. Altera—publica, while the state limps on the other side. Claudente, em. Ussing. Vulgo, claudet res publica.—22. Ac, as.—28-29. Cum—erit. I adopt Mg.'s emendations.—31, 32. Consul demum, not until he was consul.—34. Consulatu. Rightly bracketed by Gron. and Mg.

183 3. Adversus, in the presence of. Crev.—Unum, as distinguished from the senate or the people.—5. Excesserim. Subjunctive of choice or preference.—14. Meliores, sc. bello.—14, 15. Tempus diesque, time and (in fact each) day. Wsb. renders, 'circumstances and time.'—19. In diem rapto, upon what he has plundered for the day (or for each day).—26, 27. Sedet. Sed. A. Perizon, Mg. The MSS. simply sed. Gronov makes it an instance of aposiopesis: moenibus—! Sed, etc.—29. Ludificati sint, have baffled him.—37. Falsa, undeserved.—38. Gloriam. Muræus would add vanam.

184 5. Suadeo. Inserted by Mg.—6. Tuae—sint, be master always of yourself and of all your circumstances; literally, let yourself and all your affairs be always in your (own) power.—7. Occasioni, favorable opportunity.

XL. 16. Populare incendium . . . semustum (semiustum). Cf. ambustus, chap. xxxv., and note.—20. Ab, forth from, immediately after.—22. Sua, of his party, his own friends.—Dignitates, like "dignities" in old English writers, men of rank.—25. Bifariam, in two places.—37. Convecto. By order of the consuls.—38, 39. The statement that Hannibal was hard pressed for want of provisions is probably an invention of the aristocratic writers, who wished to condemn the strategy of the plebeian Varro. Polybius knows nothing of it. Before the arrival of the new consuls, Hannibal had seized the citadel of Cannæ, where the Romans had established a magazine for the supply of their army.

It was the Romans themselves, whom the scarcity of supplies for an army of ninety thousand men in a country which, almost for a whole year, had been made to support the armies of two nations, forced to give battle. 184

XLI. 5. Procursu is causal ablative after orto. — 8, 9. Non plus—occisis, while not more than a hundred of the allies and Romans fell. — 11. Alternis, sc. diebus. — 15. Inescatam, allured with the bait. — 25. Mediam. An excellent emendation of Madvig's. Vulgo, medium agmen. P, medium amnem. — 30, 31. In locis, in their places; where they stood. 185

XLII. 32. Subductae — stationes, the fact that the (Carthaginian) outposts were withdrawn. This clause, as well as silentium, is a subject of the verb fecit. — 35. Concursus (militum) nuntiantium.

19. The auspices from the feeding of chickens were especially employed on military expeditions. When the auspices were to be taken, the pullarius opened the cage and threw to the chickens pulse or a kind of soft cake. If they refused to come out or to eat, or uttered a cry, or beat their wings, or flew away, the signs were considered as unfavorable. — Auspicio = in auspicio, at the auspices; while he was taking the auspices. — Addicere, as an augural term, = assentiri. — 22. Casus, fate. — P. Claudius Pulcher sustained the memorable naval defeat at Drepana, in the first Punic war, 249 B. C. It was afterwards alleged that he had despised the augury of the sacred fowls: ordering them, when he was informed that they would not eat, to be cast into the sea, that at least they might drink. — 33. Imperi potentis, masters of their command; "able to keep the soldiers to their duty, obedient to their commands." Crev. — Cum — solvisset, although the efforts of one consul to gain the favor of his soldiers — (this is the meaning of ambitio) — had, by wrong indulgence, first undermined their respect for himself (and afterwards injured the influence of his colleague also). Crev., Z. 186

XLIII.-LII. THE BATTLE AT CANNÆ (June, 216 B. C.).
XLIII. Hannibal proceeds to Cannæ. The Romans follow.

L.-LII. The fugitives. Advice of Maharbal to Hannibal. Appearance of the field. Terms of surrender.

187 XLIV. 34. Sequentis. Nominative plural. — 37. The broad bed of the Aufidus is filled only in winter and spring; and the river was now so narrow and shallow that it could be crossed everywhere without any serious difficulty. The battle-field selected by Varro was on the left or northern bank. Inne.

188 13. Velut usu cepisset, had as it were acquired a title to the country by prescription, having so long had undisputed possession. — 18. Videret, (Varro) should see to it; Varro ought to take care.

XLV. 29, 30. Tumultuario auxilio, by irregular auxiliaries, troops adapted only for irregular fighting, i. e. the Numidians. — 33. Fuerit, not esset, on account of its close connection with tenuerit.

189 8. Extremi, at the ends. — Intra, farther in, (towards the centre.) Here almost substantively: the space within. Wsb. — 7. Pugna = acies. The centre or media acies was composed of the legions of infantry. — 8. Tuenda, to lead, to take charge of.

XLVI. 14. Peditibus. Instrumental ablative. — 19. These scuta, protecting the whole body, were long but narrow. — 26. The Spanish soldiers wore white linen coats with red borders. Purpura, ablative. — 35. Adversus, unfavorable.

190 XLVII. 4. Ad evagandum, for wheeling to the right or left. — 5. Derectum = directum. — 6, 7. Stantibus = equis, the horses at last standing still and crowded together in a mass. — 13. Gallis Hispanisque = Gallorum Hispanorumque. — Obliqua. Mg. Vulgo, aequa. — 14. Conisi = connisi. — Densa = confertis ordinibus. — 16. A cetera prominentem acie. "Hannibal arranged his infantry in the form of a crescent (μηνειδὲς ποτὶν τὸ κύρμα, Polyb. 3, 113), placing the column of Gauls and Spaniards in the middle, so that it stood out a considerable way beyond the Africans. The Roman centre troops, driving in these Spaniards and Gauls, advanced like a wedge against the retiring centre; but they were immediately outflanked, surrounded, and annihilated by the still fresh Africans." — 23. Aequavit frontem, made the line in front straight, the projecting centre having been driven in. — 25. Romanis, dative. The Romans must have advanced with all of the battle-lines at once, — the hastati, principes, and triarii. Wsb. — 26. Cornua. The extreme outer files of the alae. — 27. Hostis. Acc. plural. — 28. Proelio uno, cum Gallis Hispanisque. — 29. The best MSS. et adversus; but Crev. and Mg. rightly omit the conjunction.

 Hasdrubal had been stationed, with the Gallic and Spanish horse, on the left wing; but after routing the Roman cavalry there opposed to him, he passed round from the left wing to the right, where he attacked the allied cavalry in the rear: the front being at the same time attacked by the Numidians.—12. Ex media acie, from the middle of the fight; 'media' referring more to the time than to the position. Z.—14. Equites. Gr., Wsb., Mg., Hz. The MSS. pedites.—15. Afris, etc. Hasdrubal now fell with all his heavy Spanish and Gallic cavalry upon the rear of the Roman infantry, where the young inexperienced troops were placed, at the same time that the African infantry upon the right and left fell upon the Roman flanks (chap. 47). "Thus the huge, unwieldy masses of the Roman infantry were crowded upon one another in helpless confusion, and surrounded on all sides. Whilst the outer ranks were falling fast, thousands stood idle in the centre pressed close against each other, unable to strike a blow, penned in like sheep, and doomed to wait patiently until it should be their turn to be slaughtered. Never before had the god of battle gorged himself so greedily with the blood of his children. It seems beyond comprehension that in a close combat, man to man, the conquerors could strike down with cold steel more than their own number. The physical exertion alone must have been almost superhuman. The carnage lasted nearly the whole day. Two hours before the sun went down,—(the sun had been two hours risen when the battle began),—the Roman army was annihilated, and more than one-half lay dead on the field of battle. The victory, which surpassed his boldest expectations, had cost Hannibal not quite six thousand men, (4000 Gauls, 1500 Spaniards and Africans, and 200 knights, Polyb. 3, 117,) and among them only two hundred of the brave horsemen to whom it was principally due." Ihne, ii. 236 sqq.

XLIX. 17. Parte altera pugnæ. The right Roman wing was already annihilated, and Paulus (as, in Livy's silence, we know from Polybius,) had passed over to the main battle in the centre of the army. The right wing gone, the centre is now the only other part of the fight when we have been speaking of the left wing.—24 sq. Quam mallem, how I should prefer that he delivered them to me in chains! Sportively or ironically spoken, meaning how little I should prefer: how little better would it be

- 191 for me, etc.; for if they have dismounted, they are as good as my captives already.
- 192 7. Et vixisse adhuc (both has lived up to this time). Alsch., Mg., Wsb. The MSS. et vixisse et adhuc. — 10. Alieno crimine, by accusing another. — 11. Hæc eos agentis. Mg. em. P, hæc exagentis. — 21 sqq. Polybius (3, 117,) makes the losses of the Romans still greater: viz., 72,000 killed and 20,000 taken, while no more than 4000 escaped. Mommsen follows Polybius, Inne Livy.
- 193 L. 2, 3. Alterius — fuit, almost the whole army was the other consul's who died: a lively way of saying 'almost the whole army shared the fate of the other consul who died.' — 9, 10. Cur illos non venire. A question expressed by the accusative and infinitive in Oratio obliqua, which in direct speech would have its verb in the indicative. — 19. Tua, i. e. Romani civis. — Alteri. I. e. socio Latino, "who might hope that Hannibal would either let him free, as after the battle of Lake Trasimenus (vii.), or would fix a lower ransom for him, as really happened (iii.)." — 23. Cives, the fellow-citizens. The transition to the plural is natural, because tu above (20) stands for the whole class. — 26 sq. Quamvis — hostis, through enemies crowded never so thickly. — 31. This line is an hexameter.
- 194 LI. 3. Died — quietem, what remained of the day, and the repose of the following night. — Relicum = reliquum. — 12. Temporis. The genitive of the thing needed after opus is found here and Liv. xxiii. 21. — 20, 21. Aut pugna aut fuga, either in the battle or in the flight. — 21. Adsurgentis. Nominative plural. — 24, 25. Jacentis, nudantis. Accusative plural.

I. e. argentum mensarium, services of plate. — 16. As before stated, Polybius (3, 117,) makes the Carthaginian loss only 5700.
- LIII.—LXI. AFTER THE BATTLE (216 B. C.). LIII. Some Roman knights, in their despair, form a plan of escaping to the sea-shore, and seeking shelter with some foreign king. The youthful P. Cornelius Scipio, forcing his way into their council, and drawing his sword, terrifies them as if Hannibal himself had appeared before them, and forces them to swear never to abandon their country. LIV. Roman fugitives join the consul Varro at Venusia; he leads them to Canusium. The consternation at Rome. LV. The senate meets. At the advice of Q. Fabius Maximus, measures are taken to calm the tumult, to obtain surer news of the posture of affairs, and to defend the city. LVI. An official account of the battle is received from Varro. Disquieting news from Sicily. LVII. M. Claudius Marcellus, in command of the fleet at Ostia, is ordered to march through Campania to Apulia to collect the scattered remains of the Roman army. Prodigies and sacrifices. A levy is held, in which even boys are enrolled, and "the pride of the Romans stoops to the arming of slaves." LVIII. Hannibal sends Carthalo to Rome, with ten of the foremost prisoners, to treat with the senate for the ransom of the captives, and to open negotiations for peace. The prisoners arriving in the city, Hannibal's messenger is warned to depart from the Roman boundaries. LIX. The speech of M. Junius, the leader of the deputation of prisoners, asking the senate that the money should be granted for their release. LX. The speech of T. Manlius Torquatus, in opposition to the grant. LXI. The application of the captives is refused. Another account. Defection of some of the Roman allies.

LIII. 28. P. Cornelius Scipio. The son of the consul who fought at Ticinus and the preserver of his life (xxi. 46), and the future conqueror of Carthage. He was now nineteen (admodum adulescens).—37. Principem Metellum, sc. esse.—39 sq. Præterquam atrox = præterquam quod atrox erat.

4. Fatalis, the destined.—7. Nulla, sc. castra.—8. Ea, such plans.—11, 12. Ex mei animi sententia, sc. juro. "A common formula of asseveration, equivalent to 'on my honor and conscience.'"—Ut, (I swear) that.—13. Neque patiar, and that I will not suffer (permit). Others translate ut, as, and supply ita before neque patiar, 'so also I will not permit.'

LIV. 31. Venusia was a Latin colony, while Canusium was merely a city of the allies (Apulians).

15 sq. Nulla—esset. This is no exaggeration. Ihne repeats the statement, "The overthrow at Cannæ was so complete that every other nation but the Romans would at once have given up the idea of further resistance."

LV. 28 sq. Ne—expediret, they could not even come to any

"The voting in the Roman senate was by the members favorable to a proposal going to one side of the house, and those unfavorable to the other." — Submovere is the technical word for the dictator's putting aside the people, or clearing the way before the magistrates. — Per. Wanting in the MSS., but rightly inserted in the Ascensian edition, and many following. — 16. Diversi, in various directions. — 39. Provinciamque aliam Romanam, and other parts of the Roman province, (which was the western and largest part of the island.)

199 1. Classe. Z. understands nova. But Wsb. says that it is only a reinforcement of the fleet which Otacilius already has that is meant.

The MSS. pontificis. Vaasen rests on Priscian, 7, 3, 11, p. 733, who cites from Cassius Hemina, scriba pontificius, qui cum eabus stuprum fecerat. — 19. Libros, sc. Sibyllinos. — Q. Fabius Pictor. The historian (chap. vii. and I. xlv.), and a relative of the dictator. — 21. Supplicia (in archaic style) = supplicationes. The word literally means a kneeling down, either (1) in supplication or (2) to receive punishment. Stuart on Sall. Cat. 9. — 23. Fatalibus libris. These were the Roman national prophecies, not to be confounded with the Sibylline books. — 24 sqq. Preller regards these sacrifices as a form of devotio, the two pairs of foreign birth standing as representatives of the Roman state. — Jam ante. Ten years before, in the Gallic war. Zon. 8, 19. — 27. Inbutum, "made familiar with." — 37. Junioris. Accusative plural. — Ab, etc., from seventeen upwards. — 38. Praetextatos, viz., under seventeen. The arming of children and slaves, and even (Liv. xxiii. 14) of criminals and debtor-serfs, was necessary, says Ihne (ii. 247-9), "to fill up the gaps which bloody battles had made in the Roman ranks. Since the engagement on the Ticinus, the Romans must have lost in Italy alone 120,000 men, actually slain or taken prisoners, without reckoning those who succumbed to disease and the fatigues and privations of the prolonged campaigns."

1. Formula, the roll, or list of men capable of bearing arms. — 200

- 203 771. — 14. Præferri (so. se) depends upon aequum (= aequum) consuerint (17). — 28. Per. Inserted by Alsch., Mg., Wsb., Hx. — Possent, could (at any time). A general assertion. Wsb. — 36. P. Decius Mus served as tribune of the soldiers in the Samnite war, 343 B. C. In the mountain passes of Samnium the Roman consul had allowed his army to be surrounded in a valley by the enemy. Destruction seemed inevitable; when Decius offered, with the hastati and principes of the legion, to seize a height which commanded the way by which the Samnites were hastening down to attack the Roman army. Here he maintained himself gallantly, while the Roman army gained the summit of the mountain. In the ensuing night he persuaded his soldiers to follow him and break through the Samnites who were encamped around him. Succeeding in this brave attempt, he joined the consul, and induced him to make an immediate attack upon the enemy, which resulted in a brilliant victory. See Liv. vii. 34. This Decius is the same who gave his life, with heroic devotio, as the price of Roman victory in the great Latin war, B. C. 340. — 37. Calpurnius Flamma was a tribune of the soldiers in the first Punic war. A Roman consular army in Sicily having been led into a defile where it found itself beset by the Carthaginians on the surrounding heights, Calpurnius offered to draw the fire of the enemy by occupying a hill in the pass, with the prospect of certain death for himself and the soldiers who should follow him. While the Carthaginians were fighting with him, the Roman army escaped. Cato, Orig., (in Gell. Noctes Atticae, iii. 7,) a different name, however, being given to the tribune.
- 204 2. Vos. In his earnestness, the speaker addresses the captives as though they were present. — 12. Immo, nay, rather. "As you have now lost your country by your cowardice, it is idle to speak of longing for it." — 14. Capite. "One who lost his liberty, or his right of citizenship, or his position in his tribe, or the right of voting according to the census, underwent, according to Roman notions, a loss of caput, that is, civil existence." The capitis deminutio maxima is here meant, the two most important points of which are mentioned, — the loss of the rights of citizenship and the loss of freedom. — 19. Quamquam. The MSS. only quum. — 35. Dixerint, so. se. — 36, 38. Eos is the subject of favisse, as well as of invadere. I give Madvig's excellent emendation of this vexed passage.

The MSS. arma.—12. Vobis. Ethical dative. Compare with the argument of this speech the 5th Ode of the 3d Book of Horace, lines 12 sqq. "In this war Rome wanted men who rated their lives as nothing, and were determined rather to die than to flee or surrender. In order to impress this necessity upon all Roman soldiers, the unfortunate prisoners of Cannae were sacrificed. At the very time when Rome armed slaves in her defence, she handed over thousands of freeborn citizens to be sold in the slave-markets of Utica and Carthage, and to be kept to field-labor under the burning sun of Africa. We may admire the grandeur of the Roman spirit, but we are bound to express our horror and detestation of the idol of national greatness to which the Romans sacrificed their own children in cold blood." Ihue, ii. 250 sq.

But at all events the senate deserves honor for the generous concessions by which it sought to conciliate the people, and remove the distrust between the government and the governed. SUMMARY
OF AN HISTORICAL EXAMINATION
FIRST BOOK OF LIVY.

BY J. R. SEELEY, M. A.

THE result of our whole examination is a very meagre outline, but one in every way probable, of the earliest condition of Rome.

We see a number of 'gentes' or clans living apparently on local districts or 'pagi' side by side. They bear for the most part the names afterwards conspicuous in Roman history as the names of the great patrician houses.

They are divided into three great tribes. They regard themselves as connected both with the Latins and with the Sabines.

Where several sacred places are near together — the Ara Maxima of Hercules, the sacred place of Faunus Lupercus on the Palatine, the temple of Quirinus on the Quirinal — a town springs up. To this the clans resort for festivals, markets, and for common deliberation.

The clans are an exclusive body, and are in possession of various priesthoods and religious privileges. Though we are told of a great Sabine clan — the Claudian — being admitted among them, they do not as a rule admit strangers into their body.

They have a king, chosen from their own body, who rules for life.

He summons round him a council of chiefs or elders, called 'senatus.' This body, whatever deference may be paid to it, has no function beyond that of advising.

He commands the army, presides in the senate, and performs certain sacrifices.

He has the power of appointing two law-officers called 'quaestors.'

There is a general assembly of the clans called 'comitia curiata.'

At this, among other things, family questions, such as adoptions from one clan into another, are decided.

The community has a religious ritual of an extremely complicated yet inexpensive kind, to which it is much devoted.

It has religious rites proper to the family and also to the gens; it has also several private religious guilds, which exist to perform certain rites at intervals; sometimes these guilds are connected with particular clans.

It has priests connected with particular temples and some highly venerated priests, but no organized priesthood; a priest is not necessary to a sacrifice.

It has three guilds of persons skilled in theology — the pontiffs, the augurs, and the fetiales.

The king appears to have the supreme religious as well as civil power.

The army consists principally of cavalry, which is chosen in equal numbers from the three tribes.

In this primitive constitution a great reform takes place.

In consequence of a great population having grown up outside the clans, an army is formed from the whole community, each citizen being ranked according to his property, and required to provide himself with corresponding arms. This army consists mainly of infantry arrayed in phalanx.

The army so constituted is regarded as a national assembly, and when the will of the nation is to be expressed, a single vote is given to each century of the army.

In order to make the property-register, a new local classification is required. Four local city tribes are established.

At some unknown time, but possibly at the same time, the outside population is admitted into the clans, into the three tribes, and into the comitia curiata. But the original clans continue to regard themselves as being the only true clans.

A national temple of unprecedented magnificence is built on the Capitoline hill.

A foreign sacred book is acquired, which introduces a Greek element into the religion of the country.

Finally, a revolution takes place, and the king for life is superseded by two magistrates holding power only for a year.

THE END.

THE publication of this edition of the Classics was suggested by the constantly increasing demand by teachers for an edition which, by judicious notes, would give to the student the assistance really necessary to render his study profitable, furnishing explanations of passages difficult of interpretation, of peculiarities of Syntax, &c., and yet would require him to make faithful use of his Grammar and Dictionary.

It is believed that this classical Series needs only to be known to insure its very general use. The publishers claim for it peculiar merit, and beg leave to call attention to the following important particulars:

The purity of the text.

The clearness and conciseness of the notes, and their adaptation to the wants of students.

The beauty of type and paper.

The handsome style of binding.

The convenience of the shape and size.

The low price at which the volumes are sold.

The preparation of the whole Series is the original work of American scholars.

The text is not a mere reprint, but is based upon a careful and painstaking comparison of all the most improved editions, with constant reference to the authority of the best manuscripts.

No pains have been spared to make the notes accurate, clear, and helpful to the learner. Points of geography, history, mythology, and antiquities are explained in accordance with the views of the best German scholars.

The generous welcome given to these books, proves very conclusively that they are well adapted to the wants of the classroom. They have been adopted in every State of the Union, and we have the proud satisfaction of stating that they are at this time the standard text-books in more than

One Thousand Schools,

and the number is daily increasing. Among these are many of the largest and most important classical institutions in the country.

The Publishers desire to acknowledge their indebtedness to the teachers of Latin throughout the country who are using these books, for the high position that has been accorded to them. Grateful for the very flattering welcome they have received, we pledge ourselves that the entire Series shall be

In Scholarship

Inferior to None.

In Appearance

The Most Attractive.

In Binding

The Most Durable.

In Price

The Most Reasonable.

To those teachers who do not use them we suggest the consideration of two facts:

1. Large and permanent success follows only real merit.

2. Such success has been obtained by these books.

And we are confident that if they will inquire into the merit which has insured this success, they will find that they are well worthy of the commendation bestowed upon them.

The Series contains the following works, viz.:

ON THE ENGLISH LANGUAGE.

By JOHN S. HART, LL.D., Professor of Rhetoric and of the English Language in the College of New Jersey.

The Series comprises the following volumes, viz.:

First Lessons in Composition,	.	.	.	Price, $0.90
Composition and Rhetoric,	.	.	.	" 1.50
A Short Course in Literature,	.	.	.	" 1.50

And for Colleges and Higher Institutions of Learning:

A Manual of American Literature,	.	.	.	" 2.50
A Manual of English Literature,	.	.	.	" 2.50

Hart's First Lessons in Composition is intended for beginners. A greater help to the Teacher never was invented. It will revolutionize the whole work of teaching. By the increased power of expression which it gives to the pupil, it doubles his progress in every study. There is not a school but in which a class can be formed for its advantageous use. Any pupil able to read tolerably well can use it to advantage.

Hart's Composition and Rhetoric has been prepared with a full knowledge of the wants of both teacher and scholar in this important branch of education, and the author has spared no pains to make the book eminently practical and adapted to use in the class-room. Dr. Hart has been engaged for more than one-third of a century in the practical duties of the school-room, and for years past has made a specialty of the subject of which the present volume treats. The great variety and copiousness of the "Examples for Practice" will commend the book to general favor. In this respect it is unequalled by any similar work heretofore published.

Hart's Short Course in Literature, English and American, is intended as a text-book for Schools and Academies. It is designed for the use of those who have not the time to devote to the study of Literature as laid down in the larger books of the Series.

Hart's Manual of English Literature is intended as a text-book for Colleges, and as a book of reference.

Hart's Manual of American Literature is a companion volume to the "English Literature," with which it corresponds in general character and design. It is intended as a text-book for Colleges, and as a book of reference.

In these volumes Prof. Hart has embodied the matured fruits of his life-long studies in this department of letters. We believe they will be found in advance of any other text-books on the subject, in the comprehensiveness of the plan, the freshness of much of the materials, the sound judgment shown in the critical opinions, the clearness with which the several topics are presented, and the beauty as well as the practical convenience of the mechanical arrangements.

The scholarly culture and excellent literary judgment displayed, entitle these books to a high place among the works on English literature. The plan and arrangement present many novel features, and the thoroughness of detail, brevity and precision of statement, elegance of style, and soundness of opinion which characterize the volumes, call for the sincerest commendation.

A NATOMY, PHYSIOLOGY, AND HYGIENE.

A Text-Book for Schools, Academies, Colleges, and Families. By JOSEPH C. MARTINDALE, M.D., late Principal of the Madison Grammar School, Philadelphia. Price by mail, postpaid, $1.30.

The study of Physiology and the Laws of Health is as important as it is interesting. Its importance has become so generally recognized that there are now few schools in which it does not occupy a prominent position in the course of instruction. Dr. Martindale's Anatomy, Physiology, and Hygiene presents the following claims to the consideration of teachers. Technicalities have been avoided, so far as consistent with the treatment of the subject. The style in which it is written is not only pleasing, but such as to be readily comprehended by those for whose use it is designed. Superfluous matter has been omitted, so that the book can be completed in a much shorter period than any other text-book on the subject as yet published.

FIRST LESSONS IN NATURAL PHILOSOPHY. For Beginners. By JOSEPH C. MARTINDALE, M.D., late Principal of the Madison Grammar School. Price by mail, postpaid, 60 cents.

This book is what its title indicates, "First Lessons in Natural Philosophy;" and it presents each division of the subject in such an easy and familiar style, that it cannot fail to interest and instruct any child of ordinary intelligence. Beginning as it does in a simple and easy manner, it secures the interest of the pupil by first directing his attention to objects in nature with which he is familiar. When the interest is thus excited, the subject is gradually unfolded by presenting, one after another, the familiar things met with in the every-day walks of life; thus, the most common objects are made the means of teaching great philosophical truths. Only so much of the subject is presented as can be taught with profit in our public and private schools, yet what has been given will be found to embrace all the more common phenomena met with in every-day life. The facts are so clearly and so plainly set forth, that they are entirely capable of comprehension by those for whose use and benefit this little work is designed.

Teachers interested in the "Object Lesson" system of teaching will find this little book a valuable aid, in furnishing subjects for discussion.

Circular containing specimen pages, &c., sent to any address on application.

A N ELEMENTARY ALGEBRA, FOR SCHOOLS AND ACADEMIES. By JOSEPH W. WILSON, A.M., Professor of Mathematics in the Philadelphia Central High School. Price by mail, postpaid, $1.25.

The present work is the result of an effort to produce an Elementary Algebra suited to the wants of classes commencing the study. It has been prepared by one who for years has felt the need of just such a book, and is the fruit of long experience in the school-room.

With this book in hand, the pupil cannot help avoiding the difficulties which invariably present themselves at the very threshold of the study of Algebra.

It has been the aim to give such a presentation of the subject as will meet the wants of Common Schools and Academies. It is an elementary work, and no attempt has been made to include everything which might be brought under the head of Algebra. The treatment of the subject is on the principle of "step by step," so that the pupil at the very outset is inspired with a degree of confidence which induces self-reliance; rendering unnecessary a constant application to the teacher for help.

The book is commended to teachers in the hope that it will satisfy a need which the author has himself frequently felt.

A KEY TO WILSON'S ELEMENTARY ALGEBRA, for the use of Teachers only. By Prof. JOSEPH W. WILSON, A. M. Price by mail, postpaid, $1.25.

THE CRITTENDEN COMMERCIAL ARITHMETIC AND BUSINESS MANUAL. Designed for the Use of Teachers, Business Men, Academies, High Schools, and Commercial Colleges. By JOHN GROESBECK, Principal of Crittenden's Philadelphia Commercial College. Price by mail, postpaid, $1.50.

In every High School and Academy in the land, the organization of a class in Commercial Arithmetic, Business Calculations and Forms, will prove an element of popularity and success that will yield rich results. The subject itself is so intrinsically valuable as a means of developing thought, that, were this the only result to be gained, it would be entitled to and should receive the special attention of the progressive teacher. But apart from this, the introduction of a study so interesting in itself, so attractive to the scholar, and having so direct a bearing on his future welfare, will, in many an instance, decide the welfare of a school, directing the channel of popular opinion in its favor, and prove the means of filling it with students anxious to secure its advantages.

Circulars containing full descriptive notice, testimonials, &c., will be sent to any address on application.

A MANUAL OF ELOCUTION. Founded upon the Philosophy of the Human Voice, with Classified Illustrations, Suggested by and Arranged to meet the Practical Difficulties of Instruction. By M. S. MITCHELL. Price by mail, postpaid, $1.50.

SUBJECTS TREATED OF.

Articulation, Pronunciation, Accent, Emphasis, Modulation, Melody of Speech, Pitch, Tone, Inflections, Sense, Cadence, Force, Stress, Grammatical and Rhetorical Pauses, Movement, Reading of Poetry, Action, Attitude, Analysis of the Principles of Gestures, and Oratory.

The compiler cannot conceal the hope that this glimpse of our general literature may tempt to individual research among its treasures, so varied and inexhaustible; — that this text-book for the school-room may become not only teacher, but friend, to those in whose hands it is placed, and while aiding, through systematic development and training of the elocutionary powers of the pupil, to overcome many of the practical difficulties of instruction, may accomplish a higher work in the cultivation and refinement of character.

THE MODEL SPEAKER: Consisting of Exercises in Prose, Poetry, and Blank Verse, Suitable for Declamation, Public Reading, School Exhibitions, &c. Compiled for the Use of Schools, Academies, Colleges, and Private Classes, by Prof. PHILIP LAWRENCE. Price by mail, postpaid, $1.50.

Great care has been taken to consult the authorized editions of the various writers represented, that the extracts from their works may be relied upon as accurate; though, in some instances, preference has been given to an early edition, when, in later issues, the alterations have not been deemed improvements. Many poems have been introduced which have never before found their way into any book of selections, being now for the first time published in this country in a permanent form.

It is believed that this book will be found admirably adapted for use as a "Reader," either in connection with any of the regular series of reading-books, or to be taken up by classes that, having used the higher readers of the different series, need variety as an incentive to interest. For this purpose we particularly commend it to the attention of Principals of Academies, Seminaries, High Schools, Normal Schools, and Institutions for Young Ladies.

Descriptive Circular, containing entire List of Contents, sent to any address on application.

THE MODEL DEFINER. An Elementary Book for Beginners, containing Definitions, Etymology, and Sentences as Models, exhibiting the correct use of Words. By A. C. WEBB. Price by mail, postpaid, 25 cents.

THE MODEL ETYMOLOGY. Giving not only the Definition, Etymology, and Analysis, but also that which can be obtained only from an intimate acquaintance with the best authors, viz.: the correct use of Words. By A. C. WEBB. Price by mail, postpaid, 60 cents.

The plan adopted in the Model Definer and Model Etymology is not new. All good Dictionaries illustrate the meaning by a Model. To quote from a good author, a sentence containing the word, as proof of its correct use, is the only authority allowed. A simple trial of the work, either by requiring the child to form sentences similar to those given, or by memorizing the sentences as models for future use, will convince any one of the following advantages to be derived from the Model Word-Book Series.

1. Saving of time.
2. Increased knowledge of words.
3. Ease to teacher and scholar.
4. A knowledge of the correct use of words.

PART SECOND. " " 50 "

PART THIRD. In Preparation.

SELECTIONS FOR LITTLE FOLKS. A Book of Poetical Selections for Children. Price by mail, postpaid, 50 cents.

That sympathy which loves to link the present with the past, has prompted the preparation of this volume. Simply to make a child glad, is a worthy motive for storing its mind with poetic utterances, especially when the remembrance of such happiness becomes a well spring of delight for a lifetime.

This little book is intended for children not more than nine or ten years of age, and the compiler would feel it a good excuse for adding another book to those already extant, should the little ones find pleasure in it.
